

SIDE-HEAD PARAGRAPHS.

HUNTING FOR HIS WIFE.—William White, for several years employed as laborer on government work at Fort Stevens, is in Portland seeking to discover some trace of his wife, who deserted her home last week, taking as a souvenir $100 in money that her husband had saved up, says the Oregonian of Tuesday. Mr. White says he last saw his wife Wednesday, and when he left home after dinner, she kissed and fondled him in a more than usually affectionate manner. When he returned home for supper, there was no wife to meet him. She had taken the Ilwaco boat for Astoria, and the next day the husband followed. At Astoria he discovered where the woman had purchased a villa and some other things; then, taking the boat to Portland, White hastened to the metropolis in the hope of finding his truant wife; but his search so far has proved fruitless. He believes that a fellow laborer is responsible for his domestic affliction, and has sent her away, expecting to meet the woman afterward; but he is willing to forgive her if she will only return to him. White and his wife were married in Scappoose three years ago, and have lived pleasantly together. "If I could only see and have a talk with her, I know she would return to me," said the disconsolate husband yesterday, but the woman apparently is not caring much to see her broken-hearted spouse. In conclusion to the foregoing we will add that Mrs. White came down from Scappoose on Tuesday to St. Helens, where she was joined by her husband upon the arrival of the Telephone from Astoria, and the couple took an early morning boat for Portland on the day following.

A FEMALE CRANK.—A San Francisco girl who is entitled to the pity of sane persons has been attending the trial of Durrant, who is charged with two particularly atrocious murders, and has sent him bouquets each day since the opening of the trial. It is a mystery why feminine hysteria always breaks out in the form of bouquets. Seemingly nothing else will satisfy the craving for idiotic action. Every time a man is in the murderer's chair there is certain to spring up from one to half dozen women who would be better off and more suitably placed if tenderly cared for in an insane asylum. The feminine mind is curiously constructed. Pity and sympathy are qualities generously served out to all women and, in these special cases, superfluously loaded onto them. The result is that these women become laughing stocks in the community, injuries to themselves and objects of disdain and contempt to the criminal men of whom they make temporary and disgusting idols. Women who are struggling for the advancement of their sex can do no better than to gather in this class of morbid feminines and train them into ways of common sense and modesty.

NEXT WEEK THE TIME.—Astoria: It was rumored on the streets yesterday that Mr. Hammond, who leaves Portland today for a brief visit to San Francisco, had let the principal contract for the construction of the first ten miles of the Goble road to H. S. Huson, of Tacoma, formerly assistant chief engineer of the Northern Pacific railroad, and who was in Astoria with Geo. W. Dickison, assistant general superintendent of the Northern Pacific railroad, a few days ago. It was also stated that the Corey Bros. have been awarded the contract on the earth and rock work. Mr. Curtis, chief engineer, who has been in Portland with Mr. Hammond, and also has been looking after matters at Goble, it is said, will be in Astoria again in a day or two, with Mr. Hudson, and that by next week work on a larger scale will have commenced. When a reporter called at the general office yesterday, Mr. Goresland was found in charge and that gentleman stated that the rumors were substantially correct and that everything appeared to be in readiness for the commencement of work next week.

YAMHILL DON'T LIKE IT.—The following is from the Valley Transcript, published at McMinnville, and it seems that the people up there do not like the way the committee treated them concerning their exhibit at the state fair, they having awarded the Linn county exhibit the first premium: "It must have been indeed healing balm on the minds of the committee that awarded that premium to the Linn county exhibit when almost the entire crowd hissed them and yelled 'rats'; and when the board of managers met and voted Yamhill $200—the amount of the first premium. Had Linn county been entitled to the blue ribbon, all would have gladly acquiesced in the decision of the committee; but men from outside of Yamhill have told us that the exhibit from Linn county nowhere beside that from Yamhill, either in point of variety or excellence."

MAY FIGHT IN ARKANSAS.—The governor of Arkansas says he will not call the legislature together to stop the Corbett-Fitzsimmons fight should it be advertised to take place at Hot Springs, which seems now like it will be the place of the event. In 1891 the legislature of that state passed a law making prizefighting a felony, but the people were not satisfied with the law, for the very next session they repealed it, and enacted in its stead a law reducing the offense to a misdemeanor. Why not let them fight and punnel each other to their heart's content. It is not much worse than football, after all. The hotels in Hot Springs are already doing a "land-office" business.

IT IS A HOAX.—A few weeks ago a dispatch from San Jose was published in a San Francisco newspaper stating that Hip Sing Lee, a Chinese merchant, would give to any reputable white man who would marry his daughter, Mei Lee, $5,000 in cash and a half interest in his business, valued at $150,000. Since the publication of the dispatch the employees of the San Jose postoffice have been nearly distracted, as letters from all over the country have been pouring in. Up to last week the number of letters that have arrived for Hip Sing Lee reached 2,200, and the eastern consignment have just commenced to come in. The matter is a fake, as no wealthy Chinese of that name lives at San Jose.

THE EXPOSITION.—It is said there were 10,000 people attended the exposition at the opening last Saturday night. Those who were present say the exposition is more nearly complete at the date of opening this year than in any former year in its history, and the attractions are at first class.

WIKSTROM'S WOOD YARD.—I. G. Wikstrom has opened a wood yard at the foot of Jefferson street in Portland where he will ship wood from here to supply the retail market of that city. Mr. Wikstrom is a hustling business man and no doubt will make a success of his new departure.

A NEW SCHEME.—An eastern man has hit upon a plan that keeps descriptions paid up. Every time a delinquent subscriber is mentioned in his paper his name is inverted so as to read like this: "ANJHUP gromm and family are spending the week in Chicago." Every subscriber knows what it means and immediately there is a grand rush to get right side up again.

AWARDED PREMIUMS.—Mr. H. West, proprietor of the Sunny Banks Stock Farm at Scappoose, succeeded in capturing quite a number of premiums at the state fair which closed at Salem last week, in all amounting to over $40. He received three first premiums on his Chester White hogs—boar, sow and pigs. He also received the first on apples and the second on oats.

JUST LIKE THE OLD ONES.—The following is from an Eastern Oregon paper: "The Oregon papers are lamenting their lack of population and its failure to increase. They conclude that marriage is a failure and that the state must import inhabitants or peter out. Our webfoot friends might make a lot of inhabitants out of Oregon pine. Needn't change the pine any; just cut it up into the right lengths, put them on end, and the new inhabitants would stand around just like the old ones."

OUR MINES.—Old miners claim that mining, although in full blast in Southern Oregon now, is only in its infancy, and that quartz and placer propositions will be worked here for the next hundred years. Our country is in many places cut up into massive mountains which are supplied more or less plentifully with gold, either in auriferous beds or well-defined ledges. As the years roll on development work will proceed with increased skill and the output of the yellow metal will be greater. He who opens and develops a paying placer or quartz mine is liable to have a permanent fortune on his hands, as our country, like the Amazon, knows no little amounts. And the opportunities for capital and energy at present are as the leaves of the forest.

WORK FOR THE NEW WOMAN.—According to the Walla Walla Union that city is reaching far into the future for its amusements. It will have an exhibition soon several buxom specimens of the new woman, working at what will probably be her new employment. We will bet the sum and substance of an entire nickel that some lazy old married man suggested the contest described below. The Union says: "Next Saturday there will be fun galore and galore at the opera-house. Twenty-seven pieces of silverware will be given as a prize to the lady who can saw a 2x4 scantling the quickest with a buck-saw, on the stage. Four competitors are already in the field willing to saw wood and say nothing. They will wear overalls on this occasion and there will be fun for the millions."

THE OCEAN WAVE AFFAIR.—Local Inspectors Edwards and McDermott last week gave a decision in the matter of the Ocean Wave-Rainier collision exonerating Captain W. P. Whitcomb, of the Ocean Wave, and the officers of the steamer from all blame in the matter, due notice being sent Captain Whitcomb to that effect. Milton Smith, captain of the Rainier, gave testimony which could not but clear the Ocean Wave. He stated that the boat's light was not at the masthead, where it belonged, but was placed on a thwart below the gunwale of the boat and therefore invisible from the river. In his evidence he also said: "I thanked the people of the Ocean Wave and told them I did not think they were to blame. I was mighty thankful to get out alive." Although there was but little question as to how the investigation would end, still the many friends of Captain Whitcomb will be pleased at the result.

IN SOUTH AFRICA.—Mr. Jos. Klein, of Albany, Or., has received a letter from J. G. Walter, who went to South Africa some months ago to seek his fortune in a new land. The letter is dated July 23, at Bleemays, Matabeleland, British Africa, and says: "I had a long trip when I came out here. Was four months to Johannesburg, and four months here. There is no railroad, so I came with a lot of ox wagons, sixteen on each wagon. We had lots of hunting and fishing. The country was all brush and there was no good timber. They get all their lumber from Oregon, and it costs 30 cents a foot. The climate is hard to beat. It is midwinter, and the sun shines every day and no snow. In summer it rains about two months—January and February. There has been lots of gold found, but can't tell how it will turn out. The town is only a year old, but has 2000 people, all brick and iron buildings, four or five paper ones, three coaches a week, and expect a railroad in three years if gold turns out good. I would advise no one but a single man to come here. The fare from Albany here is about $350, and board and lodging here is $50 a month—the cheapest in town. I have been working in a blacksmithshop and have done well, but will strike the mines after while."

Mrs. S. A. Kell, of Pomona, Cal., had the bad luck to sprain her ankle. "I tried several liniments," she says, "but was not cured until I used Chamberlain's Pain Balm. That remedy cured me, and I take pleasure in recommending it and testifying to its efficacy." This medicine is also of great value for rheumatism, lame back, pains in the chest, pleurisy and all deep-seated and muscular pains. For sale by Dr. Edwin Ross, druggist.

Arrangements have been completed by which Grants Pass will have the only pine needle factory in America, says the Roseburg Review. It is the intention to convert the long pine needles, or foliage of the Norman pine tree, into various commercial products, such as soaps, extracts and oils, as has been done in certain places in Europe for years.

It is said that a Portland restaurant man has imported from Chicago expert roller skating waters, and has converted his dining room into a skating rink. These waters noiselessly and swiftly glide about the tables and into the kitchen and out again, and with a graceful swoop and flourish deposit a plate of soup on the table in spite of into your lap. It is a grand scheme.

Lay in supplies during court week. I will carry a full stock of dry goods, groceries, boots and shoes in leather, rubber and cloth; woolen, cotton and oil clothing; full line of ladies' and gentlemen's underwear and furnishing goods; ribbons, laces and notions; paints, oils, glass and putty; nails, hardware, brooms, woodenware, rope and tinware; prize baking powder—draws elegant prizes. Call and examine the thousands of articles kept in stock, many of which I sell at lower prices than the same goods are sold at retail in Portland. Respectfully, W. H. Dolman.

The boys of the town gathered together last Monday evening for the purpose of organizing a brass band, but as they were unable to secure sufficient members thereto, the project was abandoned. A good band is one thing which this town is in need of and the question of organizing one should not be dropped, but should be agitated until enough members can be obtained to provide a first-class band.

A beer war is waging in Portland among the brewers, and they have cut the price of beer from $9 to $7.50 per barrel. Mr. Weinhard, one of the leading brewers in the Northwest, says he will bring it down to $5 per barrel if necessary. However, you have to pay the same big round nickel for a glass of the fluid, and it seems the only one who will be benefitted is the saloon-keeper.

Sheriff Doan went to Portland yesterday where he telegraphed for the two witnesses in the Upton murder case which the county court at its last term allowed $100 to bring here. The two witnesses are Mrs. Dunwoody, formerly Mrs. DeJournet, wife of the murdered man, and her daughter. They start from their home at Sacramento, Cal., today.

When a girl passes out on the street the first thing she does is to put her hand behind her to fix her dress, near her belt. In this way she points to any hole that may exist, or any disarrangement of dress or belt. Thus it is with our shortcomings—in trying to hide them we but expose them the more.

Mr. A. Holaday, the Scappoose nurseryman, was a pleasant caller at THE MIST office last Monday. Mr. Holaday informs us that the fine weather of the past month has done much for the gardens in his vicinity, more especially the corn crop which is growing more rapidly now than it has for the past three months.

The mathematical editor of an exchange propounds the following query: A boy ten years old has a little sister who weighs 16 pounds, and he gets tired holding her in five minutes. When he is twice as old, how long will it take him to get tired holding someones sister weighing 125 pounds?

Rev. Philbrook will hold services in the Masonic hall at 7:30 o'clock, on Sunday, October 20th, and will continue to hold services at this place indefinitely every alternate Sabbath.

It is now ascertained that a California man who was lynched a few days ago for killing another was entirely innocent. This has often happened and is another fearful indictment against mob violence. If the identity of the lynchers can be proven they should be hanged.

A Portland paper says that robbery of the worst kind is being perpetrated in that city by certain wood dealers. Instead of the wood being four feet in length it is only about three and a half. That city pays for a scaler of weights and measures whose duty it is to look out for such things.

A San Francisco man's life was saved the other day by a big American dollar, which stopped a bullet aimed at a vital part. This incident is another proof of the value of money. If he had been broke he would have been buried before now.

The people of St. Helens rejoice to know that they have in Rev. Philbrook a minister well liked by all. Don't forget the services in Masonic hall at 7:30 o'clock, Sunday evening, October 20th.

Last August while working in the harvest field I became overheated, was suddenly attacked with cramps and was nearly dead. Mr. Cummings, the druggist, gave me a dose of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy which completely relieved me. I now keep a bottle of the remedy handy. A. M. Bunnell, Centerville, Wash. For sale by Dr. Edwin Ross, Druggist.

Mrs. E. E. Davis, of San Miguel, Cal., says: "I am trying in a measure to repay the manufacturers of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy for the great good their remedy has done me. For years I was a constant sufferer from weak lungs and bronchial asthma. My rest at night was disturbed by a hacking cough so that I felt miserable the greater part of the time. Many remedies recommended by friends were tried, none of which proved suitable to my case. I did not experience any beneficial results until I began taking Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. After two bottles of the large size had been used I am pleased to state, my health is better than it has been for years. The soreness has left my lungs and chest and I can breathe easily. It has done me so much good that I want all who are suffering from lung troubles as I was, to give it a trial. For sale by Dr. Edwin Ross, druggist.
