OREGON MIST.

PUBLISHED EVERY FRIDAY.

SIDE-HEAD PARAGRAPHS.

ESTRAY.—Red bull, two years old, white spot in forehead resembling a half moon, stub horns. Notify Michael Pirter, St. Helens. 2t

AN ERROR.—THE MIST was in err last week in saying there were twenty Chinamen in the house of Judge Blanchard at the time of the explosion. There was no one in the building at the time.

AN ADJOURNED TERM.—There will be an adjourned term of the circuit court held here on November 24th, at which time Judge McBride will hand down some decisions which he has had under advisement. The judge says the court business is somewhat lighter in his district this year than for the previous two years.

FOR A NEW COUNTY.—It is very apparent that an attempt will be made next winter to have the legislature create a new county out of the eastern portion of Umatilla, which, if done, would no doubt, make Milton the county seat. The Milton Eagle goes into detail giving reasons why a new county should be formed in that section of the state, the principal reason being to reduce milage of witnesses and officers in the execution of the law.

STEAMERS COLLIDE.—The steamers Sarah Dixon and Lurline collided near Kalama last Friday morning in a dense fog. About 60 feet of the Dixon's freighthouse and 20 feet of guard were torn away, and 30 feet of railing on the upper deck ruined. The damage will be about $200. After the accident the Dixon proceeded down to Oak Point, where her passengers were transferred to the Messenger. The Lurline sustained but slight damage.

GREAT WHEAT YIELD.—Fred Clear came down from Blalocks, a station on the O. R. & N., yesterday morning, and says that the apparent desert lands of Wasco county are hard to beat for wheat producing. Mr Clear was at that station four days, serving in the capacity of train dispatcher, and while there checked and received 34 carloads of wheat a day. There has been but one crop failure there in the last eight years, and this year the crop is enormous.

SUSTAINED VERY SERIOUS INJURIES.—W. L. Hutchins, who has lately been employed on the farm of Calvin Johnson at Scappoose, met with a very painful accident at noon Monday. He was engaged at the time on the frame of a new building and fell from the second story a distance of nine feet carrying part of the staging down with him. When assistance arrived it was found that his right shoulder was dislocated and that he had received several painful bruises about the face and arms. Dr. Cliff was summoned and soon had his patient resting easy.

THE INDIANS UNDERSTAND.—Poe, one of the chiefs of the Umatilla Indians, was in Pendleton one day last week, when he was greeted with an inquiry as to how he was getting along. He answered that money was very scarce with he and his people at present, which statement was supplemented with the observation: "When whiteman is hard up; Injun is hard up." "How do you account for the present hard times?" was asked. "Oh, too much free trade; bye and bye no free trade, then money heap plenty." Even the noble redman is being educated by experience.

HIS FINE REMITTED.—Col. S. L. Lovell is no longer a member of the Oregon National Guard if the sentence of the court martial before whom he was recently tried and found guilty, is carried out. The body found him guilty of the larceny of state funds to the amount of $1,759.47, and Governor Pennoyer indorsed its findings and directed Adjutant-General Mitchell to execute the sentence at the earliest possible moment, and dismiss Lovell from service. He remitted the fine of $1,759.47 on the ground that the board had no authority to impose it under the law.

BUILDING A SUMMER COTTAGE.—Captain George J. Ainsworth, a capitalist, of Portland, was in the city last week preparing to erect a summer cottage on his tract of land a few miles back of Columbia City, where his family will reside during the summer months. Captain Ainsworth is very favorably impressed with the proposition to build a railroad from St. Helens to the Nehalem valley, and does not hesitate to say such a venture would be a paying investment. He also implied that when the time came he would take a hand in the enterprise himself.

HENS PAY.—The following account in the Cottage Grove Lender, of what James Homenway's son made in that city with thirty hens, shows what can be done in Oregon with a little good management: From January 1, 1893, to August 30, 1894, the hens laid 4248 eggs, or 354 dozen. At an average of twenty cents a dozen they brought $70 80. The entire cost of feeding was $5.75. The hens are full blooded Brown Leghorns. This is another evidence that in Oregon as well as in other states, that it pays to give one's attention to producing something that is in good demand, at good prices, rather than big grain raising to sell at low figures.

COUNTY COURT.—The regular November term of county court ended last Saturday, and the members which compose that body went home the same evening. The court, after having employed counsel in the matter, allowed the bill for the collection of delinquent taxes for 1893, and by that act have settled the qucation as to whether or not taxes can be collected in Columbia county. Had this matter been settled years ago the county would not today be paying interest on indebtedness; indeed, there would be no indebtedness. Columbia county is all right if her people want to make it so, and rigid enforcement of the law is necessary to accomplish this end.

ALL CLAIM THE MONEY.—The case of R. P. Graham, assignee of the firm of Bevis, Nicholas & Splawn, against John Schmitka, S. A. Miles and C. G. Ragsdale, was tried before Judge Stearns yesterday and was taken under advisement. The parties were allowed ten days in which to file briefs. Graham seeks an order restraining the defendants from taking an action against him, and requiring them to interplead regarding claims which they hold against the insolvent firm. Schmitka asserts that the sum of $330.35 is due him from Bevis, Nicholas & Splawn for labor on logs owned by them. Miles alleges that Schmitka assigned the claim to him, while Ragsdale avers that he has an interest in the money, and recently garnisheed the plaintiff.—Portland Sun, 9.

THAT LAND BUSINESS.—THE MIST does not dispute the fact that a mistake was made in St. Helens when final proof was made before the judge instead of the clerk when the latter was named in the advertisement. But even then that does not excuse the officials at the Oregon City land office, who are appointed to examine carefully all papers passing through their hands and to see that they are correct, and if found incorrect, to at once return them for correction. It is the business of the register to see that all papers and proceedings are in regular form and approve the same before forwarding them to the general land office at Washington. That is what he draws his salary for.

HELDUP AND ROBBED BY FOOTPADS.—Jack Volens, of Scappoose, had an unpleasant experience with a couple of foot-pads near the Scappoose bridge Monday evening. Volens had been to St. Helens during the day where he sold some county warrants and started home. In the neighborhood of the bridge he was overtaken by two tramps who "rolled" him and took all his money and other valuables except a bottle of whiskey which they evidently did not think worth taking as it contained less than one "finger" at the bottom. When seen a few minutes later in West's lane, he was on his way to the station to replenish his stock of liquids and recite his hard luck to sympathetic friends.

THE ASTORIA RAILROAD.—There is a new deal on in Astoria railroad circles. We are informed that representatives of certain eastern capitalists have offered to deposit $25,000 with the subsidy company as a guarantee that within thirty days they will begin construction of the road with a cash capital of $800.000 which amount is to be deposited in the Astoria banks on or before the expiration of the thirty days, and if they fail so to do, they forfeit the amount deposited as evidence of good faith. This sounds like business.

CHINAMEN SHIPPED.—We have been informed by good authority that a party of citizens in the vicinity of Rainier went to the house of Judge Blanchard back of that city on Wednesday night and captured twelve Chinese woodchoppers together with their effects, loaded the whole lot into a wagon, drove them to Rainier and shipped them on the Telephone for Portland, or some other point. They will probably not return.

TEACHERS' EXAMINATION.—The regular teachers' examination, conducted by Superintendent Watts, assisted by T. J. Cleeton and A. B. Little, began Wednesday with the following applicants present: Miss Adell Pugh, Miss Bird Brown, Miss Tillie Sheldelin, Miss Edith Wills and Mr. Robert Boals.

SUIT FOR WAGES.—In Justice Swager's court Wednesday a case was tried in which T. M. Kerr claimed $124.50 from H. O. Howard as wages for work performed. After reviewing the evidence the plaintiff was awarded judgment in the sum of $41. W. B. Dillard appeared for the plaintiff and Harrison Allen for defendant.

CLATSKANIE.

A new chimney and a sufficiently large stove now supply heat and comfort to the new church building.

Rev. O. A. White and wife returned from Beaver Monday, after holding a weeks' series of meetings at the Stewart creek schoolhouse.

Fred Waisenen, a young Finn, living with his parents here, is in a very helples condition, suffering from disease of the spine. He cannot walk, and is quite a charge to his aged parents, who are scarcely able to lift him.

The saloon license having expired a few days ago there was no new application presented to the council and the place has been shut up since. Most of the thirsty people have gone away so that the business has not been profitable lately.

A number of our good ladies assembled at the home of Mr. E. C. Blackford last Friday, and proceeded to organize a sewing society, for the benefit of the hostess and family. They did good and efficient work which was highly appreciated, inasmuch as Mrs. E. C. Blackford has been an invalid for months. This place is fortunate in having ladies as kind and generous as can be found anywhere.

A small company of persons gathered at the residence of Dr. and Mrs. Hall last Friday evening, having in view a study of the lives and works of some of our American writers. The evening was spent in exchanging views and reading sketches of the life of Oliver Wendell Holmes, with some selections from his works. The evening was enjoyably spent, and it was decided to meet again in two weeks, with Longfellow as the study for the evening.

A case in the justice court last week that took up considerable time and attracted quite an interest, was an action brought by Giggey & Co. against John L. Brown, based on the refusal of the latter to grant the other parties privilege to use a road across his land to get out their shingles. After a hearing in which legally winded gentlemen on both sides had presented their cases, and a number of witnesses had been called, the case resulted in effecting what ought to have been done at first, namely, a compromise and satisfactory adjustment of differences. It is a pity that persons sometimes get in such haste to rush into a lawsuit, when a little reflection and cooler judgment would find a more satisfactory way out of the difficulty.

A conspicuous new enterprise in our city is the erection of a shingle mill not far from the warehouse. G. W. Barnes, A. T. Laws and others are doing the carpenter work, W. K. Tichenor is furnishing the machinery, and D. J. Barnes expects to secure the shingle bolts, furnish the energy and make the promises to the men who will keep it running when finished. Of course it is not expected to run on promises entirely, but that is a large element in running all the shingle mills about here just now. With shingles below $1 a thousand there is not much encouragement for any additional enterprise in that line. But these parties have the machinery and the cash, and if anybody can make it go they will. Besides, their promises are reliable and can be depended upon.
