An order of the Secretary of the Interior recently issued is of great importance to the horticultural industry of Southern California. It creates a reservation in San Bernardino county covering about forty-eight townships and extending from Cajon Pass on the north to San Gorgonio Pass on the south, taking in the watershed upon the mountains.

By a decision of the Secretary of the Interior a number of persons who have made beautiful homes on a tract in the heart of the choicest horticultural region of Los Angeles county, six miles northwest of Pomona, find themselves without any title to their land. The land was sold by the State, and the Legislature will have to be looked to to indemnify the innocent persons.

The big government dike at Spag Island.

The b'g government dike at Snag Island in the Columbia river has been completed, and the gangs of workmen were taken to the mainland. The dike is 19,000 feet in length, and is placed in the river so as to force the current into the old river channel and to keen the river old river channel and to keep the river within narrower bounds. Frequent soundings at marked points show that the channel is steadily increasing in death.

The Wolcott reports that in the recollection of sea-faring men on the Coast there has never been so many drift logs in the Strait of Fuca as at the present time. The high freshets have swept down the fallen logs of ages and sent them adrift to the sea. Logs that have been buried in the sand for years along the beach below Port Crescent have been washed up, and in some places great dams of logs are formed, rendering it dangerous for navigation.

Articles of incorporation of the Northern American Navigation Company were filed the other day at San Francisco by a number of the prominent residents of that city. The corporation is formed with a capital stock of $3,000,000 and for the purpose of purchasing or building vessels to carry on business as common carriers between San Francisco and Panama, and then to make connection with the Panama Railroad Company's lines or other agencies that afford communication with New York and another Atlantic ports. The term of the corporation is given as five years.

On a charge of criminal libel at Portland George H. Moffett, editor of the Telegram, has been acquitted. The alleged libel consisted in an article published prior to the city election last June, charging a number of persons with levying assessments on gambling houses and the inmates of the houses of ill repute to be used in carrying the election for the Republican tickst. Judge Shattuck instructed the jury that the levying of of assessments to be used in a political campaign was not a crime, and that, therefore, no libel had been committed. The other night an individual called at the residence of Father O'Rielly, a Catholic priest of Colton, San Bernardino county, Cal., and asked him to hurry with him to the bedside of a dying man beyond Colton.
