

WATER VERY LOW.—The water in the Columbia is getting very low and in consequence the sand bars which have formed this year at the entrance to the small streams emptying into the Columbia make trouble for the steamers plying thereon. Last Friday the steamer Masoot lay in the mouth of Lewis river all day after making an unsuccessful attempt to cross the bar. The same difficulty is encountered on every trip, and the boat is obliged to wait for high tide each time before crossing in or out. This will probably be the case until a freshet is caused in the stream sufficient to cut out a channel through the bar.

TERRIFIC FOREST FIRES.—For the past ten days a terrific forest fire has been raging in the vicinity of Oak Point and Stella on the Washington side of the river. The logging camps of Benson Bros. and J. Orday have been entirely destroyed, including the railroads and equipment. It is also reported that a number of horses and cattle perished in the woods as well as at the camps. Some of the men at Benson's camp lost all their clothing except such as they daily wore. It is estimated that ten miles square have been burned over, entailing a loss of many millions of feet of saw timber.

SENATOR MITCHELL TO SPEAK.—Senator John H. Mitchell will address the citizens of Columbia county at Vernonia on next Wednesday evening, September 9th. The Clatskanie band will be on hand to furnish music for the occasion. It is expected that there will be a large number of people come out to hear one of their distinguished representatives who has served them faithfully for years in the upper branch of congress. Senator Mitchell will make at least one speech in each county of the state during the campaign. He is an entertaining speaker and thoroughly familiar with the leading questions of the day. This will probably be the only speech the senator will make in this county during the campaign.

MUST PROGRESS.—The state superintendent of public instruction has ruled that any person having received a first, second or third grade county certificate in one county shall not be granted a second paper of the same grade in any county in the state, and said certificates are good only in the county where issued. A person having received a third grade county certificate and going into another county to teach must pass the examination for the next higher grade, namely, a second grade certificate. This ruling is very important to teachers. It means that they must progress. It means more to be a teacher than it did ten years ago, and ten years hence it will still be higher. The world is progressing and the teacher must progress with it or fall out of the ranks.

OREGON PRODUCES POLITICIANS.—The ticket put out by the Washington republicans commends itself by reason of the large proportion of Oregon timber of which it is composed, says the Oregonian. Mr. Sullivan, the head of the ticket, is a Yamhill man; Arrasmith, running for lieutenant-governor, came from Linn county; White, candidate for state printer, lived in Oregon from 1850 to 1876; Price, for secretary of state, was born in Oregon City. What are all these good Oregonians doing over in Washington, anyhow, passing gold-standard platforms, building cities, working up Alaska trade and capturing steamer lines to the Orient? This is the first indication of an overproduction of that sort of men in this state. However, the republicans of Washington are to be credited with knowing a good thing when they see it, and Oregon hopes its contribution to the ticket will help it along to victory.

RICE IN JAIL.—W. J. Rice, a lawyer, formerly of St. Helens, who was held to answer by Justice Geisler several months ago, on a charge of larceny by bailie, was surrendered to Constable Conner yesterday by Mrs. G. A. Keep, one of the sureties on his bond. As Rice could not give a new bond to insure his appearance in case he was indicted by the grand jury, he was locked up in the county jail. Rice and J. P. Looney were arrested last spring on a charge of having converted to their own use, $1200 given them in trust, for the education of the Van Carnap children. After a preliminary examination of the case, Justice Geisler expressed himself to the effect that Rice & Looney had been guilty only of a breach of trust, but it was so flagrant a case that he would not assume the responsibility of discharging them. Mrs. Keep, in her petition to the court, was released from Rice's bond, which she signed in the sum of $1000, stated that she feared the intention of Rice was to leave the state.—Friday's Oregonian.

MCKINLEY CLUB MEETING.—Pursuant to call of president and secretary of the McKinley republican club, of this city, for a meeting on Monday evening, there was a fair sized crowd assembled at the courthouse and proceeded to reorganize the club after the fall since the June election. It was decided to hold a meeting of the club during the month of September on every other Wednesday evening, and during the month of October on each Wednesday evening. It was further decided, that if the other clubs in the county would co-operate, to organize a county league of McKinley clubs, to be known as the Columbia County McKinley League, perhaps, or some other appropriate name, for the purpose of more thorough and effective work. Should this effort meet with general favor, it certainly would be the means of doing much good work for the cause of protection and sound money. It is the desire of the county central committee that presidents and secretaries of clubs throughout the county see that their clubs are organized, and that when a call is made for a county league meeting every club in the county may be represented. Before the meeting adjourned it was decided to open the campaign in this precinct on Wednesday evening, September 16th, with a club meeting, on which occasion there will be speakers of reawakened present. A general good time is expected, and the public, regardless of political belief, is invited to be present.

THE CRAWFISH INDUSTRY.—There are some half-dozen persons living along the Willamette slough and in that vicinity who make a living by catching crawfish, says the Oregonian. One of these, an old man, no longer fitted for hard labor, was the first yesterday with several boxes of the strong-jawed crustaceans. He says he fishes with livebaits and traps of the same nature as a lobster trap. He has caught 50,000 crawfish within a radius of a mile, but says they are getting scarce, and he intends moving up Vancouver way. He has an idea that the crawfish live on mud. They will eat fish, salmon offal or meat when fresh, but will not touch it after it has been too long in the water. He says medium-sized crawfish are the best, as the large ones are too old. The crawfish will soon be filled with spawn, and then they are much sought after by epicures. A few years ago a crawfish had never been seen in the market here. Now they are sold in several places in large quantities, and are served in all the principal restaurants and oyster houses, and many places make a specialty of them. Cooked in water and salt they are good, but when cooked in wine, with liberal allowance of mixed spices they are much better.

ENJOYABLE EVENT.—Last Wednesday evening a party numbering nineteen, went over on the east side of Sauvie's island, where camp was made a short distance below Warrior Rock light house, and adjacent to the beautiful sand beach on that side of the island. The party consisted of Mr. and Mrs. James Muckle, Mr. and Mrs. D. Davis, Captain and Mrs. Hooghkirk, Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Beagle, Mrs. T. C. Waite, of Goble, the Misses Tillie and Agnes Muckle, Amy Geve, and Miss May Willis, of Hillsboro, and Messrs. Fred Caples, Thomas Muckle, L. F. Clark, of Portland, Professor Hall, Dr. E. Ross and Masters Wilbur Muckle and Dolph Hooghkirk. Lunch for perhaps twice as many people was taken along, and about six o'clock a fire was made and coffee cooked, after which the crowd gathered about the spread, where the contest of the evening took place. Luncheon being over the evening was spent in promading the beach or story-telling and singing by a large bonfire until 9:30, when sail was set for the return trip. Two sail boats and a row boat were necessary to carry the crowd, and by 10:30 all were safely landed at home. The evening was indeed, pleasantly spent.

BIG WOOD DRIVE.—The Oregon Wood Company made a big drive of wood down Milton creek on Thursday last week. It may be a matter of news to many of our readers to know that the flume company here drive the wood down Milton creek to their dam at the head of the flume, where it goes into the flume billed for the dock in this city. On the day above mentioned, by the use of Muckle Bros. big sluice dam further up the creek, a drive was made in which 650 cords of wood was landed at the head of the flume. The wood will now be floated to this city as fast as the flume will carry it. Mr. Piggott, the manager for the company here, has contracted to ship a cargo of wood to San Francisco by the steamer Geo. W. Elder. The big steamer will be loaded here in about three weeks. She has a capacity for 800 cords. It is said the price of wood in San Francisco is $8 per cord. About nine years ago several cargoes of wood were shipped from Portland to the bay city, of which the Pioneer Wood Yard, of which Mr. Piggott was at that time manager, supplied the principal part.

Y., says: "It may be a pleasure to you to know the high esteem in which Chamberlain's medicines are held by the people of your own state, where they must be best known. An aunt of mine, who resides at Dexter, Iowa, was about to visit me a few years since, and before leaving home wrote me, asking if they were sold here, stating that if they were not she would bring a quantity with her, as she did not like to be without them." The medicines referred to are Chamberlain's Cough Remedy, famous for its cures of colds and croup; Chamberlain's Pain Balm for rheumatism, lame back, pains in the side and chest, and Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy for bowel complaints. These medicines have been in constant use in Iowa for almost a quarter of a century. The people have learned that they are articles of great worth and merit, and unequalled by any other. They are for sale here by Dr. Edwin Ross.
