ST. HELENS, OREGON, MAY 1.

SINCE the Cuban war began the colonial debt of the island has been increased by $305,000,075. The previous debt was $163,551,950, making a total of $468,552,025. The idea that the island can be induced to stagger along peacefully under this burden is peculiarly Spanish, which is to say harsh and unstatesmanlike.

A NUMBER of American physicians who have been experimenting with the Roentgen ray express their belief that it will cure some of the most serious diseases. They say the magnetic ray passes directly into the system, setting up electrolysis. This liberates oxygen to generate ozone, which is sure death to bacilli. The new form of treatment is at least interesting and not likely to do any harm.

FOREIGN immigration is rapidly increasing again. During February and March, 1894, the number of immigrants landed at New York was 21,293. In the corresponding months of 1893 it was 22,032, and in the same months this year 31,572. It is reported that 15,000 Italian immigrants are about to leave Naples for New York. The problems connected with immigration are likely to become pressing within a year or two.

The highest honor that can be paid any economic system is that which is paid to the protective system in the fact that after thirty years' experience we have cheapened every manufactured product and our labor has held its own. The manufactured article seems to have gone down in price, but the wage that the workman receives has not been reduced. Match that if you can. Free trade cheapens the article by cheapening the artisan. Protection cheapens the article by elevating the artisan.—William McKinley.

The pure food law now in force in Philadelphia has developed the fact that numerous groceries are selling coffee in which there is no trace of coffee, and mince-meat in which meat is entirely lacking. Tricks of this kind are severely punished in England, but often in America they are carried on to a shameful extent. Legislators would stop this cheating if they were not more deeply interested in small politics than in the protection of the rights and health of the community.

OF course the Suez Canal is a great waterway, but its business is far behind that conducted in a ship canal in the United States. The Suez canal in 1893 passed 3434 steamers, or not quite an average of ten a day. The Suez canal, which was opened last year only 231 days, passed during that time 12,495 steamers, 4790 sailing vessels and 671 unregistered craft, an average of over 72 a day. If the comparison be made by tonnage the Suez canal leads by nearly two to one. It is a great showing for American business activity.

THE situation that ensued after the incoming of the present administration has been aptly described as one in which the people saw "the operations of industry interrupted; banks failing, great commercial houses unable to meet their obligations, credit seriously impaired, mills and factories closed, and thousands of laborers thrown out of employment, and a state of panic and business disorders prevailing in every part of the country." And this is not a republican statement of the case, either, but a literal quotation from Secretary Carlisle's speech at Chicago.

The following from the Milton (Umatilla county) Eagle indicates clearly which way public sentiment is drifting in Eastern Oregon: "The Eagle favors the election of Gurdane, Davis, Rigby and Taylor to the Oregon legislature because their election means four votes for J. H. Mitchell's return to the United States senate. He is the man eminently qualified to serve our people and none other can acceptably fill his place. These men are all loyal Mitchell men and will use their utmost endeavor to re-elect him to represent Oregon's interests in the highest legislative body in the land."

STATE militias are alright for dress parade, but when it comes to actual service duedism is not the necessary qualification. Governor McGraw, of Washington, who had a company of Seattle militia stationed on Sand Island at the mouth of the Columbia last week, no doubt discovered that his "dress parade soldiers" were not "in it" when occupying property under the jurisdiction of Uncle Sam's blue-coats. The militia was only placed there to harass a lot of men who were demanding only their rights which were easily recognized by the federal officer, who very promptly ordered the militia to vacate, and it goes without saying they lost no time in doing so. There is no comparison between a real soldier and an imaginary one.

THERE is a very apparent lack of the spirit of individual independence in this nation. While the American people boast of their independence in the enjoyment of a republican government, the freedom of speech and independent thought and action is not what it was in years gone by. Society is constantly forming into groups which are too often controlled by dictatorship. The good results which would otherwise follow independent thought and action sink from view before the trickery of a scheming dictator, whose only thought is to manipulate those who are subservient to his will in the interest of self aggrandizement. To be the subservient tool of any boss, clique or coterie of people means the throwing away of man's birthright; it means that he who does so has no longer a place among independent people; he is the slave of those who, through fear of their power, he so willingly serves. The sooner every good citizen so intimidated casts off the collar of bossism and exercises the right of a true American, the sooner will the abuses which today exist be corrected by a free expression of the people who are to exercise their rights in the management of public affairs. Every man should think for himself, study the conditions with which we are confronted today, and act accordingly. It does not require the assistance of the unscrupulous politician for a man to vote intelligently, for he is able to study the situation for himself.

POTATOES have been used for fuel in New York state, says the American Economist. What wonderful luck the empire state has had since 1893, when its favorite (?) son became president. Now the farmers don't have to bother hauling their potatoes to market or to railroads. The extent of the market is contracted by the closed factories and low wages, and this saves the farmer much labor, besides having to advance freight money. Think, too, of the advantage of growing one's own fuel on one's own farm. What a blow at the coal monopolists and the labor they employ! Corn to burn, potatoes to burn, wheat for hogs. Who wouldn't be a farmer in free trade times?

IS IT REPUBLICANISM?

There is a question before the voters of Columbia county today which is shaping itself to cause trouble in the ranks of our political parties, especially the republican party, unless the republicans of our county look higher than to the circumstances that exist which do not suit their personal wishes.

Some republicans in this county (and good ones, too) believe that the state convention did wrong by not absolutely and emphatically declaring for or against the free coinage of silver. May be it did, if one is to look at the question from a standpoint of welfare throughout the state, (and we doubt that, too) but we, in Columbia county have our own interests at stake first. We believed it then and we believe it now to have been the duty of the delegates to the state convention to cast their ballot on the questions of general import in such manner as directly touched their local conditions.

We realize the fact that within the ranks of the republican party in Columbia county there are true republicans who take a permanent stand for or against the free coinage of silver. On this question they can truly be called extremists, but we believe the entire republican party in our county, no matter what the individual idea on the money question may be, are broad enough to stand by their ticket, even if the platform shall not go as far as the individual wishes. It is our belief that the republican state convention did a wise thing for the party in the state when it adopted as its platform that of the national convention of 1892. That platform was good enough at that time, and even if it were not what Oregon republicans demand at this time, it is good enough until our national convention can formulate a new platform that will embody the demands of changed conditions. And as to Columbia county, we are morally certain that if the state convention had made an absolute declaration for or against silver the party in this county would have been so divided that it would have lost its election in June.

If every individual, or every precinct of individuals insisted on his or their views predominating, no measure or agreement, even in county conventions, could ever be accomplished. The republican party is not a party of one idea; it is a party of many purposes which unfold and develop as the country progresses. We are not disposed to sacrifice all those purposes because the majority may decide that one of them is not in accord with our views. If the majority cannot rule then there will be no law or order. If the minority is in the right it will eventually win the majority to its way of thinking.

A party ticket is seldom entirely acceptable to all its supporters, and a republican might as well reject the whole ticket because one nominee did not suit him, as to desert it because one plank in its platform was not as he wished.

The money question is not an issue of one party; all parties are divided upon it. Up to the time of party conventions it is fair, rational and the privilege of intelligence to discuss a subject of common difference, and to seek to prevail by persuading opponents to become allies; but when the convention is held it is the duty of the minority to submit.

We may be called a policy suggester, but let me say again that if the republicans of this county wish to be successful they must unite. We cannot expect to wrest victory from the hands of an over-confident opposition unless we join in one triumphant march against them, and to do this we must be united upon the vital question—that of home interest, first.

Suppose, for instance, that the free silver men should prevail at the national convention, and sound money men either "bolted" or abstained from voting in such numbers that the populists were victorious. What would these republicans gain? They would have lost not only the prestige of party and the money plank, but the advantage of every other plank of the republican platform with which they were in favor. The populists would not concede it to be a victory for free silver republicans, but a victory for populism, root and branch. It is better to be in accord with nine-tenths of a platform and stand by it, than to desert it and lose the whole thing. There are so many subjects upon which republicans differ and the work of bringing them into harmony should go steadily on, instead of seeking to divide the forces as certain elements are.

Informal newspapers can neither write or read me out of the republican party. I have faith enough in it as a party to cast my ballot with it, and when their national convention meets in St. Louis on the 16th of June and formulates its platform I feel safe in saying that it will be one on which any republican can stand and vote.

THERE'S A DIFFERENCE, NOW!

VERNONIA, Or., April 27, 1896.
EDITORS MIST: Enclosed, please find a copy of the minutes of a meeting of the town council of Vernonia, as they appear on page 15 of the "minute book" that is in my possession. This is the sheet that was written at the meeting, and was copied in the minute book by R. Seseman, recorder. I do not wish to say this "specimen" is published to prove the illiteracy of the Hon. populist candidate for county judge, but to show that he is a practical reformer, and his boldness in tramping without scruple on the old forms of Webster, and introducing improvements (?) shows just what he will do when "you elect me judge and give me a commissioner."

INDEPENDENT CANDIDATE.

Judge Northup the "Sound Money" Candidate for Congress.
By petition of several hundred electors of this congressional district, both democrats and republicans, who favor the single gold standard of money, Judge H. H. Northup of Portland, has accepted the nomination for congressman from this the second Oregon district, and declares the following to be his platform, and says:
"First—I am for 'sound money'! By 'sound money' I mean the use of both metals, gold and silver for money. I would not change the standard of value now existing. I am opposed to the free coinage of silver, but would use all of that metal that could be floated and preserve its parity with gold. The financial question is now the important one before the country. The agitation of free coinage of silver, and the continued debate upon the subject both in and out of congress, produces disquiet and unrest. The sentiment of all sections of the country for 'sound money' must be asserted, and it is this thought that finally influenced me to permit the use of my name. In this way only can confidence be restored, values reinstated and the prosperity of the country revived.
"Second—I believe in a protective tariff. It is what this country needs. Coupled with 'sound money,' it will bring employment to all classes.
"Third—I believe in the restriction of foreign immigration. Steps should at once be taken to protect our laboring classes in this direction. I would also amend the laws of naturalization as to enlarge the period of residence before admission to full citizenship. The time has passed when we can open wide our doors to all classes and all peoples.

"Fourth—The opening of the Columbia river is a question of the greatest importance to the second congressional district. Now that the improvement at the Cascades is about completed, the work at the deltas of the Columbia should be commenced, and when begun, pressed to completion, without the hindrance and vexatious delays that impeded the building of the locks at the cascades. An open river from the sea to the inland Empire is of the first importance. The subject is dear to every citizen of Eastern Oregon. It is also dear to the people in Multnomah, Columbia and Clatsop counties."
Judge Northup further said: "I do not expect to be able to make a canvass of the district. My duties here will not permit. My first duty is to perform the work with which the people have entrusted me. If possible, however, I shall make one or more addresses and give at length my views and the reasons therefor."

How to Treat a Wife.

(From Pacific Health Journal)

First, get a wife; second, be patient. You may have great trials and perplexities in your business, but do not, therefore, carry to your home a cloudy or contracted brow. Your wife may have trials, which though of less magnitude, may be hard for her to bear. A kind word, a tender look will do wonders in chasing from her brow all clouds of gloom.—To this we would add, always keep a bottle of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy in the house. It is the best, and is sure to be needed sooner or later. Your wife will then know that you really care for her and wish to protect her health. For sale by Dr. Edwin Ross.
