

OREGON MIST.

PUBLISHED EVERY FRIDAY. SIDE-HEAD PARAGRAPHS.

SPECIAL NOTICE.—A liberal offer will be made the ladies of Columbia county by calling at The La Mode millinery parlors, 238 First street, Portland. New store and stylish goods.

JURORS DISMISSED.—Judge T. A. McBride dismissed the petit jurors drawn for the October term of court almost as soon as he convened court last Tuesday morning—not indefinitely but to report for duty on Monday morning, October 22.

TO THE GRAND JUDGE.—Mr. J. R. Beagle went to Portland Tuesday as a representative of Assessor No. 62, K. of P., to be in attendance at the Grand Jury which was in session there Tuesday, Wednesday, and Thursday of this week. Mr. Beagle was accompanied by his wife.

ACORN PLANTING.—Not for many years has there been such an enormous yield of acorns as there is this year. Hogs, whose good fortune it is to be in the vicinity of an oak grove, are feasting and fattening themselves, and the festive wood duck may be seen taking care of his share of them.

STEAMER PURCHASED.—Jacob Kamm has purchased the steamer Elwood which is now on the Lewis and Lake river route temporarily in place of the Mascot. The purchase price was $6,000. It is the intention to run the Elwood on the Upper Willamette as soon as the Mascot has been thoroughly overhauled. Kamm now has a fleet of five steamboats—Lurline, Edline, Mascot, Ocean Wave and Elwood—all good boats.

SHIRTS IN THE AIR.—There were night-shirts and night gowns flying in the air at Rainier the other night about two seconds after the Harvest Queen struck the Sarah Dixon. Men, women, and children who had retired for the night came flying into each others presence with as little ceremony as if they were in full dress. Terry Coe was so much embarrassed that he stuck his head into a stove so he couldn't see the sights.

A NEW DEAL.—A new steamboat deal is on the tapis. As far as can be learned it is the intention to consolidate the entire steamboat interests under one management. Two day boats and two night boats would be operated. Round trips discontinued. The present rates would be maintained. Now that the winter season is coming on travel is necessarily light and to continue operating means to lose the profits, if any, that have been made during the summer.—Gazette.

NEW DAILY.—Portland's new daily and Sunday newspaper will make its first appearance next Monday morning. The Sun will be the name of the new publication, and its manager will be Capt. John O'Brien. The Sun will cast its rays of light upon the people of Portland and the adjacent country, and make all opposition to democratic principles wilt under the penetrating arguments cast from the Sun's fountain of light. THE MIST will cheerfully comply with the manager's request, by postal, to exchange.

AFTER THE BIG RAFT.—The tug monarch of the Merchants & Ship owners' Towing Co., of San Francisco, arrived at Astoria Tuesday. Her object in visiting the river is to tow down the big cigar shaped raft which was built down at Stella. The raft belongs to Bines & Robertson, of San Francisco. The tug started south with her tow Thursday. The raft will, it is said, draw about twenty-one feet when leaving Stella, and will be deepened at Astoria by the addition of a deckload of 300,000 feet of lumber. Crossing out it will probably draw between twenty-five and twenty-six feet.

DEATH OF CATFISH.—Old-time fishermen tell us of the reason of the scarcity of larger-sized catfish, rather they attribute the cause to the extreme height of the water the past summer. They also tell us that it is no uncommon thing to see hundreds of the fish lying dead along the shores of sloughs and bays, and say that there was certainly some do or die among the fish. It is recalled to our own mind that the catfish caught during and since the high water are not so large as those caught a year or two ago. This same thing has caused much comment among fishermen, and since this attributed cause is only imaginary it does contain some reason.

NEW INVENTION.—Captains Sullivan and Turner of the Harvest Queen, have invented a new clock for a pilot house. The new time piece is more properly speaking a clock and lamp combined. The new clock is constructed from the movement of an Elgin watch. The dial will be sufficiently large to admit the hours being plainly read. The hands are constructed of aluminum. By placing a small lamp behind the dial it reflects a light upon the dial, thus permitting the hours to be plainly seen obviating the need of a light in the pilot house, which is the case of a navigator's life. It is not unlikely that the gentlemen will patent their invention and become millionaires as a result of their skill.—Gazette.

OUT FOR BUSINESS.—No truer saying exists than that "competition is the life of trade." We see this fact demonstrated every day in every line of business, and especially so in the steamboat business. One of the liveliest scenes of competition in this respect, under our observation, is the Willamette slough route, and one which extends a bid to all lively steamboatmen. Realizing that fact, Master Good, of the Young America, placed the services of his steamer at the bidding of the people along the Slough, and bids fair to be a lively competitor. The officers and crew of the Young America are as accommodating gentlemen as any among our steamboatmen, and their reputation which is earning for them steady competitors is envied by the whole river, and up and down the whole river, and demonstrates that the Young America is out for business.

Nails never so cheap before, coffee falling, sugar lower, flour down out of eight—prices regulated by the limited money in circulation. Your money's worth every time at Dolman's.

Joseph Coulter, Joseph Vanblaricom, John Adams, Alex. Sword, Israel Spencer, and A. Malmsten, all of Vernonia, were in town this week.

The little steamer Rowens ran into the fishtrap belonging to Joe Thurdich, on the slough, last week, and did considerable damage. It also damaged A. Robert's fishtrap.

The corn crop failures in the Missouri valley was not so bad as reported. Hog products did go up as speculators expected. Hams, shoulders, and bacon, fall cure, at Dolman's.

Send your order for job printing to this office instead of sending your money and order out of the county. We are prepared to turn out work in that line, in appearance equal to that of Portland offices, and for prices we defy competition.

Mr. Dolman sells goods at prices that leave no inducement to go to Portland for cheaper supplies. We think that better than the old song of growling at people for buying where they choose. St. Helens is a good point to trade.

Some miscreant or miscreants stole some highly-prized flower plants belonging to Mrs. J. N. Slusher last week. The perpetrator or perpetrators should be severely dealt with, which would no doubt put a stop to such degrading pilfering.

George Archibald is in the hospital, but is improving.

Mrs. Flora Fowler has been appointed postmaster at Goble, and that place will have a postoffice as soon as the bond is approved at Washington.

Our section boss says the graveyard along the railroad, on Jack Haley's place, is filling up fast. During the last week there have been three horses killed by the trains.

FROM VERNONIA.

Farnest Shannahan has returned to the valley for the winter.

The social next Friday evening promises to be a brilliant affair.

It is reported that a lead mine has been discovered on Pebble creek.

Miss Bertha Detrick is attending school at Lafayette, Yamhill county.

Uriah and Will Mellinger have returned to their ranch on the Upper Nehalem.

Geo. Engelke has disposed of his Pebble creek ranch, and will try his luck in Portland.

Misses Ida and Bessie and Willie Wilson have gone to Monmouth to school for the winter.

Frank Malmsten cut his foot pretty bad about ten days ago, and is not able to be out at this writing.

Hal Taylor and Fred Job, of Hillsboro, were camped on Rock creek last week catching fish and killing time.

Mr. and Mrs. Embrie and daughter, Lucile, and Mr. Miller, of Hillsboro, are visiting relatives and friends in Vernonia.

There has been more pleasure seekers in Nehalem this year than at any time previous. You see we are getting our name up.

Sidney Dall left for Portland last week where he will use his influence with the people in getting a railroad to our county.

Times are pretty hard in Nehalem, but we manage to get along without shaking to death with the "ager" like you river folks do.

Two Nehalem boys were arrested recently in Washington county for stealing a dog. We know nothing about it but do not believe they are guilty.

T. B. Deaulon is the boss potato raiser so far. He has specimen copies at the postoffice, also at Zilligitt's and McNutt's store, which are hard to beat.

This fine weather is just what we need for ripening late fruit, such as tomatoes and do salmons. What few there is of the latter are already very mellow.

It is reported in some eastern town that Governor Penneyer, of Oregon, will take up his abode on upper Rock creek soon after January 1st, 1894.

That is where the evil spirit was last heard from you know—(Indian legend.) We cannot vouch for the truth of this report, but it is hardly possible that it may be true. We would welcome the governor on Rock creek.

Business in Vernonia seems to be very dull at present, but we expect good times here at an early date, regardless of the balance of the world.

The railroad subsidy committee for the Tualatin route are rushing things, and it begins to look as though the Rock creek gold "diggers" were going to turn out all right after all.

Four hundred pounds of the rock was sent out last week for special test, and if it proves good the machinery for working the mines will be put in as early as the weather will permit.

Eastern Star. Mizpah Chapter No. 30 was instituted at this place Wednesday evening by Grand Patron J. H. Bridgford, accompanied and assisted by 84 members of the order from Portland. The citizens of this neighborhood held a very enthusiastic meeting last Friday afternoon, and if the good work continues we will soon have a creamery of which we can feel proud. No neighborhood in these days can do without a creamery, but you can't have one without energy and perseverance.

Lady-Birds Arrive. The state board of horticulture received Tuesday, at Portland, from the state board of California a consignment of the long-necked lady-birds of the "twice-stabbed" variety so called because they have two spots on their which look as if they had been stabbed with a pin or something of the sort. This is the insect which devotes its attention to exterminating the San Jose scale. The shipment was contained in a large pill-box, which was as full of bugs as a spoiled ham.

The instruction accompanying the box is to place them on trees infested with San Jose scale, and to the same corn leaves or other material on the branches for them to hibernates in. The lady-birds, or bugs, or more properly, beetles, are so distributed in coloration as to do no harm to persons who have trees infested with San Jose scale. Mr. Pretyman, the well-known orchardist, secured a colony yesterday, and the remainder will be disposed of as soon as possible, as they must be hungry for scale and tired of being cooped up in a pill-box. The bugs are much like those so frequently found on rosebushes. This explanation is necessary, because some have been misled by the name lady-bird into supposing that the bugs were birds, and Secretary Sargent has received one application for a colony from a person who spoke of the boxes he had put up for the birds to build their nests in. After these bugs are put on infested trees, there must be no more spraying or fumigating done, or it will kill them, as well as the scale.

STEEVES SAYS MRS. INNOCENT.

Claims to Know Absolutely Nothing of Sayre's Murder.

An Oregonian reporter was yesterday admitted to the room occupied by Attorney Steeves in the woman's quarters in the city jail. Steeves greeted the reporter cordially, and quietly resumed his chair. He said he was getting along as well as could be expected under the circumstances, and he had no complaint to make against the jailors. When asked what he had to say in reference to his case, he replied that there was nothing he could think of that had any bearing on the matter.

Steeves did not appear to evade interrogation, and was perfectly at ease. "I am a lawyer you know," he placidly said, "and this is one of the results of a case in court. Lawyers must anticipate more anything, but this is beyond my comprehension. I absolutely know nothing of the Sayre's murder, and believe that my innocence will be proven. My great regret is my incarceration in jail will prove disastrous to several important cases I have in court. But I can't help it and must be content."

The prisoner was asked if he had anything to say about Kelley's statement that they were implicated in the conspiracy to do away with Sayre. He replied that he had known Kelley casually for a number of years. "I absolutely never had any conversation, or any communication whatever, with Kelley in this Sayre matter," he said, "and do not know a thing about it."

Steeves referred to a statement in the Evening Telegram, that his appearance when taken into court yesterday indicated that he had passed a restless night. Turning to Detective Day, who stays in the room with him as guard, he said: "Didn't I sleep well last night, Joe? I believe we both went to bed at 11 o'clock, and I am sure I slept till 9 o'clock in the morning. The beds are not quite as soft as I am used to, but they are not bad."

Steeves said he had left his case in the hands of his attorneys, Dolph, Mallory & Simon, and that he depended entirely upon them to look after his interests.

Bob Garthorn was also seen in his room in the woman's department. He appeared cheerful, and said that his only regret in the matter was the notoriety he has received as a supposed murderer. He said he had never had any conversation with Kelley in regard to the Sayre's conspiracy, and that he could not make out how he had been drawn into it, in any way.

Garthorn appears to have been very much concerned about his fate. Now that he knows his innocence appears to be established, he is very happy.

When she became Miss, she clung to Castoria.

He Will Fight. Champion James J. Corbett last week gave out his ultimatum. He said:

"Let those men who are seeking notoriety at my expense, get together all the fighters in the world who have $10,000 to wager that I cannot defeat them, no weight or color barred. I will deposit the sum of $10,000 with David Blanchard, of Boston, as evidence of my good faith, and I will devote any one week after July 1, next, to fighting one of them each night during the week. I mean this, and this will be the last time I will ever train for a pugilistic encounter. Now, you would be champions, Robert Fitzsimmons, Peter Jackson, Ed. Smith, or Peter Maher, here is your chance. I will take Fitzsimmons Monday, and after him, first come, first served." I will fight before the club offering the largest purse. I bar no one."

BY VIRTUE OF AN EXECUTION, judgment order and decree, duly issued out of and under the seal of the Circuit Court of the State of Oregon and County of Columbia, to me duly directed, dated the 5th day of September, 1894, upon a judgment and decree rendered and entered in said Court on the 7th day of June, 1894, in favor of Archibald Cannell as plaintiff and against Franklin Williams as defendant, for the sum of one thousand and thirty-eight ($1,038) dollars, with interest thereon from the 7th day of June, 1894, at the rate of 8 per cent per annum, and the further sum of fourteen and 15-100 ($14.15) dollars costs and disbursements; also the costs of and upon this writ, commanding me to make sale of the following real property of the above-named defendant, to-wit: The southwest quarter of the northeast quarter (sw 1/4) of the north half of the northwest quarter of the southeast quarter (nw 1/4) of section fourteen (14), township six (6) north of range four (4) west of the Willamette Meridian in Columbia county, State of Oregon; with the exception of the part of the one hundred and sixty acres sold to J. B. Bridges, and described as follows, to-wit: The north thirty acres of the above-described southwest quarter of the northeast quarter (sw 1/4) of nw 1/4.

Now, therefore, by virtue of said execution, judgment order and decree, and in compliance with the commands of said writ, I will, on Saturday, the 12th day of October, 1894, at the hour of 10 o'clock in the forenoon, at the front door of the county Court House, in St. Helens, said county and state, sell at public auction, subject to redemption, to the highest bidder for cash, all the right, title and interest of the above-named defendant, to satisfy said execution, judgment order and decree, interests and costs and all accruing costs.
