OREGON MIST.

Friday, June 10, 1898.

Ford & Embody are in town.

The Portland Daily Tribune has suspended publication.

Call at the photograph tent and see the pictures.

Photos $1 per dozen for a short time at the St. Helens gallery.

Rev. M. Burlingame will preach at Scappoose next Sunday at 11 a. m. and 8 p. m.

Rev. C. E. Philbrook will preach next Sunday at Deer Island at 11 o'clock and in this city in the evening.

Rev. G. Grovenor Haley will preach in Warren next Sunday morning at 11 o'clock on "Friendship with Christ." Also in the evening.

Rev. J. F. Nangle, of Portland, has been holding evangelistic services in the M. E. church. He will close, however this (Friday) evening.

Mr. Alfred Holman, who, for several years has successfully edited and managed the Pacific Rural Press, of San Francisco, has disposed of his interests there and is now located in Portland, where he will be associated with the management of the Oregonian in the future.

There will be a musical and literary entertainment and ice cream social at Warren on Friday evening, June 17, for the benefit of the M. E. Sunday school at that place. A splendid programme is being prepared, and a cordial invitation is extended to all. Admission free.

Have you seen those beautiful pictures of the mountain, Columbia river, and ocean, made by Ford & Embody, of St. Helens? Call and have them make a fine photo of yourself, sweetheart or baby, or they will call and make a picture of your house, ranch or stock at gallery rates. Satisfaction guaranteed.

Mr. P. Ketchum, of Pike City, Cal., says: "During my brother's late sickness from sciatic rheumatism, Chamberlain's Pain Balm was the only remedy that gave him any relief." Many others have testified to the prompt relief from which this liniment affords. For sale by Dr. Edwin Ross, druggist.

Mr. George Brinn, who is well known in this vicinity as a very popular barkeeper, is in business again in Portland, and invites his many friends in this county to call on him. His place of business is 143 Front street, near Alder, known as the Magnolia saloon, where can always be found the very best wines, liquors, and cigars. When in Portland call and see George.

The long bridge across Milton creek at Houlton has been closed to travel this week on account of some slight defect. One of the needle beams, it seems, rotted off at one end and allowed one side of the bridge to drop down several inches—perhaps more. Judge Doan and Commissioner Frakes visited the bridge Tuesday and ordered its immediate repair.

We had the pleasure last Friday evening of attending a literary entertainment and ice cream social at Houlton, given by the young ladies of the literary society. The programme rendered was very interesting, and after refreshments had been partaken of, the time was devoted to a general social time, in which old and young mingled for over two hours. The proceeds amounted to over $10 above expenses, and are to be used for the purchase of a flag for the schoolhouse. The young people are to be congratulated upon their most laudable undertaking, and we hope the stars and stripes will long wave above the Houlton schoolhouse.

Why cannot Columbia county have a good, old-fashioned Fourth of July celebration? It would be a splendid idea for the entire population of the county to assemble at a central point and mingle their patriotism. Surely the time is propitious. These are war times, and the spirit of patriotism pervades every nook and corner of our land. We already have the splendid victory of Admiral Dewey to celebrate, and Messrs. Schley, Sampson & Company are fixing up matters down at Santiago which will help us out considerably in a Fourth of July celebration, besides something happened in this state Monday that would add wonderfully to the interest in a celebration. There is yet ample time to arrange for a grand time if immediate steps are taken to start the matter moving. Shall we do it?

The Rainier Review has again changed hands, this time Mr. J. Cy Smith, so it is said, has assumed control. The appearance of the paper last week was evidence of the fact that someone had control who had an understanding of what was expected of a newspaper in a small town—that of furnishing the local news, at least. There is no reasonable excuse for the Review not being brim full of spicy, crisp local news, and from the way Brother Smith started out last week the Review bids fair to be a jewel in that sense. We are glad to know that the Review will be improved, and extend to Mr. Smith the right hand of fellowship, and if there should ever appear in the columns of The Mist any item which Brother Smith might choose to use he is entirely welcome to it—with proper credit, of course.

PRECINCT OFFICERS.

Richard Cox was elected justice of the peace for Union precinct, and L. L. Decker, constable.

In Auburn precinct the republican candidates for precinct officers were elected. W. D. Case, justice of the peace, and Sig Wilkinson, constable.

Deer Island precinct elected the republican justice of the peace, Mr. Pape, and Mr. Foster, constable.

Asa Holaday was elected justice of the peace in Scappoose.

Mr. Jones, a democrat, was elected justice in Rainier precinct.

Mrs. Jacob George and family have gone to the coweeman for the summer.

Mr. Percival Dolman, of California, is in the city visiting his relatives.

Mrs. W. H. Payne, one of the pioneers of Multnomah county, died at her home on the Columbia slough, on Sunday last. She was 65 years of age. Mrs. Payne and her family are widely known, her husband and sons having been in business in different parts of the city for many years. She had been an invalid for a long time. The funeral took place today from her late home, the remains being interred in the Slough cemetery.—Tuesday's Oregonian. Deceased was the mother of Mr. J. M. Payne, of Deer Island.

A TIME AT QUINCY.

The republican rally held at the Quincy schoolhouse last Friday evening was one of the largest and most enthusiastic gatherings of the season. Mr. Austin, of Union county, was the speaker of the evening. He spoke for more than an hour in a very earnest, convincing manner on the issues of the campaign and his logic carried conviction to the minds of those who were privileged to listen. Several of the republican candidates were also present, among whom were Dr. Hall, Dr. Ross, Martin White, Will Meserve, I. H. Copeland, accompanied by Norman Merrill. Each of these gentlemen were also called upon to address the people, and each responded with brief but well chosen remarks. Nice music was furnished by Miss Nora Conyers, Miss Jennie Meyers and Mr. George Conyers, of Clatskanie, with guitars and mandolin. The applause which these young people received was evidence of their skill and the appreciation of the people. Indeed this political meeting was a sort of a "fusion" rally. The school had been in training for some four weeks to give an entertainment of a patriotic nature and with the proceeds to buy a flag, and so it was thought that to blend both occasions would be well. Republicanism and patriotism go hand in hand. This was a timely inspiration, for the "hat" was passed around and $8.25 realized—sufficient to buy a fine flag—and now the Quincy school will float from its dome what no school should be without—the American flag—for wherever it is seen patriotism is stimulated in the minds of the children, and as the time is not far distant when the ballot of our boys, and perhaps girls, will rule the destiny of our nation. Let us do what we can to insure good citizenship in the future.

Mrs. S. S. Way, teacher.

I was seriously afflicted with a cough for several years, and last fall had a more severe cough than ever before. I have used many remedies without receiving much relief, and being recommended to try a bottle of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy, by a friend, who, knowing me to be a poor widow, gave it to me, I tried it, and with the most gratifying results. The first bottle relieved me very much, and the second bottle has absolutely cured me. I have not had as good health for twenty years. Respectfully, Mrs. Mary A. Beard, Claremore, Arkansas. Sold by Dr. Edwin Ross, druggist.

Bad management keeps more people in poor circumstances than any other one cause. To be successful one must look ahead and plan ahead so that when a favorable opportunity presents itself he is ready to take advantage of it. A little forethought will also save much expense and valuable time. A prudent and careful man will keep a bottle of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy in the house, the shiftless fellow will wait until necessity compels it and then ruin his best horse going for a doctor and have a big doctor bill to pay, besides; one pays out 25 cents, the other is out a hundred dollars, and then wonders why his neighbor is getting richer while he is getting poorer. For sale by Dr. Edwin Ross, druggist.

What Dr. A. E. Salter Says.

Buffalo, N. Y.—Gents:—From my personal knowledge, gained in observing the effect of your Shiloh's Cure in cases of advanced Consumption, I am prepared to say it is the most remarkable Remedy that has ever been brought to my attention. It has certainly saved many from Consumption. Sold by Dr. Edwin Ross.

Dreadfully Nervous.

Gents:—I was dreadfully nervous, and for relief took your Karl's Clover Root Tea. It quieted my nerves and strengthened my whole Nervous System. I was troubled with constipation, kidney and bowel trouble. Your tea soon cleansed my whole system so thoroughly that I rapidly regained my health and strength. Mrs. S. A. Sweet, Hartford, Con. Sold by Dr. Edwin Ross.

The Lease of Life.

It is the inevitable law of nature that we must die. The vital energy that is implanted in the body at birth is only meant to sustain it for a certain number of years. It may be husbanded or wasted, made to burn slowly or rapidly. It is like the oil in a lamp and may be burned out to little effect in a little time or carefully husbanded and preserved and thus made to last longer and burn brighter.

It is a moot question whether every individual is not at birth gifted with the same amount of vital energy and of life sustaining power. The probability is that each is. The circumstances of the environment from the cradle to the grave determine its future destiny.—Gentleman's Magazine.

Sewing Is Still Woman's Work.

Men, it must be owned, achieve remarkable success in sewing, as, for example, the skillful and deft handed embroiderers of the east or the Paris and New York makers of tailor gowns, whose stitches are so fine, so even and so strong that they wear longer than the cloth they fasten. Notwithstanding this, sewing continues to be peculiarly feminine work, with which men do not largely compete.

A woman who knows how to sew is able to clothe herself and her household, so to speak, in purple and fine linen at a smaller relative cost than her friend who has no such knack. Her husband is known in the gates, when he sits among the elders of the land.—Harper's Bazar.

A Very Old Perfume.

A curious box was recently found amid the ruins of Pompeii. The box was marble or alabaster, about two inches square and closely sealed. When opened, it was found to be full of pomatum or grease, hard but very fragrant. The smell resembled somewhat that of the rose, but was much more fragrant. What the perfume was made of cannot be conjectured now, but it is singular that men in the nineteenth century should be able to regale their noses with perfumes prepared in the first.—St. Louis Republic.

ROYAL BAKING POWDER CO., NEW YORK.

HOW IT CAME ABOUT.

My neighbor was a widder, an she hed a run-down farm,
An her cows an pigs an chickens done a mighty lot o' harm
To my fields ajinin, an I stood it quite awhile,
Till I wouldn't be imposed on in no sich kind o' style.

So I looked my very maddest es I walked up to her door,
Till she looked up at me smilin while a-washin up the floor,
And her cheeks was red es roses an her hair es black es night—
I forgot to scold an sass her for she seemed so sweet an bright.

But my hand was to the plow now, an it wouldn't never do
To forgit them depredations jes' by lookin at her shoe,
So I gethered up my anger, an I said, "Now, Mrs. Brown"—
An my tone put out her eyes' light, an the lashes they fell down.

But I ain't no man for foolin, an I went right on to say
How her pigs et all my melons an her cows et tons o' hay,
How her chickens scratched my corn out, an I wouldn't hev it so,
Gittin harder all the time, like a madman will, you know.

Then the widder she looked up, with a tear-drop on her cheek
An a-somethin in her throat that wouldn't let her speak.
But she sobbed an cried out in a kind o' teary tone
That she had no one to help her an was poor an all alone.

An my hand was off the plow then an a-reachin out fer hern—
I hed learnt a suddent lesson that I never thought I'd learn.
Well, my scoldin was a failure, seein what I thought to do,
For her pigs an cows are all here, an the widder's with 'em too.

Florida's Kind of a Mule.

The Jacksonville Street Railway company has a big gray mule of which it is as proud as a hen with one chicken. This mule has a very mild and benevolent countenance and is not afraid of a bushel of oats. It is up to a trick or two also and has a very melodious voice that can rattle off "White Wings" until you are dissolved in tears. When it wants a drink, it goes to the hydrant at the stables, turns the faucet with its teeth and envelops itself with a barrel or so of good cold water. Best of all, when its thirst is quenched it carefully turns off the water and goes to its stall satisfied and happy. Such a mule is certainly worth its weight in bananas.—Florida Times-Union.

Oil Furnaces In Ocean Steamships.

The experiment of using petroleum as fuel on ocean steamers instead of coal has proved successful, and it is claimed that in the near future oil will be almost exclusively used. The experiment was made on the British steamer James Brand, which plies between Philadelphia and Spanish ports, and the report submitted is to the effect that the oil goes 2½ times farther than the coal, while only requiring one-tenth the cargo space. The tests were made on a double ended boiler during a three days' run, and the oil developed the most satisfactory steammaking properties. The James Brand, being a bulk oil carrier, will not be allowed by the insurance companies to use the petroleum fuel, but shipping men claim that on vessels carrying general cargoes it will soon be generally used.—Philadelphia Record.

Women and Weather.

In some parts of New England, and perhaps elsewhere, when some common impulse seems to have led all the women to go shopping or visiting, it is customary for old people to say, "Well, well, I guess it will rain tomorrow."

At sea, as might be expected, the same rule does not hold. Thus an exchange reports a nervous lady passenger as saying to a deckhand:

"Have you ever seen any worse weather than this, Mr. Sailor?"

"Take a word from an old salt, mum," says the deckhand; "the weather's never very bad while there's any females on deck a-makin henquiries about it."
