

OREGON MIST. Aug. 4, 1899.

LOCAL AND PERSONAL. Judge Doan was up from Rainier Tuesday.

Largest stock and lowest prices at W. H. Dolman's.

Attorney Gaston, of Portland, was in town Tuesday.

The fast steamer Haaslo is again on the Astoria run.

Attorney G. A. Brodie, of Portland, was in town Tuesday.

Mr. J. B. E. Bourne, of Rainier, was in town Tuesday evening.

Mr. E. E. Quick attended to business matters in Portland Monday.

Mrs. T. C. Watts and Mrs. J. W. Day expect to go to Seaside this week.

For a complete stock of merchandise call at Wm. H. Dolman's.

Mr. J. K. Blakesley rusticated for a few days at the Dow farm this week.

Mr. and Mrs. Otto Kulper, of Lewis river, were visiting in town this week.

Gov. G. G. Haley has received from Attorney Geer a notary public commission.

Attorney W. H. Conyers, of Clatskanie, was attending circuit court here Tuesday.

We acknowledge the receipt of a season ticket to the state fair to be held soon at Seaside.

Miss Lottie Cooper, of Kalama, spent several days in this city this week, the guest of Miss May Whitney.

A large number of persons from this city attended the funeral service of Minis Bender at Portland last Sunday.

The county treasurer has a call in this paper this week for outstanding county warrants endorsed prior to August 1st, 1898.

Commissioner Frakes was down from Scappoose Tuesday evening attending the regular convention of Knights of Pythias.

The wife and young child of G. D. Bonney, of Yankton, who have been critically ill for some time, are reported much improved.

Mr. and Mrs. Smith Klatsner, of Rainier, were in the city Tuesday afternoon and evening, the guests of Mr. and Mrs. W. F. Slaughter.

Clatskanie, Marshland and Quincy people are to have a big excursion to Seaside today. Special cars will carry the excursionists.

The families of D. W. Price and J. R. Wattle, of Scappoose, and N. A. Perry, of Houlton, will go to Seaside this week, to spend some time.

There will be regular preaching services in the Houlton M. E. church next Sunday at 11:30 a. m., and 8 p. m. by the pastor, G. G. Haley.

Business at the county clerk's office has been exceptionally quiet this week. This is the quiet season, however, in that department of affairs.

Mr. and Mrs. E. H. Joseph are spending some time rustinating in Nehalem valley, at the home of Mrs. Joseph's sister, Mrs. C. W. Mellinger.

Rev. Mr. Philbrook will preach next Sunday at Yankton at 11 o'clock and at St. Helens in the evening. Subject: "No spiritual salvation in statutes".

The Oregon Wood Company seems to be making a "killing" in the wood business these days. There's generally a killing wherever there's a Slaughter.

You need not go to Chicago to have your picture enlarged, but call at the gallery in Rainier and get a fine carbon picture for $1 or a dozen photos for $1. Beat work and material guaranteed.

When your supply of printed stationery becomes exhausted, send in an order to this office, where best quality of stock and workmanship are furnished at prices consistent with such qualities.

Something strange is certainly soon to transpire. Contrary to custom, the numberless sawlows that frequent this vicinity have taken their departure unusually—a number of weeks earlier than usual.

W. T. Watts filed suit in the state circuit court at Portland Monday morning against the Kanupich Creamery Company for $678 on assigned claims from eleven dairymen in the vicinity of Scappoose.

Persons expecting to attend the quarterly examination for teachers will do well to bear in mind that the hour for commencing the work on the first day has been changed to 9 o'clock in the forenoon.

The fishermen of the Lower river declare their intention to continue fishing until August 20th. They say the season has been an unprofitable one for them so far, and they intend to make something out of it some way.

We announced last week that Mr. and Mrs. Dillard would go to Seaside last Saturday. Mr. Dillard was detained at home an account of business matters, and expects to leave for the coast today, to remain two or three weeks.

The Astoria Herald says: "Times ought to be good in Astoria. There is not an idle man that wants to work. It is impossible to get men to work on the railroad and in the hay fields. It's only the bummers and loafers that talk hard times."

Mr. Harvey Brown, of Clatskanie, who has been operating the Bryant mill, and who was compelled to cease operations some time since on account of high water, is experiencing much difficulty in obtaining the desired number of men with which to operate the plant. It's thunder, by Gosh, how business keeps up.

A fire started in the woods near Peterson's camp, at Hudson, last week and badly damaged one of the donkey engines. The fire is still raging and greater damage is feared. A number of logs were destroyed. Work in the woods is suspended, while the crew is engaged in fighting fire.—Cathlamet Gazette.

We have a good many hundred dollars standing on subscription and advertising accounts which, if those indebted to us would remit, we would be greatly obliged. Our expenses have to be met, and it requires money to run even a newspaper. There is the paper and ink bill, stationery account, office and home rent, the printer's weekly stipend and the editor's bread and meat bill. Just remember the few dollars you owe, and oblige us with a remittance.

During the civil war, as well as in our late war with Spain, diarrhoea was one of the most troublesome diseases the army had to contend with. In many instances it became chronic and the old soldiers still suffer from it. Mr. David Taylor, of Wind Ridge, Greene Co., Pa., is one of those. His new Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy and says he never found anything that would give him such quick relief. It is for sale by Dr. Edwin Ross.

Mrs. Mayger has ice cream on sale every day.

Mrs. J. G. Muckle was visiting Portland Monday.

Miss Phoebe Balmanno, of Portland, visited relatives here this week.

Mrs. Jacob George, of Portland, visited in this city several days this week.

Mrs. W. H. Conyers, of Clatskanie, spent Sunday in this city visiting friends.

Frank Miles visited his parents at this place for a few days the latter part of last week.

Mr. T. C. Watts, of Reuben, was in town on Tuesday in attendance upon the circuit court.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Bryant, of Portland, visited relatives in this city last Sunday and Monday.

Mr. and Mrs. M. C. Gray returned on Thursday of last week from a month's outing on Puget sound.

Miss Tillie Muckle, of Good Samaritan hospital, Portland, visited relatives in this city last Friday and Saturday.

Mrs. Glass and daughter, of University Park, mother and sister of Mrs. J. G. Plank, visited here several days this week.

Mr. Wm. Ross and wife, who have been visiting Dr. Ross for some time, left for their home in Wisconsin last Sunday.

Every man who will work in now too busy to make news, and the clerks will be as, is, and ever will be too lazy to make or find it.

J. H. Peterson is putting in a mill near his present logging chute on Beaver slough. It is to be used to saw ties for his logging railroad.

Mr. Percival Dolman, who has been rusticated at Bunker hill for some time, returned to Berkeley, Cal., last Saturday to resume his studies.

Mr. Emmet Stevens has rented the Kilmore farm, on the Slough. Mr. Stevens has conducted his dairy business on the Lake farm for a number of years.

Mr. S. Sunneland, of Beaver valley, was in town Tuesday in the interest of the Penn Life Insurance Company, of which he is the duly authorized agent.

Rev. G. B. VanWaters, of Portland, accompanied by Messrs. Volberg, of Oregon City, are camping this week near the headwaters of the Clatskanie.

The families of Dr. H. B. Cliff and Mr. Frank Dew are comfortably quartered in the Grimes grove, at Seaside. Miss Nora Dillard accompanied them as the guest of Mrs. Cliff.

If the war among transportation companies continues we will all be able to go to the coast. The steamboat people and the railroad companies are after the scalps of each other.

The hay crop of this county, which is always good, is this year no less plentiful than formerly. Indeed, there is an abundance of first-class hay reported from all parts of the county.

The fact that farmers are rushing great quantities of early potatoes into market has had a tendency to bring down the price. New potatoes in Portland on Monday were selling at 60 cents to 75 cents a sack.

The soothing and healing properties of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy, its pleasant taste and prompt and permanent cures, have made it a great favorite with the people everywhere. For sale by Dr. Edwin Ross.

A. Marchion, J. D. Yoder, J. Y. Kauffman, John Mullins and J. A. McDonald, all of Peblee creek, made final proof in support of their homestead claims, before the register and receiver of the land office at Oregon City on Wednesday.

Assessor White's new residence, over in the neighborhood of Honesty hill, is assuming quite considerable proportions and will soon be completed. When finished it will be a substantial, convenient house and a decided improvement in that portion of the city.

Loggers, millmen and farmers are experiencing much difficulty in finding men to do their work. That is rather a striking condition of affairs when we remember that only a couple of years ago men—good men, too, could find absolutely nothing to do to earn a living.

Will Messer was up from Gray's River the first of the week. Will says he has completed the Saldern logging road and is now directing his attention to business pursuits of another nature. Mr. Saldern has not yet put in any logs, but expects to start the work in about two weeks.

Having throughout the county is over, with a large quantity of excellent quality stored without a drop of rain and now the music of binders is heard all over the country. The only complaint is that laborers are very scarce and a demand for higher wages.—Roseburg Plaindealer.

Henry Colvin, at Marshland, Oregon, is getting out some excellent logs. He has put in nearly two million feet this season, despite the bad weather, and improvements for logging in good running order, he will be able to work winter and summer.—Cathlamet Gazette.

The farmers of the low lands declare that the high water of this summer has been vastly more detrimental to their interests than was the flood of 1894. That year the water reached its highest point and was quick to recede, but this season the farmers are kept from their places so long that the crops from inability to pursue the ordinary routine are certain to work a great hardship.

The merchant who sometimes suggests that the newspaper man "roast" the grocery dealer, cheap John store and the like, would, indeed, make the newspaper man feel more like doing such a thing if it were not known that the merchant made liberal use of free letter boxes of soap firms and other wholesale purveyors, sidewalk advertisements and rubber stamps.

Persons who have occasion to drive large herds of cattle along the county roads, which is sometimes the case with our local dairymen, should not be indifferent to the law which limits the number of cattle that may be driven over a bridge at one time. The law of this state on that matter limits the number of cattle that may be driven across any county bridge at one time to twenty, and it is a good law, too. Driving a hundred or more animals on to a bridge at one time may, in some instance, prove very disastrous.

Rev. G. G. Haley has been confined to his bed since Thursday afternoon of last week, the result of serious injuries received from falling from the upper to the lower deck of the Oregon Wood Company's wharf at this place. Mr. Haley was attempting to step around one of the hatches, when his feet slipped from under him, precipitating his body to the lower floor, a distance of twelve feet. He was unconscious for some time, but fortunately escaped with but a severe shaking up. The large muscles of his right shoulder received a severe strain. He is now rapidly recovering.

Local Summer Resorts.

It may be that we are over-enthusiastic many times and upon many subjects, but we are firm in our belief that as a genuine natural summer resort, the equal of Columbia county can be found nowhere on the Pacific coast. Of course, there is no salt air, clams and crabs here, but there is pure, fresh, exhilarating ozone, invigorating and refreshing; plenty of game—large and small, hundreds of beautiful streams which abound with the ever-festive trout, spring water, clear and pure, cold and healthful; wild berries in endless quantities, and hundreds of other attractions that tend to lessen the burden of man and assist nature in recuperating the body and mind of him who seeks sweet repose in the mountains or valleys of the interior of this magnificent country. With all these allurements it seems strange, doesn't it, that people will rush away to the coast, but such a course is only in keeping with the natural course of human events. Everything to gratify the desires of those seeking refuge from the heat and business cares consequent upon life in the city is to be found here, and we extend a cordial invitation to such persons to meet upon our suggestion and come to our mountain streams to spend their vacation. Transportation facilities cannot be excelled. It is possible to reach our country from the metropolis within an hour or two any time of day, seven days a week. River and rail transportation is excellent, and a ten-hour drive will take one to the extreme interior of the county. As a favorite place to spend a month or such a matter, the mountains and valleys of this county are becoming popular, and many persons are availing themselves of the splendid opportunities offered here for quiet, rest and pleasure.

A Log on the Track.

Monday's Telegram contained the following item: "Saturday afternoon, the Seaside express on the Astoria road leaving Portland at 2:30, was delayed by a peculiar accident about midway between the coast and this city. Near Mayger, about fifty-five miles from Portland, a large log chute rane from the mountains to the river. In order to reach the water, the railroad track has to be crossed, and the chute is therefore carried over an elevated trestle, running at right angles with the track. Ordinarily logs slide through the chute and complete their journey through the water without a hitch, but on Saturday a giant of the forest escaped just as it reached a point over the railway, and falling on the track, smashed everything with which it came in contact. Rails were torn loose, bent and twisted, and the cause of all this disaster was a log resting directly across the track. Fortunately someone in the vicinity witnessed the occurrence and flagged the train. Had it been otherwise, a horrible catastrophe must certainly have resulted, a tunnel and curve in the road just east of the place preventing the engineer from seeing what he was coming to. It took about an hour to haul the log off, relay a portion of the track and all was serene again."

Big Demand for Lumber.

Comparatively few persons are aware of the great activity being displayed in gobbling up the remaining timber lands in this region. "Sawtooth" and "large tracts of timber land five or six years ago and have not been able to dispose of them, are now smiling and happy, and assured of a profitable outcome to their investments. Persons who neglected opportunities to purchase timber lands at the prices asked two years, or even one year ago, now see where they let fortunes slip through their fingers, and are striving to get even by acquiring all the timber they can now. There is no sign of any falling off in lumber-shipping business, which has grown to unusual proportions of late, and the fact that Portland has become the largest lumber-producing point on the coast seems only to tend to increase the production. The market for logs is brisk at $5 to $6 per 1000 feet, and the loggers are happy.

Season Closes August 10.

There seems to be a difference of opinion among the fishermen as to when the fishing season ends, some claiming that under the law they can fish until August 15. Such, however, is not the case and the season closes at noon on August 10. A law passed at the special session of the legislature made the fishing season from April 15 at noon until noon on August 10. At the regular session a bill was passed by both houses that extended the season five days longer, but for some unaccountable reason the enacting clause was omitted from the bill and the measure is therefore void. As a consequence the season in this county and our fishing season has been reduced five days in length from that of former years. In place of opening on April 10, it does not begin until the 15th, but closes as formerly on August 10.—Astoria Budget.

Determined to Have Roads.

At a meeting of the Astoria Push Club Monday night it was recommended that the club undertake to raise, by subscriptions, entertainments or any other way thought advisable, $1,500 to spend in making and laying puncheon on the Nehalem road between the 2-mile and 13-mile posts, that all the money collected be paid to the treasurer of the Push club and that the president of said club appoint inspectors of said work, that when they find the work is well done the inspectors shall give the person who did the work an order on the treasurer of the club for 50 cents for each rod laid. It is estimated that the $1,500 will be about half the expense of a good wagon road from Astoria to Nehalem, and the Nehalem people are expected to lay the other half. Work is to begin at once and it is to be hoped that it will be finished within a year.

Relating to Primary Certificates.

The state board of education has adopted the following relative to primary certificates: (1) They are county papers, good in any county in the state. (2) They shall be issued by the county board of examiners. (3) No limit will be placed upon their number. (4) Applicants for primary certificates shall write on the same questions as applicants for first, second and third grade certificates in reading, writing, orthography, and theory and practice of teaching. (5) They will be required to pass a special examination on the art of questions and methods. (6) Questions are to be graded by the county board of examiners the same as for county certificates. (7) The fee for such certificate is $2.00.

Will Return to Oregon.

One of the Eastern editors said in Medford that he was going to pack his trunk immediately upon his return to the East, and he would hit only the high places in getting there. "I know," said he, "I know of fellows who are not newspaper men who have been looking all their lives for a garden spot like this. Will I tell them of this country—did you ask? Why, of course, I will and so will every honest man in this crowd tell his readers what he saw and thought of Oregon."

FATAL GUN-SHOT ACCIDENT.

Fifteen-Year-Old David Whittich, of Mist, the Victim.

Special to This Mist. CLATSKANIE, Aug. 2.—Tuesday morning Mr. and Mrs. David Whittich, residing near Mist, were out near Fishhawk with their family to gather berries. The oldest boy, David, 15 years old last January, had a 46-70 rifle with him. He and a comrade, young Jones, got some distance from the rest of the family, and when on a log young Whittich put his gun down in front of him in such a manner as to fire it off. The ball entered the lower part of his bowels on the right side, and passing up, came out at the upper part of his chest, on the same side. His parents were soon at the place, and after doing what they could to make the boy comfortable, dispatched young Jones to Clatskanie for surgical assistance. The father decided to send the boy to a hospital, and securing a conveyance, proceeded by means of a blanket fastened over handles which were held in the hands of four persons, who rode in a wagon and carried the injured boy so as to produce the least possible jarring from the motion of the wagon. In this manner they got him some five or six miles toward Clatskanie, when the doctor arrived, and examining the boy, told his father he would not live to get to the hospital. He was then taken to the residence of Joe Aldridge, near by, and later carried carefully across the river to his father's home, where he died at 3 o'clock in the afternoon, adding one more to the number of fatal accidents from the carrying of loaded fire arms. The boy was well known in the community, and his unexpected and untimely death in so sad a manner, has produced a general feeling of sorrow and sympathy for the grief-stricken family.

Circuit Court.

Judge McBride held an adjourned session of circuit court in this city Tuesday when the following law matters were brought up and argued: Houshield, DeHart et al vs. Astoria & Columbia River Railroad Co. et al; dismissed. John Conway vs. S. C. Spencer and O. J. Bryant; plea in abatement overruled and defendants given forty-five days to file. E. A. Weston vs. T. N. Ryekman; order of confirmation.

Elsie L. Robbins vs. Robert L. Robbins; demurrer of defendant overruled and defendant given until September 10 to file answer. V. Deitz vs. I. G. Wikstrom and Columbia Banking Co.; title of E. E. Quick to premises in controversy upheld and deeds to Wikstrom set aside. Property to be sold and proceeds divided among stockholders having paid subscription.

W. Deitz vs. I. G. Wikstrom and Columbia Banking Co.; title of E. E. Quick to premises in controversy upheld and deeds to Wikstrom set aside. Property to be sold and proceeds divided among stockholders having paid subscription.

D. L. Bate vs. E. L. Biggs; confirmation of sale. L. O. Baxter vs. Maria West; ordered costs of former suit be paid within thirty days; action to be dismissed on case compliance to this order is not had. Whereupon court adjourned until the 7th day of October.

Horse Cannery Again Running.

The establishment at Linnton for slaughtering horses and salting the meat for exportation to Europe is again in operation. The news is good news to the owners of range horses who have no other way of getting rid of them except by letting them starve during the winter. Sheep and cattle men, who find the grass growing shorter and scarcer year by year, are also rejoiced to see the herds of useless horses disappear. Even the sentimentalists who shudder at the idea of slaughtering horses and sending the flesh to the hungry meat-eaters of Europe, have come to the conclusion that it is less cruel to kill and pickle a horse than to let him starve to death, and to allow him to die of lingering starvation in the winter on the bleak, storm-swept range, where he is looked upon as a nuisance. The use of electricity as a motive power for street cars signed the execution warrant of the cayuse horse, and now the advent of the automobile has sealed and delivered it.—Oregonian.

School Report.

School Apportionment.

The state school land commissioners on Tuesday made the largest apportionment of school funds ever made in the state. They distributed $199,905.58 among the various counties on a basis of $1.51 per capita. This year's school census shows 132,388 children of school age in the state. Last year there were 130,753, and the amount then distributed was $156,430.60, or $1.20 per capita. There has been an increase of only 1635 in the number of school children since last year, yet the amount apportioned is $43,462.28 greater. Columbia county has 2183 children, and receives from the state $3,296.33.

Big Money in Stock.

Messrs. U. M. Beeghly, C. W. Mellinger, Lon Adams, Omar Spencer, Sidney Mainstein and Phillip Glehn came over from Nehalem valley Wednesday with a band of twenty-four head of beef cattle, purchased by Gus Swansen for Tacoma butchers. Mr. Swansen distributed over $700 among the farmers in the vicinity of Vernonia for the small herd, paying an average of $30 a head. There is said to be a big demand for cattle in that locality, at big prices.

Catholic Church Burned.

St. Joseph Poland Catholic church at Bunker hill was destroyed by fire last Friday evening at 8 o'clock, said to have caught from a burning slashing. The building was insured in the Fire Relief Association, of McMinnville, and it is intimated that "there's something rotten in the state of Denmark."

Tell Your Sister.

A Beautiful Complexion is an impossibility without good pure blood, the sort that only exists in connection with good digestion, a healthy liver and bowels. Kari's Clover Root Tea acts directly on the bowels, liver and kidneys, keeping them in perfect health. Price 25 cents and 50 cts. Sold by Dr. Edwin Ross, druggists, St. Helens, and N. A. Perry, Houlton.

Omar Shammahan is in the city visiting Mr. and Mrs. T. J. Cleeton.

FROM KEASEY.

Miss Alice Bryan, who has been spending her vacation at Homewood, returned to Portland last Friday.

D. E. Keasey, who for the past two weeks has enjoyed the sport of fishing and also tossing the new-mown hay on the old home ranch, has again come back to the management of the Unique Tailoring establishment, Sixth street, Portland.

The school in district No. 27, under the supervision of Miss Dessie Wilson, closed last Friday with a very lengthy programme of songs and recitations, some of which were fairly well rendered, while the time for preparation excused the deficiency of others.

A message received last week from Rolla, Mo., announces the death of the little one so lately given to bless the home of Mr. and Mrs. Carroll Keasey. But three short weeks was the treasure that all the Master called to bear it to the cherub throne on high.

Dr. Hiatt, dentist, from Forest Grove, has been rusticated for a few weeks among friends, and here and there extracting the distracting molars, in some cases preparatory to putting in new and unchangeable ones. The fond young mother anxiously awaits the appearance of the darling's first new tooth, while the old mother gladly welcomes the disappearance of the last old stub.

A very enjoyable time was spent by the family at Homewood ranch on Thursday last, being the coming of nearly forty of the good people of Vernonia and vicinity who have our sincere thanks for bringing their lunch, as, not being apprised of the number, we would have been ill prepared to feed the multitude, yet the few small fishes were there, which were given to the doctor, who generally divided with the preacher. The swing swung out from the banks of Rock creek, over the rippling water, carrying its freight of laughing girls, the small boy waded, the little girls dashed stones and enjoyed their splash, while the Master sat in the cool shade talking of things past and present, till near the set of sun, when all returned, we trust as well pleased as those whom they came to see.
