Vermont will send to the World's Fair an odd exhibit in the shape of the skel-eton of an enormous whale, which was found several years sgo near Lake Cham-plain, ninety feet above the ses level.

President Higinbotham of the World's Fair has addressed a strong and comprehensive letter to each of the Congressmen, outlining the position of the directory on the question of Sunday opening. He offers evidence to show that a majority of the people of the United States are opposed to closing the exposition gates Sundays.

exposition gates Sundays.

For the construction of the Washington building at the World's Fair, besides the logs and stones, it requires 558,735 feet of lumber; of this number 378,894 feet have been sent to Chicago, leaving a balance to be sent of 179,841 feet. Some of the lumber promised from the several firms in the State has not been forwarded. The required 205,000 laths and half of the 357,000 shingles donated by the Shinglemakers' Association have been shipped. The stone for the arches and lintels is on the ground, so that the material has been fairly up in quantity, sufficient to meet the demands of the contractor.

Mayor Washburne of Chicago is taking active steps for the opening of the World's Fair on Sunday. The Mayor sent a message to the Council declaring the people to be most benefited by the fair are those who are unable to enjoy the luxury of travel and those who literally earn their bread by the sweat of their brows. Sunday closing would deprive these people of their chief opportunity to see the fair. Furthermore, Chicago must next year extend hospitality to thousands of foreigners, and on this account alone it would be admissible to open the fair Sundays. The Mayor stated that the great majority of the people are in favor of an open Sunday, and asked the Council to prepare an official address to Congress on the subject. The suggestion was heartily indorsed, and the committee appointed.

NATIONAL CAPITAL.

President Harrison in His Message to Congress Won't Turn His Back Upon High Protection.

Senator Dolph has filed with the War Department a letter in relation to the appointment of a board to exam ne and report a site for a gun factory on the Pacific Coast. He requests that care be taken in the selection of the officers, that they may not be prejudiced in favor of one sight as against another. This precation, he says, is particularly necessary, because some officers have privately expressed their belief that Benicia is the proper location.

More than usual interest attaches to the forthcoming annual report of the Commissioner of Pensions. The statement has been made that the amount required for pensions the next fiscal year will nearly reach the enormous sum of $200,000,000. The work of compiling figures is, however, sufficiently advanced to show this estimate is in excess of the actual requirements. It is now thought Congress will be asked to make an appropriation of about $180,000,000 for the coming fiscal year, about $18,000,000 of which is in anticipation of an increase of that amount over the actual expenditures of last year. It is the judgment of General Raum that, while this amount is likely to be increased the next year or two, yet he feels confident the maximum limit has already been reached.

maximum limit has already been reached.

President Harrison in his message to Congress will not turn his back upon the present Republican tariff law. On the contrary, he will give it an earnest indorsement. The President said he did not blame the McKinley tariff law for the recent defeat at the polls, and after having given it his indorsement prior to a test of Republican principles at the polls he was not inclined to repudiate it in the hour of adversity. The President believes that the Republican principles of protection will live longer and stand the various tests of time with better success than will the present Democratic supremacy. There has been considerable curiosity expressed in certain quarters as to what the President would say in his message to Congress, which he is now completing, in reference to the tariff law, as many Republicans are inclined to hold it almost wholly responsible for the recent defeat. There need be no doubt in that direction. President Harrison believes in protection of the character now afforded by the Republican party.
