COLLECTING TAXES. Sheriff Rice COLLECTING TAXES.— Sheriff Rice filed his tax-collecting bond with the court last Wednesday a week ago, the same being approved and accepted, and Mr. Rice is now receiving taxes. The total tax to be collected is $40,058.69, divided as follows: Special school tax, $2,860.87; road, $1,030.60; Oity of Vernonia, $20.83; general tax, state, county and school, $38,146.39.

Is RESOLD.-Mesers, Hanshaw and Is RESOLD.—Messrs. Hanshaw and Henderson, who some time ago purchased the National hotel in Portland, have sold their interest in the business and retired. Had it not been for the fact that these gentlemen made a profitable sale they would not have disposed of it, and they are probably a good many dollars ahead on the deal. Mr. Henderson is again a resident of Houlton, where he will probably reside in the future.

McKinley's Cabinet consists of the following well-known gentlemen: Sectedary of state. John Sherman, of Ohio; treasury, Lyman J. Gage, of Illinois; navy, John D. Long, of Massachusettes; war, Russell A. Alger, of Michigan; agriculture, James F. Wilson, of Iowa; interior, Cornelius N. Blise, of New York; postmaster general, James A. HIS EYES OPENDD .- "I have almost sworn that I will never cast a vote for worn that I will never cast a vote for another populist as long as I live," said a citizen of Salem yesterday, a man whe has given as much time and labor to the cause of populism the past two years as any man in the state. "I am so disgusted with our populist legislators for allowing themselves to fall into the clutches of the passerupplous los Simon, only to be a climate more agreeable to him. unscrupulous Joe Simon, only to be uncerimoniously dropped into the slough of despond when he had used them to his satisfaction, that I have lost all faith in the wisdom and sagac-ity of our leaders, and I am going to wash n.y hands of the whole pack of d—n fools." The number of promi-nent populists who will scho this sen-timent is legion.—Statesman.

SENATOR DOLPH'S CONDITION.—The life of ex-Senator Dolph has been desprired of for several days. For many years he has been a sufferer from disbetes. By careful dieting his life has probably been prolonged for several years. One day last week Mr. Dolph became a sufferer from a gangrened sore in his left foot from which bloodpoisoning resulted and in order to save his life amputation became necessary, and at once, consequently the limb and at once, consequently the limb was taken off just above the knee. The patient, at last accounts, was improving slightly and some hopes for his recovery were entertained. Mr. Dolph is 60 years of age and this fact makes his condition more critical than it would otherwise have been. Wednesday

LECTURE ON TURKEY.—The women of the Aid Society of this place have invited D. P. Thompson, of Portland, to lecture here for the benefit of the Congregational church fund, and received a reply that he can come in the near future. The subject of his lecture will be "Turkey," and while minister to that country he acquainted himself with the habits and customs of that strange people. Where he has lectured on this subject in different towns of the state, and especially to the schools, the lectures have been considered very interesting and instructive. He will have for exhibition some Turkish costumes and articles of decession, which will add the country superintendent.

The preliminary steps were taken in this city last Tuesday evening to institute a temple of Rathbone Sisters. Officers were elected and the date decided on for institution is Thuraday, Mach 25th.

The dramatic club of Scappoose will play the drama "Handicapped" at Watts & Price's hall tomorrow (Saturday) evening. A large house will undoubtedly greet them and its successful production is assured.

Some time since an article appeared in one of our exchanges in regard to the immense growth of a sprout from a prune tree. This week Mr. Godfrey brought to this office a sprout from a some Turkish costumes and articles of decoration, which will add interest to his "talk," as he modestly terms it. The admission fee to the lecture will be 25 cents; children 15 cents. A rare treat is in store for those who avail themselves of this opportunity.

THE SETTLERS WIN .- The mandate of the United States supreme court in the suit of the United States vs. the Oregon and California Railroad Com-pany was received in the United States circuit court in Portland last Saturday. This is what is known as the overlap land case, and effects the rights of settlers of lands in Washington of settlers of lands in Washington county. The suit was brought by the United States on behalf of the settlers and was decided in their favor by Judge Bellinger. The railroad company appealed to the United States circuit court of appeals, which revered Judge Bellinger's decison. An appeal was then taken by the United States to the supreme court, and the decision to the supreme court, and the decision of Judge Bellinger was affirmed, and the decision of the United States cir the decision of the United States circuit court of appeals was reversed, and the settlers therefore win. Attorney of George H. Williams appeared in behalf of the settlers and argued their case in Washington before the supreme court. The lands were granted to the Oregon Central railroad Company on the proposition that they were to build a railroad to Astoria, which was not done. The Oregon and California Bailroad Company subsequently claimed to hold the lands as the successors of the former.

The number of persons paying taxes in this county has evidently been avoided. Among the tens of thousands who have used this remedy for la grippe we have not yet to learn of a single case baving resulted in pneumonia, which shows conclusively that this remedy is a certain preventive of that dread disease. It will effect a permanent cure in less time than any other treatment. The 25 and 50 cents sizes for eals by Dr. Edwin Rose.

THE NUMBR "9."

From time immemorial the number 7 has been considered by all classes of people as related to the most peculiarities. The nine digits, it is equal to an even number of nines. If we reverse them and subtract one from the other, we will still have the same. From this originated the old puzzle of subtracting the sum of 45 from the sum of 45. Another amathematical pastime, we may call it, no doubt, sprung from the same source; that is finding the lost figure in a reversable number. Take any number you may think of, provided it is reversable, subtract the larger from the smaller, multiply this remainder by any one of the nine digits, then crase one figure in the product. The question is to tell what this figure is by knowing the others. Let us suppose, for example, the number 687 is chosen. This reversed is 786; 788 minus 687 equals 99; 99 times 6 equals 594. Now suppose we erase it the 4, we have left 58. How would you tell from this what the missing figure is T simply by adding the 5 and 9, which equals 14. Now, how many added to 14 will make an even number of nines? Four, of course, which is the answer. This will prove true in every case, with one exception, which is the answer. This will prove true in every case, with one exception, which is the answer. This will prove true in every case, with one exception, which is the answer in the answer will be either 9 or 0. This subject may be made still more interesting by a few remarks in regard to "addition at sight" or "mind ireading in addition." This is done in the following manner, and when learned to perfection, will, we think, afford some subject the number of figures being in a row. We reserve being in a row. We reserve the same number of figures being in a row. We reserve the same number of figures being in a row. We reserve the same number of figures being in a row.
