

OREGON MIST.

United States and County Official Paper. St. Helens, November 24, 1893.

PUBLISHER'S NOTICE. All communications sent to the Editor for publication must be accompanied by the author's real name and a home address.

BRIEF MENTION.

B. F. Giltner, of Salem, was in town during the week. District Attorney Barrett, of Hillsboro, paid this place an official visit Saturday.

Dorr Keasey, of Keasey postoffice, this county, was in St. Helens the early part of the week.

See the notice of sale of a shingle mill in another column. Sale to take place on the 4th of December.

Charles Meserve and wife, of Oregon City, were visiting in this place and at Milton last Saturday and Sunday.

Wright, The Iowa Jeweler, has the finest line of Watches and Jewelry, 305 Morrison street, Portland.

The saws were stopped in Muckle Bros. mill Saturday. The planer has since been kept busy preparing dressed lumber.

The county court is working hard on the books of the delinquent county officials, and are making satisfactory progress.

A gang of linemen have put in several days lately making general repairs on the Pacific Postal Telegraph Co.'s line in this vicinity.

Linley Meecker left Saturday for Delano, California, where he will visit his sisters who live at that place. Mr. Meecker will be absent about two months.

Dull winter's upon us and chilly winds roar, but "business is business," at Dolman's store, come to St. Helens and lay in supplies, the bargains you find are a pleasing surprise.

Sheriff Massie, Dave Davis, of THE MIST, and Dr. Cliff have received invitations to be present at the execution of Hanson and Rieter, the Clatsop county murderers, on December 1st.

Columbia county has four jurors drawn to sit on the United States grand jury at Portland, in the celebrated smuggling cases. They are C. N. Gable, of this place, H. A. Corlies, of Hamilton, N. Tingle and R. Cree, of Mayger.

The Mist is in receipt of three wonderfully fine potatoes from the farm of G. W. Kyster, of Dent. One of the potatoes is a White Elephant and weighs three pounds. The other two weigh two and one-half pounds each, and are of the early rose variety.

The late season of smothering which followed the rains of November 4th to 7th, was brought to an abrupt termination at 6 o'clock Sunday evening when the sky became overcast with decidedly misty looking clouds, and the regular "fog" began to fall in regular assignments. Barring accidents we hope to see the sun again about the 5th of next July.

The medical fraternity of St. Helens will, next week, receive a valuable addition in the person of Dr. D'Warren Kelly, late of Kansas. Dr. Kelly has just passed a highly satisfactory examination before the State Board of Medical Examiners for Oregon, and comes well recommended. The doctor and his family will be a desirable addition to the society of our city, and we take pleasure in extending them a hearty welcome.

A Missouri editor has a subscriber who gets drunk every five or six weeks and invariably insists on paying a year's subscription. He now has his subscription paid for in advance up to twenty hundred and twenty-six. We wish the editor of that paper would find out what brand of whiskey that fellow drinks and send us a few gallons. We will pay him a good price for it, and if it has the same effect on some of our subscribers we will take a barrel of it.

A young son of Geo. Leonard, of Sauvie Island, was very badly injured in a runaway accident last Thursday afternoon. The little fellow was left sitting on a wagon load of wood and while Mr. Leonard's back was turned for a moment the horses started to run. The boy was thrown off the wagon and had his right thigh bone broken just below the hip joint. He was brought to St. Helens where the fracture was reduced by Dr. Cliff. The break is a bad one, and may result in permanent injury.

A number of block makers who are here waiting to be paid their wages for the Tacoma contract, got too much fighting whiskey aboard Wednesday night, and indulged in a free-for-all fight in which numerous eyes were shaded and heads broken. During the progress of the "scrap" a Swedish named Pearson drew a knife and slashed Jack Whalen's throat in a frightful manner, the knife only missing his left jugular by the sixteenth of an inch. Pearson then tried to get away from Whalen and his friends who followed Pearson to Rice's wharf, where they forced him to jump overboard.

Frosty mornings and sunny days have had the effect of putting the horseflesh in this neighborhood on its metal, and several runaway accidents have resulted. Friday morning a team belonging to Gust Wikstrom was driven to taking on a load of provisions. The horses got ready to start before the driver did, and lit out towards the court house at a Nancy Hanks gait. They tried to get through the gate leading to George Lemont's barn, but missed the gate some ten feet and piled up on a picket fence all in a heap. Both horses miraculously escaped without injury, and the wagon was uninjured.

Times are dull but Mr. Dolman don't seem to have found it out. He continues to make needed improvements to his store, and continues to stock up in general merchandise.

The Missionary Jubilee Singers gave an entertainment at the opera house Wednesday evening to a fair audience. They announced their intention to give another concert here tomorrow (Saturday) evening. They sing quite well, and an hour can be rather pleasantly spent listening to them.

MAYGER.

We are having very cold weather here now, and as a result nearly all the vegetables are frozen.

There was a social dance at Thos. Dawson's on Saturday evening which was thoroughly enjoyed by all who attended.

August Larson will soon commence the erection of a new house on his homestead, as he is called on it is finished we hope to see him bring a new abode to live in it.

We called upon our friend Wm. Blackford and found that he had gone into the coal business. He has all kinds of coal for sale cheap, come early and avoid the rush.

The arrest of Mr. Lane was a surprise to the people of Mayger. John Hoffman and Mr. Snider went to St. Helens to become surety for his appearance at the preliminary examination next Saturday.

An interesting social event in the shape of a wedding will take place here on Sunday the 27th. Harry Coleman and one of the girls of Mayger will be the parties to receive the congratulations.

Mrs. A. Croker, of this place, has gone into the poultry business, and showed us some very nice birds. But some of them are like a bald headed man—have no feathers to cover their heads. Mrs. Croker is busy making jackets to keep them warm.

W. A. Slaughter, a member of the firm of W. Myzer & Co., is seriously thinking of building a coal furnace. That is, running one straight through his hill. As a practical furnace builder we do not doubt that he could make water to almost run up hill and pack wood with it. We hope to see it soon.

Our roads are in a very deplorable condition, especially the St. Helens, here and Clatskanie, which in some places is so bad that a man with a road cart and in others it is so crowded that a man would probably be thrown out of the cart. We do not like to see a road one can walk along without getting drowned.

REUBEN.

Captain Caple's new scow is loading wood at Reuben.

Link Stefman has returned from Coe creek where he has been driving team.

H. P. Works has returned from Wind river, where he has been driving team.

Mrs. Wagonhauser, of Portland, is visiting her sister, Mrs. H. C. Brown, of St. Helens.

Jim McNaughton and B. Havard are getting out some large pling to be used on the southern Pacific railroad.

Jay Archibald dislocated his arm on Saturday last week, but fortunately got it set again without any trouble.

The silos of Miller & Bradley, of Reuben, and Fred Nussbaum, of Goble, have been consolidated, the one at Reuben being vacated.

Owing to lack of water McNaughton was compelled to flame pling Sunday, y. t. Jim saw that the pling was in his hands and he will pull the poles through.

It was very kind in the life saving crew at Point Adams to send up a man to rescue two young ladies who were about to be sunk in the stranded bark of courtship, but who were rescued by the crew.

We will let you hear from the rescued next week if there is any change.

We met our old friend Ben in Seer the other day and when we asked him where he was going he said too much music and whisky and cashmere suits was not good for his health, and he thought he would try hard-core wood for a change.

The people of this place are considering how they will spend Thanksgiving. The majority seem to be in favor of celebrating it as usual, but we saw Ed Fowler going home with some fine ducks and he will celebrate with the governor if he has to eat alone. Perhaps he is right.

Alternate assignments of fine and foul weather suits in this locality, and our few boys ball games which have been the rage for the season, will have to be discontinued until spring. The Kalamas have been playing the fiddle and have made it highly interesting for spectators on Sundays at Reuben.

We also met Ed Butts, from the life saving station at Cape Disappointment. If any of the crew has ever done a brave deed we think it is Ed, for he rescued two young ladies from this place from a sail fate. The young ladies thought they were sinning very immorally over the sea of matrimony in their frail bark of hope, when a most to late, they were discovered by this brave-hearted Ed, and he will celebrate with the governor if he has to eat alone.

Havard and McNaughton have been putting in some fine cedar pling for Reuben, which is twelve inches in diameter at the top. This makes a very large stick to run in a flume. They are cut at a sawmill and run down the Co. R. & P. Co., flume to Goble, where they will be loaded on Capt. Copelan's scow and taken to Portland. They have had a large crew of men at work and we hope they do well. We like to see it, but among us once more. It seems like old times to see him at the head of a gang with his hearty breaking in an inimitable flourish. Mr. Borwick is a good business man and the people of this vicinity will know how to appreciate him should he take hold of this property again.

Use Pride of Japan Tea. A light snow fell on Wednesday evening at this place, but was of short duration.

Thanksgiving—Pennyover—was not observed by St. Helensites yesterday. They prefer waiting a week.

County Treasurer E. M. Whorton has been drawn on the United States grand jury which is now in session in Portland.

What the medical fraternity terms malarial gripe has a hold on many of St. Helens' residents, and considerable suffering is experienced.

An interesting communication from Columbia City and one from Deer Island arrived last evening too late for appearance in this issue.

Governor McKinley, of Ohio, has issued a Thanksgiving proclamation to his people, proclaiming Thursday November 30th, Thanksgiving.

Jack, the "slasher," has threatened the White house and President Cleveland. He states in a letter that he will carry out his plans in defiance of everything.

G. A. Lane Arrested.

As a result of the Lane larceny affair, near Dent, Miss Collins came up to St. Helens Friday and swore out a warrant for Lane's arrest charging him with larceny, and an officer was immediately dispatched to serve the warrant. Lane was found with much trouble, and brought before Justice Blakesley who placed him under $500 bonds until next Saturday.

The Best Plaster.

Dampen a piece of flannel with Chamberlain's Pain Balm and bind it on over the hurt. It is better than any plaster. When the blisters are sore such an application on the chest and another on the back between the shoulder blades, will cure you of pneumonia. There is nothing so good for a lame back or a pain in the side as a sore throat can nearly always be cured in one night by applying a flannel bandage dampened with Pain Balm. Fifty cent bottles for sale by Edwin Ross.
