

PENNOYER'S REFORM.

Governor Pennoyer goes about the state criticizing the administration of his predecessors for extravagance in office. These attacks are principally directed at appropriations. By the appended tabulated statement will be seen a comparison of expenditures under the administrations of Governor Moody and Governor Pennoyer, respectively:

Table with 2 columns: Item, Governor Pennoyer, Governor Moody. Rows include Salary for private secretary, Incidental fund, Insane and idiotic fund, Penitentiary fund, Total.

Balance in favor of the republican administration of $175,650. By these figures it will be seen that Governor Pennoyer, as chief executive of the State of Oregon, sat quietly by and allowed these increases, which not only permitted others to receive an increase of compensation, but Pennoyer, himself, has been peculiarly benefited.

Below we produce a list of items amounting to $288,382.86, which Governor Pennoyer might have prohibited by exercising his veto power, but the fact is that official had an axe to grind by allowing the acts providing for these items to become laws:

Table with 2 columns: Item, Amount. Rows include Pay teachers and expenses of deaf mutes, Pay teachers and expenses of school for blind, Purchase of lands, improvement ac. for school for blind, Support of the Home in Portland, Support of the orphan home in Albany, Baby's home in Portland, Magdalen home in Portland, Home at Beaverton, Salaries, ac. for school at Monmouth, Boys' and Girls' Aid Society, of Portland, Patton home in Portland, Dormitories, University of Oregon, Agricultural college, State University, School at Weston, Building, equipments, and laboratory, and apparatus for State Normal school, High school at Lake View.

Mr. Pennoyer's populist friends in the legislature voted for these "extravagances," almost to a man.

There is a man imported to this county from Washington to stump the county for the populists who is far from being a gentleman. In his discourse at Gillton, last Friday, he stooped low in order to gain a point; lower than a gentleman would. To be truthful, the man is a dirty, foul-mouthed cur, resorting to mean, nasty language in the presence of ladies, drawing his illustrations in the most vulgar manner. The man referred to is known as Knox, and if he were to use the language in some communities that he did at that place, he would be treated to a coat of tar and feathers or rotten eggs. He was so completely whipped in his argument by his opponent that he neglected to treat the issues and devoted his time to belittling the little republican and the party he represented. Mr. Cleaton, like a gentleman, referred to the man in as slight a way as possible in order to defend himself; a thing which self pride forced upon him. If Mr. Cleaton had stooped to the contemptible language in order to make an argument, that Knox did, we have no hesitancy in saying that the man Knox would have been compelled to leave the house; but Mr. Cleaton is not that kind of material. Knox would do very well to talk to savages, but he will do well for himself to observe a few rules of decency when he attempts to address an enlightened audience.

GOVERNOR PENNOYER is getting all the roasting any man need want, and he deserves it. The increasing figures of his private fortune are shown up; his insults to presidents; accepting a great deal more for gubernatorial services than any other governor of Oregon; running down railroad corporations and the pass system, and riding on free passes; entrusting the important duties of his office with his private secretary, while he canvassed the state in hope of a higher office; praising California and damning Oregon; fighting trusts on the stump and being a member of a big lumber combine, and making it a part of that combine to receive in payment of lumber bills no more than twenty per cent in silver; and a demagogue in general.

Do the working men of Columbia county want to see the sawmills and logging camps shut down and business continue in its present depressed condition for another two years? If they do they should vote the populist ticket. If they don't, they will vote the republican ticket and help to restore the confidence of the business world. People who have money to invest or mills to operate are not going to turn a wheel as long as this populist agitation is going on.

It would be just the same, Jo-Jo, if you were seeking office. That face of yours would choke you off, if your connection with other matters didn't.

Jo Copeland is today trying to beat Columbia county out of money he legally obligated himself to pay. Densy this Jo Joand then come into court and plead honesty. Is just your calibre!

GEORGE FOWLER is the only populist on the ticket who has paid his tax. Jo-Jo, what are you howling about; you haven't paid a cent, and we believe you won't if you can get out of it.

The populist candidates, all told, have only paid $16.83 taxes. Examine the tax roll, Mr. populist!

How do you learn what THE MIST contains, Jo-Jo? You seem to be well posted on every article this paper has contained for several months. No, no! Jo-Jo wouldn't steal a newspaper; he borrows one that some other pop-a-

It is not our purpose to cast any reflections upon any man unless we positively know whereof we speak. But when we do know that a candidate for office is totally unfit, both morally and mentally, to hold such position, it is our duty to inform the public of the facts.

One good democratic lady at Deer Island, at the conclusion of Populist Knox's speech recently, rose and inquired of the speaker as to what party he represented. She could not tell from his talk. To use the old phrase, the lady evidently could not tell "whether he was going or coming."

The man who met Thomas J. Cleaton in joint discussion, last Friday evening, at Gillton, did not expect to receive so many strong rebuttals as he did; neither did he expect to receive so many Knox at the hands of the little man. Be very careful of those little people, Mr. Knox, some of them are too well loaded for you.

THE POPS have imported a man by the name of Knox, from Washington, into this county to do their campaigning for them. The only thing to be regretted is that some man like Knox does not speak every night in each precinct of the county from now until election. If he did, the republican ticket would have 1,000 majority.

Who is this man Davison, and what has he ever done to entitle him to represent this county in the legislature? From all the available information at hand, including the Sentinel of March 29, Davison has put in most of his life moving from state to state, and county to county, in search of an office. Davison, Upton, and McEwen would cut a sly grin coming home by way of San Francisco at the state's expense.

If we do not mistake the sentiment of the citizens of Columbia county, they will not elect men to office who are carpet-baggers of just a few months' residence here, but men whose interests are of a substantial character; men who have now, as well as for years past, had something more than a selfish interest at stake, and men who contribute towards the maintenance of our institutions. Such men can be found on the republican ticket.

MR. COPELAND, like all other populists, poses as the poor man's friend. Let us see. Copeland was appraiser on a road running through the land of W. West, a rich man, and allowed $1500 damages. He was also appraiser on a road running through the land of Stephen Haines, a poor man, and allowed him $15 damages. People in that neighborhood concede that the damage to Haines was far greater than to West. Where does the poor man get off.

POPULISTS have a great deal to say about certain republicans who become rich. This we will admit; but while upon this subject let us note some populists who have also improved the time. They are: Governor Pennoyer, populist, $500,000; Nathan Pierce, populist candidate for governor, 10,000 acres of land and a large bank account; George Miller, chairman of a populist county central committee, $40,000; J. W. Chase, populist, of Oregon City, $40,000, and a great many others all over the state.

THE populists never cease to shout retrenchment in office, extravagant appropriations, and reckless expenditure of public money by the last legislature. Let us see; here is one item of extravagance by the last legislature: Representatives Upton and McEwen, both populists, of Coos and Curry counties, charged the State of Oregon mileage by way of San Francisco on their return home from the last session, and Governor Pennoyer signed the bill which allowed them to fleece the state to the amount of several hundred dollars in this particular. These two gentlemen came out from their homes on foot when they went to Salem, but after having a hand in legislative matters during the session they went home in palace cars by San Francisco, and via ocean steamer to Coos bay, at the state's expense.

SCHOOL ENTERTAINMENT. The Reeder and Musgrove schools gave a joint entertainment at the former place last Saturday night. A large number of people were present to listen to the recitations, consisting of essays, declamations, songs, etc. Mrs. Gaddis closed the Musgrove school Tuesday and Mrs. Hall will finish her labors in the Reeder school today.

SCAPPOOSE.

C. H. Daggert is teaching in district No. 27 at present.

W. H. McKay has sold his hotel property here to Katag & Bros.

Two children of Mr. Roth are sick with severe colds and cough.

The gravel trains are still filling in bridges between here and Houlton.

The Christian Endeavor society meets at the church regularly Sunday evenings.

The Sunday school is progressing nicely under the superintendency of Mrs. Whitely.

Lowland daytrains are daily moving out to high land, on account of the steady raise of the river.

Judson Weed was shaking hands with friends here on the 19th. Dr. H. R. Cliff was also here.

The Ottendorf & Hyde creamery at this place is handling a large quantity of milk from the surrounding country. It is a fact that selling milk at a creamery is more profitable to the dairyman than the making of his butter in the old way. At the present time, nothing but first-class creamery butter will sell at all, and it is useless for any small farmer to compete with the best improved machinery.

Mr. Cleaton addressed a large audience in Watts & Price's hall on Saturday night. His speech was a masterly effort, intelligent and instructive, and free from spite and selfish appeals. The able manner in which he demonstrated the fallacies of free silver, the money government, and other other populist theories, was conclusive evidence of his deep and careful investigation of these schemes. His address as a whole was a deep and earnest effort, and a deep impression upon all who had the good fortune to be present. Mr. Cleaton will pull a large vote here, as his principles are sound ones and not visionary.

DELENA.

Miss Ida Morgan has been employed to teach the Lost creek school.

O. E. Wonders, our road supervisor, has had a large force of men at work on the Mayger road this week.

Miss Emma Wagner returned to her home near Rainier, last Sunday, after visiting a week with Miss Fannie Meserve.

Mr. Davison, the populist candidate for representative, spoke at the schoolhouse in this place, Wednesday evening last week, to a very limited audience, and we must say the speech was wholly void of sound argument, consisting of abuse and misrepresentations against the republican party. A very enjoyable entertainment was given at this place on the evening of the 12th inst., by the Quince dramatic club, and was well attended by people from all parts of the valley. After the entertainment, a bounteous lunch was passed by the ladies. When all had done justice to the delicious cakes and pies, a very pleasant time was spent in dancing until a late hour.

The long-looked-for joint discussion with the people's party came off last Sunday by the largest audience ever assembled in the hall in this place. The debate was passed off very smoothly, lasting over four hours, during which our populist friends set forth their strongest argument only to see it vanish like chaff before a whirlwind, as the republican speakers heaped up the indisputable arguments against them.

MAYGER.

The road work is going on nicely here, with E. O. Wonders as boss.

C. N. Davidson and family have removed from Washington to live in Mayger again.

Walter White has brought his blushing young bride to live in Mayger. A long and happy life to them.

Mrs. D. M. Eurig has returned from Scappoose, where she has been visiting her daughter, Mrs. J. G. Watts.

I saw a piece in last week's Sentinel in which the correspondent from this place stated that Joe Waldrop got away with our Cleaton. The correspondent did not know anything or was asleep during the debate, for he said Cleaton was not here, and he abuse. Such statements as these will not work; too many people heard the debate.

The Green Creek lumber company are doing off a logging business now, but it don't help money here, for a man must be a swede or pop to get a job. There are lots of good men here who are willing to work, but they were born in the wrong country to get a work here; but if a swede come from Portland and he is all right, even if they have to get an interpreter for them.

GRAND JURY REPORT.

In the circuit court of the State of Oregon, for Columbia county.

To Hon. Thomas A. McBride, judge of the above-named court:

We, your undersigned grand jury for the May, 1894, term of said court, make this as our final report and respectfully represent: That we have carefully investigated all charges of crime presented to us, and have returned three "true bills" and two "not true bills."

We visited the county jail and found it in fair condition.

We visited the offices of the county clerk, sheriff, and county treasurer, and found the books and accounts of each of said officers neat and well kept, and that said officers efficiently performing the duties of their respective offices. We are pleased to mention that the sheriff is keeping a register of all taxes collected over weekly to the county treasurer. The sheriff of this county has given bonds as sheriff and tax collector in the sum of twenty-five thousand dollars. The taxes, when collected, are paid over to the county treasurer, who has only been required to give a five-thousand-dollar bond. As the county treasurer, when receiving taxes, frequently issues over ten thousand dollars of public money in his hands, we recommend that in the future the county treasurer be required by the county court to give a bond of not less than fifteen thousand dollars.

As G. A. Massie, the defaulting sheriff, is now a fugitive from justice, and as it is a matter of great public interest that he be apprehended and brought back to this county for trial, we therefore recommend that the county court of this county offer a reward of five hundred dollars for the apprehension, delivery, and conviction of said G. A. Massie.

And now, having completed our labors, we ask to be discharged.

HARRY WEST, THOMAS PETTIGREW, ISAAC BURGARDER, J. G. WATTS, MARTINEZ CARL, JOHN JOLMA, ALBERTO A. MERRILL.

A CHALLENGE.

CLATSKANIE, Or., May 4.—The populists of this county have repeatedly stated that they could not find a republican who would or could stand before them in a joint debate on the political issues of the day. I am authorized to state that Hon. T. J. Cleaton, of Clatskanie, republican candidate for the legislature, will meet any populist in Columbia county, in joint debate, on the political issues of the day, at any point in Columbia county, and at any time before election day. Populist friends put up or shut up.

W. H. COMYERS, Chairman Precinct Republican Com.

A Popular Remedy.

The promptness and certainty of its cure have made Chamberlain's Cough Remedy famous. It is intended especially for coughs, colds, croup, and whooping cough, and is the most effective remedy known for these diseases. Mr. C. B. Main of Union City, Pa., says: "I have a great sale on Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. I want every bottle and have never heard of one failing to give entire satisfaction." 50 cent bottles for sale by Edwin Ross.

Ladies, Attention.

We wish to inform the ladies of Columbia county that we will allow their round trip fare off any goods purchased of us amounting to $3.50, at the La Mode Millinery Parlors, 106 Union Avenue, Portland, east side, Old 4th street.

A Pointer for Travelers.

While Mr. T. J. Riley, of Atlanta, Mo., was traveling in Kansas he was taken violently ill with cholera morbus. He called at a drug store to get some medicine and the druggist recommended Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy, which he concluded to try. It cured him immediately, and a few doses cured him completely. It is made for bowel complaint and cholera, and never fails. For sale by Edwin Ross.

Ladies, do you know that Dr. Stanton's Female, the Famous Female Specific, will cure all those aches and pains peculiar to you, and will cost you only one dollar for one month's treatment? I will send you my trial box free, who will send you the names and addresses of ten ladies who are in delicate health. Agents wanted everywhere. Write for full particulars to Mrs. L. M. Little, manager wholesale western depot, Houlton, Oregon.

A Dairyman's Opinion.

There is nothing I have ever used for muscular rheumatism that gives me as much relief as Chamberlain's Pain Balm. I have been using it for about two years—four bottles in all—as occasion required, and always keep a bottle of it in my home. I believe I know a good thing when I get hold of it, and Pain Balm is the best I have ever met with. W. B. Denny, dairyman, New Lexington, Ohio. 50 cent bottles for sale by Edwin Ross.

FINAL SETTLEMENT.

NOTICE IS HEREBY GIVEN THAT I HAVE filed in the County Court of the State of Oregon, for Columbia county, my final account as administrator of the estate of the late Jambula Lencaster, deceased, together with my petition for distribution of the residue of said estate, and that the Honorable Judge of said court has appointed Monday, the 22nd day of July, A. D. 1894, at 2 o'clock p. m. of that day, and the courtroom of said court, at St. Helens, in said county and state, as the time and place for the hearing and settlement of said final account and petition for distribution, at which time and place any person interested in said estate, may appear and file objections to the same. Dated May 11, 1894.
