

WHAT A GAME.—The St. Helens and Warren ball teams played at the grounds of the former last Saturday. The game resulted in a victory for the visitors by one point. It was a very poor game on both sides from beginning to end. In fact each side began the game one man short of the necessary number, and for several innings the home team was without a shortstop. Warren has material for a good ball team, and all they require is practice.

CATHLAMET WON.—A ball game between the Clatskanie and Cathlamet nines last Saturday at the grounds of the latter resulted in a score of 17 to 30 in favor of Cathlamet. Some dissatisfaction is said to exist regarding the decisions of the umpire, who was a Cathlamet man. The game will be played over again at Clatskanie in about two weeks, at which time the Columbia county boys hope to regain their lost laurels.

LUMBER BUSINESS DULL.—Mr. H. B. Borthwick, the rustling sawmill man of Goble, has just returned from a trip to San Francisco, where he had gone to look into the lumber market. He reports trade in lumber in California in a worse condition, if possible, than in Oregon. "People in California," Mr. Borthwick says, "are awaiting the result of the election before making any new contracts or in any way increasing their business."

FISH AND GAME.—Game and fish can be killed only during the following seasons: Grouse, Mongolian pheasant and quail, September 1 to December 1; prairie chickens, July 1 to October 1; wild ducks and water fowls, September 1 to March 15; deer, mountain sheep, etc., August 1 to December 1. Killing for hides or part of carcass only is prohibited. East of Cascade is unlawful to kill at any time, Mongolian pheasant, quail or Bob White. Trout, April 1 to November 1. Explosives to kill fish is prohibited.

TERRIBLE ACCIDENT.—The little 6-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Leslie Bayler was killed in Howard's sawmill on Milton creek last Tuesday morning. The little fellow was looking at the machinery, and in some way—no one seems to know how—got caught while the machinery was in motion, resulting in instant death. One arm was torn off at the shoulder and the other one cut off below the elbow. One leg was also torn from the body. The boy was a grand-son of Mr. and Mrs. C. S. Emerson, of Houlton, who are well known in the county.

HIS ANSWER FILED.—Thomas H. Tongue, congressman-elect from the first Oregon district, has filed his answer in the contested election case brought by W. S. Vanderberg, his defeated populist opponent. The answer, like the complaint, contains 32 pages of type written copy, in which the defendant denies that the plaintiff received a plurality of the legal votes in the district at the last general election, and sets up in rebuttal that frauds were perpetrated in certain populist strongholds, thereby depriving the contest of many votes to which he was justly entitled. These lengthy documents will go before the committee on privileges and elections in the next house of representatives.

BUILDING A RAILROAD.—Rainer probably presents the busiest scene of any place in the county just now. The construction work of the Astoria railroad is going on there with about twenty teams and scrapers grading the principal street. The dirt is being used to make the large fill necessary between Rainer and Cedar Landing. The contractors have agreed to grade all the principal streets of the town in order to get earth for the fill, and even then they will not have enough by many thousands of yards. The street grading, however, is about the only present benefit Rainer will derive from the construction of the road through town, for the workmen do not purchase any supplies from the local merchants because they are required to buy what they consume from the contractors' store which is stationed there for that special purpose. The men are paid $1.50 per day and required to board at the company mess house at a cost of $4.50 per week, thus paying half the expense for board. In addition to this hospital dues to the amount of $1 a month is charged up to the workmen. Married men living in the town are not employed because they can not afford to work for $4.25 per week, which is all they would have left after paying board and hospital dues. But the Astoria railroad is actually building, and the work is being done in real railroad style, every yard of earth being placed with the intention of making a good roadbed. A trip down the river will convince anyone that the Astoria railroad is to be a reality.

STRAYED.—From R. Cox's ranch at Warren, one dark red bull, two years old, tops of horns sawed off. Anyone finding same will please leave word at THE MIST OFFICE. FRANK NAGLE.

Its agricultural department is of especial interest to farmers. Send $1.75 to this office and receive both papers for one year.

Mrs. Rhodie Noah, of this place, was taken in the night with cramping pains and the next day diarrhoea set in. She took half a bottle of black berry cordial but got no relief. She then sent to me to see if I had anything that would help her. I sent her a bottle of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy and the first dose relieved her. Another of our neighbors had been sick for about a week and had tried different remedies for diarrhoea but kept getting worse. I sent him this same remedy. Only four doses of it were required to cure him. He says he owes his recovery to this wonderful remedy.—Mrs. Mary Sibley, Sidney, Mich. For sale by Dr. Edwin Ross.

Mrs. George Howard, of Oregon City, came down from that place last Monday to visit her parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Gilmore.

Edmond C. Giltner, of Salem, receiver for the State Insurance Company, was in this city Tuesday, returning the same day.

If some of those eastern people who have been sweltering in the heat for some days could drop down in Oregon for a few minutes they would freeze to death.

Mrs. J. G. Muckle left Wednesday for Walla Walla, Wash., to visit a friend of her school days, Mrs. W. D. Lyman. She expects to be absent about a week.

Mr. and Mrs. Jacob George, Miss Tillie Muckle and Mr. Tom Muckle started for Long beach last Saturday evening, where they expected to remain a week or more.

James Cox was taking in the sights at Long beach last Sunday. He remained in the vicinity of Astoria during the week, being a spectator at the regatta and tournament.

Professor M. C. Case, who has been teaching the Houlton school closed the term last Tuesday and yesterday left for Washington county, where he will be engaged for the fall term.

J. G. Watts, of Scappoose, was in town last Sunday, having come down to meet his wife and son who arrived here on the Grady from Mayger, where they had been to visit Mrs. Wattle's parents.

All persons in arrears to THE MIST on subscription would do us a favor by calling at the business office and making settlement. If you can not pay all, certainly you can pay a part of it, which would be appreciated.

Captain Charles Hooghkirk has begun the building of a fishtrap on Copeland's place, about two miles above this place in the Willamette slough. He expects to have the trap in operation for the fall run of fish.

This little piece of doggerel is going the rounds of the press: How dear to our hearts is cash on subscription, when the generous subscriber presents it to view; but the man who don't pay—we refrain from description, for pay, gentle reader, that man might be you.

John Richie, who lives near Pendleton, is the father of a two-month-old boy that was born with ten fingers and ten toes, besides the thumb; and great toes, all of which are perfectly formed. The family physician thinks these extra provisions may be of great value when the boy is grown up.

Mr. Charles Hand, president of the Hand Manufacturing Company, of Portland, was in this city last Saturday and Sunday. The company of which Mr. Hand is president is furnishing the finishing lumber for the new residence being erected by Dr. Cliff, and came down to look at the work being done on the structure, which he pronounced first class. Mr. Hand's company is now engaged in making thirty miles of 5-foot wood pipe for the Cripple Creek mines in Colorado.

THE TRAIL CREEK MINES.

Last week the junior proprietor of this paper returned from a four week's trip through the Trail creek mining district in British Columbia. A few words in explanation of the resources of that country and the wealth of the mines might be interesting to the readers of this paper, hence in an abbreviated way I will attempt to enlighten you:

Rossland, which is the central point for quite all that section of the dominion, is a town of about 8000 inhabitants, including miners and mine operators, and is less than four years old. It is located about twenty miles inside the dominion boundary line, and is 140 miles south of Spokane. At this town are located the most wealthy mines in the Kootanie districts—the Le Roi, War Eagle, Center Star, Cliff, Josie, City of Spokes, Nickel Plate, and many other fine properties—all in a radius of perhaps one mile, and all adjoining the townsite of Rossland. It is to this place that all travel centers, and from there prospectors go in all directions. The entire country for hundreds of miles, one might say, is an immense body of rich mineral. Of the mines at Rossland, which I have mentioned above, there is but one which is shipping ore—the Le Roi—and from that one are daily shipped 80 tons of ore, which net the owners more than $100 per ton. The ore is taken to Trail, seven miles distant on the Columbia river, to a smelter, where it is reduced. The machinery at that mine is of sufficient capacity and the force of men sufficient large to enable the operators to lift 200 tons of ore per day, which, with the exception of the 80 tons that are shipped, goes on the dump, and there it will remain until such time as there can be a smelter built with sufficient capacity to reduce the entire output of that and other mines.

It should not be understood that Le Roi is the only mine in operation, for every one of the mines mentioned are actively engaged in raising hundreds of tons of ore every day. All of this ore, of course, goes to the dump for want of means of transportation and a smelter to reduce it, both of which will come as fast as men and money can secure them. Just west of Rossland, less than a quarter of a mile distant, is Red Mountain, from which so much rich ore is being taken. This mountain is nearly round, and to its summit is perhaps 2900 feet above the city. As development work progresses, interested parties and experts are more fully convinced that this hill is one solid body of mineral, and this one particular mountain is not the only one on which so much development work is being done. On every side of the city are to be seen large mining plants being erected and in operation. As I stated before, the entire country has so far been prospected and developed as to substantiate the belief that there is one immense, solid mass of mineral the country over.

Eighteen miles above Trail, on the opposite side of the Columbia river, there is another mining camp being developed and built up, which promises to be little behind Camp Rossland in wealth. This is Montgomery camp, better known as Waterloo. There are at present several groups of prospects being developed by wealthy corporations at this camp, and there no longer remains a doubt as to the future of the place, as at that camp, too, are immense bodies of mineral. I am only repeating what I hear dozens of people remark, when I say that there is no longer any doubt as to the future of these camps, and that the eyes of the world are turned in that direction. Gold exists in paying quantities, besides the country is immensely rich in copper and iron.

Business prospects are good in all that section of country, especially at Rossland, where there is such an immense volume of trade carried on. Every branch of business known to the commercial world is to be found there, and the transient travel is of such magnitude as to support it.

The town of Rossland is an unincorporated place, and notwithstanding the fact of its being in Canada, the style of the town is strictly American, nevertheless the city is under control of the dominion government. The mining recorder is the city's executive, and to him all plans must be submitted. He, in his dignity, sits as judge and jury, and he sees that the law is enforced to the letter. There exists very little litigation because one's rights are respected.

The town of Trail, too, is destined to be of no little importance as a business center, it being the port of entry on the dominion side of the line. It is the terminus of the narrow gauge railroad running to Rossland, the large smelter being also located at that place. There, too, is already to be found great activity in all lines of business, and as the country develops so also will Trail grow and develop into a beautiful city, possessing much wealth.

The city of Northport, the American port of entry, which is located on the left hand bank of the Columbia river, fourteen miles inside the line, is destined to be a city of much commercial importance. It is at this place that all the freight and passenger traffic is transferred to steamers for British Columbia points, it being on the line of the Spokane Falls and Northern railroad, besides it is to be made the terminus of the Red Mountain road now being built from Rossland. This is to be a standard gauge road, and is being built by the Corbin syndicate for the purpose of transporting the ore from the Trail creek mining district.

Because of no mention having been made of the mineral deposits of the Colville reservation it does not lessen their importance or cast a doubt as to their wealth. In this section of country are just as good propositions as in either of the districts above mentioned. The ore is, perhaps, of a little different nature, but the Colville is certain to assert its possessions. D. D.

CROPS AND WEATHER.

The following is the crop and weather report for the week ending August 17:

Weather—Warmer weather prevailed during the preceding week. The mean temperature was 68 degrees, a rise of 4 degrees, the increase being principally in the heat of the day. The highest temperature of the week was 82 degrees at Longbeurg on the 11th, and the lowest was 50 degrees, which occurred on Tuesday morning. The temperature decreased from Friday. A rise prevailed on Sunday morning, which amounted to from a trace to .01 of an inch. The weather was clear up to Friday; since then high fog has prevailed in the mornings, clearing in the afternoon. The winds have been variable, though generally northerly, and light in force. The smoke, which was cleared away by a strong wind, appearing and becoming more dense.

Crops—Harvesting and threshing continue. The weather has been favorable for this work, as well as for plowing for fall-sown grain. Plowing is being pushed with vigor, and more than usual will be done. The threshing returns show the full effects of the unfavorable year. Farms that were always raised 40 bushels of fall-sown grain per acre, have, this year, from 20 to 30 bushels. Early spring-sown grain is poorer, yielding only from 10 to 15 bushels per acre. Late-sown spring grain will yield even less. The grain is somewhat smaller, and in places shriveled; this was caused by the hot dry weather of July. For the first time in the history of the country the grain crop is poor in a comparative sense. Oats are proportionately poorer, and the same with other grain crops. The potato crop will continue for two weeks longer. Reports this week indicate that the rains did no damage, but were of great benefit to gardens and lawns. The potato crop was injured by the dry July weather, but it has improved since the rains. Corn is unusually good. Corn is not growing extensively in Oregon, for the nights are injurious to its growth and development; this year, however, the heat of July, which was unusual, proved very beneficial to the corn, and the following gave it unusual growth. Hops are yet in burl, and from present indications the picking will be ten days later than usual. Many hoppyards have not yet been picked, owing to the poor hop market, but those that have been cultivated are making good growth. Prunes are ripening, but owing to the failure of the driers, many growers will not have enough to run their driers, while others will club together and in this way obtain enough green fruit to warrant the use of the driers. Apples are ripening, but they, too, are a very deficient crop. Apples are not as good as usual, neither in quantity nor quality. Peaches are ripening, and they will be a very fair crop. Blackberries continue to be quite plentiful. Watermelons and cantaloupes are ripe and are very plentiful. The fruit crop being a partial failure, and the grain crop as well, causes some to report the conditions, really worse than what they are. The climatic conditions of May and fore part of June were phenomenal, and the result is the phenomena in the grain and fruit; that is, a shortage, conditions new to Oregon.

The weather conditions at present indicate continued fair weather, and slight temperature changes for the next week. Warmer weather will prevail in the afternoon and it will be cooler at night, thus making the average about the same. Within the next two weeks cooler weather, day and night, will prevail. Should the temperature become by September 1 much cooler, then the fall rains will set in earlier than usual; but should temperature above the normal prevail, then the rains will be delayed. Meteorological science has not advanced to such a degree as yet as to allow of long-range and accurate forecasts; all long-range weather forecasts, covering several weeks ahead, are based on unreliable data; they are not specific, intelligent or reliable. Through the work of the weather bureau it is probable that the time will come when very accurate short-time, and quite reliable long-time forecasts can be issued.

VERNONIA VARIETIES.

Rev. Palmer has moved into Vernonia.

Remember the eclipse of the moon on Saturday, the 22nd.

Clarence Reed is getting a supply of chemicals and apparatus for assaying.

Prospectors are still enthusiastic over the prospects at the Rock creek mines.

Mrs. Bertha Gillihan has returned from an extended visit to Portland and other points.

The directors of Vernonia school district have purchased a fine set of charts and apparatus.

Master Oscar and Miss Gertrude Wood, of St. Helens, are visiting friends in this neighborhood.

Mr. Clarence Adams and Miss Elsie Ordway were successful in obtaining teachers' certificates at the last teachers' examination.

James George, who had a homestead in Vernonia several years ago, is making a tour of the Nehalem on his bicycle. He is talking of starting a photograph gallery at Vernonia.

Mr. Driver, of Portland, deputy state constable and organizer of the Woodmen of the World, is camping on Rock creek. He will most likely organize a camp of Woodmen before he leaves the valley.

The maple groves along the banks of Rock creek look like villages from the numerous tents of campers and the pleasure of fishing and camping out. We notice the family of J. Morgan, of Hillboro, amongst the many parties of campers in this vicinity.

It is said that Mr. McCullough, the old gentleman who invented or discovered a new principle in machinery whereby a great saving is made in power, is about to realize something handsome from his invention. The machine was shown at the last Portland exposition.

During nearly six years that Vernonia has been incorporated there have been but two arrests for breach of the peace in the neighborhood, and the jail has not had a single inmate. There are plenty of young people nearly grown up who have never seen an intoxicated person. What other town can boast of as much?

SCAPPOOSE.

Several of our people visited the circus in Portland this week.

Wm. Anderson is erecting a fruit dryer for this season's fruit.

Prof. Bump, of Corvallis, began a term of school in district No. 1 on the 17th.

Prof. and Mrs. W. A. Wann, of Monmouth, are visiting relatives at this place.

Grain threshing is well under way here. The yield is light and quality not up to the standard.

Mr. P. A. Frakes is having extensive land clearing done on his high land farm near here.

Mrs. J. B. Watts and daughter Mary returned from their visit to La Grande, Oregon, Tuesday.

Large quantities of cord wood are being hauled out of the woods during the prevailing fair weather.

Miss Dickinson has resigned her school in district No. 9 and accepted a position in the public schools of Astoria.

Messrs. J. D. Morgan, Will Brain and J. S. Vanelevre are rustivating in the vicinity of Lewis, in Clatsop county.

Messrs. Johnson and Bowman have returned from the fishing grounds down the Columbia. They report the fishing business to be unprofitable this season.

Some of our young men have so far forgotten their place in society that they make a practice of disturbing all public meetings to which they are welcomed. Law-abiding people do not approve of such conduct, and steps will be taken to cure the evil.

Last summer one of our grand children was sick with a severe bowel trouble. Our doctor's remedies had failed, then we tried Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy, which gave very speedy relief. We regard it as the best medicine ever put on the market for bowel complaints.—Mrs. E. G. Gregory, Fredericktown, Mo. This certainly is the best medicine ever put on the market for dysentery, summer complaint, colic and cholera infantum in children. It never fails to give prompt relief when used in reasonable time and the plain printed directions are followed. Many mothers have expressed their sincere gratitude for the cures it has effected. For sale by Dr. Edwin Ross.

for Infants and Children.

THIRTY years' observation of Castoria with the patronage of millions of persons, permit us to speak of it without glossing. It is unquestionably the best remedy for Infants and Children the world has ever known. It is harmless. Children like it. It gives them health. It will save their lives. In it Mothers have something which is absolutely safe and practically perfect as a child's medicine.

Castoria neutralizes the effects of carbonic acid gas or poisonous air. Castoria does not contain morphine, opium, or other narcotic property. Castoria assimilates the food, regulates the stomach and bowels, giving healthy and natural sleep. Castoria is put up in one-dose bottles only. It is not sold in bulk. Don't allow any one to sell you anything else on the plea or promise that it is "just as good" and "will answer every purpose." See that you get C-A-S-T-O-R-I-A.

The fac-simile signature of Chas. H. Pitcher is on every wrapper.
