

IRVING PATIENT COMMITTED.—John Riggs was brought up from Clatskanie last Monday by Constable Halnes and examined before Judge Doan by Drs. Cliff and Ross and committed to the asylum. Riggs, according to his own story, had been in the asylum until a few weeks ago, when he went to Clatskanie and obtained work on the railroad. While at work he fell off a wagon and seriously injured his right leg. He was taken to the asylum Monday evening by Constable Robinson and C. W. Blakesley.

VERY LARGE SALMON.—What is believed to be the largest salmon ever captured in the Columbia river was displayed at Elmore's cannery Saturday. Its actual measurement from tip to tip was four feet five and one-half inches, and its largest circumference three feet, and girth close to the tail being fully one foot. It weighed eighty-one and one-half pounds. The head, when severed from the body, weighed eight and one-half pounds. When packed the fish filled five and one-quarter dozen one pound cans.

RELIEF FOR AMERICANS.—Congress has appropriated $50,000 for the relief of destitute Americans in Cuba. The long drawn-out war of the island has been the means of thousands of people abandoning their plantations and seeking refuge in the larger cities by order of the Spanish governor general. These people have lost all their property and are penniless and homeless, so that relief from the United States government was absolutely necessary to sustain human life. The president signed the relief bill Monday and the appropriation is now available for the purpose for which it was intended.

SCAPOOPS IN EVIDENCE.—Some Portland gentlemen who have been fishing on the Scappoose state that deer are being hunted with bounds down there. This is remarkable, especially at this season when hunting deer is not allowed at all. Perhaps the bounds were out hunting on their own hook, to get something to eat, and the men who were out were only trying to protect the deer from the bounds. There are large deposits of iron ore on the Scappoose, and Mr. Frank Payne has put up a mill there for grinding this ore to make mineral paint. There is ore enough there to make paint enough to paint the whole county red, or almost any other color.—Monday's Oregonian.

A DIRTY OUTFIT.—A gang of about 60 Mexican gypsies arrived here in wagons last evening, and encamped in the grove. Southern Oregon papers state that they were guilty of all manner of petty depredations as they passed through that part of the state. These so-called gypsies are "doing" the town today, the squaws sneaking around everywhere offering to tell fortunes, and picking up all the loose articles possible. A gentleman who has traveled extensively in the southern continent, tells us that this band of wanderers are really Patagonians, and that they speak very little Spanish. The city marshal notified them to move on without delay, and they left this afternoon.—Roseburg Review.

TREE'S LIMBS BLAZED.—Judge Davidson recently employed Willis Tripp to trim the trees around his residence, and among them was the balm in which the two Vinsons were hanged August 15, 1895, says the Ellensburg Capital. It developed the fact that the tree is in a thriving condition with the exception of the two limbs that held the ropes, and they are as dead as Caesar. It will be remembered that father and son were suspended from two of the lower limbs, each about as thick and the first class in diameter, and nearly exactly opposite, one on the east and one on the west side of the tree, so close together that the faces of the dead men almost touched each other after the work was done. Now, the life is out of those two limbs, while the rest of the tree is growing like its companions.

RAVE WAR NOW ON.—The Southern Pacific Company a few days ago reduced the fare from San Francisco to Portland by rail from $21 to $19 first class and from $14 to $13 second class. The O. R. & N. Company immediately met this cut by reducing the fare by steamer to $10 cabin and $5 steerage. Immediately following this announcement the Southern Pacific made a second cut, placing the first class fare at $15 and second class $10. The O. R. & N. met this cut and went them one better by further reducing the fare by steamer first and second class to $8 and $4 respectively. Last year during the rate war the steamers were carrying passengers at $5 and $2.50 and claim they made money owing to the increased amount of travel. The rates will, no doubt, be cut to this figure if the railroad company makes any further reductions. Since the foregoing was put in type the news has gone out that the Southern Pacific has made another reduction. This time the fare by rail has been reduced to $10 and $7.50 first and second class respectively.

THE GRAVE-ROBBERS CAUGHT.—The quartette—Magone, Long, Rector and Montgomery—who stole the body of the late W. S. Ladd from Riverview cemetery at Portland last week, have been captured and are now in the Multnomah county jail awaiting the action of the grand jury with bail fixed at $5000 each, which none of them were able to furnish. Montgomery gave the whole plan away and explained the details of the robbery and what part each one took in it. According to his story the scheme originated with Magone, who formulated the plan and superintended its execution. Long and Rector were hired, so his story goes, for $50 each, to be taken to them that the body to be taken was that of a paper and was for a medical college. Magone and Montgomery expected there would be a big reward offered for the recovery of the remains at once and thereby they would make a stake. It was the intention of the robbers to steal the body of the late O. H. Lewis also, but before this had been accomplished the detectives were so hot on their track for the first offense that Montgomery got scared and "squealed" with the result that they are all now in the Multnomah county jail.

Adam and Outhbert Stump, of Scappoose, were in town last Monday attending to business matters.

The river at this place was very rough last Saturday morning, caused by the strong northerly winds.

District Attorney Cleston went to Astoria Sunday night to be on hand at the opening of court Monday morning.

George Georig, of Woodland, who has a little daughter here under the treatment of Dr. Cliff, was in this city last Monday.

The river at The Dalles stands 40 1/2 feet above low water mark. This is about 20 feet below the mark of 1894 at that place.

Mr. and Mrs. W. F. Timmons have taken apartments in the Taylor building, having engaged a nice suite of rooms there.

The low boats pay no attention to the revetment on the opposite side of the river at this place, and tow logs right over the top of it.

A croquet ground is being cleared off at the back part of town, on the Houlton road. It may be expected to see croquet an up-to-date game in the near future.

A doctor in Berlin has successfully sewed up a man's heart, after he had been stabbed. If these doctors keep on, they will make it impossible for anyone but themselves to kill a man.

Mr. C. O. Moyer, of Carico valley, has been so afflicted with a severe cold for a week or more that it was necessary for him to stop work in the Stanwood camp for several days.

Joe Eversol left last Saturday for Portland and other points in search of employment. Joe has been here for about five years and is a good, faithful worker at whatever he undertakes.

The road to Nehalem, through the Milton creek valley is not yet thoroughly dried out. There needs to be considerable sunshine in that locality yet before the roads can be said to be in prime condition for pleasant and profitable use.

Strawberries and cream were served at Masonic hall on Thursday evening of last week by the Ladies Guild of the Episcopal church. Two dishes for 15 cents apiece was the price, and quite a number availed themselves of the opportunity.

G. D. Gilson, S. A. Miles, Sheriff Rieg, G. A. Sanford, James Muckle, Miss Lottis Hall, Mrs. Hall and several persons from Houlton, whose names could not be learned, were passengers for Portland on the early morning boat last Saturday.

Claud Gatch, mayor of Salem, was, at the session of the grand lodge of Odd Fellows held in Portland last week, elected grand master for the ensuing year. Mr. Gatch is a representative business man of Salem, being cashier of one of the principal banks of the capital city.

Judge McBride, after adjourning court here last Friday, went to Hillsboro to hold an adjourned term there on Saturday. On Sunday night he went to Astoria to hold an adjourned term, beginning Monday morning, which he thought would occupy the court's time for about four days.

Benton Killin, the well known attorney and sound money democrat, of Portland, has been appointed a special commissioner to visit Alaska and report to congress upon the agricultural resources of that territory. Mr. Killin was the choice of the Oregon delegation in congress for this appointment.

The stock of the Musgrove and Guild places on Sauvie's island were moved to the mainland last Saturday and taken to Bunker hill, where they will remain until the water recedes. They were brought over to this city on the Elwood, there being a cargo of 114 head, most of them being dairy cows.

Mr. J. H. Imhoff, of the firm of Imhoff & Minar, the monument dealers, of Portland, was in town Tuesday last. Mr. Imhoff, until recently, was engaged in business in Astoria, but removed to Portland, where he purchased the plant of another firm and will hereafter conduct a business in that city. Mr. Imhoff has done a large amount of business in Columbia county and is considered thoroughly reliable.

Lindley Meeker, the supervisor of this road district, has been doing some splendid work on our thoroughfares of late. Especially can this be said of the road from Houlton towards this city, and along the Scappoose road. Where formerly there were the worst mudholes the places are now filled with gravel taken from the bed of Milton creek. Too much work cannot be done on the roads of Columbia county.

In explanation, we have been requested to state that after the ceremonies in the hall in this city Saturday evening, ice cream will be sold at Masonic hall, the proceeds to be donated to the Methodist church. Those in charge of the work have prepared an excellent and appropriate programme, and the ceremonies will do credit to the occasion. All war veterans in the surrounding country are earnestly requested to be present. The entire public is also invited.

A happier and more encouraging condition of affairs may be expected to maintain now among the lowland farming element inasmuch as the rising waters of the Columbia have quite reached its zenith, so it is hoped. Should this be the case there will yet remain sufficient time for the farmers to put in crops and reap a moderate yield. Not only will this be one feature in their favor, but there will be many other conditions to take into consideration which will encourage and financially strengthen them, insofar as prices for their products will undoubtedly remain firm, and a much better demand prevail throughout the remainder of the summer and fall.

There is yet considerable activity in the logging business on Milton creek. The Stanwood camp is in full operation with a fair sized force of men, and many thousand feet of splendid logs are being launched into the creek daily from that camp. Mr. Stanwood is cutting the timber off the large hill on the north side of Milton creek, near the Muckle camp, and his means of launching the logs is by an immense chute, nearly 2500 feet in length. It is said by parties who have seen the logs on their transit to the water, that they travel the distance in about nine seconds. Oxen are used to haul the logs to the chute.

The expected run of salmon did not occur yesterday, although more than the recent average number of fish was received. The water is still very muddy at the light ship, which indicates that the freshest fish that this what holds back the fish. When the freshest subsides there will be plenty of fish. The only fear is that there will be so many in a bunch the canneries cannot take care of them, although they are in much better condition to do so than they were last year, as there is not so much gear on the river.—Saturday's Astorian.

The Westfield, Ind., News prints the following in regard to an old resident of that place: "Frank McAroy, for many years in the employ of the L. N. & C. Ry., here, says: 'I have used Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy for ten years or longer—am never without it in my family. I consider it the very best remedy of the kind manufactured. I take pleasure in recommending it.' It is a specific for all bowel disorders. For sale by Dr. Edwin Ross.

Over $1000 worth of vegetables arrived from San Francisco on the last steamer. These vegetables could just as well be raised in Clatsop county as not. The money sent out of Astoria for vegetables is never returned, says the Astoria Herald. Why could not Columbia county supply some of the garden and farm produce for Astoria instead of paying freight on it from San Francisco.

A jaunt through the country at this season of the year is certainly a source of great pleasure to those who have been confined to their places of business during the long winter months. Nature has done her part in making meadows, orchards, fields and forest attractive, and at this season every spot in the country is a loved one.

The twenty-fifth annual reunion of the Oregon Pioneer Association will take place in the exposition building in Portland on June 16. The annual address will be delivered by Hon. John R. McBride, who came to Oregon in 1846, and the opening prayer by Rev. J. S. Griffin, who crossed the plains in 1839.

Mr. J. W. Day, an attorney who has been practicing in Albany, will be in St. Helens in a few days and associate himself with Mr. W. D. Dillard in the practice of law. Mr. Day was here some time ago looking over the field, and as a result of his visit has concluded to permanently locate here.

A new sidewalk has been constructed in front of the James Muckle and Schuyler property on Columbia street, a much needed and appreciated improvement. The new walk connects with the one recently laid in front of the Meeker property.

Twenty-two persons left this city on one steamer last Saturday morning for Portland. It is not an uncommon thing for from eight to twelve to leave on the early morning boat, and quite as many more, probably, on the afternoon steamer.

It is said a test will be made of the rural delivery of mail in Marion county. An official from the postoffice department at Washington has been ordered to Salem for the purpose of making the experiment.

It cannot be denied that red cedar shingles are in demand. All the mills are running, with shingles hard to get, so the dealers generally report, says the Puget Sound Lumberman.

The Ladies' Columbia County Veteran Aid Society, of Vernonia, has arranged a programme to take place there next Sunday. Regular memorial exercises will be held.

The little children of M. A. Swager, at Kelso, were poisoned one day last week by eating macaroni and cheese, but all are reported recovering, says the Kelso Journal.

Mr. James Muckle has been in Portland several days this week sealing logs sold to one of the mills there. Logs are now worth from $3 to $3.50 per thousand.

S. A. Miles adorned his property on the south side of St. Helens street with a neat picket fence recently, and the same is neatly painted.

Mrs. E. C. Gray, of Whatcom county, Wash., is the guest of her son, M. C. Gray, of this city. Mrs. Gray will spend several days here.

Attorneys W. F. Timmons and S. D. Dennis have formed a partnership for the practice of law. They are located in the Taylor building.

An adjourned term of circuit court will be held here today, at which time a number of equity cases will be heard by Judge McBride.

The steamboats are having some difficulty in getting work, most of the wharves along the river being under water. Professor Charles Hall, of the Rainier schools, was a passenger up for Portland last Saturday morning.

John Scott is suffering from an attack of lung trouble.

The Mrs and Oregonian one year for $2.00 in advance.

Rev. Philbrook will conduct services in this city next Sunday evening.

Get next job printing done at this office. Prices lower than the lowest.

Work on the Congregational church will probably begin in the very near future.

Remember the memorial exercises to be held in this city tomorrow (Saturday) evening.

Rev. George E. VanWaters, of St. David's church, Portland, preached in this city Wednesday evening.

Rev. M. Burlingame's family arrived here Wednesday night, and will take up their residence at Houlton.

Mr. J. G. Palmer arrived in this city yesterday. Since leaving here he has spent several days in Spokane.

The wood flume has been in operation here for several days. The Wikstrom wharf is convenient for the boats in high water.

Mr. G. A. Hall returned from Rainier yesterday morning, where he had been for a few days in charge of his brother's school at that place.

Captain Thomas Crang of the White Collar Line was married last Wednesday at Forest Grove to Mrs. Jessie M. Allen of Port Townsend, Wash.

Congressman Thomas H. Tongue was seriously injured in a street car accident in Washington one day last week. He was taken to the hospital for treatment.

General Gomez, commander-in-chief of the Cuban insurgents, is arranging to come to this country to personally interview President McKinley in regard to the Cuban question.

It will be necessary to put a few extra braces in the new Episcopal church here to prevent its spreading. It is also the intention to build an addition to the main building to be used as a vestry and for the ladies' guild.

Under an act passed by the last congress, a person who defaces a gold or silver coin is liable to a fine of two thousand dollars and five years imprisonment. This is a law which comparatively few are familiar with which all should fully understand.

The first amendment proposed to the Dingley tariff bill in the senate, offered by Vest, was defeated Wednesday by a decisive vote of 34 to 20. There were two democrats, one silver republican and two populists who voted with the republicans. This makes the outlook for the passage of the bill by the senate more favorable than at any time since the measure was framed.

Tall me, ye winged winds that round my pathway roar, do you not know some spot where wives clean house no more; some lone, sequestered, leafy dale, some island ocean girl, where life is not one ceaseless war with cobwebs and with dirt; where only nature's carpet spreads beneath the tired feet, and whither man is ne'er compelled its tire-some folds to beat? The light breeze fondled my face, and said, "Beat on—there's no such place."

The mining town of Sylvanite, Idaho, is said to produce a gold brick of the value of $3500 each week. News comes from all parts of Oregon, Idaho, Washington and British Columbia of an increased output of rich ore this season. The business depression for the past few years has driven a great number of people into the mining industry and the result has been greater activity in mining than was ever known in the Northwest before.

The general merchandise store of N. A. Perry, at Houlton, has been removed to a position fronting the south, and as soon as the work can be accomplished the large building recently occupied by A. H. Tarbell, as a store, will be removed to where Mr. Perry's store formerly stood, and adjoining the other building. Thus the two buildings will be used for the same purpose, and Mr. Perry will have an increased amount of room for the conduct of his fast growing business.

The weather bureau Wednesday issued the following river bulletin: "The Snake and Columbia, above Pasco, have risen slightly, and the Columbia from Umatilla, westward has fallen. The Willamette has fallen slightly. The slight rise in the upper river is due to the warmth of last Sunday. The current very cool weather over the Columbia river basin will produce a marked fall in the river from Thursday above Pasco and from Saturday below the Cascades. The fall at Portland will be about two feet by Sunday or Monday noon."

A BIG DRIVE.—A Corvallis dispatch says: There is much activity here in gathering cattle for the big drive that will leave Eugene about June 1, for the East. Simms & Co. are buying 2400 head, of which 300 are to be shipped by rail. The rest, all yearlings and 2-year-olds, are to be driven through to Wyoming. It is expected that the drive will reach Wyoming in September. It costs $4 a head to ship, and the drivers figure that the band can be driven for $2 a head.

A DANGEROUS VOYAGE.—The old steamer H. C. Grady has been purchased by San Francisco parties and will be taken to the Sacramento river where she will be used as a fruit boat. No stern-wheel steamer has ever made the voyage from the Columbia river to San Francisco, and it is considered an extra hazardous trip, especially for so frail a boat as the Grady. Many steamers have been taken from the Columbia river to Puget Sound successfully, but the trip to San Francisco is entirely different. The Grady was built 19 years ago and was then called "Traveler." A few years later she was remodeled somewhat and her name changed to "City of Frankfort." Some three years ago a new hull was built for the old craft and her name changed to "H. C. Grady." She has, at different times run on the Astoria route, but was never a financial success since the early days of the old Traveler, and it is ever reaches San Francisco the salt water voyage may have purged her of the hoodoo which has followed the old hulk all these years.

Honor the Brave Dead.

Memorial services will be held at the opera house tomorrow (Saturday) evening, beginning at 8 o'clock, at which time an interesting and entertaining programme, consisting of songs, recitations, addresses, etc., will be rendered. Memorial day coming on Sunday this year makes it necessary to change its observance to Saturday. No small amount of labor has been expended on the following splendid programme which all are invited to witness:

Song—"Battle Cry of Freedom"..... Led by Choir
Prayer..... Rev. W. L. Blackwell

At Dallas last Sunday a number of persons were poisoned by eating ice cream, but no deaths occurred.

Millard Percival, living four miles from Independence, was shot in the arm by a supposed burglar last Monday.

John F. Irish has been invited to deliver an address on "Money" before the Chautauque assembly at Oregon City in July.

The governor has appointed J. B. V. Butler, John J. Daly and E. C. Pentland as regents of the Monmouth Normal school for a term of six years.

The Methodist camp meeting will begin at Canby, Oregon, on June 18th and close on the 28th. Family admission for the season, $1; individual season ticket, 50c; single admission, 10c.

Last Wednesday morning fire broke out in the Odd Fellows building at Grants Pass, totally destroying the building and also the goods belonging to two stores located in the lower story.

Ferdinand Hartramp, a 19-year-old boy living near Forest Grove, carelessly exploded a dynamite cap last Sunday. Both of his hands were injured, the left so badly that it was necessary to amputate the ends of the thumb and forefinger.

Isaac Hale, a fisherman, while sailing near the mouth of the Columbia Monday was struck on the head by the boat's boom and knocked overboard. His body never came to the surface after it struck the water. This makes the fifth casualty of this kind this season.

A writ of injunction has been sued out in Judge Fullerton's court at Eugene to prevent the county treasurer of Lane county from paying over the full amount of the state taxes. The county court first made an order that the treasurer should not pay the state tax and that official refused to obey the court's order, whereupon the injunction proceedings were had, and the circuit court will be asked to decide the matter.

A LONG-FELT WANT SUPPLIED.—A well-known citizen, who is of philanthropic turn of mind and is also possessed of considerable ingenuity and mechanical skill, and who is very fond of shed, is engaged in perfecting a machine for extracting the bones from shad. These fine fish are now plentiful in the Columbia, but on account of the number of bones they contain, are not so extensively used as they deserve to be. His idea is that if the bones could be extracted from the shad or the shad from the bones, the fish could be made up into patties or a new style of fish balls, and, in this way, would rapidly grow in favor, and these valuable fish be more extensively utilized. The machine, it is understood, will be something in the way of a carding machine, or between that and a fax hatbox. The finished product will be in great favor with persons who have poor teeth.
