working on for so long a time had much promise of soon being consummated, a thing devoutly wished for by not only those gentlemen, but many persons who have lands contracted for sale.

Help your own town and by doing so help yourself. Spend your money here as far as you are able. This is not only good common sense, but is first-class business policy. The money that you send away is gone out of circulation as far as you are concerned, but what you spend here is sure to help in the general prosperity and that will help you sooner or later. Help your merchants and business men who pay taxes, support the city and County, and keep things moving.

New Astoria is going to have a million-adollar drydock, and that in the near future. It is learned through a reliable source that plans and specifications have already been drawn and approved for such a structure to be erected by the Simpson Drydock Company, of New York, at that place. The authority for the above is a prominent official of the Southern Pacific Railroad Co., who was in Astoria a few days ago. He had not simply heard of the contemplated enterprise, but had seen and examined the plans and specifications for the affecture, which have already been approved by the officers of the company.

The entertainment and social held at the Congregational church last Friday evening was very much of a success in every way, unless it was financially, a fact to be accounted for by the uncertain condition of the weather, which for some time previous, was not very much like the kind to engender burning full time and favorable spring, which like $6 or $8 was realized.

It's news.

The horse-killing and pickling establishment at Linnton, which is not in any sense of the word a "cannery," is running full time and disposing of sixty useless cayuses per day. Over 2000 of these animals have been placed in "horse de combat" this season, and over 3000 more are in line for the slaughter.
