

COUNTER.
Deputies Meet
ception.
thieves has been recently organized gang all attempts to bring justice heretofore have been unavailing and to such carried on their plundering that the people became enraged beyond limit. These thieves would kill a cat, hog or anox in the woods, take out a hen or other choice piece and leave the remainder. Their pillage has not alone been confined to ellips, but various articles of daily use have been taken and disposed of.
Some days ago a number of the enraged people of that community came to St. Helens in search of an officer clothed with authority to arrest the rascals. There being no justice here to issue proper papers they went to Deer Island, where warrants were issued by Justice Brown and placed in the hands of Constable Ed. Fowler, who at once went to Scappoose and summoned to his assistance five residents of that locality. It was found at this time that John Bain, who was the supposed leader of the gang, was just across the line in Multnomah county. The officer at once had the warrant transferred to Multnomah county and proceeded early Saturday morning to the place where Bain was supposed to stay.
Which was reached about 5 o'clock. The deputies were stationed around the premises to watch the house, and about 7 o'clock a man emerged from the building, which is owned by Mrs. Moore. Below we give Constable Fowler's statement of the affair:
"Bain was coming toward us and when within about sixty feet stopped and said:
'What are you fellows looking for?' to which I made no reply. Again he repeated the question. I then asked him whose he was. He received the answer that it was Mrs. Moore's. Bain then said, 'you fellows are here for some purpose and you had better leave it once.' I then told him I had a warrant for his arrest and to throw up his hands, at the same time drawing my revolver. 'You fellows can shoot away, I will never surrender,' said Bain. I again told him to surrender or I would shoot him. At this Bain drew a revolver from beneath his coat and began firing, which I also did. As soon as Bain had emptied his revolver he took to his heels and had to make but a few leaps until he disappeared in the woods. We followed him as long as we could, where we last saw him. Hearing he might have confederates we called in ambush I left two men there as lookouts, and accompanied by the other three went to the house and secured a search warrant made a complete search of the house and premises, finding a number of articles which were identified by parties who had heretofore lost them. At this time it was decided that any effort to capture Bain in the dense woods of which he was thoroughly familiar, would be useless, so we decided to search another locality and arrested Jerry Potter and Matthew Truckee, for whom we had warrants." Potter and Truckee were taken to Justice Brown's court for their preliminary hearing, Monday, and were placed under bonds to await the action of the grand jury.
The latter was unable to furnish bail, and in consequence is in the county jail.
Potter, after being arrested, gave the whole gang away, thinking thereby undermining the state evidence, he would not be punished. He is said to be a very ignorant fellow, and is considered hardly responsible for his acts.

TO HOP SHIFF
in receipt of a circular from Thomas & Short, hop dealers of London, England. The circular gives complete particulars as to the process for drying hops; how to ship them, and by what route to ship them economically.
American growers seeking such information should address Thomas & Short, Borough, London.

MOVING BAGS—Frank Dow moved his dairy cows and dairy apparatus back to his ranch on Sauvie Island Monday. There were 120 head of cattle, a number of horses, wagon and household goods. It is about two months since Mr. Dow moved to the mainland to avoid the high water during which time his dairy has been operated out at the Wikstrom place.

A USEFUL BOOK—The tide tables for the Pacific coast of America, together with stations in Asia, Australia, and islands of the Pacific ocean, for the year 1895, published by the U. S.
Coast and Geodetic Survey, are now ready for issue, and copies can be obtained at the agencies of the survey, or by addressing the office of the survey at Washington, D. C. Price twenty-five cents.

CAPTAIN GOOD'S SIDE—Captain James Good, of the steamer Young America, says: "The statement being circulated to the effect that the Kellogg Company pays us $100 a month to run the Slough is absolutely false.
The Young America is not owned, backed or hired by the Kellogg Company or any other company, and is simply running to make what she can in legitimate traffic."

GOKE CAMPING—T. A. McBride and family, of Oregon City, Mrs. Dr. Year-gan and Mrs. Woods, of San Jose, Cal., Mr. Brock and family, of San Francisco, Geo. Merrill, of Deer Island, Walker and Anna McBride, of San Jose, and Mr. Church, of Salem, Miss Mary Conyers and Mr. Lewis, of Oregon City. The above is a list of those who left here last Wednesday evening for Mt. St. Helens. They took with them one team and one cook.

PREPARING TO BUILD—Mr. L. J.
Decker is very busy these days clearing off the new lot recently purchased preparatory to building a new residence thereon. The site is one block from the river and a desirable spot.
Mr. Decker at first intended to move the old house vacated during the flood, to the new site, but later abandoned the idea and will now erect a new one and one-half story building, using the old one for outhouses, etc.

BUSINESS PROSPECTS—The business outlook is daily getting brighter. In the last few days a notable change has taken place in the commercial world. Not what we have at times been accustomed to in the past, but an actual feeling of confidence prevails in business circles greater than at any time during the past year and a half. It is claimed in some of the states that the Chinese-Japanese war has already caused a marked difference in trade, and as the cloud of war becomes darker American prospects grow brighter.

REPAIR THE BRIDGES—There are a number of bridges and culverts on the Scappoose road between St. Helens and Gilliam which are badly in need of attention. Every bridge along this stretch of road was inunded by the recent high water which left them in very bad condition, indeed some of them are dangerous.
This is especially true of the bridge at Godfrey's place. The road supervisors should attend to these repairs at once before the county is called upon to pay for accidents that will surely result if repairs are not soon made.

SAUVIES ISLAND RAILROAD—Sauvie island has a railroad—not the Astoria railroad—but one of its own, a branch line of the Union Pacific, not built by the government with appropriations and no land grant, and which evidently had required a great deal of labor to prepare. The lady is an entertaining speaker and no matter what may be said for or against secularism there is one thing they teach that meets our hearty approval.
That is the complete separation of church and state, and oppose state and national appropriations for secular institutions. It may be said, though, that these people are a little inconsistent, claiming not to be infidel, yet only a few minutes before Mr. Smith pointed with pride to the fact that the only church they had in Portland was organized about two years ago on the birthday of Thomas Payne, the great man of the world ever known. The conclusion of Mrs.
Smith's address was a beautiful collection of verses distributed and read. The speaker also addressed

CLATSKANIE.
The city building is now painted and looks quite respectable.
Mrs. Frank Merrill and two children returned on Monday, coming from a week's visit up the river.
W. H. Conyers is farming the past few days, getting in hay, while Mrs. Conyers attends to the affairs of the office.
John Myers is taking a lay-off this week from cutting shingle bolts, on account of three or four saw teeth hurting in his leg.
A drove of ponies was brought into town for sale one day this week, but the sales were tolerably light here as horses are more plentiful than money.
W. K. Tiehenor was playing teamster himself Monday, getting some shingles to the steamer landing. Will call him in anywhere there is a man short.

G. P. Hatt having completed his work on the C. Gomme residence, expects to be back to work on W. K. Tiehenor this week, to be located on the big barn.
Mrs. Courter, who is holding down a claim in the Mill valley, spent Wednesday night and part of Thursday in town on her way back from Portland.
Frank Merrill has been busy the past few days getting the platform in shape again about his hotel building. It was demonstrated and dismantled during the recent flood.
The City Cornet Band is not heard quite so often at practice recently. The boys have scattered off a little and the leader is employed out of town and cannot meet them as often.

K. J. Page and family have gone out to his place to put up hay this week, while W. A. Edgerston, the proprietor, is looking after the store leaving E. H. Lane in charge of the saw mill.
The School Board called a meeting last Monday evening and fixed the term of school to begin September 3rd. J. D.
Hawes was elected principal and the election of a primary teacher was deferred to another meeting.
Some baled hay has been brought over from the Nehalem valley during the past few days and stored in the steamer's war-house at the mill. It is reported that a few wagon loads of cedar lumber have been brought over for shipment.

George Murray got a scalp wound and some other injuries from being thrown off a load of shingle bolts one day last week.
Harvey Brewer's team in going down a steep grade was unable to hold the load and went off at a lively rate coming up suddenly against a stone throwing Harvey and George out and shattering the wagon badly. George was the only one injured and he is at work again but considerably bruised.

Miss A. Haun, formerly a resident of this place, came in on the steamer Monday and spent the night in town, leaving for Fishhawk the next day.
Mr. and Mrs. Johnson have moved from the Clatskanie hotel to a new place across the creek, near the sawmill. Mr.
Johnson will exchange hotel keeping for mill work.

Two complaints for larceny were tried before Justice Hall last week, one in which a horse was the subject, the other in which W. H. Ables claimed had been stolen from him by J. P. Dynes. It was proven on trial that Dynes had stolen the horse with Ables, and defendant was not held for larceny.
After a good deal of scouring of machinery and other repairs made necessary by the recent high water, the Bryant mill is now running again. It is pleased to hear the sounds from the mill that announce that something is being done, and hope that the proprietor will find demand enough for manufactured lumber. Every eye is turned constantly to the rest of the season. J. T. Johnson is sawyer and J. M.
Payne is running the engine.

We have had a succession of visits from gentlemen engaged in education, just results who are anxious to see our school building, and to take a look at the town noted for health and beauty. Prof. J. T. Howe was a visitor on Friday evening. Prof.
Whitten on Saturday, and last, though not least (being heavier than either of the others) was Prof. J. D. Hawes, who came on the steamer Monday. These gentlemen all speak kindly of us and our school facilities, while our school board will have excellent material from which to secure teachers for the fall term.

The bridge from the foot of the hill on Nehalem street across the Clatskanie river, has been repaired and made safe for travel again. The planks around the warren have been placed in position on a level with the bridge, and recently wagon loads of shingles have been deposited about the warren until one can scarcely step on it without being struck by shingles until it begins to look as though the whole country was making shingles.
There is some danger of a heavy out of starvation prices. Indeed, one team hauling bolts for the past year at the prevailing prices, got so that the horses had to lean against each other to stand up.

MAYGER.
Our shingle mill is in full blast again.
Mrs. J. G. Watts was called home rather suddenly on account of sickness in the family.
Wm. Blackford is very busy clearing land for another crop. He raises splendid potatoes on his place.
We understand that the mill company at this place has a contract to cut 150,000 feet of lumber for a flume company at Stella, Washington. That will create some work.

Your correspondent was wrongly informed in regard to Dr. H. E. Tryon, last week. The doctor is in California, doing a thriving business and curing people by the score. He expects to return here in the near future, and make some bow.

ON THE SANDS—The steamer T. J.
Potter missed a trip on Thursday of last week by reason of getting aground in the Lower Columbia. She left Astoria at 7 o'clock Wednesday evening and took on a lot of salmon at Clifton for Portland. On backing out the run she stern on a sand bar, being deeply loaded she stuck fast. As soon as the accident was known Captain Pegram sent the steamers Oklahama and Emma Hayward down to assist her. They succeeded in getting her off at high tide, and she went to Portland early Friday morning. So far as could be learned the steamer was not damaged. The D. S. Baker brought up her mail and passengers, and the Potter is again en route for Astoria carrying a full cargo.

ODD Fellows' Anniversary.
As is customary with such organizations, St. Helens lodge No. 117, I. O.
O. F., gave one of those delightful dancing parties at the opera house in this place last Monday evening, as a celebration demonstration of the organization of the lodge, to which were invited the friends of the order and the public at large. As was the case at the anniversary demonstration one year ago there were no exercises this time, but those who attended satisfied themselves with the extending opportunity for enjoyment, and an equally pleasant time was the result. Dancing began at 9 o'clock, and was enthusiastically indulged in until midnight, when supper was announced, which was prepared and served in the old hotel building, and which was bountiful and much enjoyed. Dancing was resumed immediately after supper, and the devotees of the mazy dance lingered in the hall until the influence of Morpheus became irresistible. The dance was a success in every way.

LOST.
A MARE.—From my place near Milton station, on July 27th, one old buckskin mare, slightly bottled. Anyone giving information that will lead to the recovery of the mare will be liberally rewarded.

Mrs. D. A. Freeman is quite ill.

WELL EQUIPPED—Attorney L.
K. Adams of Hillsboro, and C. E. Runyon and two sons, of Astoria, left here last Saturday for Mount St. Helens, and from there they expect to journey on along the summit of the Cascade range until they reach Mount Rainier whose snow-covered surface they will ascend to the summit. They will then return their steps over the same route to Mount St. Helens and Trout Lake, where they will remain and stay for locally for some weeks. These gentlemen took with them two pack horses and ample equipment for such a trip and if successful will have succeeded in accomplishing what has never before been done. It is claimed the journey between the two lofty snow caps has never been made along the summit of the range.

RUNNING TO ASTORIA—In consequence of a disagreement between steamboat companies, the steamer Sarah Dixon has been put on the Astoria route as a night boat. We cannot say just what the nature of the disagreement is, but at any rate the Dixon is a splendid fast steamer with good accommodations and should at least secure a share of the traffic. The shaver boys have given a good service and in consequence should receive a liberal patronage.
