The May term of circuit court will convene at this place next Tuesday. The docket is not an extensive one, however the session bids fair to be an interesting one.

Hon T. J. Cleeton will address the citizens of Sherman precinct, at the Usher schoolhouse, on the political issues of the day, tomorrow (Saturday) afternoon, May 12th. All invited.

The steamer Kehani people made a great hit when they arranged to run their steamer up Scappoose bay two days in the week. The people up there find it a great accommodation.

Hon. Roswell G. Horr's great political speech is to be made this (Friday) evening at the opera house in this place. Everybody turn out and hear one of the ablest speakers of the day.

St. Helens is pushing rapidly to the front in the way of improvements. Sidewalks are being constructed in all parts of town and the streets present a much more creditable appearance than formerly.

The value of domestic imports which came into Portland during the month of April was $225,754.76. The customs receipts for the same month amounted to $33,629.97, which is up to the average of last year.

Dr. H. E. Cliff and J. R. Beegle, of THE MIST, visited the Gillton republican club last Friday night, at which time the former gentleman unbosomed some facts which seemed to coincide with the views of the audience.

Eli Foster of Reuben, Jacob George, of St. Helens, and W. D. Connell, of Deer Island, were drawn last Tuesday as jurymen from this county, to sit in the United States circuit court which convenes in Portland on the 12 of June.

Charley Doan, the clever deputy sheriff, returned last Saturday from an extensive tour over the county, summoning the jury for the May term of circuit court, and posting election notices. Charles is a genial fellow wherever he is.

Baker county has outstanding warrants to the amount of $188,314.24, and Multnomah county has a delinquent tax list of $750,000. Columbia county has a total indebtedness of $42,199.49 with available cash and delinquent tax list aggregating $44,200.

Prospects are now brighter than ever before that work will be resumed on the Portland and Astoria railroad this spring and that great enterprise completed this summer. Of all the propositions to build railroads to Astoria this is the most feasible, and the one that will first enlist the attention and support of capitalists.

Bring your lady friends and participate in the social dance at the opera house, after the speaking, this evening (Friday). There will be an excellent time as very extensive preparations are being made for the entertainment of the visitors. Splendid music will be furnished and plenty to eat will be on hand. Let everybody attend.

Even the elements seem possessed with cussedness. Pennoyer has done all in his power to bring shame and disgrace upon the state, and to cap the climax the new moon which put in an appearance last Sunday evening was so far north that it seemed almost astride the north pole, thus indicating extreme cold, wet weather, a fact that places us in a position for ridicule.

From recent dispatches it is learned that it is only a matter of a very short time when work will be resumed on the Astoria and Eastern railroad, a fact which brings our interior population to the stern realization that their interests are at stake. It seems that while negotiations and dickerings have been on, in regard to the Astoria and Goble line, the people interested in the construction of that interior road have not lost sight of the importance of hurrying their business to a speedy and final termination. The fact that these people are getting to the front and settling their long-standing accounts and making other important deals, is conclusive evidence that they are working to head off the other proposition and get to the front with the work of building, and thus secure for their own benefit the valuable subsidy which is in waiting for the line which will first reach Astoria. It will be remembered that two years ago there were almost a half million dollars expended on the interior road, but on account of financial complications it became necessary to abandon the enterprise, temporarily, but new features are developing which are encouraging, in the extreme.

Hon. T. J. Cleeton addressed the citizens of Houlton Saturday evening upon current political topics, and was listened to by a large and representative audience who received his remarks in an appreciative and enthusiastic manner. The speaker touched upon every phase of the political situation, but confined his argument principally to the money question. He succeeded admirably in explaining the money fallacies advocated by the populists, and had no difficulty in convincing his audience that the principles of the republican party regarding money are the only sound ones, and the only ones which it is safe for us to adopt. He also showed vividly how rediculous are the claims of the populists for the initiative and referendum and had no difficulty in convincing his hearers that the system of initiative and referendum as used by the republicans is the most perfect of any that could be proposed. His address was neatly supplemented by W. J. Rice and others. Mr. Cleeton will speak at Gillton on May 18th at 8 o'clock p. m.

From the following census of matrimonial ventures it will be seen that cupid has been using his strong influence with the hearts of Columbia county's youths and maidens: At the residence of John Girt, Rainier precinct, Wednesday, May 2, Marie Voigt to John Girt, Judge Doan officiating. A dance and supper followed at Stewart's hall. On Tuesday, May 1st, Mrs Mary Mescher was joined in wedlock to her former husband, C. Mescher, by Judge Doan, at the residence of that official. The home of Felix Debast, near Rainier, was the scene of a happy wedding last Sunday. The principals were Miss Jane Debast and Joseph Rice. Judge Doan peformed the ceremony in his most pleasing manner. At the residence of J. R. Sherman, at Maineville, Sunday, May 6, Miss Percie Briggs to Louis Barger. Rev. J. R. Sherman, officiating. At Pittsburg, Sunday May 6, Miss Cora Luhman to John T. Kerr.

The Sarah Dixon and Iralda are having lots of fun but we fear their finances are not increasing very rapidly in this year of our Lord. Yesterday morning they both passed St. Helens about 4 o'clock, the Dixon just far enough ahead to pick up what business there was at that early hour. The Iralda followed close behind until Willow bar was reached, when she gave up the chase and returned to this city to take a new start later and to catch anyone who might have over slept themselves. After the owner had delivered himself of the wrath he had bottled up against people who did not or would not patronize him, the second start was made.

The Gillton republican club is composed of forty-nine members, forty-one of whom are voters. There is quite a different state of affairs at Gillton from that of two years ago. Then a republican or a democrat dare not open his head; but now the boys have buckled on their armor and are rallying as loyal citizens to the support of the government that gave them birth and protection. On election day Gillton will be heard from on behalf of good government, it is a safe proposition.

Sheriff Watts Wednesday received from the Northern Pacific Railroad company their tax for the year 1893, amounting to $3,513.85 property and $154.35 road tax, together aggregating $3,668.20. Yet in face of this financial aid to the county our populistic friends continue to abuse the railroad, which perhaps pays more tax than all the populists in the county put together, and declare that the road should be absorbed by the government, which would exempt it from taxation.

The steamer G. W. Shaver came to this place Monday morning and took on board the shingle mill plant formerly operated by Emerson Bros., near Houlton. The plant has been sold to Buzing & Giegy, a well-known shingle firm, of Clatskanie, who will operate it at that place. A slight improvement in the price of shingles makes it possible for shingle men to prosecute their business at a small magin.

In another column will be seen a challenge to any populist in Columbia county to meet T. J. Cleeton in joint discussion, on the political issues of the day. The challenge is issued by W. H. Conyers, chairman of the precinct republican committee, Clatskanie precinct, and from the tenor of the document Clatskanie republicans are determined to make the populists keep good their word or quit talking.

It is T. J. Cleeton's intention to deliver an address in every precinct in the county before election day. His school at Clatskanie will close one week hence, and then Mr. Cleeton will devote his time wholly to the campaign. The Professor makes both friends and votes for the republican party wherever he goes.

The Coxey army in Portland which, at the time of the train-stealing some two or three weeks ago, numbered 507 has now so far disintegrated that but fifty remain in that city, and this number continues to decrease daily.

A CHALLENGE.

CLATSKANIE, Or., May 4.—The populists of this county have repeatedly stated that they could not find a republican who would or could, stand before them in a joint debate on the political issues of the day. I am authorized to state that Hon. T. J. Cleeton, of Clatskanie, republican candidate for the legislature, will meet any populist in Columbia county, in joint debate, on the political issues of the day, at any point in Columbia county, and at any time before election day. Populist friends put up or shut up.

W. H. CONYERS,
Chairman Precinct Republican Com.

Commonwealers Found Guilty.

The three commonweal leaders—Coxey, Browne and Jones—have been found guilty in the United States court at Washington of violating a constitutional law. This trio undertook to forcibly hold a demonstration meeting upon the capitol grounds in direct violation of the constitution of the United States, and of course the civil authorities caused their arrest, which, as custodians of government property they were compelled to do. When Coxey and his followers undertake to forcibly take possession of the government machinery and grounds at Washington they misjudge the temperament of Uncle Sam's loyal citizens. It matters not whether democrats or republicans they are ready and willing to protect the government's property.

COMMUNICATED.

NEER CITY, May 4.—I see in your isse of the 27th, an article stating that the populists have nominated a man for county surveyor who never saw a compass except in the hands of someone else. What's the matter with their nominee for county treasurer? He knows no more about keeping books than a man who never saw the inside of a schoolhouse. Are these the kind of men to put in responsible offices? READER.

United States District Court.

The United States district court convenes in Portland on June 12. Out of a total list of eighty-five jurors drawn, three are from Columbia county. They are: Jacob George of St. Helens; Eli Foster of Reuben, and W. D. Connell of Deer Island. The conspiracy smuggling cases will again come up for this jury to deal with, and it is expected the end of this long drawn-out trial may be reached during the coming session.

Advertised Letters.

Letters for the following-named persons remain uncalled for in the postoffice at this place:

Myrtle C. Allen; Agent Pacific Express Co.; Jacob Doble; J. R. Holmes; Walter Glamorgan; Daniel Rees; W. Ken Shulte; Remorrier Schultz; Martin White.

A Pointer for Travelers.

While Mr. T. J. Richey, of Altona, Mo., was traveling in Kansas he was taken violently ill with cholera morbus. He called at a drug store to get some medicine and the druggist recommended Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy so highly he concluded to try it. The result was immediate relief, and a few doses cured him completely. It is made for bowel complaint and nothing else. It never fails. For sale by Edwin Ross.

CLATSKANIE NEWS.

Will Meserve was in town this week discussing the political situation.

Fred Bratchery and family have removed to the Merrill place, near Marshland.

Our new city officials assume the government of the municipal affairs next Monday.

Rev. Moore is in Portland attending to some business connected with the church building.

Hon. N. Merrill is now located with his family, near Capt. Bureau's mill, for the present, having rented his farm.

Gus Bynon, of Westport, was over Saturday after his family, which preceded him a few days, on a visit to relatives.

Tom Carter has been putting some finishing touches on the carpenter work of the church, while J. W. Blackford has been painting the inside wood work.

James Hodge passed through town on his way to and from the county seat, last week. Mr. Hodge is a successful teacher, and just a little in politics, only a little.

Prof. Cleeton uses his muscles as well as his brains in teaching here. His boarding place is at least four miles from here and he makes the distance on foot morning and evening, coming in on time each morning.

A delegation from here, accompanied by the brass band, expects to do themselves the honor of a visit to the county seat on Friday evening to hear the Hon. R. G. Horr. Look out for it and be careful to keep your valuables locked up.

Ben Matthieson was the recipient of some oranges grown on his fathers' ranch, near San Deigo, through the kindness of Mr. Tichenor, who brought them through last week. Ben was generous enough to share with his friends and acquaintances.

E. D. Tichenor and family returned from San Diego, California, last week to try Oregon air and climate. Mr. Tichenor looks much improved in health by his two years' absence, and looks as though the southern country had agreed with him.

Clatskanie sends another of her pupils to the county seat this week to try to pass examination for a teacher's certificate. Our young ladies have generally succeeded in that direction, and Miss Tillie Sheldelin thinks she can accomplish what others have.

John Foster, of Nehalem valley, arrived down from Portland last Friday with his bride, formerly Miss Mary Van, of Fishhawk. The couple was given a serenade on their way to St. Helens, the early part of the week. John told the boys it was premature, but a compromise was effected with the understanding that he would be let to go unmolested, when he came back a married man, as he expected. We understand Justice Blakesley tied the knot.

Something About Hops.

The demand for hops in the United States is constantly increasing. When hops first began to be successfully raised in the West, the consumption of beer did not exceed 6,000,000 barrels a day. Today the average annual consumption of this beverage is 32,000,000 barrels, and the output of malt liquors in the United States is increasing at the rate of 2,000,000 barrels a year. As the soil and climate of but few parts of the world are adapted to the successful growing of hops, a bright future is predicted for this industry in Oregon and Washington, and the mammouth proportions of the business of growing hops has assumed here during the past few years seems to bear out the favorable predictions made for its future rapid growth.

The South Africa Boom.

It seems a boom has been started in South Africa, by men interested, to cause a tidal wave of immigration to that country. George Bently has just returned to The Dalles, having been in South Africa since last November. While his journey has cost him a nice little sum, he has had valuable experience which will act as an object lesson to him in after life. When he left this country for South Arrica he imagined that country to be the best for the accumulation of wealth of any on the face of the globe; but this dream was soon dispelled on his arrival at Johannesburg, where he found the conditions the same as elsewhere.

Oregon Butter.

The production of butter in Oregon has reached a point where it can be sold on the Portland market cheaper than the California product, and is beginning to monopolize the trade. The same conditions are obtaining throughout the Pacific northwest. It is the same with butter as with eggs. Three years ago at this date Oregon ranch eggs were almost a luxury and commanded readily twenty-two cents per dozen, with practically all consumption being of eastern. Now the markets are flooded at about thirteen cents, and coast supplies are in excess of consumption.

Too Many Papers.

Every newspaper man has at some time in his business experience met the man who now takes more papers than he can read. He was in town last week. He paid twenty-five cents for an almanac, wiped his nose on an awning, tried to blow out an electric light at the hotel, failed to light his cigar on it, put a nickle in the slot at the postoffice expecting the postmistress to appear, wanted to lick the cashier of the bank because it closed at four o'clock, and watched the sign over one of the jewelry stores, waiting for it to strike.—Bill Nye.

Business Methods Necessary.

Business methods are needed on the farm; not the three volume ledger sort, perhaps, but something approaching a system. The farmer must study the needs of the markets and the probable changes ere his crop is harvested. He must know when he can afford to sell and when it is proper to hold. He cannot always tell for human judgment is liable to err, but he will find the first efforts towards system so satisfactory that he will not desire to change.

Puzzling Remarks.

Daniel Webster liked to make remarks of a character calculated to puzzle simple minds. Stopping at dinner one day at a country inn on his way to Marshfield, he was asked by the hostess if he usually had a good appetite. "Madam," he replied, "I sometimes eat more than I do at other times, but never less." The inhabitants of the village where this profound Hibernicism was uttered have probably been at work ever since trying to comprehend its exact purport.

Now is the Time.

This is the time of year for orchardists to attend to their growing trees, especially in young orchards. The ground should be cultivated thoroughly, and prunes, cherries, and other trees, which have been grafted into peach stock, looked after carefully for the borer which infests their roots. Columbia county is noted for her fine fruit, in fact she is ahead of any county in the state in the production of apples, and the best of care should be taken of orchards, both old and young.

PERIS NOTES.

It is understood that Sherman Vosberg has taken the contract for carrying the Peris-Houlton mail.

Rudolph J. Carth visited Portland on Monday of this week.

Joseph Dupont went to Portland Monday.

School opened in this district Monday, with Miss Dell Caples as teacher, and with an enrollment of seven pupils.

Lon Crosset, of Salem, arrived down last Tuesday, at Stanwood's camp, to serve as "faller."

A Dairyman's Opinion.

There is nothing I have ever used for muscular rheumatism that gives me as much relief as Chamberlain's Pain Balm does. I have been using it for about two years—four bottles in all—as occasion required, and always keep a bottle of it in my house. I believe I know a good thing when I get hold of it, and Pain Balm is the best liniment I have ever met with. W. B. Denny, dairyman, New Lexington, Ohio. 50 cent bottles for sale by Edwin Ross.

THE MIST neglected to state in its last issue that the business house of John Swager, of this place, had been closed by the sheriff. We wish to say in Mr. Swager's behalf, that his embarrassment is the result of signing a bond, which became payable, and not having the ready cash to meet the obligation, his stock of merchandise was attached in consequence.

ROSWELL G. HORR

WILL SPEAK AT ST. HELENS, ON FRIDAY, MAY 11, AND A GRAND TIME IS ANTICIPATED.

The friends of sound money will receive with gratification the announcement that Hon. Roswell G. Horr, of New York, has been secured to deliver a political address at this place on Friday, May 11th, at 7:30 p. m. Perhaps not more than one other man in the United States is as well posted on the money question as is Mr. Horr, and certainly no other man is better able to explode the popular money fallacies of the populists than he. For a number of years he has been the financial editor of the New York Tribune, in which capacity he has made for himself a world-wide reputation as an eminent financier, and his articles have gained for him the confidence and admiration of the civilized world. His address at this place will be the chance of a lifetime for the citizens of this county, and none of them can afford to miss it. A general invitation is given the public, and a special invitation is extended the populists to come and hear this great defender of sound money.

The Clatskanie brass band will be in attendance at the speaking here this evening.

Lawrence J. Vanblaricom, of Lexington, Wash., formerly of Vernonia, this county, was in this city Wednesday.

Samuel Kinder, of Deer Island, was taken to Good Samaritan hospital in Portland last Saturday for treatment, having been taken suddenly ill a few days previous with pneumonia.

Mrs. D. J. Switzer was taken to the hospital in Portland last Wednesday for medical attendance. Mrs. Switzer has been suffering of late with catarrh of the throat, and hopes that a new treatment will be beneficial.

SHERIFF'S SALE.

BY VIRTUE OF AN EXECUTION issued out of the Circuit court of the state of Oregon, for Columbia county, in favor of John Veazey and against George Clark, John H. Swager, and James Muckle, Jr., for the sum of eight hundred and twenty and eighty-five one-hundredths dollars, with interest thereon at the rate of 8 per cent per annum, from the 31st day of March 1894, and for the further sum of two hundred and 28 and eighty one hundredths dollars costs, and for the costs and expenses of sale and of said writ, upon a judgment rendered March 31st, 1894, in the case of John Veazey vs George Clark. Sheriff of Columbia County, Oregon.

SHERIFF'S SALE.

In the Circuit Court of the state of Oregon, for the county of Columbia, P. R. Crosswait, plaintiff, vs. Oscar Akin and Willie I. Akin, defendants.

BY VIRTUE OF AN EXECUTION, judgment, order and decree, duly issued out of and under the seal of the Circuit court of the state of Oregon, for the county of Columbia, to me duly directed, dated the 15th day of December, 1893, upon a judgment and decree rendered and entered in said court on the 10th day of October, 1893, in favor of P. R. Crosswait plaintiff, and against Oscar Akin and Willie I. I duly levied upon said real-estate on the 10th day of April, A. D., 1894. Now, therefore, by virtue of said execution, judgment, order, and decree, and in compliance with the commands of said writ, I will, on Saturday, the 12th day of May, 1894, at the hour of ten (10) o'clock a. m of that day, at the front door of the county courthouse, in the city of St. Helens, in said county and state, sell, subject to redemption, at public auction, to the highest bidder therefor, for cash, all the right, title, and interest which the above-named defendants, Oscar Akin and Willie I.
