ST. HELENS, OREGON, JUNE 21.

Oregon Press Association.

The ninth annual meeting of the Oregon Press Association is hereby called to meet in the city of Newport on Saturday, July 20th, 1895, at 8 o'clock p. m.

SOME foreign Catholics in Connecticut petitioned Mgr. Satoli for a priest who could speak their language, and he has replied that if they wish to be American citizens, they must learn and use the language of the country.

The Sentinel man is a good hand at twisting figures, but let him substitute figures as he will, and misrepresent the case as he may, lie, as is his nature, yet the facts regarding county printing remain as stated by THE MIST two weeks ago.

THE National Republican League convention met at Cleveland, Ohio, Wednesday and is still in session. Just what this convention is expected to do is not known, but it is expected that the financial question will be discussed in all the different phases.

In his instructions to the grand jury at Astoria last Monday, Judge McBride said that the Oregon courts had jurisdiction to low-water mark on the Washington side of the river, and instructed that body that they had a right to indict any one found engaged in taking salmon from any part of the Columbia river during any of the close seasons, no matter whether nearer the Washington or Oregon shore.

SOUTHERN OREGON will, undoubtedly experience much activity in all lines of business the present summer. That section seems to be the object point of all travel, which is the most essential thing to bring about good times.

SENATOR GEORGE W. MCBRIDE, of Oregon, in writing to the American Economist on the present importance of a protective tariff says: "I regard re-establishment of adequate protection as absolutely essential to our prosperity."

ONE by one ex-Governor Penney's pets are being heard from in different parts of the country. The latest ex-convict from Oregon to get into the meshes of the law, and later into the penitentiary for a number of years, is one J. J. Miller, who Penney pardoned out of the Oregon prison and who is now in the Kentucky state penitentiary.

FROM the gloom which has for so long hovered over this land of the free and the home of the brave, there is an occasional glimmer of light, appearing at intervals not so widely separated, and bearing upon their surface a gleam which penetrates the being of the downtrodden, horny-handed sons of toil.

munily. For many months there has been a decided lull in the beef market in our own county, and there practically has been no revenue received in our midst from this source, but now comes the demand, and no overproduction on hand to supply with.

Change of Venue Denied. ASTORIA, June 18.—Judge McBride today overruled the motion of H. W. Corbett's attorney for a change of venue in the case against him for condemnation of railroad right-of-way.

SCHOOL REPORT. Following is the monthly report of school district No. 43, for the month ending June 15th, 1895:

Whether or not a justice of the peace has authority to require a private prosecutor or complaining witness to give security for the cost in a criminal action, for the purpose of securing the county in case of no conviction, and especially in cases of malicious prosecution, is a question which has been discussed in the many sections of Hill's code bearing upon this question:

SECTION 1411. The name of every person who voluntarily appears before any justice of the peace or grand jury to prosecute any person in a criminal action, either for a misdemeanor or felony, shall be indorsed upon the complaint, information, or indictment as private prosecutor; and if it shall be found by any justice or court trying said action or hearing said proceeding that the prosecution is malicious or without probable cause, said fact shall be entered upon record in said action or proceeding by said justice or court.

SEC. 2142. Upon making the entry prescribed in section 1411, the justice or court must immediately render judgment against the private prosecutor for the cost and disbursements of the action or proceeding, which may be enforced by execution, in the same manner as a judgment in a civil action.

It will be seen by the foregoing sections that the justice has the right, always, to require the complainant to give security for the cost. The justice not only has the right but it is a duty he owes the taxpayers of the county to require security given for the costs in all cases. Then would a case of malicious prosecution be unheard of, and then and not until then, will the county be protected against the many petty spite-work cases that are continually occupying the time of the justice courts while the county foots the bill.

Senator George W. McBride, of Oregon, in writing to the American Economist on the present importance of a protective tariff says: "I regard re-establishment of adequate protection as absolutely essential to our prosperity. With labor employed at good wages, and with a restoration of our immense domestic commerce, thereby removing from the minds of the people the apprehension of loss of employment and of business investments, we shall be able to give due consideration to other questions of much importance to our political and social advancement. Protective tariff will, therefore, benefit all our people, opening anew every avenue of employment, increasing our power of production and consumption, and promoting the material and social progress of the masses upon whose condition is based the welfare of the nation. I therefore regard the re-establishment of the protective tariff system as the political issue of paramount importance to the country."

CROPS AND WEATHER. Following is the report of the State Weather Bureau for the week ending on Monday, June 17.

Weather—The forepart of the week had fair weather with a pleasant temperature, which gradually changed to cooler, cloudy weather with rain. Light frosts occurred about Springfield and Camp Creek, Lane county, on the 11th and 12th; in portions of Columbia, Washington and Tillamook counties on the morning of the 14th, and in portions of Josephine county on the morning of the 15th. The more tender vegetation was slightly affected by the frost.

Some varieties of prunes continue to drop, but so far as has been nature doing the pruning instead of the man. The apple crop will be fully the average in yield and superior in quality. The caterpillars appeared in destructive numbers three weeks ago but they are now conquered by spraying. The potato crop will most likely be larger than ever before.

of his tongue. An investigation is being conducted at the instance of Secretary Olney to determine the authorship of a publication which reflects severely upon Great Britain's movements at Nicaragua. It is asserted that Guzman inspired the story to the effect that Lord Kimberley, at London, is pulling the wool over the eyes of Ambassador Bayard by making him believe that the aggressions in the Central American republics had ceased.
