

SIDEHEAD PARAGRAPHS.

HAS NOT LET LOOSE.—Yet the gripe hangs on. There are numerous persons in our city who are suffering from its awful effects.

ST. HELENS WAS FULL.—Of road supervisors Wednesday, who came to town to make their several reports to, and settle with the commissioners' court.

STANFORDS WIN.—In the great football game in Portland New Year day between the Portland and Leland Stanford University teams, the Oregonians were "wiped up" by a score of 16 to 8.

THE NEW YEAR BALL.—The ball given at this place New Year night was a complete success. A large number of guests were present from neighboring points, and all report a genuine good time.

JON PRINTING.—This office is now supplied with late and neat designs of material for turning out every description of job printing. We will execute your orders on short notice and at reasonable rates.

TO PLEASURE SEEKERS.—The skating rink craze is in this place, and Mr. Swager is conducting his rink in such a manner that it is proving a great resort for pleasure seekers. Skating Monday, Thursday, and Saturday evenings.

GARDEN SEEDS.—This office received a package of garden seeds this week from the United States department of agriculture. The package contained quite a variety of seeds of vegetables which we find use for in the average garden.

SOCIAL AND DANCE AT RAINIER.—Thirty-five couples attended the basket social and dance in the Masonic hall at Rainier Monday night. The evening was spent in feasting and dancing, and will be remembered by those present as one of the most pleasant of the season.

LURLINK HAILED OFF.—The Vancouver Transportation company have temporarily withdrawn the Str. Lurline from the Astoria route, in order to give her a thorough overhauling for the next season's work. Their Str. Undine will make the Saturday night run to Astoria.

SPECIAL RECEIPT BOOKS.—At this office we are engaged at present in printing a large number of receipt books, general and special. If you use a special receipt, order now, so that we will be able to print and furnish them at the same rate as the general receipt book.

ADVERTISING PAYS.—The man who says advertising doesn't pay is referred to the mayor of Marysville, who last week inserted an ad. in his local paper under the head of "girl wanted." Three days later his wife gave birth to a girl. Does advertising pay? Of course it does or people wouldn't advertise.

THOUGHT IT WAS A BEAR.—One can hardly read a paper these days but what he sees an item pertaining to some young man being fatally wounded or killed by being shot in mistake of a bear. It is generally the work of some amateur who imagines that every object he sees in the woods must be some wild animal.

WEATHER GUESSING.—There are many different ideas advanced by local weather prophets as regards the weather for the remaining part of the winter, and some are lucky enough to guess right for six or twelve hours ahead, but where one will guess correctly there are ten who will miss it, especially so unless they would prophesy rain.

THE COUNTY TREASURER.—In another column will be seen a treasurer's notice wherein County Treasurer Wharton advertises for all outstanding county warrants up to January 2, 1894. By this it will be seen that there are just two year's warrants outstanding, there being just about sufficient means on hand to redeem all obligations up to the time advertised.

BEAWARE.—Hadin't the country press better "look a little out" how they are running advertisements for prize drawings, such as guessing the number of beans in a jar, guessing the lucky number which draws such and such a prize, etc. That comes pretty near being a lottery, doesn't it? and of course you know that it is against the law to send lottery matter through the mails.

A CORRECTION.—An item in last week's issue made it appear that Adam Stump, of Scappoose, was concerned in the cutting affair on board the Str. Kehani, near Linnton, on December 22. In justice to Mr. Stump we wish to correct this statement as he had nothing to do with the affair, and he was unintentionally mentioned in the item on account of a confusion of names.

AGAIN AT THEIR STUDIES.—After a vacation of over a week, the pupils of the St. Helens public schools are again at their studies with renewed zeal eager to excel in their respective studies. They, no doubt, missed their coasting and skating this year, as that is a sport generally indulged in during the Christmas holidays, but they seemed to enjoy themselves anyway. As long as a boy is able to be outside he is going to have fun; you can mark that.

THEIR REASONS.—When a man takes a cigar out of his mouth to tell the editor to stop his paper, that he can't afford it, the editor may say nothing, but he thinks a good deal. And when he stops his paper because he "hasn't time to read it," and goes down town and whistles a drygoods box for hours, the editor may say nothing, but he thinks a good deal. And when some business man says he does not advertise because it does not pay and then uses the entire sidewalk in displaying his goods, plasters them over with such attractive cards as "I am cheap," "buy me," etc., the editor may say nothing, but he thinks—great deal.

MORE MATRIMONY.—On Wednesday, the 27th of December, at the home of the bride's parents, at Deer Island, there took place a quiet wedding, which Robert Duffin and Miss Mary Simpson were the contracting parties. Justice Blakesley officiating. Both the young people are well and favorably known in this part of the country, and all wish to extend to the groom their hearty congratulations, and to his bride they wish much happiness.

IT TOOK THE LEAD THERE.—During the epidemic of the gripe Chamberlain's Cough Remedy took the lead here and was much better liked than other cough medicines. H. M. BANG, druggist, Chatsworth, Ill. The gripe is much the same as a very severe cold and requires precisely the same treatment. This Remedy is prompt and effectual and will prevent any tendency of the disease toward pneumonia. For sale by Edwin Ross.

A SCARCE ARTICLE.—Ducks are reported as not being so plentiful this year as heretofore, but that does not stop our nimrods from reporting a big slaughter. One fellow came in from a hunt the other day carrying a poor little duck, which was either frightened to death or accidentally got in front of his gun, and when asked how many he got he replied "Nine." He only secured one of them, however, the remaining eight, he claims, fell into the water and sank.

CAN BE PERMANENTLY CURED.—The persistent cough which usually follows an attack of the gripe can be permanently cured by taking Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. W. A. McGuire, of McKay, Ohio, says: "La gripe left me with a severe cough. After using several different medicines without relief, I tried Chamberlain's Cough Remedy, which effected immediate relief. I have also found it to be without an equal for children when troubled with colds or croup. Fifty-cent bottles for sale by Edwin Ross.

THE OLD AND THE NEW.—During the extreme latter part of last year a multitude of men and boys, armed with bells, circular saws, guns, cans, and other necessary articles to make a noise with, held high carnival in the streets of St. Helens for half an hour or more, going from one part of town to the other with their miscellaneous onslaught, and if the old year didn't get a farewell to be remembered and the new year ushered in with all the pomp and dignity that the boys were equal to it was no fault of their own.

THE ASSESSMENT ROLL.—County Clerk Quick expects the assessment roll from the state board of equalization about the middle of the month. Recent advices from Salem are to the effect that in several counties, including Columbia, the assessment on horses and mules has been reduced twenty per cent, while on cattle the assessment has been raised forty per cent. The board has been wrestling with the assessment on town lots for several days past, but expect to finish their work about January 15.

HE MADE A MISTAKE.—A young man in Eugene, who is very particular about his washing, lately wrote a note to his sweetheart, also one to his washwoman. By mistake the wrong address was placed on each envelope. The washwoman was very much pleased to receive a note beginning with "my darling," and which invited her to take a buggy-ride next day. But with his sweetheart it was a little different as this is the letter she received: "If you tumble up my bosom from again as you did the last time, I will go somewhere else." She cried and declared she would never speak to him again.

DISAPPOINTED FISHERMEN.—Sturgeon fishermen who had expected to make some money in their business this winter have been disappointed. They say that there has been no run of sturgeon, and attribute this to the slaughter of the young ones in fish-traps and wheels. The sturgeon fishing promised to be profitable, but it would seem that the end has been reached already. Just how long it takes sturgeon to attain their growth, no one knows, but it probably takes a good many years, so that even if the indiscriminate slaughter of the young fish can be checked it will be some time before the fishing is profitable again.

FESTIVITIES ARE OVER.—Notwithstanding the fact that the coming of Christmas and New Year is hailed with delight, it is equally so that it is a satisfaction to know that the festivities are done with, and people will once more resume the daily duties of life. We would not have it understood that we make these assertions because we feel as if we had indulged too great an extent in the fun attendant upon such an occasion, or because we went home singing "There's a Difference in the Morning," but it is a fact, nevertheless, that from a standpoint of business all will acknowledge that it is well the holidays are past.

SUICIDE AT PITTSBURG.—The little village of Pittsburg, in this county, was the scene of a suicide last Saturday morning at 9 o'clock, which was a most severe shock to the citizens of the place. Mrs. D. W. Case, wife of one of the proprietors of the Pittsburg mill, while suffering from a temporary aberration, plunging from the county bridge, a distance of twenty-five feet, into the Nehalem river, which, at this season, is deep, swift, and turbulent. The lady had been ill for a short time previous, and during her illness she suffered a recurrence of a former aberration and while in the unbalanced state of mind suddenly fulfilled an insane determination to destroy herself. She was not missed by her family until nearly an hour after she made the fatal plunge, by which time her body had drifted a distance of a mile and a half, and settled to the bottom of the stream in sixteen feet of water, where it was found at 2 o'clock p. m. the following day after a systematic search of the stream. The remains were brought to St. Helens and taken to Portland on Wednesday for interment. Mrs. Case was about thirty-five years of age, and leaves a husband and two children, who have the sympathy of their many friends in their sad and distressing loss.

BUSINESS DEPRESSION.—Tol. Thompson, the district agent for the State insurance company of Salem, was in town Tuesday on his way to Salem on an extended trip to the Sound country, and in speaking of the depressed nature of business, Mr. Thompson remarked to a Mrs. representative that there was more business in the little town of St. Helens than there was in Fairhaven, Washington. He says that there is absolutely no business being done in the Sound country and that in one instance he made particular note of the fact that at one of the leading hotels of Fairhaven, where the monthly expenses of the house easily reach $1500 or $1800 per month, there would be from two to half dozen guests per day. In New Whatcom, Mr. Thompson says that business interests are more lively, yet in a very depressed condition. In Seattle business is a total wreck, there being nothing to create any stir, whatever. In Tacoma there are persons, who some years ago were rated as well-to-do, taking boarders into their residences, and giving up the pleasures of a home in order to live.

BURGARS IN PORTLAND.—Portland is suffering from the work of thieves and burglars, which are reported to be very numerous at present. Houses are broken into almost nightly. Many of the robberies are not reported to the police for several days afterwards, and then it is too late to find any clue to the miscreant might be. On Tuesday evening, during the absence of the family, a residence was entered and about $300 in cash, besides many other valuable articles, were stolen. Chief of Police Hunt, of that city, has ordered a general round-up of all vagrants and suspicious-looking characters, and the police are rigidly going after them.

GOING UP THE COWLITS.—Huge shoals of smelt are now making their way up the Cowlitz to their spawning grounds, and great quantities are being taken. Tons are sent to the Portland market, and although dealers there are supplying them to all points along the railroads, they cannot take all sent and a large number of boxes have been left on the hands of the express company. Old-timers will feel certain, now that the smelt have started up the Cowlitz, that there is no danger of any freeze-up or snow, in fact, that the worst of winter is over, but smelt, like the white man, is "mighty unsmartin'," and one probably knows no more about the future than the other.

BOUGHT TO KNOW ITS VALUE.—About a year ago I took violent attack of la gripe. I coughed day and night for about six weeks; my wife then suggested that I try a bottle of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. At first I could see no difference, but still kept taking it, and soon found that it was what I needed. If I got no relief from one dose I took another, and it was only a few days until I was free from the cough. I think people in general ought to know the value of this remedy, and I take pleasure in acknowledging the benefit I have received from it. MADISON MUSTARD, Otway, Ohio. Fifty-cent bottles for sale by Edwin Ross.

THE MIDWINTER FAIR.—While the great midwinter fair at San Francisco was to be in full blast January 1, the latest word is that, though it is officially opened on time, the exposition is far from complete as to the products of California, and it does not seem probable that the various Pacific states and other departments will be fully organized before February. As to the Oregon exhibit, the gentlemen interested, who are subscribing their money as well as cheerfully donating their time and services, are constantly receiving assurances from all parts of the state that great interest is felt, and a general disposition exists to aid the cause in every practicable way.

WHICH IS WHICH?—Reader, when you are preparing to come to town to do some trading just pick up your home paper, glance at the advertising columns and see who wants your trade. We'll guarantee that if you trade with those that recognize the local papers as an incentive to their business, they will save you money. The man who advertises certainly has inducements to offer you, or he would not ask you to call and see him before buying. The firm or person who has any articles or a stock of goods for sale, who does not advertise the fact, is supposed to be dead to the world and do not intend that the public should know that he wants their trade. In other words such people cast their light "under a bushel."

PRIZE POTATOES.—In a recent issue of Vick's Floral Guide, we notice a list of prizes awarded for fine potatoes, at Vick & Sons' international exhibit at Rochester, N. Y. There were 600 exhibits of one dozen each which came from every part of the United States, but principally from the west and northwest. The committee awarded five prizes in all, and the third prize of $20 was awarded Harry West, of Scappoose, who exhibited a dozen American Wonder potatoes which he raised from seed furnished him by Vick & Sons. From one pound of seed Mr. West raised 236 pounds of potatoes, and he is confident that he could have captured first prize had it not been for the cold, unseasonable spring last year.

HOW ABOUT THIS.—That there exists in the usually quiet and peaceful little city of St. Helens, a degree of dissatisfaction and jealousy among some of the girls, remains no longer a doubt. The degree of jealousy is assuming proportions of considerable magnitude, since just a day or two since a young lady of this place was heard to remark that she considered it very unfair that the men of this place were paying so much of their attention to the lamp-posts about the city. It is a fact that at about this season of the year the lamp-posts are being hugged considerably and it is not at all astonishing that the girls would remonstrate. Do not worry, girls, the holidays are gone and perhaps the men about town will endeavor to be more gentlemanly in the future, or you might overcome the evil by holding the lamps yourselves.
