WILSON BILL PASSED.

With whip and spur the democratic representatives at Washington have forced the party tariff bill through the house, and if their action is endorsed by the senate, they have succeeded in forcing upon the country a law which will not only have the effect of keeping the country firmly bound in the bonds of irresistible oppression with which it is at present so mercilessly fettered, but will plunge the country even deeper than it now is in the maelstrom of financial disaster, which now envelops it as completely and securely as the fatal tentacles of the deadly octopus embrace its writhing victim.

The Wilson tariff bill was passed not because the country demanded it nor because anybody thought it a pet measure, but simply because the dominant party went into office on a radical free-trade platform which declared protection to American industries a fraud, and the collection of import duties a robbery; because a few consienceless democratic leaders declared that the perpetuation of American industries, the prosperity of the country, and the interests and even the lives of the people must all be subordinated to the cordinal principal of the democratic party, which principal has its inception only in an unholly ambition of its advocates, for political preferrment, at the expense of the country's prosperity, and regardless of the consequences which their ascendancy may entail. However, the star of hope has not yet disappeared, for although the president had little difficulty in forcing the house into obedience to his wishes, he may not find members of the senate so susceptible, and while he is metaphorically in the saddle and able to apply the lash and spur to the flank of the party over which he holds rein, it is sincerely hoped that the senate will assert its independence, and not permit a narrow partisan dictator to jeopardise the country.

Moreover, there is a much smaller democratic majority in the senate than in the house, besides the members of the former body are statesmen, and not mere politicians, as are the representatives, and men of more mature years and infinitely better judgment. There are also fewer populists in the senate, and this fact will also help to reduce the affirmative vote and lessen the chances of passing the bill.

CHANGED ITS COAT.

By virtue of a chattel mortgage for $1,000, Mr. S. B. Rose, of Vernonia, last week took possession of the plant of the Nehalem Journal, and will hereafter have the paper run in the interest of Columbia Co. in general and the republican party in particuliar, neither of which policies were followed by the late management. For the past two years the plant has been owned by a stock company which, a few months since, sold a little of the stock and transferred the management of the paper to certain members of the people's party, who changed the policy of the paper and made it the official organ of that party in this county.

When the change was made, Mr. Rose signed notes to satisfy certain liens against the plant, and took a chattel mortgage on the property to secure himself. The populist management defaulted on the notes, and Mr. Rose was obliged to satisfy them himself, and accordingly took possession of the plant. The Journal has earned considerable money during its rather checkered existence, and, if well managed, will very likely continue to be a source of some revenue to its owner, and a great benefit to the rich county it represents.

THE last census bulletin on mortgage indebtedness is an indigestible pill for a certain class of demagogue, says the Oregon City Enterprise. It is a dogma of the school to which Senator Peffer belongs that banks are bloodsuckers, and that they absorb the profits of agriculture, industry and trade. According to this school all would be well if these infamous institutions were forced to disgorge their ill-gotten gains, and every man made his own currency in his own back kitchen. It would be interesting to observe how the professors of this school explain the fact that the aggregate debts of all states, counties, municipalities school districts in the United States amount to $1,135,000,000, and the net debt of the nation to about $825,000,000, the national banks owe to their depositors about $1,800,000,000, without taking into account their liability to their shareholders, which is about $700,000,000 more. Even this indebtedness is outdone by the banks of Great Britain, a country whose population is only slightly more than half that of the United States. The liabilities of the jointstock banks of Great Britain, as per their latest return were $2,840,000,000, and this was exclusive of the Bank of England, which owed $180,000,000 more. It seems that the "bloodsuckers" who so enrage the populists owe more money than any one else, and what is more that the debts are good.

"WHAT do you think of the latest republican trick?"

THE democrats started in to give us a free-trade administratian, but it has turned out to be a free-soup affair.

THE most pitiable object in this country at the present time is a democratic congressman with a protected industry in his district.

THE Cleveland free-souphouse administration is very popular with tramps, and people who are too worthless to earn an honest living.

MR. CARLISLE'S $200,000,000, will endow enough free souphouses to keep hungry democrats alive until they can raise another crop of roosters.

"IN unity there is strength," so let every republican show his colors. Rally to the support of the principles you advocate. We each realize the necessity of organized action and a concerted effort on our part.

THERE is a movement on foot here to petition Mr. Cleveland to establish a free souphouse at this place. The crop of democratic campaign roosters which we have been living on since the election is played out.

ADMIRAL BENHAM is a credit to his country. He grew weary of seeing a mongrel revolutionist tamper with American dignity, and retaliated by throwing a handful of Yankee sand into Mr. de Gama's eyes.

THE Portland Telegram says the trouble with the democratic majority in congress is that there are too many members who want free trade in the other fellow's district, but protection in their own. This shows that they see the value of protection.

THE mention of Hon. C. W. Fulton's name for gubernatorial honors is not out of place. Mr. Fulton has served earnestly and efficiently in the office he was elected to, and proved himself equal to any office his supporters might see fit to elect him to fill.

A BILL of Representative Herman, to allow purchasers of timber land to make final proof before the authorities now authorized to make homestead proofs, and save the expense of trips to and from the land offices, was vetoed by the president.

A New Cure for Rheumatism.

Joseph V. Dory, of Warsaw, Ill., was troubled with rheumatism and tried a number of different remedies, but says none of them seemed to do him any good; but finally he got hold of one that speedily cured him. He was much pleased with it, and felt sure that others similarly afflicted would like to know what the remedy was that cured him. He states for the benefit of the public that it is called Chamberlain's Pain Balm. For sale by Edwin Ross.

THERE are many signs of life and stir in our busy little city which bear out the fact that our town is not dead. Business men are trading, buying, selling, and all sorts of dickering has been indulged in for the past week or more.

IT was a scene said to surpass anything previous, that was viewed in Washington City in the galleries of the senate chamber on Thursday of last week, when the final debate and vote on the Wilson tariff bill was to be had and taken. Twenty thousand people attempted to gain admittance to the galleries, and everything was in an uproar for hours.

Blaine's Handy Manual of Useful Information.

There has just been published in Chicago a most valuable book with the above title, compiled by Prof. Wm. H. Blaine, of Lancaster University. Its 500 pages are full of just what its name implies—useful information—and we fully advise all our readers to send for a copy of it. It is a compendium of things worth knowing, things difficult to remember, and tables of reference of great value to everybody, that it has never before been our good fortune to possess in such compact shape. Our wonder is how it can be published at so low a price as is asked for it. It is handsomely bound in flexible cloth covers, and will be sent to any address, postpaid, on receipt of 25 cents in postage stamps, by the publishers, G. W. Ogilvie & Co., 276 and 278 Franklin street, Chicago, Ill.

OREGON will be the first state to vote in 1894, and it should be the aim of republicans to make the majority as large as possible. To this end all dissensions should be healed, and united ranks should meet the enemy in June. Factional fights should cease, and a spirit of complete harmony should prevail among all persons who desire to see the country restored to its former prosperity. It is time that work began in line. The motto in every portion of the state should be, union and harmony regarding nominations and a solid, undivided vote at the polls.

IT has been rumored that the Nehalem Journal has changed hands and management, and will hereafter be run in the interest of the republican party. That's an important thing if such be the case, for there are many people who read such literature as that paper has contained for several months passed, and they swallowed it, as it were, without mastication, to be digested as it might. To become a thorough politician and able to be a shining light, every side of the question must be studied, but too many are so prejudiced as to not permit of themselves reading anything save the "gush" dished out by that paper.

We teach men and women how to earn from $3.00 per day to $3,000 per year without having had previous experience, and furnish the employment at which they can make that amount. Nothing difficult to learn or that requires much time. The work is easy, healthy, and honorable, and can be done during daytime or evenings, right in your own locality, wherever you live. The result of a few hours' work often equals a week's wages. We have taught thousands of both sexes and all ages, and many have laid foundations that will surely bring them riches. Some of the smartest men in this country owe their success in life to the start given them while in our employ years ago. You, reader, may do as well; try it. You cannot fail. No capital necessary. We fit you out with something that is new, solid, and sure. A book brimful of advice is free to all. Help yourself by writing for it to-day—not to-morrow. Delays are costly.
