United States and County Official Paper

ST. HELENS, DECEMBER 23, 1892.

BRIEF MENTION.

Merry Christmas to all.

Lee Perry came home from Oswego last Saturday, on the sick list.

The first sleighbells of the season were heard Wednesday.

Make yourself a Christmas present by taking a bath at Colburn's barber shop.

Judge Blanchard, of Rainier, was in town on Monday, and left on the Mascot for Portland and other points.

The Masonic fraternity give a grand ball at Rainier tonight. All preparations for a grand affair have been arranged.

Hon. C. E. Runyon, of Astoria, shorthand reporter, is at his usual post in the courtrooms this week.

Mr. N. Livermore made proof on his commuted homestead in Clatsop county, near Fishhawk, last Friday.

The Thompson passed up for Portland yesterday morning in a disabled condition, having only one engine working.

On Tuesday W. J. Rice tendered his resignation as deputy district attorney, which was accepted by District Attorney Barrett.

This is a severe storm, but there is little danger of starving or freezing as long as the Rice and Cole and Switzer-kase holds out.

Dr. C. C. Stratton, president of the Portland University, was in the city Tuesday, visiting Prof. Looney, returning Wednesday.

Talk about your snowbanks and blizzards! Well, we should smile. Not quite so severe as those of Dakota, but bad enough for Oregon.

We don't know that St. Helens people would "peach" on each other, although it is a fact beyond dispute that there is a Peacher amongst us.

Dennis Perry, who has for a long time been in the employ of the Portland Iron Works, is at home on a vacation and will remain until after Christmas.

St. Helens need not be regarded as a slow town after all. It's got one Quick man in it, who is about the slowest man in town since he has been compelled to use crutches.

It [illegible] the divorced wife of James [illegible] whose sensational divorce [illegible] so much attention in the courts a few months ago, is again to be married.

The steamer Thompson, on her down trip Tuesday night, telescoped Blanchard's wharf at Rainier, breaking a number of timbers and leaving the wharf in a dangerous condition.

W. J. Rice has resigned the deputy prosecuting attorneyship for this (Columbia) county, and is now ready to accept a fee and undertake the defense of any one accused of crime.

Judge McBride arrived on the train on Monday morning and opened the adjourned term of circuit court. The first day was mostly taken up in hearing motions for new trials.

The time for new resolutions is near at hand. Make them on Christmas and have a week's probation until New Year, and if the temptation can be endured during the holidays there will be some hope for you.

Neither the Telephone nor Hassalo made their regular trip up Tuesday night on account of the beating snow storm, and in consequence the people along the route were without mail communication from Portland on Wednesday.

Among the attorneys from abroad who were in attendance on the circuit court on Monday were Alex Sweek, George E. Davis, P. J. Bannon, District-Attorney Barrett, F. D. Winton, Judge Hurley, Mr. Holman and Mr. Thomas.

The Masonic fraternity of St Helens are preparing for a grand good time next Tuesday evening, at which time the newly elected officers will be installed and a great feast spread afterwards, at which the wives and best girls of the members will be honored guests.

Mr. N. Livermore, the St. Helens rustic chairmaker, whose work gives general satisfaction wherever it has been tried, is doing an unusually large amount of business throughout the county. Why sit on an old hard stool when you can secure a neatly arranged and comfortable armchair of the latest design for a nominal price?

The following jury was impanneled on Monday for this term of circuit court: E. W. Potter, George Anderson, S. S. Way, T. C. Watts, Ben Lamar, J. A. Lamar, John Campbell, W. A. Wood, S. A. Miles, Geo. Lemont, A. Robinson, C. Simpson, N. Livermore, Jackson Peacher.

The state chemist of Washington, after actual analyses made by him, pronounces "the Royal Baking Powder the strongest, purest and most wholesome baking powder in the market." The Royal Baking Powder destroys the dyspeptic qualities of hot food.

A pine has come all the way from Oregon—sent by a son of Maine—to furnish a flagpole for the village of Bucks Harbor, on the Machias river. It is a noble spar, 71 feet long, nine inches through at the butt and four inches at the end—but just think of the old "pine tree state" sending to the Pacific coast for a flagpole.—Lewiston, Me., Journal.

Not since the winter of 1884-5 has Western Oregon experienced such a snow storm as that which commenced Tuesday night and continued far into the day Wednesday. A strong southeasterly wind prevailed, but the downpour of snow was too heavy to drift any to speak of. Steamboats, ships, and ocean steamers were compelled to lay to on account of the blinding snow.

In the case of Duzan & Kyser vs. Meserve Brothers, which was tried at the last term of circuit court, when a verdict was rendered in favor of the plaintiffs, a motion for a new trial was argued Monday, but the motion was overruled. In all probability the case will go to the supreme court, when appellants counsel will ask for a rehearing. Should this be granted, the case will be retried here at the next May term.

At the regular annual election of the Masonic fraternity, held last Saturday night, the following officers were elected: T. C. Watts, W. M.; B. W. Plummer, S. W.; S. Sausler, J. W.; James Muckle, Jr., Treas.; C. H. Johns, Sec.; Jackson Peacher, Tyler. The appointive officers are: Jacob George, S. D.; Robert Aiken, J. D.; George Anderson and John McKay, Stewards. Installation takes place on December 27.

If the Union Pacific people are desirous of doing business with and keeping the good will of the people along the Astoria route they should at once place a man in command of the R. R. Thompson who is willing to accommodate the public, at least when they pay for it. Last Sunday night on the down trip the Thompson had on board a passenger for St. Johns, but the captain refused to land him there, and in consequence the passenger was compelled to go on down to Kalama and take the train back to Portland. There was no occasion for this, as it was not foggy, and the landing could just as well have been made as not.

The big government dike at Snag island, in the Columbia river, was completed Monday evening and the gangs of workmen taken to the main land. This dike is 19,000 feet in length, and is placed in the river so as to force the current into the old river channel, the object being to deepen the the channel and to keep the river within narrower bounds. Frequent soundings at marked points show that the channel is steadily increasing in depth.

We don't know of any aborigines who lay claim to St. Helens as their abiding place, but we have the Cliff dwellers with us.

Judge McBride's Easy Chair.

Every one who knows Judge McBride knows him to be an able, conscientious and impartial judge; plain, unostentatious, and holds court with very little "fuss and feathers." However, not desiring that the court should be "working in the dark," at the October session the judge made an order for better lights. Just before court opened on Monday some one, we don't know whether it was Bill Barrett or Dillard, removed the judge's comfortable armchair and substituted therefor an old chair without any back. The judge, without show of formality, took his seat much the same as a man would straddle a stool at a poker table and immediately called for a new d—er, beg pardon—immediately opened court. An audible smile passed around the court room at the judge's expense, and just before the noon hour some one of the mischievous boys (attorneys) sent a note up to the judge's desk which read something like this: "When making an order for new lamps the order should have included a suitable chair for the judge." The judge smiled a comical smile over in the direction of Bill Barrett and glanced down at his priuitive seat and then adjourned court for the noon hour, while those present enjoyed a hearty laugh. On closer inspection the judge recognized in the backless chair a trusted friend and office companion of 25 years ago. If that old chair could only talk! eh, judge?

Circuit Court.

Following are the proceedings of the circuit court up to the time of going to press:

In the case of the State of Oregon vs. Emil Schmidt, from Justice Henderson's court, held to keep the peace with bonds at $750, the court ordered the prisoner dismissed. On the first charge, preferred by Marion Fowler for assault with a deadly weapon, his bonds were placed at $500, with T. C. Watts and J. H. Swager as sureties.

In the case of Hez Caples vs. Elijah McVey, clerk of school distribt No. 11, the defendant was given until next Monday to appear and show cause why he failed to issue an order for the payment of $460.40 in favor of the plaintiff.

Jasper Graham vs. Josiah Weston; demurrer sustained.

John Schmitka vs. J. W Bevis et al; demurrer to complaint overruled.

S. A. Miles vs. Nelson Hoyt et al; decree for plaintiff and decree for foreclosure of mortgage for $782.46, principal and interest, and $60 for attorney's fees.

Mary Schmidt vs. Emil Schmidt; defendant's demurrer overruled and given until next Monday morning to answer.

In the matter of the bill of A. H. George for making clerk's desk and repairing courthouse, amounting to $7.75, allowed.

DEER ISLAND.

So far no snow has fallen this season, although the hill across the river has been covered at different times.

Mr. and Mrs. Elzy George are visiting here this week.

Mr. and Mrs D. Parker, of Etna, Washington, are visiting Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Merrill and other friends at present.

Mrs. O. A. Woods is quite over her sick spell. To the watchful nursing of Mrs. Isaac Bumgardner and the eminent skill of Dr. Cliff she owes her convalescence.

One of your readers wishes to know the publisher's address of Burton's History of Scotland.

Mrs. Edwin Merrill was called last week to her old home on Cedar Creek, Clark county, Wash., to the funeral of her sister, Rhoda Parker, who died of consumption December 4, 1892, aged 19 years.

One of the young ladies of this neighborhood is keeping the dressmaker busy, and one of our young men is keeping his horse busy.

There is a young man not far from here, of tender years, whose parents allow him the unrestricted use of firearms. In fact, this youth of 14 years has the credit of possessing an arsenal of five different shooting-irons and a good appetite for dime novels and thrilling stories of the Wild West. All that is necessary for him is to keep his mother from cutting his hair to be a first-class Buffalo Bill or a Red Rever.

Peter Donkie had a Fitz James and Roderick Dhu encounter with a footpad a short time ago while he was here. Mr. Donkie was a guest of Pat Hughes, who lives about a quarter of a mile out of town. He was coming home (to Mr. H's) after dark, when a highwayman met him and demanded his money. Mr. Donkie resisted, whereat the footpad,

"Like adder darting from his coil—
Like wolf that dashes through the toil—
Like mountain-cat who guards her young—
Full at Fitz James' throat he sprung,"

But when the hobo felt cold steel against his ribs he took another direction. Mr. Donkie returned to town and exhibited a gory knife, but so far no one has appeared minus an ear nor an arm.

We cannot but indorse the sentiment of your intelligent Clatskanie correspondent in closing the gates of the World's Fair on the Sabbath. Yet how often do we see the wealthy moneymongers drive their gay equippages to their church door and then wave their footmen and coachmen back to their stables and home, valuing the few dog's bite of meat on their horses' bones more than the immortal souls of their employes. Yet it's the same avarice, wealth-grasping world that endeavors to keep the World's Fair open on Sunday and deny the working people the privilege of Sunday rest and heavenly worship.

DELENA.

Muddy roads and diphtheria seem to be the order of the day here.

Miss Attla Mathews and Fanny Meserve returned last Sunday from Portland.

Miss Emma Wagner and her brothers Oscar and Ed attended the school entertainment at Mayger last Saturday evening, and report a good time.

Several people from this place have been attending court at St. Helens this week.

Dr. Meserve expects to have his new house ready for occupancy abant the middle of January. His house will be among the best in the county when completed.

W. N. Meserve has been busy at Rainier, the past week, surveying town lots for Mr. George Moeck. Rainier must expect a "boom," which she is justly entitled to, as no better site for a city can be found on the Columbia river.

The hall at this place has been lined inside, and the ceiling raised about three feet higher, making it in the form of an arch, which will add greatly to the appearance as well as to the accoustic properties. The hall will also be painted and thoroughly equipped, ready for the dance and entertainment in January.

TRYON NOTES.

Mrs. James Severns bought a fine span of Clydesdale mares. We wish Jimmy success.

Miss Mary Metcalf is visiting her niece, Miss Edmonds, of Westport.

There was no school here for a week or more, owing to the sickness of Mr. Keyser's children.

The supervisor is opening the Tryon road. It will be open in about a week.

Mrs. James Severns came down on the Iralda from Portland Saturday evening, and was the guest of Mrs. D. M. Ewing.

Deserving Praise.

We desire to say to our citizens, that for years we have been selling Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption, Dr. King's New Life Pills, Bucklen's Arnica Salve and Electric Bitters, and have never handled remedies that sell as well, or that have given such universal satisfaction. We do not hesitate to guarantee them every time, and we stand ready to refund the purchase price, if satisfactory results do not follow their use. These remedies have won their great popularity purely on their merits. For sale by Edwin Ross, druggist.

Don't Take Our Word,

But call your druggist to one side and ask him privately which of all the remedies advertised to cure rheumatism he would recommend. If he is posted, and conscientious, he will tell you that Dr. Drummond's Lightning Remedy is the only one that offers a reward of $500 for a case it will not cure and for ordinary cases the money is returned when one bottle does not cure. With sensible people this is the strongest recommendation. Price $5 per bottle. Sent to any address prepaid on receipt of price. Drummond Medicine Co., 48-50 Maiden Lane, New York. Agents wanted.

Do you wish to know the quickest way to cure a cold? We will tell you. To cure a cold quickly, it must be treated before the cold has become settled in the system. The first symptoms are a dry, loud cough and sneezing. The cough is soon followed by watery expectoration and the sneezing by a profuse watery discharge from the nose. In severe cases there is a thin white coating on the tongue What to do? It is only necessary to take Chamberlain's Cough Remedy in double doses every hour. That will greatly lessen the severity of the cold, and in many cases will effectually counteract it and cure what would have been a severe cold within one or two days time. Try it and be convinced. 50-cent bottles for sale by Edwin Ross, druggist.
