OREGON MIST.

NOVEMBER 3, 1899.

Is at the Sanitarium.

Sheriff Rice left here last Friday morning for Portland, where he entered the Portland Sanitarium for treatment. Mr. Rice was suffering from nervous prostration, and his condition was quite alarming. It is hoped by his friends that the change and treatment he will receive at that institution will restore his health. Mrs. Rice is with him.

Rates Continue Low.

With the the exception of the Shaver Transportation Company cutting the fare from Clatskanie to Portland to 50 cents, there has been no new developments in the rate war since our last issue. The fare from Portland to Astoria by boats and train remains at 25 cents, but since the Exposition has closed and traffic relapsed to the normal, an adjustment of differences may soon be expected.

Recalled to Astoria.

Captain Henderson, of Houlton, was called back to Astoria last Monday by the owners of the Jessie, presumably to again take charge of the vessel. After a ten-day's cruise under another manager, the boat returned to port last week without a pound of fish, and it is more than likely the case that unless Captain Henderson again takes the matter in hand, the project of deep sea fishwill be abandoned, as others seem to be unable to locate the halibut banks.

On a Brief Visit.

Mr. W. H. Brown, who taught the Scappoose school for a long time prior to two years ago, visited in this section several days last week. Mr. Brown left here about two years ago to accept a position as teacher at an Indian school in Montana, and after spending some time there was transferred to Oklahoma to occupy a similar position. He was afterwards transferred from there to Siletz reservation, this state, and shortly afterwards appointed secretary of the agency.

The Matter is Remedied.

When proper methods are pursued it is not a difficult matter many times, to remedy existing inconveniences and evils. Last week THE MIST mentioned the fact that certain kinds of mail matter should be shipped from Portland by rail, thus accommodating nearly every patron of the St. Helens postoffice. The suggestion had the desired effect, as is evidenced by the following letter received by Postmaster Dolman from the Oregonian Publishing Co., on Tuesday:

"MR. W. H. DOLMAN, St. Helens, Oregon. Dear Sir:—The Oregonian will be dispatched via the railroad in the future. If at any time you have any cause for complaint, please notify us and we will give the matter our prompt attention. Kindly inform the publisher of THE MIST to that effect. A note appeared in his paper in regard to this matter.

"Very respectfully,
"OREGONIAN PUBLISHING CO."

Farewell Party.

The members of the church and choir of the Episcopal church of this city tendered Mr. F. S. Gray a farewell party at the residence of Mr. Charles Muckle Monday evening. Mr. Gray has been an industrious and earnest worker in the cause since his arrival here about a year ago, and in recognition of this fact the members of his church presented him with a handsome combination prayer book and hymnal. Dr. Cliff, with a few appropriate and well-chosen words, made the presentation on behalf of the Guild, to which Mr. Gray responded with such remarks as to further ingratiate himself into the good wishes of those present. Mr. Gray has joined the British Columbia diocese and expects to leave Portland in about one week for his new field of labor. Besides much delightful music during the evening, there was a bountiful luncheon spread by the hostess, Mrs. Switzer. Mr. Gray leaves the work here followed by the best wishes of many persons for success in future undertakings.

Operations to Continue.

It will be gratifying news to people of Columbia county, and especially those residing at Goble, and interested in the operation of the extensive milling plant conducted by the late H. B. Borthwick, to learn that the mill will be operated as usual under the management of Mr. D. J. Moore, of Portland, the administrator of the estate. This authority was vested in Mr. Moore by the probate court of Multnomah county last Friday, the following item appearing in the Oregonian last Saturday:

"D. J. Moore, administrator of the estate of H. B. Borthwick, deceased, was authorized to purchase and deliver to the United States, at Fort Stevens and Fort Canby, 300 cords, 500 cords and 700 cords hardwood, according to a contract, and also to deliver certain ties to the Southern Pacific Company in fulfillment of a contract. He was also autorized to lease the mill in Columbia county, and manufacture logs, etc., on hand, so long as the same is profitable."

This fact means much in a financial way for the people of Goble, and in fact for the entire county, as employment for a very large number of persons will thus be afforded. As the above clipping indicates, operations will continue so long as the plant can be made to pay its way.

Here for Treatment.

A peculiar case confronts the county authorities at present. Mr. E. C. Symons, who for about ten years, has resided in Beaver valley, is an inmate of the county jail, having been sent here last Friday by the justice of the peace at Rainier precinct. Symons was arrested on a charge of larceny of canned fruit from a neighbor, and since his arrival here, when the facts in the case were brought to light, the wonder is that he did not appropriate all the edibles in the neighborhood to his own use. The man has diabetes in the very worst form, and it seems almost impossible for him to get enough food to appease his appetite. At the preliminary examination of the man before Justice Woodruff, the defendant practically pleaded guilty to the charge, and he is held to await the action of the grand jury. It is without doubt fortunate that the circumstances are such, because at the best, Mr. Symons can live but a short time. It is not an uncommon thing for Mr. Symons to drink six or eight gallons of water in twenty-four hours and supply his body with food in the same proportion. He had lived alone, and having no means with which to purchase food, he became desperate, knowing his case should have immediate treatment. He has a 160-acre tract of land, worth perhaps $500 or $600, against which there is a mortgage for $220. Mr. Symons says he is willing to deed the land to the county in consideration of being treated for his ailment. The man can be treated at this place as well as at Portland, and undoubtedly he will be kept here for a time at least. No doubt the man is slightly mentally deranged, but careful treatment will certainly relieve that ailment. At the present time, however, there is little change for the better in Mr. Symons' condition.

To Unite the Districts.

An effort is to be made at once to unite the school districts of Houlton and St. Helens. Petitions have been prepared and will soon be circulated praying the school superintendent to make the change of boundaries. Following is the petition:

"To the Honorable County School Superintendent of Columbia County, State of Oregon.

"We, the undersigned residents and legal voters of school districts numbered two (2) and No. 39, of said county and state, would respectfully petition you to change the boundaries of said school districts, so as to incorporate them within one boundary, thereby forming one school district, to the end that a suitable school-building may be erected that will accommodate all the pupils of each school district, said building to be erected midway between the towns of St. Helens and Houlton, as may be hereafter agreed upon by the voters of each district, and for which your petitioners will ever pray."

Winning Distinction.

Mr. J. B. Godfrey, of this city, has won quite an honored place for himself on the list of applicants for appointment in the government customs service. Mr. Godfrey has twice taken the civil service examinations, held at Portland, the last one being eminently satisfactory to the board, as well as highly pleasing to himself. In recognition of his high percentage in the final summing up of the papers, Mr. Godfrey, a day or two since, received the following letter from the department:

"NOTICE OF ELIGIBILITY.

"UNITED STATES CIVIL SERVICE COMMISSION.

"Board of Civil Service Examiners,
"Custom House,
"PORTLAND, Oregon, Oct. 24, 1899.

"JAMES B. GODFREY, St. Helens, Oregon. Sir:—You are hereby informed that the papers of the examination taken by you June 21, 1899, for the third grade have been marked, and that the general average attained by you is 89.40. Having passed the examination at the required average you are eligible for appointment on probation to the grade above mentioned. Your name is number two.

"Very respectfully,
"R. F. BARNES, Secretary."

Letter from Dr. McLaren.

We received a short letter from Dr. McLaren last Sunday, and here produce a portion of it as the doctor's many friends in this county will be pleased to learn that he is succeeding admirably in his efforts to further fit himself for a higher position in the practice of his profession:

"TORONTO, Ont., Oct. 23, 1899.

"DAVID DAVIS, St. Helens, Or.—Dear Sir: I left word with several of the boys for you to send me THE MIST, but as it is not arriving I presume they or you have neglected the matter. Take timely warning and send it immediately to my address until further notice.

"I just received word of Mr. Borthwick's untimely ending, and was deeply shocked; in fact, I can hardly realize it.

"I am taking a post-graduate course here, and think it will do me an infinite amount of good. The examinations will not take place until next June. There is to be a supplemental next month, but hardly think I can prepare for it. Am studying pretty hard and still gaining in weight.

"A regiment of volunteers leave here for the Transvaal next Wednesday (Canadian volunteers) and everyone expects a big demonstration. They are being used all right, as the citizens are planning to have their lives insured for $1000 each.

"Kind regards to all friends, and don't forget to send the paper.

"Yours fraternally,
"ALEX P. MCLAREN."

Teaching Little Women.

The small girl with the housewifely instincts has been remembered by the toy manufacturers, and there is now a complete set of household implements for her use. The laundry sets contain tubs, two ironing boards, one for the small and the other for the large pieces, two clothes baskets, a wringer, of course, a clotheshorse, package of clothespins, tied with narrow blue ribbons, clothes-lines, flatirons of various sizes, even to any tiny pointed ones on purpose for Dolly's ruffles and laces, and a laundress doll, dressed in seersucker, with rolled-up sleeves, immaculate white cap and big check apron. For the care of her doll house there are patent sweepers, mops and diminutive chamois brooms, pails, cakes of real sapolio and soap, step ladder, and all other necessaries and luxuries for most elaborate housekeeping. If familiarity with all the paraphernalia for running a house counts for anything, the small girl of today will be a perfect mother and capable housewife when she grows up.

Prosperity in Kansas.

When the populists of Kansas are not kicking, it is a pretty good sign of prosperous times. And they are not kicking, even gently at present. A Mr. Breidenthal, one of their leaders, remarks in the picturesque Kansan language of the present prosperity:

"You can find it everywhere and can cut it off in great chunks. There never was a time when anybody could find more prosperous, more contented, or a happier people. We have been through the fire of adversity, and we not only appreciate the contrast, but have profited by the experience."

Mr. Breidenthal is a state bank examiner, and he presumably knows what he is talking about, and asserts that the people of Kansas have paid off no less than $187,000,000 of mortgages during the past two years. The state banks have now $4,000,000 of the people's money on deposit, while in 1896 there were only $14,500,000, and the money is plentiful at 5½ per cent.

Kansas is, however, only comparatively prosperous, for it had a prolonged siege of hard times before the present prosperity began, but the favorable conditions existing there obtain in other states, in even a more remarkable degree. When good times strike Kansas, the rest of the world ought to be rolling in wealth.

Used by British Soldiers in Africa.

Capt. C. G. Dennison is well known all over Africa as commander of the forces that captured the famous rebel Galishe. Under date of Nov. 4, 1897, from Vryburg, Bechuanaland, he writes: "Before starting on the last campaign I bought a quantity of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy, which I used myself when troubled with bowel complaint, and had given to my men, and in every case it proved most beneficial." For sale by Dr. Edwin Ross.

On Every Bottle

Of Shiloh's Consumption Cure is this guarantee: "All we ask of you is to use two-thirds of the contents of this bottle faithfully, then, if you say you are not benefited, return the bottle to your druggist and he may refund the price paid." Price 25 cts., 50 cts. and $1.00. Sold by Dr. Edwin Ross, druggist, St. Helens, and N. A. Perry, Houlton.

When your supply of printed stationery becomes exhausted, send in an order to this office, where best quality of stock and workmanship are furnished at prices consistent with such qualities.

Mr. E. S. Faxon, teacher of the Yankton school, informs us that a school entertainment will be given at the Yankton school house on Friday evening, November 10th, to which all are invited.

L. B. Stuart was over from Vernonia Wednesday. While L. B. was in the city he interviewed the county clerk to the tune of $2.50 worth of documents authorizing him to make Emma L. Machin his wife.

Wash Muckle, who has been in Portland for some time receiving treatment for rheumatism, is at present suffering from an attack of sore eyes and a severe cold which he contracted about one week ago. Otherwise he is somewhat improved.

Mr. H. O. Howard, the Yankton sawmill man, was in Portland Wednesday consulting the boiler manufacturers of that place in regard to furnishing him a new and larger boiler for his sawmill. Mr. Howard says he believes conditions would warrant him in increasing the capacity of his plant, and such an improvement may soon be made.

Mr. Collins, of the Honeyman farm, near Scappoose, was in town Tuesday morning. Mr. Collins reports the corn crop in the Scappoose district as being enormous this year. While some damage rasulted to the crop from the frosts of three weeks ago, the work of preparing the product for silage has gone steadily on and about every farmer in that vicinity has one or more large silos filled for winter use.

The "woodshed" social will be held at Masonic hall, Thursday evening, November 9th. Admission free. Lunch 15 cents. A musical and literary programme is being prepared. A collection will be taken to give all those interested in the Sunday school and church services held in the Congregational church a chance to contribute something toward building a woodshed at that church. Everybody invited.

Our job printing department is kept busy most of the time turning out commercial and society work of all kinds. We are constantly adding to our job material and the reputation of turning out good work is given us by all who patronize us. Our prices are consistent with good workmanship. We will print anything from a calling card to a poster or a book, and do it well and promptly.

It will not be a surprise to any who are at all familiar with the good qualities of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy, to know that people everywhere take pleasure in relating their experience in the use of that splendid medicine and telling of the benefit they have received from it, of bad colds it has cured, of threatened attacks of pneumonia it has averted and of the children it has saved from attacks of croup and whooping cough. It is a grand, good medicine. For sale by Dr. Edwin Ross.

Chamberlain's Pain Balm Cures Others, Why Not You?

My wife has been using Chamberlain's Pain Balm, with good results, for a lame shoulder that has pained her continually for nine years. We have tried all kinds of medicines and doctors without receiving any benefit from any of them. One day we saw an advertisement of this medicine and thought of trying it, which we did with the best of satisfaction. She has used only one bottle and her shoulder is almost well. —ADOLPH L. MILLETT, Manchester, N. H. For sale by Dr. Edwin Ross.

WARREN AND SCAPPOOSE.

Edythe Hazen spent Sunday at Portland.

George Ramsey was a Portland visitor last week.

George Vollens is erecting another silo on the Hegele farm.

Henry Collins and Hank Bushman spent Sunday at Portland.

Bert West and Don C. Allard were Portland visitors last week.

Peter McCracken, of Portland, spent Sunday at the Honeyman farm.

Miss Mae Slavens is spending a few days with relatives at Castle Rock.

Lloyd Price, who has been very ill for the last week, is improving rapidly.

Four teams have been hauling lumber for the new church for the last two days.

Mr. and Mrs. Miller, of Portland, spent Sunday with J. S. Bacon and family.

Carpenters are very busy building a porch around the house at the Honeyman farm.

James A. Bacon, who is stationed at Fort Stevens, Or., spent Sunday here with relatives.

Dale Semple and Frank Hoyt spent a couple of days at Bunker hill the first part of the week.

Miss Pearl Bunker, who has been making her home with Mr. and Mrs. Price, has gone to Portland to reside.

Will Sheffield happened in from the wilderness last week, and expressed great satisfaction at getting back into civilization once again.

Henry Larsen, Jr. while riding horseback one day last week, had the misfortune to have his horse fall with him, causing a severe shaking up.

Calvin Johnson is making preparations to manufacture cheese. He also has purchased a 250-gallon churn to take the place of a 100-gallon one.

Tommy Callahan wants it distinctly understood that it was not him who rode in the hurry-up wagon, but Tom will admit that it was a friend of his.

Mr. and Mrs. Newton Perry, Mrs. Gilsan, Capt. Henderson and Mr. Spence attended a meeting of the Artisan Assembly at Scappoose on Saturday evening last.

Word comes from the slough that the wild hay, which Tony Barber has stowed in his barn, has heated to such a degree that grave fears were entertained for the safety of the building.

Tom Callahan has been very busy for the past week building for himself a chicken house. George Fox informs us that all the poultry owners in that vicinity are buying locks. What for, we could not say.

Gust Ostby lost one of his fine milch cows last week. The cow in coming down a steep hill on his place became wedged between two logs, and in some manner broke her back, making it necessary to kill her.

One of the most pleasant fellows it has ever been our good luck to meet is our schoolteacher, Don C. Allard. In the short time that Mr. Allard has had charge of the school he has won his way into the hearts of his pupils, who can speak of him only in the most flattering terms. Mr. Allard is giving good satisfaction, and the parents and the school board are to be congratulated on securing the services of the gentleman.

The following was received by Ed McFarland last week. After reading it over carefully, Mac decided to avail himself of the opportunity; so with the only clean sheet on the ranch and a pillow-case that had seen better days, he left on Friday evening's train to make sure that he would be there on time:

Ho! all you lads and lassies, hark!
To the C. E. party at 455 West Park,
Hie you next Tuesday eve, Halloween night,
And bring you a sheet of ghostly white;
And to hide your head and lovely face
Bring you a mask and a pillow case.
Refreshments there'll be for the inner man,
And for our fortunes the future will scan.
So come ye young people, join the throng.
And bring your friends and kindred along.

When your correspondent read the last line of this invitation, he drew Mac's attention to it, but Mac would not tumble worth a cent.

Card of Thanks.

We wish to thank our friends and neighbors for their kindness in our late bereavement.
