

THE OREGON MIST

DAVIS BROS., PUBLISHERS.

United States and County Official Paper.

FRIDAY, FEBRUARY 2, 1894.

Yellow fir, such as grows in profusion in Oregon, is being tried in Paris for street paving.

The compositor last week mistook the word "Tax" for "Farr" in the article contributed by Mr. Swager in the last issue of this paper.

The republican central committee of this state issues its recommendations to the county committees. A harmonious and united action needs to be maintained.

A GENERAL revival of the shingle trade is looked for throughout Oregon and Washington. Thorough organization on the part of the manufacturer and dealer is having its effect felt in this respect.

The great pugilistic contest between Corbett and Mitchell is settled. It is well, for the whole country has been agog with the attendant excitement for the past several months. And now comes the question, "What will be next?"

The Oregonian very justly owed an apology to the public for devoting so much space to the details of the brutal fist contest between Corbett and Mitchell. Matter which occupied four and one-fourth columns might have been condensed to two "sticks."

The management of this paper wishes all correspondents throughout the county to continue to send in their bits of news. Anything of a personal nature, any mention of improvement or daily happenings, which would be of interest to the people of your locality, is asked for by us.

If St. Helens had a few more citizens like the correspondent to the Cathlamet Gazette we would be a harmonious and prosperous community. Pick to pieces your home institutions and lend every assistance in your power to build up an enterprise foreign to your home interest. That's unity, but a poor kind.

It will be remembered by republicans in this county that there are to be elected a sheriff, a clerk, a commissioner, an assessor, and a representative, at the general election to be held next June. There needs to be concerted action on the part of advocates of the principles of that party; so let every republican in Columbia county be up and doing.

The low price of wheat this season has caused a large number of hogs to be fattened, and is likely to be the cause of farmers going into the business of raising and fattening swine on a scale which will soon put a stop to the importation of hog products. The pork packed in this state always finds a ready sale, and we do not see any reason why hogs cannot be raised as cheap here as any other place. A number of Columbia county farmers are beginning to see the profit in hog raising, and will engage in that business quite extensively the coming year.

It is useless for republicans to deny that the tariff is the cause of all this trouble and the hard times that are upon the country. The democrats charge it, and they are right. Without the tariff the country could never have seen the thirty years of phenomenal prosperity it has passed through under republican rule. There would have been no thousands of factories giving employment to millions of people; there would be few spindles to cease their humming; few furnaces to cease their glow, so says the Yamhill County Reporter. We would simply have plodding, low-priced, ideal democratic existence. No misfortune could come to it because no worse condition would be possible. This is the logic that bears out the democratic claim that the tariff is responsible for our present misfortune. If there had been no phenomenal prosperity there would have been nothing for the democratic party to pull down.

There are some queer specimens among the populists, says the Union Scout. In pursuing the Union County Farmer we notice that several correspondents advocate boycotting all other papers and reading only their own kind of literature. We have had an impression heretofore that such narrowness only prevailed among the rigidly orthodox, but it seems it works in politics as well. If a majority of our people were built after that fashion the wheels of progress would turn backward and the minds of men stagnate for want of action. The advocates of that idea have already retarded the growth of the world at least five thousand years. But they have their days and the old world "wings triumphant, down the ringing grooves of change." Any man who cannot stand the arguments of an opponent is of no earthly benefit to mankind. The best thing these fellows can do is to start a little party of their own, and heard off to the side by themselves.

Contributed.

I saw an item in the Nehalem Journal last week in regard to the circulation of that paper. Now, in said article that man claims the Journal has a circulation of five to one over The Mist, and I think he just got his figures turned wrong end to, for he knows (if he knows anything) that The Mist is the only reliable one in the county. I can show him here in this place ten Mists to one Journal, and I cannot see for the life of me why a man calling himself a republican should try to run down his own party paper. It is true at times that men are insane for the moment, and perhaps he was not accountable for saying what he did. He also states the mail carrier's horse can testify for him. We don't have to get horses, or a jackass, to prove what we say, but we take men. Let them howl; they can't injure The Mist for it tells the truth; no matter who it hits. G. R. W. Mayor, Oregon, January 31st, 1893.

PERIS.

The news is almost all snowed under at this place. C. Saererin went to Portland Monday, where he will reside for some time. Wilford Miller passed through this place Monday on his way to St. Helens. William Miller, of Spring Valley, who was reported not expected to live a short time ago, is rapidly improving. Mr. Apax, who came down from Portland the fore part of last week to his ranch here, returned to the metropolis Monday.

An Editor's Recommendation. Mr. C. F. Davis, editor of the Bloomfield (Iowa) Farmer, says: "I can recommend Chamberlain's Cough Remedy to all sufferers with colds and croup. I have used it in my family for the past two years and have found it the best I ever used for the purposes for which it is intended. Fifty cent bottles for sale by Edwin Ross."

MAYGER.

John Stockenburg has begun to make improvements on the Cris place, by fencing the bottom land.

Andy Clarimont has purchased the residence property of Wm. Devine. He intends making a home of the place, and it will make a nice one.

Oscar Olson had a narrow escape one day last week while he was cutting and putting wood into the stove. One of the blocks caught him, hurting him quite severely, but he is able to be around again.

The grand masquerade ball at this place on the 10th inst. will, no doubt, prove to be the event of the season. The Kelso band has been engaged to furnish music for the occasion, and the dancers will be supplied with music from a good orchestra. The ladies who are getting up the supper understand just such an affair, and with Wm. Slaughter and C. W. Mayger for managers everyone is assured of a good time.

A Kansas Man's Experience. Mr. Albert Favorite, of Arkansas City, Kan., wishes to give our readers the benefit of his experience with colds. He says: "I contracted a cold early last spring that settled on my lungs, and had hardly recovered from it when I caught another that hung on all summer and left me with a hacking cough, which I thought I never would get rid of. I had used Chamberlain's Cough Remedy some fourteen years ago with much success, and concluded to try it again. When I had got through with one bottle my cough had left me, and I have not suffered with a cough or cold since. I have recommended it to others, and all speak well of it." Fifty cent bottles for sale by Edwin Ross.

Circuit Court Proceedings.

The following proceedings were recorded in the circuit court journal, of the January adjournment of that tribunal. W. F. Havard vs E. R. Spencer. De murrer overruled and default ordered of record. H. E. Girard vs G. A. Massie. Dismissed at plaintiff's cost. The Nichol Bros. vs A. N. Good grass, Thos. Connell and W. D. Coarrell. Case dismissed and plaintiffs held for costs. H. O. Howard vs W. B. Buell. Decree rendered and entered in favor of plaintiff. Columbia county vs W. A. Mecker et al. It is ordered by the court that defendants have ten days in which to plead to the amended complaint. Columbia county vs G. A. Massie. It is ordered by the court that the defendants have ten days in which to answer to the amended complaint. Max Berg admitted to citizenship.

Blaine's Handy Manual of Useful Information.

There has just been published in Chicago a most valuable book with the above title, compiled by Prof. Wm. H. Blaine, of Lancaster University. Its 500 pages are full of just what its name implies—useful information—and we fully advise all our readers to send for a copy of it. It is a compendium of things worth knowing, things difficult to remember, and tables of reference of great value to everybody, that it has never before been our good fortune to possess in such compact shape. Our wonder is how it can be published at so low a price as is asked for it. It is handsomely bound in flexible cloth covers, and will be sent to any address, postpaid, on receipt of 25 cents in postage stamps, by the publishers, G. W. Ogilvie & Co., 276 and 278 Franklin street, Chicago, Ill.

A New Cure for Rheumatism.

Joseph V. Dory, of Warsaw, Ill., was troubled with rheumatism and tried a number of different remedies, but says none of them seemed to do him any good; but finally he got hold of one that speedily cured him. He was much pleased with it, and felt sure that others similarly afflicted would like to know what the remedy was that cured him. He states for the benefit of the public that it is called Chamberlain's Pain Balm. For sale by Edwin Ross.

Echo Answers.

From the New York Sun. G. C.—The president can do no wrong. Echo—Wrong! G. C.—When I arise the sun arises also. Echo—So? G. C.—And the stars scatter before me like rats. Echo—Bats! G. C.—I am the lightning and also the thunder. Echo—Thunder! G. C.—And when I strike, the earth and the politics thereof are confused beyond question. Echo—Question! G. C.—I am a raging torrent that cannot be dammed. Echo—Be dammed! G. C.—The nations of the earth turn their fearful eyes on me and wait my fatal words. Echo—Words! G. C.—I make a platform, fit a tariff bill, or wink when others do, and find its good with all its faults. Echo—False! G. C.—I'm here to do the right by weak or strong, and by the gods I'll have my way or bust. Echo—Bust! G. C.—I see the stars and stripes go down to be a royal doormat, but then I don't approve it. Echo—Prove it! G. C.—I fix a time to crown a queen, and at the hour it must eventuate. Echo—You wait!
