Many orders for county warrants will be issued to persons summoned here during this term of court. Mr. Dolman does a good deal of trading in these—exchanging merchandise at lowest cash price for them. Many persons find this to be very advantageous. For all ordinary wants it is the same as so much coin.

The cases against Captain Larkins of the Telephone and Captain Sullivan of the Potter, for running their steamboats faster than six miles an hour along the city water front in Portland, were dismissed on the ground that there was no testimony to show that the running of steamboats faster than six miles an hour was a nuisance.

CONGRESSMAN ELLIS HERE

The Representative Shaking Hands with Friends.

He Talked of River and Harbor Improvements, of Prospective Tariff Revision.

Congressman Ellis, of the First district, was in St. Helens during this week looking after the wants of the people of this section of the state.

Mr. Ellis has the interest of the whole state at heart, and as he intends soon to leave for Washington City to take up the duties of his office, he called upon his friends here to get an idea as to the urgent requirements of the locality.

While in the city Mr. Ellis was seen by a Mist representative, who learned from the gentleman many things of importance and interest to the people of this county.

What is the prospect for the improvement of the Clatskanie river, was asked.

"Well," said the congressman, "I and my colleagues did all we possibly could—that of securing an appropriation for the survey of the river, and the work was done some time ago and a report made which set forth the estimated cost of improvement, besides there was much minor information to be obtained which all takes time."

Do you think the work will be resumed soon, was asked.

"Yes," replied Mr. Ellis, "I am quite sure that so soon as congress is convened we will be able to get the Clatskanie river improvement matter before the committee on river and harbor appropriation, and I am quite sure there will be no great difficulty experienced in securing sufficient means to do the work."

Where do you intend going from here?

"Senator Mitchell and I are booked for a trip through the eastern part of the state, where we will meet the people and ascertain what we can do for them in particular."

What do you expect to accomplish in congress this session, or what is the prospect for a revision of tariff laws, was asked the congressman.

"Well, what we would like to accomplish is a great deal, but how much we can do is not yet known. You see if the house of representatives had it in their power to revise the tariff schedules it would be but a short time doing it, but you know the senate is badly mixed, there not being a republican majority, so what the house might accomplish in this line would be only undone in the senate."

Do you have hope of making any changes at all in the present tariff schedule?

"Yes," replied Mr. Ellis, "we may be able to bring facts enough to bear upon the president and the senate to secure better protective rates on a few articles, lumber included, but to expect to secure very much of a change would be rank folly."

An Eastern Oregon editor boasts that he has the best woman in the state. She always meets him with a "smile," and she knows just how he likes it mixed.

The Mist wants a correspondent in every neighborhood. If anything of interest happens in your locality let the world know it through the columns of THE MIST.

There are now about 14 vessels due Portland from the various ports of the world and arrivals off the mouth of the Columbia may be reported any time. These expected vessels all belong to the great grain fleet of 1895-96.

Last August while working in the harvest field I became overheated, was suddenly attacked with cramps and was nearly dead. Mr. Cunnings, the druggist, gave me a dose of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy which completely relieved me. I now keep a bottle of the remedy handy. A. M. Bunnell, Centerville, Wash. For sale by Dr. Edwin Ross, Druggist.

News is very scarce here this week, notwithstanding the fact that circuit court is in session. Even Johnny Cooper's dog, Colonel, hasn't fought a single battle thus far, and the exchanges fail to furnish matter to fill up the paper. The only thing left then for the poor reporter is to resort to his wild fancy. This is a bad state of affairs, but from the appearance of our contemporaries we take it the complaint is universal.

Mrs. S. A. Kell, of Pomona, Cal., had the bad luck to sprain her ankle. "I tried several liniments," she says, "but was not cured until I used Chamberlain's Pain Balm. That remedy cured me, and I take pleasure in recommending it and testifying to its efficacy." This medicine is also of great value for rheumatism, lame back, pains in the chest, pleurisy and all deep-seated and muscular pains. For sale by Dr. Edwin Ross, druggist.

The steamer Astorian was launched from the ways Saturday, at Astoria, and is now in excellent condition inside and out, says the Astorian. New paint gives her a fine appearance, and Captain Parker says he will spare no pains to make her one of the popular boats of the river. A large amount of drift was cleaned off her bottom, and a large piece of 2x4, which was found attached to her bottom, probably by workmen when she was last on the gridiron, was removed. The mud and dirt in the hold was removed, and now there is no reason why the Astorian should not make speed. This steamer will probably be placed on the Portland-Astoria route in a short time.

Mrs. E. E. Davis, of San Miguel, Cal., says: "I am trying in a measure to repay the manufacturers of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy for the great good their remedy has done me. For years I was a constant sufferer from weak lungs and bronchial asthma. My rest at night was disturbed by a hacking cough so that I felt miserable the greater part of the time. Many remedies recommended by friends were tried, none of which proved suitable to my case. I did not experience any beneficial results until I began taking Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. After two bottles of the large size had been used I am pleased to state, my health is better than it has been for years. The soreness has left my lungs and chest and I can breathe easily. It has done me so much good that I want all who are suffering from lung troubles as I was, to give it a trial. For sale by Dr. Edwin Ross, druggist.

A social in honor of and for the benefit of the new minister and wife was held last Saturday evening at the residence of Dr. and Mrs. Hall, where a large company gathered to spend the evening and extend kind greetings. In addition to a general social chat the company were entertained by vocal and instrumental music, reading by H. L. Warren, recitations by Professor Whitten and Miss John, and in response to a call some remarks by Rev. Atkinson expressing thanks for their reception and the wish that they might spend a pleasant year together. Refreshments were served and an enjoyable time spent until about 11:30, when the company dispersed for their various homes with many expressions of satisfaction and good will.

W. E. Conyers was treated to a genuine surprise last week while hauling stone for road work with his team. He had just stopped at a narrow place in the road with his wagon to load when Mr. Bonser came along on horseback leading an extra horse, which, becoming frightened, jumped into the wagon and struck Will with such force as to knock him out over his team, which took fright and started to run. Will did not know for a minute what struck him, and when sailing over his horses thought he was a "gone goosing," but found after he lit and his team got away that he could get on his feet and had the breath of life in him yet. A couple of persons witnessing the accident went after the team, which was recovered with very little damage having been done, and in a short time Will found himself able to travel, sensible but sore.

CLATSKANIE.

Mrs. J. A. Fabrique is a visitor at Portland this week.

The "Chief" editor was a passenger up the river Saturday, returning Tuesday via Myger.

D. Dixon, sr., and wife drove to Rainier this week to visit a daughter they had not seen for two years.

Gus Player is having a portion of his house reshingled this week, with T. L. Carter as master mechanic.

Attorney W. H. Conyers took himself away to court the first of this week to wrestle among the legal lights for distinction and success.

Our baseball club is putting on airs and sending a challenge to play other clubs along the river. Nothing like trying what one can do.

W. Lane is brightening up the store room in the Gomme building expecting to occupy a portion of it with a stock of groceries if we are rightly informed.

Mrs. W. H. Conyers has been taking her lady friends out in a hack lately for an airing. The ladies appreciate the kindness, the weather being delightful for the purpose.

"Bob" died Monday evening. He was well known about the Myers building where he has performed his duty as an honest and faithful dog for several years. His age is unknown.

The frame work adjoining the Hiatt building that has been standing a month or more is receiving some attention this week, and gives promise of being a woodshed in the near future.

A quantity of barrel staves are being split and prepared for shipment this week. It is reported that D. C. Alridge has a contract for supplying a large number for parties unknown to the writer.

Telegraph poles lying along the road and telegraph material in the warehouse suggest that something is going to be done about here toward building the new line from Portland to Astoria.

Some needed work is being done on the county road toward Beaver, under the supervision of McGee, deputy supervisor. It will be a grand thing to have that road so that it is passable all through the winter.

Quite a large audience gathered at the church last Sabbath evening to hear the introductory sermon by the new minister. Very general satisfaction was expressed at the close and a profitable year is anticipated.

W. H. Abels came down from "The Hill" on Monday evening. "He was dressed in his best suit of clothes," and with grip in hand announced that he was going to Portland. He took along a number of handmade ahinges to find a market in the large city.

Watson Elliott, of Marshland, has been getting a lot of lumber for a new barn. Most of it was manufactured at Flippen's mill, hauled here, and ratted into the stream to be floated down on the tides. It started on its journey Wednesday afternoon of this week.

A camp of the surveyors on the proposed railroad route has been located near Bureau's mill and as a result we have been visited by some pleasant, whole souled young men, some of them attending the social last Saturday evening and adding to the enjoyment of the occasion.

The plank on the bridge on the Mist road near Murray's place was taken up and the bridge given an overhauling on Wednesday. The bridge was not considered exactly safe and the repairs before the occurrence of any accident showed good judgment on the part of the supervisor.

When M. Burford reached our town on Wednesday morning, he announced that Mr. Messing had died during Tuesday night, 15th. The deceased was a prominent resident of Mist, where he built a fine home and owned and operated a sawmill. He has suffered with consumption for several months past, seeking relief of physicians in the county and in Portland, but medical skill seemed unable to check the disease, and, though hopeful, he began to realize that the chances of life were against him. He leaves a widow, who is also in quite delicate health, and a family of four children. He was probably about 45 to 50 years of age.

In addition to a general social chat the company were entertained by vocal and instrumental music, reading by H. L. CIRCUIT COURT IN SESSION

The Grand Jury Began Its Labor Tuesday.

Many Cases to Be Disposed of at the Present Term—Criminal and Civil Actions.

The regular October term of circuit court convened in St. Helens Tuesday with Judge T. A. McBride presiding.

The thirty-one jurors drawn for the term were all present except one, Henderson, who was absent from the county. B. Anker and Frank Pomeroy were excused for the term. The grand jury selected were Charles English, foreman, Charles Muckle, John Nelson, Magnus Saxon, Joseph Erickson, Thomas H. Lavender, John Cramer. The court instructed the grand jury at length, touching upon the principal points to be considered by them in all cases coming before them for investigation, at the close of whose remarks they retired to their room in charge of Constable Decker.

The first case called was that of Charles Lamberson on an indictment from last term, charged by Mrs. Selene with larceny of hog. He was represented by Attorney Stanislawsky, and when the charge was read to him and in answer to the court's query, "Are you guilty or not guilty?" promptly answered, "not guilty." The case was set for Wednesday, October 22.

W. H. Dolman vs. William Strachan, set for trial October 24.

Astoria Railroad Company vs. John Diblee, dismissed at plaintiff's cost.

Astoria Railroad Company vs. J. S. Rineason, set for trial October 29.

Astoria Railroad Company vs. John Hendrickson, dismissed at plaintiff's cost.

Pittsburg Mill Co. vs. I. N. Foster, dismissed.

J. Kitterling vs. W. C. King, set for trial October 19.

Astoria Railroad Co. vs. C. G. Thayer, motion to set aside service overruled and defendant allowed six weeks to move or plead herein.

Geo. W. Badger vs. Mary Badger, passed for the term.

Estace vs. Saldren et al, set for hearing October 24.

Kinder vs. Buell, continued for the term.

Sallie Rice vs. J. G. Henrick, defendant given until October 21 to answer.

John W. Cline vs. M. E. Cline, motion overruled, except as to mortgage, and that to be stricken out. Plaintiff allowed to amend by stipulation, time given to answer for October 22.

A. T. Cressy vs. J. W. Cline, motion to default and decree of foreclosure allowed.

The jury in the Severo-Clark case are John Eschman, Henry Larsen, Dan Berg, C. W. Mosier, John Downing, W. A. Edger, John King, Gustave Hegeler, Arthur Johnson, R. E. Foster, U. M. Beaghey, Wm. Barr.

Knighon vs. Horst, October 18.

J. M. Arthur vs. H. Reimer, October 22.

DEER ISLAND. C. H. English went on business to Portland last Tuesday.

John King and C. W. Emerson, of Carico, went to St. Helens last Monday, where they were called as jurors.

Erwin Seifert gave a log rolling bee last Saturday which was well attended, and good results are reported.

Horgren Bros. are now loading lumber for Portland. They will ship about three carloads of 50 cars each.

Mrs. Ida Bonser and her daughter are back from Fort Simpson, British Columbia, where they have been visiting the husband and father, the well known and popular Captain John Bonser, who is now master of the steamer in the Province.

Thomas Saindan went to Portland last Tuesday, and it is understood that he is looking for a location for his blacksmith shop, as he does not find his trade very profitable at present. If he had received all the work in the neighborhood he would not need a better location.

L. Elsie, of Hunter, had his leg badly injured in a hay press last Friday. He was feeding the press at the time and neglected to take his foot out in time for the plunger to return, and only for the timely stop of his team he would have lost his foot. When a person is working with any kind of machinery or any labor where his hands are to be mindful of their work.

Charley Gore, of Kalama, the now proud possessor of the Hunter farm, at Hunter, had a very costly experience with freighting hay a few days ago. Mr. Gore freighted four tons of baled hay across the river in a fish boat and when near Kalama his boat swamped letting all the hay in the river. It is quite reasonable that Mr. Gore will use a larger boat in the future to freight his hay and other produce. Why not try one of those boats whose picture you can see in THE MIST.

(Received too late for last week's publication.) Mrs. J. M. Payne was visiting friends in Portland last week.

Without a doubt this is the finest weather within our recollection.

Miss Lillie Bonser, of Caples, Wash., went out to Carico last Sunday.

Mrs. Clara Merrill took a horseback ride to the county seat last Tuesday.

H. C. Gore is made defendant in a suit for damages by B. C. Enyart, on account of the recent forest fires.

Bonney is here again with his threshing machine separating the wheat from the straw for the farmers.

George Kelly, of Honiton, and his brother Samuel, and half brother C. H. English, are taking a hunt out on the Clatskanie.

James Gattens busted himself last Sunday hauling potatoes to Goble and shingles home. Mr. Gattens will soon have material enough to build.

Samuel Schular and Henry Bright, of Clatskanie, with their families, camped here one night last week on their way home from hop-picking.

Charley Bumgardner returned from Ashland last week. He does not like Southern Oregon, and complains of the atmosphere being too light for his lungs.

H. O. Howard, the Yankton sawmill man, is furnishing considerable lumber to this road district. We have noticed Mr. H.'s peculiar way of setting wagon tires by wrapping the fellows with burlap or gunny sack and fastening it with string to keep in place. Then wet the sacks and heat the tire to a stretching heat and set on.

Mrs. Elizabeth Merrill and her son, Edwin, Mr. and Mrs. A. F. McDonald and Mr. and Mrs. A. M. Merritt to a hunt last Sunday to visit Mrs. Merrill's granddaughter, Mrs. W. H. Bumgardner. This is the longest drive Mrs. Merrill has taken for years, which speaks well for her health, considering she is now going on her 78th year.

H. Reimer has returned from Southern Oregon where he went in search of money, though Mr. Reimer is an advocate of free silver. He has located a claim about 25 miles from Grants Pass, and reports that they are making very good wages in panning. Some of the fellows who use the sluice-boxes are making as high as ten dollars a day. He is now here to attend a law suit for damages against J. M. Arthur & Co., of Portland, for wrongfully taking possession of a sawmill he once owned.

HAND BADLY CUT.—Joseph Eversoll, in the employ of Dr. Cliff, cut his hand very severely one day last week, with an ax, and in consequence he goes about with his left hand in a sling.
