SIDEHEAD PARAGRAPHS.

JUSTICE'S SUMMONS.—We have on hand a supply of justice-of-the peace blank summons. Those in need of such stationery can procure the same at this office.

MILLINERY.—At Mrs. Colburn's millinery and dressmaking parlors the ladies can find late styles in millinery, for winter. Dressmaking neatly, accurately, and quickly executed.

JOB PRINTING.—This office is now supplied with late and neat designs of material for turning out every description of job printing. We will execute your orders on short notice and at reasonable rates.

SPECIAL RECEIPT BOOKS.—At this office we are engaged at present in printing a large number of receipt books, general and special. If you use a special receipt, order now, so that we will be able to print and furnish them at the same rate as the general receipt book.

EGGS BRING GOOD PRICES.—Almost everything produced on farms and gardens sell at lower prices now than they have brought for many years, but eggs bring as good prices as they did in flush times. The markets never seem to be overstocked, as there is a big demand for them in all cities.

OREGON'S PENITENTIARY.—There are about 480 prisoners in the penitentiary now, and the number is increasing slowly. Of these, 269 are working in the jute mill, the largest ever so occupied. The mill is turning out 5000 grain sacks per day. The brickyard, owing to unfavorable weather, is not in operation.

"CLEANLINESS NEXT TO GODLINESS."—In order to appreciate the full meaning of this old saying, one needs only to visit the city baths, C. L. Colburn, proprietor. Mr. Colburn keeps his barber shop and bath in excellent condition—sharp razors, careful workmanship, hot water at all hours of the day, and the bath is clean and comfortable.

MIGHT HAVE DONE BETTER.—One of our valley exchanges has the following peculiar item: "'I have worn corsets all my life,' says a member of the New York Women's league, 'and I have had fourteen children—three pairs of twins—and I never had so much as a headache.' The good lady has done very well. But perhaps if she had n't worn corsets they would have all been twins.'"

LEG BROKEN.—J. Peacher, a pioneer citizen of this place, had the misfortune, Saturday morning, to fall down a stairway at the home of his daughter, near Columbia slough, and fracture his leg. Mr. Peacher is over seventy years old and the accident is a most severe one for a person of his advanced age. His daughter, Mrs. S. A. Miles of this place, is in attendance at his bedside.

MARRIED.—On Sunday evening, December 31. John R. Beegle and Miss Alma Willis were joined in wedlock, in Hillsboro, at the home of the bride's mother. Mr. Beegle is well and most favorably known to the readers of THE MIST and we consider it useless to say more than to join John's many friends in wishing himself and bride a long, happy, and prosperous journey through life.

SCHOOL REPORT.—Miss Fanny Meserve, teacher of the public schools in district No. 44, sends in the following report of her school for the month ending December 22nd: Number enrolled, eleven; average daily attendance for the month, ten. Those who were neither absent or tardy during the month are Charles, August, and Edward Lovegren, Anna Calkins, Orvill Yound.

IT TOOK THE LEAD THERE.—"During the epidemic of la grippe Chamberlain's Cough Remedy took the lead here and was much better liked than other cough medicines." H. M. BANG, druggist, Chatsworth, Ill. The grippe is much the same as a very severe cold and requires precisely the same treatment. This Remedy is prompt and effectual and will prevent any tendency of the disease toward pneumonia. For sale by Edwin Ross.

KNOW YOURSELF.—A Polk county editor advises the following method: "Find out all you can about yourself; if your life is as good and upright at eleven o'clock at night as it is at noon; if you are as good a temperance man at a fishing excursion as you are at a Sunday school picnic; if, in short, you are really the sort of a man your father hopes you are and sweetheart believes you to be, then you are all right."

DISAPPOINTED.—The indications on Monday night were that the ice would be frozen to a sufficient thickness the following morning to admit of skating and a number of our people who are fond of that sport made preparations to indulge in a good day's skating, but they were doomed to disappointment, as they awoke Tuesday morning to find a drizzling rain prevailing. It is not well to make preparations for any fun and expect the weather to help you out, in Oregon.

CAN BE PERMANENTLY CURED.—The persistent cough which usually follows an attack of the grippe can be permanently cured by taking Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. W. A. McGuire, of McKay, Ohio, says: "La grippe left me with a severe cough. After using several different medicines without relief, I tried Chamberlain's Cough Remedy, which effected immediate relief. I have also found it to be without an equal for children when troubled with colds or croup. Fifty cent bottles for sale by Edwin Ross.

OREGON AND WASHINGTON HOPS.—It is said that one-half the hops now used in the United States are grown on the Pacific coast, the bulk of them in Oregon and Washington. These two states have all the conditions for supporting all the hop fields in the world. It costs less to produce hops here than it does in any other country, and the soil is well adapted to them, yielding a very large number of pounds per acre. Why wouldn't it be a pretty good idea for some of our Columbia county farmers to set a portion of their farms to hops.

DELINQUENT TAX-ROLL.—The thanks of this office are due W. J. Eastabrook for a summary of the general delinquent tax-roll for the past six years. The total delinquency is $25,754.18, of which amount $9,806.16 is sheriff's assessment. These figures show a much greater delinquency than really exists on account of double assessments and taxes which ex Sheriff Massie received and receipted for but failed to credit on the rolls. For several reasons it is impossible to show exactly what the total delinquency is, but it will not miss $15,000 very far.

LIGHT FALL OF SNOW.—Friday afternoon brought the first snow of the winter at this place, in fact the air was misty with fine snow, or rain and snow together, before the noon hour, but no considerable amount of it fell until the afternoon. Nightfall brought no abatement of the storm which continued throughout the night and covered the ground to the depth of five inches with a robe of "the beautiful." The visitation cannot properly be called a storm, as a warm south wind and rising barometer prevailed throughout. Saturday the thermometer remained about stationary, and considerable rain fell.

OUGHT TO KNOW ITS VALUE.—About a year ago I took a violent attack of la grippe. I coughed day and night for about six weeks; my wife then suggested that I try a bottle of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. At first I could see no difference, but still kept taking it, and soon found that it was what I needed. If I got no relief from one dose I took another, and it was only a few days until I was free from the cough. I think people in general ought to know the value of this remedy, and I take pleasure in acknowledging the benefit I have received from it. MADISON MUSTARD, Otway, Ohio. Fifty-cent bottles for sale by Edwin Ross.

NEW REVENUE COLLECTOR.—Henry Blackman, a merchant and banker of Heppner, has been appointed collector of internal revenue for the district of Oregon, to succeed Milton W. Weidler, the present incumbent, who was appointed by Benjamin Harrison. Mr. Blackman was, in 1890, joint representative for Morrow, Grant, and Harney counties, and has long been active in politics. His appointment has created intense consternation among local democratic politicians, who indorsed very strongly a man named Munday, of Vancouver, Wash., and it was confidentially expected he would be the successful candidate. Mr. Blackman will take possession of his office as soon as his commission arrives.

INSTALLATION AND BANQUET.—No more hospitable or jolly society of men exists than the members of the I. O. O. F, and the prosperous young lodge at this place is no exception to this universal rule. At a late hour Saturday evening a representative of THE MIST was agreeably surprised to receive an invitation to attend a banquet later in the evening in the spacious dining hall of the Oriental hotel, the occasion being the regular annual installation of officers and the celebration of the second anniversary of the organization of the order at this place. After the ceremonies at the lodge room were concluded your reporter, in company with two or three sojourning oddfellows, joined the members of the lodge at the banqueting hall where several hours were most pleasantly spent in feasting, speechmaking, and social conversation, and it was with a feeling of sincere regret that the fleeting hours commanded us to retire from the charmed circle of mystic friendship. Though not numerically strong, the order here is favored with many active, energetic members, who are ambitious to advance in the knowledge and precepts of oddfellowship, and see their local order become prosperous and influential.

TOOK A PLUNGE BATH.—A young subject of the "Faderland," who managed to get up a pressure of 300 pounds to the square inch during the holidays and was unable to "blow off" for several days afterwards, took passage at this place on the steamer Thompson last Thursday for Portland, where he expected to meet his parents, who were to arrive there that evening from the old country. In attempting to board the steamer here the young Teuton was only saved from taking a header off the slip by the timely arrival of bystanders, and after he got aboard the steamer it took the combined effort of the entire crew to keep him there. When the steamer arrived at Reeder's the attention of the crew was turned for a moment to making the landing and their charge took advantage of their absence to walk overboard, just as the steamer pulled out, and he came perilously near being churned into "Kingdom Come" by the swells from the wheel. Someone on the shore fished him out with a pike-pole and he was again put aboard the steamer and laid out, under the boiler, to dry.

JACOB ZELLER INSANE.—Last Friday evening a constable arrived here from Reuben, having in charge a young German named Jacob Zeller, who was committed from Justice Woodham's court on a charge of insanity. In the evening he was brought into Judge Blanchard's court and examined by Dr. Cliff, who pronounced Zeller mildly insane and recommended that he be confined in the state asylum for a couple of months, where, with proper treatment, it is thought he will come round all right. Young Zeller's malady only affects him occasionally, but during his crazy spells his mania takes a homicidal turn, and he has, at different times, attempted the life of both his parents. He was arrested once last summer on a charge of homicidal insanity, when it was alleged he threatened to shoot his father, but a thorough examination failed to develop any dangerous symptoms, so he was permitted to return home. Zeller lives with his parents, but is on bad terms with his father, and when there is any serious friction between them, the younger man gets violently insane. A few days since he got an insane idea that he ought to kill his mother, and was only prevented from doing so by the timely arrival of neighbors. Deputy Sheriff Doan took him to Salem Sunday afternoon.

SCHOOL-TAX ASSESSMENTS.—Attention of district school boards is directed to the provisions of sections three and four of the general school laws as published in THE MIST of December 22, formulating the mode of proceedure in making the assessments for school tax for the several districts of each county. By making application to the county clerk, each district will be furnished with a certified statement of the amount of assessable property in that district, which will be the basis for the assessment, upon the receipt of which certificate districts can call a special meeting, giving ten days notice of the same, at which meeting the district can determine by vote its intention to take advantage of the law, and by notifying the county clerk before February 1st of its desire to have such assessment made, all districts may have the benefit of this money this year. However, it is purely optional with a district whether it will vote to have the assessment or not, but all districts which so wish can do so by holding a meeting and notifying the county clerk before February 1st.

CLATSKANIE.

Miss Jennie Myers is home again from Ilwaco.

James Linn was down from the Upper Clatskanie the first of the week.

Rev. Moore was in attendance at a quarterly meeting service at Quincy, Monday and Tuesday of this week.

Miss Abbie and Cora Bryant returned last week to McMinnville to resume school work in the college there.

Harvey Glenn is one of the late victims of the grip, and is confined to his house, where he is cared for by his brother, Ed.

Hon. Norman Merrill returned Tuesday morning from his holiday visit among friends and relatives at Woodland, Deer Island, and elsewhere.

Master Fred and young Miss Eva Mayger are recent scholars at the public school. They are finding a home at the comfortable residence of Mr. and Mrs. J. A. English.

We noticed Johnson, of the hotel, with his boy and dog gently gliding down the hill on Tuesday on a small sled. Much rain had made the track rather unpleasant for them but they looked contented.

A newly-married couple at the Clatskanie hotel are spending their honeymoon peacefully and pleasantly, with a smile and cordial greeting for all their friends. 'Tis well. May they both get their faces so broadened with smiling that care or trouble can never lengthen them.

A few of our citizens were in attendance at county court in St. Helens last week, interested for or against the granting of a county road from Himpel's mill to the road near Blood's mill. We learn that the court granted the road after a vigorous contest. Damage bills will be next in order.

The sixteen-feet plank laid on Nehalem avenue made a splendid place for coasting, and since the snowfall of last Friday evening the street has been, at different times, the scene of an immense amount of sport, judging from the shouts of laughter that come from the crowds gathered there. Coasting has its pleasures, but it has its perils also, and one indulging in the sport on Nehalem avenue takes some few chances of getting a broken leg, bruised shin, or other forcible and unpleasant reminders of its dangers. A woodshed at the end of the Clatskanie hotel affords a sudden stopping place for some of the sleds that are not successfully piloted. Nobody has been seriously injured so far, but the doctor has been preparing some extra bandages.

Since your correspondent did not "come to time" last week, it is not too late to mention the pleasant social event that occurred at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Z. Bryant, in this city, December 28. At 2 p. m. on that day their daughter, Miss Fannie Bryant, was married to H. W. McDonald, of Winlock, Wash, in the presence of the family and a few others, Rev. F. L. Moore officiating. Mr. McDonald has been a visitor here, and a few of our people met him on a previous occasion. His appearance and manner then rather influenced them in his favor, and when it got out that he had quietly slipped in that morning and married Miss Faunie, there was no very serious objection to urge other than the loss of a most excellent young lady from our city, a loss that is liable to occur in any city, however, and one that is looked upon complacently as being necessary to help some other less favored community. In fact it is a splendid advertisement for a town or city to send out a first-class young lady occasionally as the bride of some worthy young man—it brings others in to look the ground over. A few months ago a young man came all the way from Pennsylvania for that very purpose. He looked at the cedar and fir lumber, of course, but with a great deal less interest than he gazed at a maiden coy, who blushingly returned his glances from under her parasol or behind her fan. He went away without her, it is true, but she visits the postoffice often, and the end is not yet. We have a few others left and more coming on. This digression, however, is not intended to exclude the remark that the community generally extend their kindest wishes to Mr. and Mrs. McDonald, and trust that wherever they make their home, peace and plenty may abide continually with them.

L. F. Banzer, of Rainier, made final proof on his homestead Tuesday.

Will Tichenor, of Clatskanie, was attending court here last week.

G. H. Bynon and L. W. Vandyke, of the Nehalem Journal, were in the county seat Saturday.

Citation.

In the matter of the sale of real property belonging to the estate of John Ivey, deceased. } CITATION.

To Delia Ivey and all heirs, devisees, or persons interested in said estate, known or unknown:

Edwin L. Hand, administrator of said estate, has filed a petition praying for an order of sale of the real property belonging to said estate, which is described as follows, towit: The north ½ of the northeast ¼ of the north ½ of the northwest ¼, of section 33, in township 5, north of range 5 west, containing 160 acres, in Columbia county, state of Oregon. That the court having made an order appointing the 5th day of March, 1894, as the time for hearing said petition, and directing that a citation be issued upon said Delia Ivey, William Ivey, and Edward the minor heirs of said deceased John Ivey, and to all other heirs and persons interested in said estate, by publication of the same for four successive weeks in the St. Helens MIST and that a copy of said citation and said petition be deposited in the postoffice at St. Helens, Oregon, directed to the said Delia Ivey, at Boscobell, Wisconsin, her place of residence. Therefore, in the name of the state of Oregon, you, the said Delia Ivey, and all other heirs, devisees, and persons interested in said estate, whether known or unknown, are hereby cited to be, and appear in said court in the city of St. Helens, state of Oregon, on the said 5th day of March, 1894, at 10 o'clock a. m., to show cause, if any you have, why said order should not be made for the sale of said real property, as prayed for in said petition.

In witness whereof, Dean Blanchard, judge of said court, has hereunto set his hand and caused the seal of said court to be attached this 6th day of January, 1894.

DEAN BLANCHARD, Judge
Attest: E. E. QUICK, Clerk.
