It is the duty of every Republican not only to register himself, but to impress upon his Republican friends the importance of a compliance with the registration law.

Miss Maude Watts, of Seapooze, left last Thursday for San Francisco, where she was to join her sister, Marie, on a visit for three or four weeks, when both will return home.

Mr. A. C. Wolf, one time a resident of this county, having a homestead on the west side of Bunker hill, writes from Houston, Texas, under date of April 18, ordering The Mist for one year.

There will be a lecture delivered at the hall at Goble this (Friday) evening, April 27th, on Woodcraft, by Mr. Wheeler, for men only. Mr. Wheeler is an able speaker and his talk will undoubtedly be of much interest.

Besides rendering a decision in the fishing net case of George versus the O. R. & N. Co., last Saturday, Judge McBride "set" and hatched out a brood of divorces, as follows: Mary A. Rosier versus M. Rosier; Anna Clover versus Fred T. Clover.

The local mills have so many orders ahead that it is almost impossible for them to supply lumber for street improvements. All mills are run to their fullest capacity, and if there was another sawmill here it would be a paying investment.—Astoria Herald.

The new logging road that is being built by the Benson Company to tap the Salmon creek district has had the effect of raising the price of timber in that section. Claims are now finding a ready sale at $25.00 each, and the price of stumps has gone up to 50 cents per thousand feet.—Astoria Budget.

H. O. Howard's two stallions, Roe and Ben, will stand during this season at their owner's place, at Yankton, two days each week. Mares left for breeding will be pastured free of charge, and every precaution exercised for their protection from accidents. Care will be taken in breeding, but no responsibility for unavoidable accidents will be taken.

Messrs. B. H. Bailey and J. H. Brin, who are establishing a general merchandise business at Houston, were in Portland Monday purchasing their stock of goods. The firm will be known as Bailey & Brin, and they will endeavor to carry such goods in stock as will meet the demands of the people in the vicinity in which they will do business. Their place of business will be open to the public in a few days.

Mr. G. W. Stattler, of Quincy, was in town Monday and Tuesday. Mr. Stattler is employed this year in Benson's logging camp, at Stella, where he says 250,000 feet are put in every day. An immense force of men is employed, and the season's output will be enormous. Mr. Stattler says that modern methods of logging makes the work much easier on the men, and the scale of wages paid exceeds that of any previous year.

The following from an exchange applies with equal force to almost every community: "The trouble with some people in towns about the size of ours, is that they will not cast their bread upon the waters unless they are assured in advance that in a few days it will come back to them a full-grown sandwich, all trimmed with ham and mustard and rolled in a warranty deed for one-half the earth and a mortgage on the other half."

Considerable railroad excitement is on just now at Goble. Some persons say the railroad from Goble to Nehalem will not be built because the route is impracticable on account of heavy grades, yet with modern engineering science there seems to be no obstacle too great to overcome, and if the projectors really want to build a railroad through that particular section of country the grade will cut very little figure. When money and determination start out to accomplish a thing it will come very near succeeding.

The firm of Anton & Ellis of Rainier, has been dissolved. Mr. Anton retiring. The firm will hereafter be known as M. Ellis & Co., Mr. M. Notorious having purchased an interest in the business. Mr. Ellis mailed us an order this week for 8000 impressions of commercial job printing, bill heads, statements, letter heads and note heads. The firm has just received a new and large stock of millinery, dresses, shoes, laces, ribbons, hats, in fact, a complete stock of ladies' summer goods, besides a large stock of gentlemen's furnishings, which is being sold at reasonable prices.

Rev. Mr. McLaughlin returned to this city last Friday after an absence of several weeks. Mr. McLaughlin was detained from his labors here on account of having assigned to him the work of preparing for the annual camp meeting of his church at Canby this summer. Immediately upon his return here he took office of the work of building the church edifice, the material for which was put on the ground during his absence. Work on the building will be pushed along steadily until it is completed. The laying of the corner stone of the church was conducted with appropriate exercises Tuesday afternoon at 2 o'clock.

It is surprising what little value the people of the Pacific coast set upon their forests of valuable timber. If they don't wake up to the situation, it will be but a matter of a short time until all of the available timber in the state will be in the hands of Eastern men. In the near future the value of the timber now in many cases being destroyed to get the land clear will be many times the value of the land. Should this state of affairs continue until all the land is "cleared" and the holders thereof begin to set their own price upon it, perhaps the people who have the most right to enjoy the natural resources of this country will begin to realize where they got left.—Drain Watchman.

Largest beer in town at "Duke's Place."

Messrs. Kelley & Gilson returned Tuesday evening from Nehalem valley, whether they had gone in quest of beef cattle. They succeeded in finding and bringing with them two first-class beef animals.

George Lemont became mixed up in a runaway accident a few days since, and in consequence is "wearing" a crippled leg and arm, the result of falling under the wagon wheels, which passed over his limbs.

Robert George came up from Muckie's camp last Saturday night. On Saturday night Robert rode the first degree out of the Masonic order. Bob says that while he encountered a few dubious places on his journey, he still has hopes of reaching the millennium in safety.

The Tillamook Headlight says: Railroad gossip, in fact, any old thing of a railroad rumor, is freely discussed, and this is how we size them up: Pro-Prospect, Pro-railroad, Pro-Prospect, Pro-railroad. We're now ready to discuss railroad gossip once more. Next, please."

Mr. J. R. Thomas, of Auburn precinct, was in town Wednesday evening. Mr. Thomas is one of those black republicans, and he states that if Auburn precinct does not go republican on the 4th of June it will be so distressingly close as to cause the other fellows some alarm.

Every printing office has a devil, a hell box, a chased form, embraces without number, daggers, lock-ups and galley, its forms are made up, its furniture is made out of lead, it has coils but no money, makes many impressions, has sticks and imposing stones, rollers and moulds, and no end to funny things. But they're all essential to the business.

Calamity howlers in Tillamook county have had their wind snuff off by the fact that dairymen are receiving unusually high prices for butter fat and all kinds of cattle fetch figures away up. In fact, dairymen in this county never participated in better times. And for that reason they will vote the Republican ticket for a continuance of prosperity.—Tillamook Headlight.

We wish to impress especially upon the Republican voters of this county the importance of their compliance with the registration law. No Republican should be so lax in his duty to himself and to his party as to deny himself the right of franchise at the polls next June. This is the only thing which will admit of any Republican candidate being defeated, and the election of the entire ticket means a solid front and successful presidential contest.

Mr. Frank Brown was up from his logging camp on Coweeman last Tuesday. Mr. Brown states that it is quite difficult for the loggers to keep a crew of men owing to the great demand for laborers and the exceedingly high rate of wages offered to men for all classes of work. It is a very common saying that loggers now have two crews of men, one in the woods and the other on the road. Employees are the independent class now, instead of the employees, and the only way to keep men is to pet them consistently.

The sternwheel steamer City of Eugene was sold by United States Marshal Houser at Portland last week to satisfy a large aggregation of claims against her. B. F. Cauley, Tom Nordby and Ole Olson were the purchasers and the price paid was $1,500. Claims aggregating over $4,000 were lodged against the boat. They were for labor performed, material furnished, etc., and ranged from a few cents each to as high as $500 and over. The craft has been tied up since February, awaiting a settlement of the suit.

Our town has had many visitors this week, who were attending the annual meeting of the Congressional Ministerial Association. The session lasted two days, evening sessions also being held. A most interesting and instructive programme was carried out, the most prominent ministers in this state being present and taking part in the discussions. On Wednesday a public dinner was served at the church, which was attended and enjoyed by nearly the entire population. Each and every one of the visitors was welcome to our midst, and it is the expressed hope of the residents that the meeting was as greatly enjoyed and beneficial to the visitors as it was to the people of St. Helens.

Enjoyable Party. A most enjoyable time was had at the home of Grandma Little, at Houston, on Monday evening, being the birthday of the hostess, who was 73 years of age. The party was made up largely of the members of the Houston Union Sunday school, of which Mrs. Little is the superintendent. Those present were Captain Henderson and wife, Mr. and Mrs. Thos. Henderson, daughter, Lela and Ruth, Mrs. Henshaw, Mrs. Shintaffer, Mrs. L. Meeker, Mrs. Clark, Mrs. Copeland, Mr. Chas. Emerson, Mrs. Bailey, Mrs. Haddock, Mrs. Urie, Mrs. Charles Perry, Mrs. N. A. Perry, Mr. A. B. Little and a number of young children. Many valuable presents were received. Mrs. Little which were very appreciated by her on account of the love and good will shown by the friends.

Important Ruling. An important decision respecting the relative rights of fishermen and navigators was handed down in the Circuit Court here last Saturday by Judge McBride, in overruling a demurrer to a suit brought by Arthur George vs. the O. R. & N. Co. The suit was to recover damages alleged to be due from steamers of the O. R. & N. Co., destroying a gillnet belonging to the plaintiff. In his opinion, Judge McBride says he believes the right of fishing is subordinate to the right of navigation, and a vessel in her ordinary channel, cannot materially delay her voyage, even to the injury of a net, being the fisherman's duty to keep his net out of the ordinary channels. In that part of the river not in the ordinary channel, it is the duty of the pilot to give the fishermen ample warning. In this case it is charged that the steamer was out of her usual course and willfully destroyed the gillnet. If these charges be sustained, Judge McBride said the plaintiff would be entitled to recover.

More Logging Camps. Logging camps along the Columbia are more numerous and greater capacity than ever before, and still the output is not sufficient to supply the demand of the mills here, which are now more numerous than ever before. It is therefore necessary that more logging camps should be started, and a corporation has been formed to this effect, under the name of the Deep River Logging Company, which has acquired an option on a large tract of timber land on Deep river, a stream coming into the Columbia from the Washington side somewhere in the vicinity of Knappa, and the probability is that the logging camp will be started there before long. Three miles of railroad will have to be built to get the logs out to water, where they can be made into rafts, but this is not much of an undertaking for loggers now, as most logging camps have railroads several miles in length connected with them.—Oregonian, 23d.

Back from Kansas. Mr. E. Hall, for several years a resident of this county at Warren, and who a short time since, disposed of his property at that place, and returned to his former home in Kansas, returned last Friday to this city and will remain in Oregon during the summer. Mr. Hall visited Hill City, Kansas, the county seat of Graham county, near which place he owns eighty acres of land. While in Hill City he met G. A. Sanford, former editor of the Columbia County News, and J. Heckert, who was an employee of Sanford's at this place. Sanford is engaged in the publication of a newspaper, The People's Revueille. Mr. Hall was absent from this county about one month, and says although property is on the wane in "bleeding Kansas," and prospects are excellent for big crops there again this year, Oregon is a pretty good country, especially Columbia county. Mr. Hall's experience is also the experience of hundreds of other persons who were inclined to think they had not altogether misjudged with conditions here, but when they go away they are glad to get back.

Entertainment for the Benefit of the School Library Fund. On Saturday evening of this week an entertainment will be given at the large hall by the young ladies of this city. The proceeds will be given to the school for the purpose of buying books to add to their library. Among other features of the programme is a wand drill by sixteen young ladies in costume. Admission 25 and 10 cents. Doors open at 7:30 and the exercises will begin promptly at 8 o'clock.

Now that the bicycle season is on, our friend, John Downing, has taken his old horse to the cany after holding full away with his horse and buggy all winter, is now seriously thinking of getting himself a wheel. Quite a number of invited friends assembled at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Max Berg last Sunday. The day was very pleasantly spent and one to be remembered as Mr. and Mrs. Berg are both pleasant entertainers.

Urie, Mr. and Miss Jessie Wilson, of Portland, and Miss Dora Wilson, of MeLoan, of Portland, officiating. Ed McClure is back again from Washington county to take charge of the team of Northy & Flippen and haul lumber for their mill to the steamer landing for shipment.

The addition to the E. S. Bryant building goes on slowly. Carpenters seem quite busy these days and divide their time among different applicants for their services.

Mrs. W. J. Zillman returned Monday evening from the hospital in Portland where she spent three or four weeks. While not yet strong, she reports herself much improved.

The highest residence is being improved by the addition of some new posts on the front to support the porch roof. Some other changes, too, about the building are giving it a more attractive appearance.

Frank Merrill's residence now boasts (or it may be the occupants do the foundation) of a solid brick wall as a boast, making it one of the most substantial buildings in town. Some interior improvements are also in progress.

Oliver Anderson, of Upper Clatskanie, returned from Astoria Tuesday, where he reports he has been quite ill for two weeks. His appearance indicated the truthfulness of his story. It is to be hoped he will speedily recover after his return home.

Our delapidated highway towards Tichenor's mill is being improved by new plank in places to cover over the worst chock holes. The plank came none to soon. With this piece of road improved, we would have a pretty fair road for teaming out to Mist.

Rev. Ray Palmer, of Portland, gave an address one evening last week under the auspices of the National Young People's Christian Temperance Union, of which he is Vice President. The address was a very excellent one and should have been heard by a larger audience.

A very small boy has located at the home of Prof. and Mrs. Whitten, whose interests are being guarded most tenderly. There is not a perfect agreement as to whether he looks most like his father or mother, opinions being divided on the matter. Stanwood's new mill is now doing business. This week the plank is being sawed to cover the dam, which is now nearly completed. The new structure will hold several feet more of water than the old one and it is hoped a sufficient head can now be laid to carry out the large logs that have lain so long in the creek.

Remarkable Cure of Rheumatism. KEFKA, Jackson Co., W. Va. About three years ago my wife had an attack of rheumatism which confined her to her bed for over a month and rendered her unable to walk a step without assistance, her limbs being swollen to double their normal size. Mr. S. Maddox insisted on my using Chamberlain's Pain Balm. I purchased a 50-cent bottle and used it according to the directions and the next morning she walked to breakfast without any assistance in any manner, and she has not had a similar attack since.—A.
