YOU ARE TO DECIDE IT.

Before another issue of our paper a great and important battle of ballots will have been fought, and the result of the contest lies entirely with the voters of the state of Oregon. This is one of the most important campaigns ever fought in our state, and we believe our voters are so well and reliably informed upon all questions at issue that it is unnecessary at this time to go into detail. The most important thing, though, and one which must be borne in mind, is the fact that our nation is now in the throes of war, and when you cast your ballot remember there is more at stake at present than the mere settling of state and county affairs. We need men elected to high places of trust who can be depended up to act in perfect accord with those who are now prosecuting that war, and to that end you must choose between two sets of candidates for state and national offices. We honestly believe the safety and integrity of our state and nation can better be entrusted in the hands of such men as Geer rather than in those of W. R. King for governor; better in the hands of such men as M. A. Moody and Thomas Tongue in congress rather than in the hands of Donaldson and Vestch.

As to our county, we believe the voters have already decided in their own minds, too, this important question of who can best serve us in those responsible capacities, and we feel assured that from the most honorable and trustworthy manner in which our county affairs have been looked after in the past by republicans, that every man on the county ticket will be elected by a handsome majority.

We have pleaded our case honestly, earnestly and fairly, and we are now satisfied to submit the matter to you for your decision, and we know it will be in favor of the republican ticket.

If the News had only opened its batteries of misrepresentation and mudslinging a month earlier the recoil from its guns would have had its own party totally destroyed by election day. As it is, its lying, disreputable attacks upon the republican candidacy has made their election a certainty, for there are many voters whose fealty to free silver and free trade caused them to affiliate with the populist party who do not sanction such contemptible political methods, and they will express their condemnation of those populist-Spanish tactics at the polls in a way that will make the populist candidates sick at their stomachs. This mudslinging on the part of the populists will insure a majority of 200 to the entire republican ticket in Columbia county.

In this issue of The Mist will be found the official ballot as it was printed, correctly marked. Voters should study this ticket thoroughly between now and election day, and be sure you mark your ticket in the booth exactly as we have the ticket marked in the paper. You will observe that an "X" appears between the number and name of each and every republican, and that is the way your ticket should be marked before you deposit it. Study the manner of marking carefully so there will be no mistake on your part. It is no easy matter to correctly vote the Australian ballot, and it behooves each voter to know exactly what he is doing at that time. Vote it as we have it marked.

MALCOLM A. MOODY.

This gentleman is a resident of The Dalles and was nominated for congress by the republican convention at Astoria. Malcolm Moody is the son of ex-Governor Moody, and inherits the highest type of moral and mental attainments from that honored and honorable pioneer of this state and Eastern Oregon. There is congressional material in Malcolm A. Moody. He is educated, honest, courteous, and consistent in his private and public relations with other men, thus commanding the respect of all who know him.

But there is an additional feature in this contest which every voter should consider. The organs of Fusionist Donaldson are pronounced in their claim that their candidate will be against the administration of President McKinley. Mr. Donaldson himself has so announced his position. This does not take in one part of what is being carried on by this patriot soldier, but it includes all. Mr. Donaldson is pledged to defeat the war measures of this administration now being carried on by this government against Spain for the freedom of Cuba, and to redress the wrongs for blowing up the Maine and killing our soldiers and sailors. If Mr. Donaldson is honest in his claims and the claims of his fusion organs, this position he would be compelled to take if elected. If he does not propose to follow out the plans laid down by himself and his friends, then he is trying to get into office upon mere pretenses.

But the voters of this district do not have to guess at the position Malcolm A. Moody will take. He is one of the young patriotic sons of Oregon and his country. He stands firmly upon the solid platform of American rights and American honor in the question being fought out with Spain, and all questions of like tenor.

Mr. Moody will do all within his power to preserve this nation! He stands among the highest type of our younger men for the preservation of this Union and its flag, and he proposes to be found in line with all other patriots of his country, both with vote and gun, if it takes the last dollar and the last drop of blood to maintain the land of his birth. That is the kind of stuff Mr. Moody is made of.

Which will you vote for! A patriot or a man who boasts that he will down the administration and with it must fall our war with Spain and the freedom of Cuba.

There undoubtedly will be an effort made by the populists this week to mislead the public by publishing all kinds of base and malicious accusations against the republican candidates for county officers. Such tactics they have repeatedly employed during the last days of a campaign, and is done at that late time because they know the statements could be and would be refuted. Populists are always too cowardly to make their statements before hand, and the public expects the employment of just such dishonorable and disreputable means in an attempt to belittle their opponents. There is nothing too low or dastardly mean for such creatures to resort to, an exposition of which we cite in the attacks of one S. Sonneland, against William Meserve, in last week's News. In this issue we have letters from a great number of people in Beaver valley, where Mr. Meserve is best known, refuting the statemens of that unprincipled cur. From such a source nothing more honorable could have been expected. We refer you to the statemens in this issue of our paper made over the signatures of numerous reputable persons, refuting the statemens, thus branding S. Sonneland as the most notorious liar in the county. It shows only too plain on how small a pretext such puppies will attempt to belittle a man, and to what extreme measures of falsehood they will resort. We warn our readers before hand, that you may be prepared for the malicious lies that will be told.

ISLAND OF UTOPIA.

PART II.

Punctual to promise, I will here give an account of the proceedings had at the regular meeting of the Reform Club. All members in good standing being present, our worthy president in the chair, and in his usual vigorous way he called the house to order. A brief but eloquent address was then given by his honor, the president. Among other things he said:

"It becomes my painful duty to review some of the shortcomings of our members. They are guilty of insubordination, inasmuch as to even go and hear the arguments of the opposing party. It is and has been the object of our organization to afford all the information needful to qualify the average voter; I would, therefore, warn all of our followers against the beguiling influence of Mark Hanna's fictitious prosperity. In the first place that wicked old goldbug bought up all the wheat in the country, and forced the price up so that now a poor man has to pay $5 per barrel for the flour that supplies his table with bread, and within the last six months he (Hanna) has been buying all the surplus beef, hence the price at the present time is out of the reach of those who live by their political talent solely. Even the impudent shylock has been monkeying with the sawmill men and has induced them to offer $6 per thousand for logs that cost the loggers but $5 to put them into the water, and, the devil of it is, I am afraid that in order to supply the demand for men to do the work for all this fictitious booming it will defeat our main and only purpose —that is to elect our FREE SILVER TICKET.

"Now, it behooves each and every one of us to do our level best to suppress the prevailing opinion that the gold standard can or will ever afford the relief for which we will ever pray.

"Friends and brethren, recognizing the fact that the most of our members have grown gray in the service of both the old parties, and have spent our fragrance on desert air, and as yet have not had a chance to indulge our propensities at the public crib, I earnestly beseech thee to look to your financial interest in the coming great struggle."

At this our worthy president took his seat and wiped the perspiration from his brow, while the dumbfounded hearers gave a sigh of relief. It was then announced that the floor was clear for the use of any member who wished to make any suggestions for the benefit of the order. I arose to my feet with a heavy heart, and offered the following resolution:

"Inasmuch as it is a gospel precept that 'In the sweat of thy face thou shalt eat bread all the days of thy life;' therefore be it

"Resolved; That the foregoing has no reference to the initiative of our club, and that it applies only to the referendum; meaning of course the working class."

The resolution met with the unanimous support of the members present.

There being no candidates to initiate, a motion was made to offer prayer by our late unfortunate chaplain. He not having entirely recovered from the contusion of the brain received at the hands of our president at the previous meeting, Brother Advent was then called on to offer supplication. With a meek and lowly heart he proceeded as follows:

"Almighty Dollar! Our preserver and benefactor, we desire to approach thee on this especial occasion with that reverence which is due superior excellence, and with that regard which should ever be cherished for exalted greatness.

"Almighty Dollar! Without thee in our midst we can do nothing, but with thee we can work miracles. While here in the midst of our misfortunes and temptations of life we are sometimes accused of crimes and brought before magistrates, but thou, Mighty Dollar, canst secure to us a fee'd lawyer, a bribed judged, a packed jury, and we go scott free. Be with us, therefore, even in thy decimal parts.

"In thy absence how gloomy the household and desolate the hearthstone; but when thou, O, Mighty Dollar! sit upon the gridiron, what an exuberance of joy swells every bosom, and how replete the inner man. Thou art the joy of our youth and the solace of old age; and when an election is to be carried thou art the most potent argument of politicians and the umpire that decides the contest.

"Mighty Dollar! thou art worshiped the world over; thou has no hypocrits in thy temples and no false hearts at thy shrine; thou art loved by civilized and savage alike, with unfeigned and unfaltering affection. We knowest thou must feel lonely in the depths of our capacious pockets, therefore wouldst thou not allow us, through our most prolific imaginations, to inflate thy numbers by our fiat theories, to the inexpressible figures of our ideal monetary system, even that it should be in greenbacks, free silver, and in tokens of other kinds.

"Mighty Dollar! thou art the guide of our footsteps and the goal of our being; thou hast proven beyond a doubt that thou are amply able to do all that thou humble servants hath asked of thee, for we know that thou, in thy infinite wisdom, hath held up a legislature, defeated the purpose of the goldbug, and sent the counterpart of the ex-champion to the halls of congress!

"Now, Almighty Dollar, go with us down though the walks of life, be with us in the times of adversity, and when we have lived out our days of usefulness and shall have wound up our political career, and it shall come to pass that we must be tried on the scale of humanity, let it not be said of us that we were found wanting on account of race, color, or previous conditions of servitude, and if fate should be in store against us and that the great political battle on the 6th of June shall be decided in favor of the golden standard, may we, and all our numerous hosts, be gathered safely on board the Union ship, without the loss of one, and may we have a safe voyage up the tranquil waters of the great Salt river, from which no fusion candidate shall ever return.

"Now, peradventure, if any of our number should falter and fall by the wayside, let it be as it is with the festive dogsalmon, whose putrid carcass is a stench to the nostril of all decency and a warning to all wayfaring canine politicians. AMEN! AMEN!!"

At the close of this famous prayer we were all struck dumbfounded, for we thought Brother Advent had actually gone crazy, so we took him before the circuit judge and had him tried for insanity, but the jude assured us that it was only an epidemic that was pervading the country, and that several of the political parties were similarly afflicted, and that, in his judgment, if all such maniacs were sent to the asylum the state of Oregon would not hold them, and that the best place for them would be up about the headwaters of Salt river. We then adjourned until after the June election.

WHERE MESERVE IS KNOWN

Letters From Responsible Parties Refuting the Statements Contained in the News.

WHO IS A LIAR?

To S. Sonnsland and whom it may concern:

We, the undersigned men working in Peterson's camp at Rainier, Oregon, wish to say that Mr. Wm. Meserve never told any of us that we must vote for him, nor did he tell us that he would play succor to Peterson and have us discharged if we did not vote for him, or anything of that kind. Work is plentiful enough under a republican administration that we are not afraid of being out of a job.

When cabbage heads are in season we will call at the News office and get 10 cents worth.

MR. BOALS REPLIES.

At the May term of county court of Columbia county, Oregon, for the year 1897, myself, together with J. H. Cramer and A. K. Morgan, was appointed viewer to meet with County Surveyor Meserve, at the residence of G. W. Kyser, and relocate a portion of the Beaver Valley and Rainier county road.

It had been the custom of the court for the last year or two to require the viewers and other helpers to serve without compensation. I met with the viewers at the appointed hour and place, but had to wait for chain carriers until 1 o'clock. As Mr. Cramer and myself had no personal interest in the road, we thought it proper that those who were directly concerned in it would at least give us our dinner. The noon hour passed, our hunger was increasing, Kyser's hospitality stood zero. At 1 o'clock Meserve returned with chainmen, and, after having been sworn in, (on empty stomachs) proceeded with the survey.

Soon the pangs of hunger made me rebellious, and at this juncture the surveyor suggested that Mrs. Parcher would at least give us a lunch. It was not far to go up and bring a bite for my famishing neighbor.

I went to Parcher's house, stated my case, and was given the much desired lunches; thanked her, and, knowing our county surveyor to be quite a favorite among the ladies, remarked, as I turned to go, "You may charge this to Meserve."

When the day's work was done, Mr. Meserve took me to Mrs. Nelson's house, where he was boarding his railroad men, fed and kept me all night and gave me a good dinner next day, and paid Mrs. Nelson for it.

In conclusion, I want to say Mr. Meserve as citizen, surveyor, and business man, is above reproach, and those lying statements in the News is wholly false.

JOHN W. BOALS.

MAYGER, Oregon, May 30, 1898.

ALICE PARCHER REPLIES.

To the editor of The Oregon Mist:

Dear sir:—In answer to a piece published in the Columbia County News of May 27, 1898, which stated that Mr. W. N. Meserve promised to pay for dinner of two men while surveying a road here, and then refused to pay the same, I will say that Mr. Meserve never agreed or promised to pay for anybody's dinner at our house.

ALICE PARCHER.

DELENA, Oregon, May 30, 1898.

MR. GIRT'S REPLY.

Having noticed an article in the Rice-Sanford-Lying-Machine of last issue, over the signature of S. Sonneland, the catspaw of Rice's machine, as to the character and official acts of County Surveyor Meserve, I desire, through the columns of The Mist, to refute these lying statements. I have known Mr. Meserve for the past 10 years, and can say that no man in this part of the county has a higher standing for honesty and integrity than he has, and that his neighbors repose the utmost confidence in him as a conscientious and efficient public officer.

I was a chainman on the Girt road survey, and am thoroughly aquainted with the facts.

I hardly know what he is driving at when he says "Again Bill Lyar Meserve you lied and stole five ($5) dollars for locating a corner post on March 18, 1898, when surveying the Girt road."

Now, under the state law, county surveyors are entitled to $4 per day for each day employed by the county and 10 cents per mile for each mile traveled to and from the county seat; also they are compelled to re-establish all government corners that have been obliterated, or that the bearing trees are defective. The statute provides that the surveyor shall have $1.00 for the field work in restoring the corners and 50 cents for recording the notes. Now the most he could have made out of the corner in question would be $1.50. But we did not set a government corner while on the Girt road survey at all, neither at one end, nor the other, nor in the middle. The road was surveyed from start to finish, according to the petition of U. A. Girt and others. Instead of running a number of rods more than was required in an easterly course to reach a corner for which the surveyor would receive $5, we, according to the order of the court, ran south to the line between John Girt and N. S. Stewart; thence east about 20 rods to and terminating at a stake marked "C" and end of road. Stake "C" was driven at a point on the ¼ section line, about 80 rods south of the ¼ corner between sections 5 and 32, and was driven by the petitioner near an iron stake set by Surveyor Meserve about 5 years ago, as a corner to the lands of Stewart and Girt, and was witnessed by two large fir trees, according to law.

How a sane man could go wild and lash himself into such a pitiable fury over the ending of a county road survey is hard to explain, especially when the author was not within 3 miles of the tragic ending of the Girt road.

C. A. GIRT.

RAINIER, Oregon, May 30, 1898.

ANOTHER CHARGE REFUTED.

In justice to the voters of Columbia county, and in the interest of honesty, that fair-minded, intelligent and patriotic citizens of this county may not be mislead and deceived by the lying, pernicious, and libelous statements emanating from the office of the Columbia County News, I beg to call attention to an article appearing in that sheet under date of May 25th, and under headlines as follows:

"Will Mr Meserve Answer?"

Among other "Did you or did you nots" it says:

"Did you, or did you not, at one time hire your brother to whip a man, who you were not able to whip, and then, when your brother had done his work, refused to pay him."

Now, had the far-famed editor had a spark of manhood about him, he would have made a fair and open statement, instead of sneaking around the bush trying to hide his responsibility behind interrogations, concocted in his depraved brain, to mislead people to believe those statements. The truth is when one allegation is proven false and malicious, what reliance can you place in others emanating from the same fountain-head?

As the editor appears to have put on his war paint, and by his bull-dozing attitude strives to force innocent people to swallow his ideas—ideas begotten of selfishness and born of dishonor and ruin—and in justice to my brother, I say (and am ready to back what I say) that if the editor of the News, or any of his ever-ready sources of information, asserts or in any way intimates that such an understanding existed "at one time," or at any time, or at all, he tells a willful and dirty lie.

Now, Mr. Sanford, if you are not satisfied with this brief statement, just step in, the next time you are out working up a case, and we will settle it in a way more in keeping with your degraded and anarchistic mind, and wont charge you a cent for the job, either.

THOS. MESERVE.

DELENA, May 30, 1898.

AN UNCONTRADICTABLE VINDICATION.

Regarding the accusation that is being made that Wm. N. Meserve, while acting as clerk of district No. 33, of which I am a resident, unlawfully appropriated $5.00 of said district as alledged compensation for his services as clerk, I can say that C. R. S. Washburn, who at the time was a member of the district board, told me, in my house, that the board had paid Mr. Meserve $5.00 for his services as clerk for the two preceding years. The board, basing their action upon the fact that the persons who had previously acted as clerks had each been paid $5.00 per year for their services, and as Mr. Meserve had kept the books and attended to the affairs of the district in an efficient and satisfactory manner, they felt that he was entitled to compensation, and that it was nothing but right that he should be paid, as the previous clerks had been paid for their services.

I can further state that Mr. Meserve has, while a resident of this neighborhood, had the reputation of being a man of strict integrity, and honorable in all his dealings with his neighbors.

MRS. L. A. RICHARDSON.

JUDGE DOAN'S STATEMENT.

In regard to the note that W. N. Meserve is alleged to have refused to have signed as stated in the News of last week over the signature of S. Sonneland, I remember that Mr. Braddock and Almer Meserve came to my office and stated that Mr. Meserve had bought Mr. Braddock's improvements upon his homestead. Mr. Braddock at the time assigning his interest in and to the land to Almer Meserve, who, at the time it was made, executed a promissory note for the sum of $75, payable to Mr. Braddock. At the request of the parties, I took charge of the assignment and note and was to hold them until W. N. Meserve called and signed the note as security, when I was to give the note to Mr. Braddock and the assignment to Almer Meserve. Through some delay, W. N. Meserve failed to appear, I understanding that he was away surveying, and at the end of about a week or ten days, (I do not remember the time) Braddock called on me for the papers, saying that he had changed his mind and would not make the trade. I gave him the papers and thought no more of the incident until the mis-statement by Sonneland appeared in the News.

J. B. DOAN.

MR. MORGAN'S STATEMENT.

Desiring to correct the false statements published in a recent number of the Columbia County News, wherein W. N. Meserve is accused of demanding salary as clerk of school district No. 33 after he had promised to serve without compensation, and that, failing to secure his pay, had misappropriated funds of the district, I make the following statement of the facts in the case: I was living in the district at the time and attended all the school meetings. As to Mr. Meserve agreeing to serve without pay, I heard nothing of it at the time. He was elected for two terms, and at his first election I was the opposing candidate against him. At neither did I hear him, or anyone for him, make the statement that he would serve without pay. The board had paid the clerks preceding Mr. Meserve; Jas. Vining, the clerk for the year preceding Mr. Meserve's incumbency, having been paid the regular salary of $5. The first year Mr. Meserve served, the board withheld his salary, and it was generally understood in the neighborhood that it was on account of political and personal reason and not a desire to be economical that influenced the board.

At Mr. Meserve's second election, Mr. C. S. R. Washburn was elected a member of the board. On his motion Mr. Meserve was paid $5 for his second year's work.

The affair was entirely forgotten in this neighborhood, and since that date Mr. Meserve has been two times elected county surveyor and the school difficulty has never been referred to until now, and had not some of our local populists been stirred up by the editor of the News in his recent visit to this section, nothing would have been heard of it now. Were the books of the district now in existence they would show that Mr. Meserve accounted for every dollar of school money passing through his hands, but the books were burned up with Mr. Kyser's house while he was clerk, and now this man Kyser can tell these malicious lies, knowing that the records cannot be called on him.

Mr. Meserve, in the years that he has been a resident of this section, has been esteemed as a man of unquestioned integrity and honor, and if the News persists in its libelous attacks upon him he will carry Beaver Falls precinct by a larger majority than he has at any previous election when a candidate.
