AMERICANS CLOSELY ON GUARD

Lopez Says the Revolutionary Government Anticipates the Paris Treaty by Two Years.

Manila, Jan. 24.—President Lopez of the Visayan federation, has replied to President McKinley's proclamation of the 9th. He claims that the revolutionary government anticipates the Paris treaty by over two years. He says he has never been officially notified of the existence of the treaty, and that therefore he declines to recognize American authority, and refuses to allow American troops to disembark in force, without express orders from the government at Malolos. General Miller, the commander of the American expedition, replied that the Americans cannot recognize President Lopez's authority, because the Philippine republic is not recognized by the powers. He also expressed regret at the determination of the Philippines to resist just claims.

Miller's Troops Landed. New York, Jan. 24.—A special to the World from Washington says: General Miller's expedition has landed on Guimaras island, three miles from Ilo Ilo, without opposition. General Otis cables from Manila. Landing was necessary because of the crowded condition of the troops on the transports. Experience has proved that soldiers lose spirits and fighting qualities when confined long on board ship, so the war department asked General Otis to general land if it was possible for General Miller to land his expedition near Ilo Ilo. He cabled that it was, and was then instructed to order a landing.

It was deemed inadvisable to advise this expedition to return to Manila without having landed, because it was feared the natives of Luzon would think the Philippines at Ilo Ilo repudied the Americans.

Archbishop Ireland Wins. Washington, Jan. 24.—The secretary of the interior has affirmed the decision of the commissioner-general of the land office in the famous case of Archbishop Ireland, involving title to 24,173 acres of land in Minnesota. He holds that the first contract made with the St. Paul, Minnesota & Manitoba Railroad Company, July 17, 1880, Ireland was not the purchaser, but that under the second contract, adopted March 30, 1883, he was the purchaser. THAT BEEF WAS BAD

Testimony of Major Daly, the Chief Surgeon.

MEAT PRESERVED BY CHEMICALS

General Miles Charges Strengthened Before the War Investigation Committee.

Washington, Jan. 23.—Major W. H. Daly, chief surgeon with General Miles, and whose field service stretched from Tampa to Porto Rico, whose report condemning beef furnished the expeditionary forces created a sensation some weeks ago, made his long-anticipated appearance as a witness before the war investigation committee today. Daly's report was the strongest in language of those submitted by Miles in substantiation of his attack on the beef supplies. On being sworn the witness identified the report submitted as his own. He was willing, he said, to stand by his report. It was wholly voluntary, and was not called out in any request or in obedience to any official order. At Tampa he had noticed a quarter of beef hanging free in the sun on a shipboard, and he became interested in the experiment of having fresh slaughtered beef placed under such moist climatic conditions to see how long it could stand it.

"I observed," he said, "that flies, especially bull flies, did not affect it; it did not alight on it, or if they did they got away from it very quickly." He had cut off a piece of that beef at Tampa and cooked it, but it neither smelled or tasted naturally. He noticed indications of chemical preservation in the meat that brought back recollections of chemical stuff he had used to preserve elk in hunting expeditions in the Rocky mountains some years before. All that day and next he had an unpleasant taste.

In that previous hunting expedition he had analyzed the chemical preservative and found it to contain borax and salicylic acids. These were to be used externally on elk, but he had rubbed it into the raw flesh and also injected it.

Questioned as to these ingredients he said borax was not safe to be used in connection with food, nor for ordinary medicinal purposes, while salicylic acid was most nauseous, loathsome and disgusting, and almost always destructive of digestion.

FROM A DIFFERENT SOURCE. The German Version of the Present Difficulty in Samoa.

Hamburg, Jan. 23.—According to news received from Samoa, Chief Justice Chambers on December 31 announced the election of Mataafa, who was returned by a six-fifths majority, and declared Malietoa Tanu, son of the latter king, Malietoa, who is still a minor, to be king. The three consuls recognized Mataafa's people as the provisional government.

Malietoa Tanu, Tanamases, another claimant for the throne, and Chief Justice Chambers, it is added, went on board a British warship, whereupon the provisional government closed the court. A British warship then landed a detachment of blue jackets, and later the court was reopened under the protests of the provisional government.

No Official Report at Washington. Washington, Jan. 23.—There is still lack of official reports as to the situation in Samoa, but it can be said that the state department is moving in the matter with due deliberation, and with full regard for maintenance of the tripartite agreement for government of the islands.

The navy department's order to Admiral Kautz, on board the Philadelphia, at San Diego, went today. They were simply to "make ready." If, as stated in the press dispatches, the Philadelphia is not in condition to go to Apia, it is supposed the vessel's hull will be cleaned by divers.

Mobile, Ala., Jan. 23.—The government steamer Pansy touched at Biloxi, Miss., this afternoon, and reports finding on Breton island a part of the stern of the naphtha launch Paul Jones, also a yawl boat with bow smashed and other small articles from the launch. The condition of the wreckage tends to show that the naphtha tank blew up and tore the boat to pieces. The Pansy met the Maud with Messrs Jones and Taggart on board. The latter visited the wreckage and identified it as part of the Paul Jones.

No bodies were found. The launch had the following pleasure seekers on board: Joseph Brinkham, Louisville; Miss Margerie Woodland, Chicago; Colonel Harry C. Youcum, St. Louis; Miss Florence Youcum, his daughter.

THE SAMOAN TROUBLE

Cruiser Philadelphia Ordered to the Islands.

THE GERMAN CONSUL EXPELLED

He Was Forebly Ejected From the Supreme Court Building at Apia.

Auckland, New Zealand, Jan. 21.—Further particulars regarding the disturbances at Samoa show that Mataafa's followers numbered about 5,000 men and the adherents of Malietoa Tanu only about 1,000. There was two hours' fighting between the rival forces, during which several of the warriors were decapitated.

The American consul issued a proclamation claiming the Berlin treaty had the same force as a law of congress, and that an insult to the supreme court of Samoa is therefore equivalent to an insult to the government at Washington.

German Consul Ejected. London, Jan. 21.—A special from Auckland, N. Z., says the British and American consuls were compelled to force the doors of the supreme court at Apia, in which the German consul had established himself, and to push him into the street. All parties at Apia, the dispatch continues, unite in condemning the German consul for the fighting which has taken place, but not the rival kings. It is pointed out that in violation of all agreements the consul accompanied Mataafa's force when the element invaded the town and encouraged opposition to Malietoa Tanu.

When the British and American consuls were informed as to the situation they adjourned the court and locked the building. The German consul then demanded the keys, and they were refused him. He then broke open the doors, removed the locks and replaced them with others. He afterwards brought the German municipal president into the chamber, and the latter went upon the balcony and shouted to the British and American marines assembled on the square: "I am the supreme court. I am the chief justice." The crowd replied with cheers and the British consul demanded the keys of the building, which were refused. A Scotchman named Macbie thereupon climbed on top of the building and hoisted the Samoan flag, while the British and American consuls and a number of marines forced the doors and hurried the German consul into the street.

Then the two consuls formally and legally, according to the dispatch, opened court and issued a warning against any further interference with its jurisdiction, threatening to arrest and imprison any one attempting to do so.
