

OREGON MIST

PUBLISHED EVERY FRIDAY.

SIDE-HEAD PARAGRAPHS.

COLUMBIA COUNTY STOCK.—According to the report of the State Board of Agriculture, Columbia county has 1390 horses and mules, of an average value of $12.26; 4996 cattle, of an average value of $11.12; 1260 sheep and goats, of an average value of $2.82. Total valuation of these four classes of live stock, $107,473.24.

CLAIMS AGAINST THE FRANKFORT.—In the United States district court last Saturday Judge Bellinger was engaged nearly the entire day hearing the claims against the steamer City of Frankfort. Late in the afternoon he had allowed about fifty claims that aggregated $3,783. The sale of the steamer, which was to have been made last Saturday, was postponed for one week.

CHURCH SOCIAL.—The ladies of the M. E. church, of this place, gave a social at Masonic hall last Friday night, which was a social success. The hall was comfortably well filled, and after singing a number of selections, including one by the little folks, and a very interesting lecture by Dr. J. M. F. Chalmers, luncheon was served, consisting of coffee and cake and other nice things. The evening was pleasantly spent by those present.

A MAMMOTH STEER.—One of the largest steers, says the Baker City Democrat, ever raised in this section of the country was brought into the city one day last week and weighed on the scale of S. Grier. The critter weighed just 2584 pounds. Mr. James T. Wisdom raised the steer on his farm in Powder valley, and it is now five years old and is a shorthorn. Mr. Wisdom has sold the steer to Mr. Latcham, representing the Denver Packing Company, at a live weight of 34 cents per pound, and his beefship will go East with a shipment of hogs.

THE GRUMBLERS.—Dissatisfaction and discontent are very desirable when they are accompanied by energy enough to lead to a striving for better things. The continual grumbler who makes no effort to change that which he finds fault with may be a very disagreeable person, but the man who means to make it better, and who tries to carry out his intention, is in the path of progress and is likely to get well along if he lives. He will be apt to benefit himself, his family and the world, though he may find it very difficult to travel at times.

THE CHRISTMAS TREE.—The teachers and pupils of the St. Helens Sunday school are deserving of much credit for the display made at the church last Monday evening. Besides a tree which was well filled with presents, though not expensive, were some of the less appreciated, there had been prepared and was rendered an excellent literary programme, consisting of songs, recitations, readings, etc., which made the evening pass very pleasantly. After the programme had been rendered the presents were distributed, and the little folks made happy.

A RESIDENT OF COLUMBIA.—Prof. W. H. Powell, who has had charge of the Eastham school in this city for the past year, has been offered and has accepted the principalship of the Clinton-Kelly school in Portland. His resignation, which takes effect this week, has been handed in to the school board of this city. Prof. Powell is one of the highest young educators in the state and is fully qualified for the position he has accepted. As to who will succeed Prof. Powell to the principalship of the Eastham school has not yet been decided by the school board.—Oregon City Enterprise.

CONVENES JANUARY 14.—The Oregon legislature will convene on Monday, January 14, 1894, when the following will be installed into office: Governor, W. P. Lord, of Marion county; secretary of state, H. E. Kincaid, of Lane county; state treasurer, Phil. Metcham, of Grant county; supreme judge, C. E. Wolverton, of Linn county; attorney-general, C. M. Idleman, of Multnomah county; superintendent of public instruction, G. M. Lewis, of Union county; state printer, W. H. Leads, of Jackson county; prosecuting attorney fifth district, W. N. Barrett, of Hillsboro; member of board of equalization, G. Wingate, of Clatsop county; congressman second district, W. R. Ellis, of Morrow county.

THE "PEN" PLUM.—The Portland Herald contains the following "interesting item": "The superintendent of the state penitentiary is a plum that several Portlanders, in addition to half a dozen Marion county farmers are fighting on, and as far as known no one has the inside track. Governor-elect Lord has been so pestered with applicants for this position that a short time ago he is said to have said that if he was not let alone by hungry office-seekers he would let Superintendent George B. Downing, the present incumbent of this office, retain it." In casting his eye over the field the governor should not overlook the fact that the employees of the Salem Statesman are not yet all provided for.

THE ASTORIA RAILROAD.—There is already some stir being made in consequence of the construction of the proposed railroad to Astoria from Gresham. It begins to look now as if the people who are backing the scheme had "business in their eye," and really meant to do something. Messrs. Bonner & Hammond have recently purchased the Oregon Pacific, and this movement is looked upon as having some significance in relation to the road to Astoria. Should operations be commenced at the time stated by the promoters, the country from Astoria up the Columbia will be the scene of very active operations next summer, and the people along the line will have ample opportunity to relieve themselves from the strain of business depression and financial embarrassment.

A JUST CLAIM ALLOWED.—A Washington dispatch dated December 19, states that Representative Herrmann presented a bill urging that a pension of $60 per month be granted to Hosea Brown, formerly of Lane county. The bill further stated that owing to the old gentleman's poverty and utter helplessness, the committee was so impressed with the justice of the claim, that they reported Mr. Herrmann's bill and allowed the aged veteran $60 per month. Mr. Brown is now in his 103rd year, and is the second oldest survivor of the war of 1812. The one older is 106 years of age and resides in California. Mr. Brown resides now at Grants Pass, but formerly lived on the Siuslaw, Lane county. It has been suggested, says the Eugene Guard, that if the Portland exposition wants to add something that will make its exhibition worthy of attendance, they should secure Mr. Brown as an attraction. Living men who fought for their country 82 years ago, are certainly scarce enough to be curiosities.

THE MEANEST THIEF.—Jacob George, proprietor of the St. Helens hotel, was, perhaps, the angriest man in town last Sunday morning. Our readers will not be surprised at this when the story is finished. Mr. George, on last Thanksgiving day, purchased three fine, young turkeys, intending to stuff them for Christmas. The feeding and fattening was successfully accomplished, the fowls being in splendid trim; indeed a glance at that turkey pen almost made one's mouth water. But, alas, when on last Sunday morning Mr. George went to feed his turkeys they were conspicuous by their absence, not even leaving a card to explain matters, the only evidence of their unexpected departure being the large roller door of the barn hanging by the lock. But, "alas, the birds where are they?" Verily, the meanest thief is he who, after the owner had taken so much pains to prepare a Christmas feast, comes, under cover of darkness, and spirits it away.

OREGON POTATOES LEAD.—On exhibition at the rooms of the Oregon Irrigation board may be seen several samples of the early rose potatoes. These potatoes were raised in Morrow county, and are probably the largest of this variety ever raised in the state, and for Morrow county to produce such mammoth potatoes seems almost incredulous; yet they were raised upon the farm of Mr. Bowles, near Heppner, and Mr. Bowles says they were grown without any irrigation. This speaks well for that great wheat country, and shows that Oregon lands are capable of producing almost anything in the vegetable line unequalled by any other state in the union. What better advertisement does Oregon want than the numerous products which she has on exhibition throughout the state?

SHOULD SPRAY MORE.—Some of the apples coming to the Portland market are selling for 25 cents a box, while others are selling as high as $1.50. There are very apparent reasons for this, the principal of which is the worm and fungi to be found in the cheaper class. The business of "spraying" mentioned several months ago by the Pacific Farmer has not been taken up by anyone if the apples displayed in the Portland market is any criterion. There are hundreds of thousands of dollars lost to the farmers of the northwest this year because they did not feel disposed to use a few hundred for purchasing spraying material, and using it after it was bought. If Oregon wishes to retain its reputation for "Big Red Apples" it must do more spraying for worms and fungi.

BE WISE.—It stands every one in hand to be very careful with themselves and what they possess. The country is flooded with destitute and penniless people, and accounts of petty thievery hold a conspicuous place in the news journals of the country. People are resorting to desperate ends in order to get something to eat and wear, and those who are fortunate enough to have sufficient clothing to keep them warm needs be very careful how they use it. Articles of very little importance or worth are being stolen everywhere, and there are many people who do not watch for a chance to get away with little articles of apparel. It behooves honorable and industrious people to be ever on the watch to guard themselves from such deceptions.

TWO MUCH COMMENT.—The big dailies these days are "boiling over" with accounts of murders, suicides, and the like; all of them giving the most minute particulars. The newspapers of today are giving too much space to such matters. The comments which give sure means of killing. If such news were only noticed very briefly, and no particulars given, it is possible that such acts would become less prevalent. Such news always leaves a bad impression.

Kissing for Revenue Only.
A peculiar suit is pending in New York state. Miss Mueller gave free kisses at a church festival for the benefit of the church. A fellow with money in his pouch attended, and he planked down his spoils for a kiss. He got it and liked it, and kept on paying and kissing until his wallet was emptied. Thinking over the sweetness and satisfaction of this oculatory performance, he concluded to marry Miss M. that he might get his kisses free of charge. He proposed and she consented, then he backed down and declared he would not hang his fortunes to a girl who would dispense her kisses so freely, even if it was for church purposes. And now there is a suit for damages. Of this affair the Washington Post says: "At first the lady wept, refusing to be comforted, and after indulging her grief for a fortnight, she went to see a lawyer and her suit for breach of promise is now on a court docket. The case of Mueller versus Corning promises to have an attractive and illuminating influence. One of the results of the trial may be a discouragement of public and promiscuous kissing as a means of raising money. Kissing for revenue only is not the ideal style of oculation. Somehow, it hasn't the right flavor."

LA CAMAS THIEVES CAUGHT.

Stolen Goods Found in a Milkman's House on Sauvie's Island.
Early Tuesday morning P. B. Pomeroy, A. Anderson, and Henry Swearing were arrested on Sauvie's island, on warrants charging them with the robbery of the store of Tidland & Crow, at La Camas last Saturday night, and they were taken to Portland, and locked up in the county jail. The warrants on which they were apprehended were issued from Justice Giesler's court, and were served by Deputy Sheriff Charles A. Wheeler, and J. L. Wheeler, who returned at once with the prisoners. Immediately after the robbery the La Camas constable, accompanied by several deputy sheriffs, started in pursuit of the trio now in custody, who were suspected at once of the robbery. Coming to Portland they called upon Chief of Police Minto, who, upon being told of the facts in the case, informed the Vancouver officers to call upon him for any assistance they might be able to render them, and how to proceed regarding the issuance of warrants, in the event of the stolen goods having been carried into this county and state. The thieves were suspected of being in hiding on Sauvie's island, and were finally located, and arrests made as here stated.

When the robbery of their store was discovered by Tidland & Crow, three men who had been camping above the town for ten days prior to the robbery, were suspected of the crime. Their camp was at once visited, when it was ascertained that they had taken their leave, and a fishing boat was also missing. The thieves carried away nearly everything of value in the store, excepting the counters, shelving, and scales. Their booty consisted of tea, coffee, sugar, ham, bacon, tobacco, shoes, rubbers, calico, clothing, all in large quantity, the aggregate value being between $400 and $500. They loaded into their boat and were soon at a safe distance.

Tuesday morning, on arriving upon the scene at Sauvie's island, after wading through deep water and mud, Deputy C. A. Wheeler posted himself at one door of Pomeroy's house and J. L. Wheeler at the other. Pomeroy, when awakened by the sheriffs and told to come out, instead, set his dogs upon the officers. They beat off the canines, and finally considering that there was no help for it, Pomeroy opened the door and gave himself up. Pomeroy is a milk rancher and Anderson and Swearing are fishermen. The latter two were arrested without any trouble. The prisoners were taken to Portland and Swearing and Anderson were held simply as witnesses.

The officers made a second trip to the island Tuesday afternoon, and up on making an examination of Pomeroy's house they discovered all the stolen property. Everything to be found in a general merchandise store was found in quantity in Pomeroy's house.

PREFERRED PLUMS.
Some of the Appointments to be Made by Governor Lord.
A great many readers of the daily press of Oregon are said to be just now directly interested in the appointments within the gift of Governor Lord after he takes his seat as chief executive, and doubtless the remainder will be interested in knowing just how many such appointments there are and their character, so the Statesman has been digging them up and will here present them.
The positions which the governor fills directly and of his own choice are:
Private secretary.
Superintendent of the state penitentiary.
Health officers at Yaquina bay, Astoria, Siuslaw and Coos bay.
Adjutant-General and other members of the military board, as follows: Brigadier-general, judge-advocate-general, surgeon-general and inspector-general.
Members of the board of regents of the state agricultural college at Corvallis.
Trustees of the Soldiers' Home at Roseburg.
Members of the board of regents of the Eastern Oregon normal school at Weston.
Eight members of the state board of agriculture.
Members of the board of dental examiners.
Members of the board of pharmacy.
Regent of the state normal school at Monmouth.
Regents of the state university at Eugene.
Commissioners of the first Oregon district agricultural society.
Commissioners of the second Oregon district agricultural society.
The expert to measure work in the state printer's office.

Besides the foregoing the governor is a member of the respective boards in whose gift and control are several other important positions, and he has a no small voice in them as follows:
Superintendent of the asylum for insane, the state reform school, the school for the blind and the school for the deaf-mutes.
The clerk of the board of school land commissioners.
The management of the portage railway.
The commission for the construction of the Eastern Oregon insane asylum. The capitol building commission.
The domestic animal commission.
It might be well to remark, for the purpose of saving postage, and also saving the new governor from a deluge of mail matter, that a great many of these places will be filled only as vacancies occur by limitation of terms, or through other causes, so the appointments following upon the change of administration will be very few.

Every dog kept on a farm should be useful for some purpose. There are too many worthless night prowlers and curs. A collie can be made to bring up the cows and make himself serviceable. Any dog known to kill sheep should be killed at once. Outside of the expense of keeping worthless dogs is the injury and annoyance they occasion to neighbors.

Lost—Charles Smith, a Klama school bus contractor. Anyone having information of his whereabouts will confer a favor by not tantalizing the school board about it. Chawis is gone.
The attention of Justice Swager's court has been occupied verily six weeks in trying two men for stealing fish net. The substance of the case is hard to figure out, but in our opinion judgments may be expected to straighten.
A Kansas printer in making up the foras one day got a marriage and grocery notice mixed up so as to read as follows: "John Smith and Ida Qua were united in the bonds of holy matrimony, which will be sold by the quart or barrel. Mr. Smith is an esteemed cutfish at 10 cents, while the bride has nice pig's feet to display."
