

OREGON MIST.

FRIDAY, MARCH 18.

FELL FORTY-TWO FEET.—About 3:30 Sunday afternoon, as Arthur H. Moore, son of Chief Justice F. A. Moore, and who is an attendant at the asylum at Salem, while washing the windows of the smoking room in the third story of the north wing of the asylum, a patient named T. A. Chatfield, slipped out behind and threw him out the window, badly dislocating and fracturing the left ankle. It also broke his right wrist and bruised his face quite severely. The patient then threw himself out the window, and attempted to escape, but broke his right ankle and left wrist. Mr. Moore had finished washing the window, but still had the guard open and raised the window to remove some straw from the sill. The man, Chatfield, who had been standing near him, slipped up behind Mr. Moore, who, hearing the noise, divined its cause and slipped to the floor on his knees, but the patient threw him headlong out the window, causing him to turn a couple of somersaults, finally alighting with most of his weight on his left foot, and sustaining the injuries mentioned above. Chatfield has been an inmate of the asylum for several years, and is from Multnomah county. He imagines he is God, and created everything, and could jump from the window without hurting himself. He was speedily convinced of his mistake, after trying it. At last advice Mr. Moore was resting as well as could be expected.

SUICIDE IN ST. HELENS.—Our city was thrown into quite a state of excitement Monday afternoon by the discovery of a dead man in one of the water closets at the schoolhouse. Some children were playing near by, and noticed a foot sticking out the closet door. The fact was made known and an investigation revealed the fact that an unknown man was lying dead inside the closet. Dr. McLaren, the coroner, was at once notified, who arrived on the nightboat, and proceeded at once to hold an inquest. Drs. Cliff and Ross performed an autopsy, developing the facts that the man's stomach contained a considerable amount of carbolic acid, and from the circumstances in the case the jury returned a verdict of death by suicide. Nothing was found on the person of the dead man by which a clue to his identity might be had. The remains were buried in Odd Fellows' cemetery Tuesday.

ANOTHER MYSTERY.—Last Tuesday Coroner McLaren, of Rainier, received a letter from Mr. C. W. Avery, of Portland, informing him that parties at work on the Abraham & Knox farm on Sauvie island had found the body of a human, that is part of the body. The man was at work slaying brush, and came to a mysterious looking box, which they at once opened, and were horrified to find its contents to be the remains of a human. The matter was at once reported to the officials in Multnomah county, and Mr. Avery took it upon himself to notify the coroner here. Whether the box with its contents were deposited there by the perpetrators of some awful crime, or whether it drifted there during a high water, is not known. An investigation may develop the facts.

TO HAVE OPPOSITION.—It is reported in steamboat circles that the Iralda will soon have opposition on her route between Portland and Rainier. It seems that Mr. Newsome will not go into the combats, and in order to bring him to time, the O. R. & N. Co., the White Collar Line, and Jacob Kamm will place a steamer on the route in opposition. The steamer to be put in service is said to be the Canby, which was built for the Astoria-Ilwaco route. It was formerly propelled with a gasoline engine, but this will be replaced with a steam engine. The boat is a beauty in model, and has a speed of twenty miles an hour.

LIGHT-DRAUGHT BOAT.—The Lewis River Transportation Company have the plans and specifications for a light-draught steamer for the Lewis river. It will be 125 feet in length, and will draw from eight to ten inches of water. This is what the company has needed for years, and with such a steamer they will be able to run to Woodland and La Center at any season of the year. It will also enable the settlers on the upper river to get their produce to market any time they may desire to do so, which means that the amount of produce raised in that locality will be greatly increased.

POSITIVE IT IS FARR.—Our readers will remember the sudden disappearance of young Farr, of Goble. The man found floating in the river at the foot of Everett street, Portland, has been identified by Mr. G. H. Farr as being his son. Wednesday, accompanied by the young man's partner and other friends, Mr. G. H. Farr went to the poor farm in Multnomah county and exhumed the body, and it was proven beyond doubt that the remains were those of J. C. Farr. An effort will now be made to uncover the mystery of his death.

GONE TO ALASKA.—Brother Beagle, of the Oregon City Enterprise, formerly of the St. Helens Mist, has severed his connection with the Enterprise, and is now at St. Helens. John is a first-rate fellow, and it would not be unusual to see him located permanently at St. Helens again.—Cathlamet Gazette.

Mr. Beagle will not be in St. Helens, since last Friday he took leave for Dyea, Alaska, where he goes as an assistant of Revenue Collector Ivey in the customs service.

I desire to attest to the merits of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy as one of the most valuable and efficient preparations on the market. It broke an exceedingly dangerous cough for me in 24 hours, and in gratitude therefor, I desire to inform you that I will never be without it, and you should feel proud of the high esteem in which your Remedies are held by people in general. It is the one remedy among ten thousand. Success to it.—O. B. Downey, Editor Democrat, Albion, Ind. For sale by Dr. Edwin Ross.

Martin White was in Portland Saturday.

Thos. Connell, of Portland, was here over Sunday.

James McKay, of Scappoose, was in town last Friday.

Ed Joseph is now working on the Young America.

Mr. A. H. Powell, of Pittsburg, was in town yesterday.

Judge Doan was in town Wednesday on his way to Portland.

W. H. Dolman was attending to business in Portland Monday.

Mr. C. L. Ayres, of Paris, was in town on business Wednesday.

Marion Slavens visited friends and relatives at Warren this week.

Dr. Chalmers, of Ridgefield, was in town the forepart of the week.

Miss Amy George visited relatives here last Saturday and Sunday.

Attorney G. W. Cole was attending to business in Portland Tuesday.

Bert Mason, well known here, is now in business at Butteville, this state.

Dr. and Mrs. Cliff entertained a few friends at whist last Friday evening.

Ed Gore, of Clifton, is visiting friends and relatives in this vicinity this week.

The city council has a force of men at work improving the streets of our city this week.

Thos. Cloninger, one of Columbia county's prosperous farmers, was down from Scappoose Monday.

Mrs. J. W. Day and Messrs. G. D. Young and C. H. Johns were passengers to Portland Thursday.

Dr. Reid, the dentist, will be in this city on Monday, Tuesday, Wednesday, and Thursday of each week.

Detectives Snow and Kerrigan, of Portland, were here Wednesday as witnesses in the Simmons trial.

Revival services continued all week at Scappoose, and will conclude Sunday with a baptismal service.

Wanted, immediately.—A girl for general housework. Call on or address Mrs. J. G. Muckle, St. Helens, Oregon.

Rev. C. E. Philbrook will preach at Deer Island next Sunday at 11 a. m., Columbia City at 3 p. m., and St. Helens at 7:30 p. m.

Mrs. Jensen, of the Sound, who has been visiting her sister, Mrs. G. G. Mayer, in this city for some time, returned home last Monday.

The many friends of Ed. Watts will be pleased to learn that he is getting along splendidly with his injured limb. His recovery is now an assured fact.

Messrs. Dillard & Day returned the forepart of the week from the Sound, where they were employed in a big damage case against a railroad company.

Dr. McLaren, S. H. Kistner, and Miss Wagner, of Rainier, spent Tuesday afternoon and evening in this city, the doctor and Mr. Kistner attending lodge.

Mrs. Betsy Forbes, who was examined here some time ago as to her sanity, was committed to the asylum from Multnomah county on the 3rd of this month.

This week's weather has been anything but spring-like. Although vegetation is somewhat advanced, it is thought no serious damage has resulted from the recent frosts.

In the justice court here Wednesday was tried a case of the state of Oregon vs. one Simmons for obtaining goods under false pretenses. Defendant was held to the grand jury in the sum of $200.

Mr. G. A. Hall and Mrs. S. S. Way have been engaged to teach the fall term of school in this city next fall. There are too many pupils for one teacher, and it was thought best to engage an assistant.

A social affair unintentionally omitted last week was an afternoon tea given by Mrs. Jas. Muckle, her mother, Mrs. J. H. Groves, of Portland, being the guest of honor. Those present pronounced it a very delightful entertainment.

At the city election held in Rainier on Monday last week, M. Boh, Geo. F. Moeck, C. M. Brooks, Fred Trow, and N. D. Johnson were elected trustees; W. A. Wood, police judge; C. L. Clark, marshal, and Dr. A. P. McLaren, treasurer.

Misses Lizzie Witte and Rebecca Bingham, of West Portland, were visiting with Mr. and Mrs. Geo. A. Hall last week. Miss Witte has been engaged to teach the spring term of school in the Usher schoolhouse back of Deer Island station.

Last week's Rainier Review said: "J. B. Roemaker, of Goble, was in the city yesterday. Mr. Roemaker is a candidate for county school superintendent." It will be remembered that Mr. Roemaker was a "candidate" for that same office two years ago.

Taxes are being collected by the sheriff at a very satisfactory rate. By the end of the present week, perhaps nearly $3000 will have been received. The roll was not received by the sheriff until the 19th of February, and by the time taxpayers were notified of their indebtedness it was quite near the first of March.

On her trip down Wednesday afternoon the steamer Young America, while landing at Lake Farm, met with an accident to her engine, causing her to arrive here several hours late. One of the crank bolts parted, and as a result the cylinder-head was knocked off, breaking it in seven pieces. The part was temporarily supplied with a wooden head, and the steamer left on Thursday two or three hours behind time.

On the morning of Feb. 20, 1895, I was sick with rheumatism, and lay in bed until May 21st, when I got a bottle of Chamberlain's Pain Balm. The first application of it relieved me almost entirely from the pain, and the second afforded complete relief. In a short time I was able to be up and about again.—A. T. Moreaux, Luverne, Minn. Sold by Dr. Edwin Ross.

Wanted.—A middle-aged lady for light housework in a small family. Call on or address, John W. Boales, Mayor, Oregon.

Commercial job printing in all its branches done at this office in the most absolutely latest styles and at the most reasonable prices.

One republican party—the national St. Louis platform, and the McKinley administration of prosperity. All republicans can work here.—Dallas Observer.

Jack Fisher, employed in Peterson's logging camp, back of Rainier, was severely injured Wednesday afternoon. One arm was broken, besides serious bruises sustained to the body. Details are meager.

The postmaster-general has made a decision in regard to postmasters who fail to notify the publishers of subscribers who move or fail to take their papers from the office, to the effect that such postmasters shall be held responsible for the amount due on subscription. The new postal law says that anyone subscribing for a paper and refusing to pay for it shall be liable to criminal prosecution.

An Indiana exchange makes mention of a silver medal contest in which the second prize was awarded to Miss Catt. Catts are all right in contests, and generally win. There's a whole band of them that nightly congregate under our bedroom window to engage in various contests, and should be awarded medals of some sort—probably lead ones would be suitable. Their name is spelled with one t, however.

At the populist primary held at Rainier last Saturday the following persons were elected delegates to the county convention: W. A. Wood, R. P. Burns, Walter Furrow, T. J. Everman. For justice of the peace for Rainier precinct, W. A. Wood; constable, W. M. Riggs. B. N. Lovelace was elected chairman and T. J. Everman secretary of precinct committee. Thirteen were present, and everything was harmonious and quiet.

It is, or should be, the highest aim of every merchant to please his customers; and that the wide-awake drug firm of Meyers & Ehlleman, Sterling, Ill., is doing so, is proven by the following from Mr. Ehlleman: "In my sixteen years' experience in the drug business I have never seen or sold or tried a medicine that gave as good satisfaction as Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy. Sold by Dr. Edwin Ross.

An Ohio editor says that hay fever is caused by kissing grasswidows. A Missouri editor says it is caused by a grasswidow kissing a cow by moonlight. An Iowa editor says it is caused by a fellow kissing the hired girl while she is feeding hay to a cow, and a Kansas exchange is of the opinion that it is caused by missing the girl and kissing the cow. The Walla Walla Statesman thinks it is caused by the hired man kissing the farmer's wife in the barn. The East Oregonian says it comes from too close a study of the Scripture: "All flesh is grass."

Oregon dried prunes are now selling in the East at ten cents per pound. The Webfoot grower gets three and four cents per pound for them. It costs a cent a pound to ship them, and the Eastern price less the freight and Oregon price leaves a margin of six cents. Who gets this profit of six cents on every pound of Oregon dried prunes? Mr. Desch says the middleman does, and it shows the crying need there is for Eastern consumer and the Oregon producer to cultivate a closer acquaintance.—Reporter.

There are eight classes of people who do a town harm. First, those who go out of town to do their trading; second those who oppose improvements; third, those who prefer a quiet town to one of push and business; fourth, those who think business can be done slyly and without advertising; fifth, those who deride public spirited men; sixth, those who oppose any public enterprise that does appear to benefit them; seventh, those who oppose everything that does not originate with themselves, and those who seek to injure the credit of an individual.

Some one has remarked that we live in a grand country. We do, we live in a land of high mountains and big lakes; big crooked rivers and big crooked steamships; big lakes, big pumpkins, big men with pumpkins' heads; all sorts of gambols in the mountains and pious politicians that gamble in the night; roaring cataraacts and roaring orators; fast trains, fast horses, fast young men, and girls fast, faster, fastest; sharpers, sharp lawyers, sharp financiers, sharp-toothed shoos; noisy children, fertile plains that lie like a sheet of water, and thousands of newspapers that lie like thunder.

Silver Soliciting Mr. Towne comes to Oregon at an inopportune time to accomplish much for his waning "cause." Silver has gone down, wheat up, contrary to all the silverites' theories and predictions; our farmers are reasonably prosperous and contented; business is brisk, and in some lines booming; the earth is yielding more gold than it has for nearly half a century; and more than all, the country is preparing for a possible if not a probable war, and doesn't care to hear much about free silver at 16 to 1. Mr. Towne would succeed better if he would turn himself into a rip-snorting evangelist; then he would be more sure of crowds and contributions.—Welcome.

To run a newspaper without occasionally publishing an article that is inexact or giving offense is like running a railroad without having accidents or smashups. It can't be done. No man on earth is so much imposed upon as the editor of a country newspaper. Pushed with work continually he must rely upon second and third parties for information as to the events that transpire. Frequently statements are received from reliable persons, but which are subsequently discovered to be without foundation. If therefore you find yourself aggrieved by some statement in your home paper, keep the fact in your mind. Do not try to get the handle, but go to the editor and ask for a correction, and take our word for it, nine cases out of ten, if your case carries merit with it, you will be received politely, and the correction made with pleasure.

COUNTY COURT.

The following proceedings, with the exception of what was published in The Mist last week, were had in the recent term of the county court:

The state vs. by the court for viewing and surveying the Coulter road in March 21st, 1894.

The petition of C. A. Girt and others for a county road was granted, and J. K. Stewart, Jared Wilson and James Gallen appointed viewers and W. N. Maserve, surveyor, to meet at the Stehman schoolhouse on March 17, 1895.

Petition of M. F. Hazen and others for a county road granted, and Joseph Copeland, Irwin Hall and S. Balser appointed viewers and W. N. Maserve, surveyor, to meet at M. F. Hazen's house on March 19, 1895.

The resignation of W. K. Traylor, as justice of the peace for Oak Point precinct, accepted.

The resignation of R. B. McNealey, as superior road district 13, accepted and Frank Malmborg appointed.

The report of the viewers on the Schmitz road was in open court on two separate days, and road ordered opened.

It was proven to the court that W. D. Case was charged tax on land in 1893 not at that time patented, it was ordered that $2 be remitted.

It was ordered that further support be withheld from the Bromstick estate, and the treasurer was examined, found correct and approved.

FISHING SITUATION.

The fishing situation for the coming season is gradually developing, so that some idea of what will happen can be prophesied. As a rule everyone connected with the fishing business is tongue-tied, and when one of them begins to talk, all want to get into the band wagon. The authorized interview of Mr. Elmore in this paper that he would pay 4 cents for raw fish, and in doing so he was acting independent of other canners, is a starter. Mr. George states that their canneries will pay as much or more than any other cannery. Sofus Jensen, of the Fishermen's Co-operative cannery, states he will do the same, but does not expect to get fish under five cents. Mr. Chatter, of Booth's, said that while he had not yet decided what he would do, and that four cents was too much, he would be compelled to pay the current price. Several fishermen state that Cook and Warren have men out trying to find fishermen, and promising to pay a little more than anyone else. The fishermen will hold no meeting this year to decide upon the price of fish, as they believe they can do better without setting any price, as fishermen and fish will be in demand this year.—Astoria Budget.

Brooks His Leg.—John L. Brown, working in a brickyard at Clatskanie, met with a severe and painful accident Wednesday. He was driving a pair of young horses hitched to a sled, when they became frightened and started to run away. One of the horses jumped against Brown, knocking him down and stepping on his leg, breaking it below the knee.
