

OREGON MIST.

JULY 13, 1900.

Messrs. Kelley & Gilson, who have been running the market in this place for some time, have gone out of business. The shop is for rent.

At a meeting of the school board held a few days since, it was decided to have the school here open on September 24th. Miss Daisy Watkins was employed to teach the primary department.

If that Indiana, who, two years ago predicted an summer or winter for ten years, could be found, he would certainly be dead by this time, for he never that he would not care to make any further predictions concerning the weather. He would soon be a good Indian.

We have many unpaid accounts on our books, ranging from $1 to $10, for which we would be quite obliged if our debtors would call and liquidate. The amount each individual owes is small, but taken in the aggregate it amounts to a considerable sum. Do not hesitate on account of fear of offending us by offering to pay your account. We won't get angry.

The saloon firm of Clouinger & Whitney, who have conducted the Banquet saloon for some time, has been dissolved by mutual consent. Mr. Clouinger retiring. The business will be conducted in future by Mr. Whitney, who will endeavor to keep a carefully selected and abundant stock on hand to supply the demands of the patrons of the wet goods department.

Census Enumerator Godfrey has at last completed the census taking for the Sixth district, although it required more time than was allowed for it. He was allowed pay for two days extra, but that much time was insufficient. He put in nearly a week extra time. Mr. Godfrey was determined to have a thorough and accurate enumeration, hence a few days extra time devoted to the work, will be returned to his glory if not to his purse.

Despite the rain the people of Deer Island celebrated the Fourth of July. Glorious Fourth. The home of Mr. and Mrs. Brown, which was beautifully decorated with flags and flowers, was the rendezvous of the people of the neighborhood, where, also, was served a most luscious dinner. At 11 o'clock, besides an abundance of refreshments throughout the day. In the evening dancing was indulged in and continued throughout the night. Mr. and Mrs. Brown have the thanks of the entire community for their generosity and hospitality.

A very distressing accident occurred on board the railroad transfer boat at Goble last Sunday afternoon. James Blair, of Seattle, a passenger en route, attempted to step from a moving section of the train to a section which had already been run aboard the boat, and in doing so his foot was caught between the cars, and he was severely injured. He was taken over to Kalama, where Dr. Darnall completed the job by the use of the knife in cutting a few fragments of skin and flesh.

The plank walk from St. Helens to Houlton is sadly in need of repair, and the sooner the work of rebuilding is undertaken the less expensive it will be. The walk should not be allowed to become dangerous and finally useless, because its presence has been of too great value. There is no one particularly responsible for the condition of the walk, hence a consent of effort on the part of the people of the two towns should be directed in keeping it in repair. Some good, public spirited individuals can earn a crown of glory by starting the movement that will result in the repair of the walk.

The County Coroner elected on the 4th of June, Dr. M. K. Hall, of Rainier, did not present himself to qualify before the County Clerk which was in session last week, and the Court held the vacancy by appointing Dr. H. R. Cliff, of this city, who had been the acting Coroner since Dr. McLaren left the County over a year ago. Many people in the County may be curious to know why the Coroner-elect failed to qualify. It was by reason of not being a citizen of the United States, the doctor having made application to become a citizen only last February. Dr. Cliff will see that none of the duties of the office are neglected.

Since the recent fire at Rainier the town presents a very demoralized appearance. But unfortunate as the occurrence is, there is still some fortune in the fact that the results are not more disastrous. It was only by the most heroic efforts that the large new hotel building was saved from the ravages of the flames, the destruction of which, together with the destruction of the place contained in the lower story, would have rendered the town almost without a business house in it. The wharves were fortunately saved, which renders it possible for steamers to land there, but the dismantling of the large business houses along the water front creates considerable of a vacant appearance about the town. The work of rebuilding has already begun.

The proposition of building a railroad from Reuben to Nehalem Valley promises tangible results. A good deal of material for preliminary work has already been delivered at Reuben, and on Monday the steamer Gatzert took down a quantity of lumber out of which to build a large camp capable of accommodating 200 men, who are expected to go to work on the proposed road at once. From the best information it is possible to get, it is estimated that the road about three and one-half miles of road will be built just as quickly as it is possible to prosecute the work. This is done in order to tap a very extensively timbered region, and the work of putting logs in the water will begin as soon as possible. The ultimate purpose of the promoters of the project, we understand, is to reach Nehalem Bay by crossing the divide from the Columbia River, intercepting the Nehalem River near the mouth of Oak Ranch Creek, thence following the valley to the river's mouth.

A very extensive fluvial enterprise is soon to be launched in Beaver Lake. It is currently reported that Messrs. T. Cleaton, C. E. Runyon and Charles W. Maygar are to put several thousand dollars into the enterprise with Messrs. Bros., and build the large flume from Messerve's mill to Quincy. Several months ago this matter was seriously talked of by Messrs. Bros., in fact, to such an extent as to secure the right-of-way. We presume this latter matter will be the same, and if carried out as now contemplated, will mean a very extensive undertaking and a very important and valuable enterprise for the region. The plan of which all timbermen readily understand. We are informed that the manufacturer of lumber at the Messerve mill will be extensively carried on, the product flumed to the railroad, and marketed both by water and rail.

DEACON THinks he can make it.

Mrs. J. G. Watta visited the metropolitan Wednesday. Merchant Fowler was up from Goble Monday forenoon.

Mr. M. J. Engler, of Scappoose, was in town last Friday. Mr. William Scholz, of Scappoose, was in the County Seat Tuesday.

Mrs. Jacob Brons, of Rainier, visited relatives at Houlton this week. Rev. Mr. Philbrook will preach next Sunday at Paris and Yankton at the usual hours.

Mr. Chas. Conyers, a hardware merchant of Clatskanie, was in the city on business Monday.

Jacob George and son and daughter, of Portland, spent Saturday and Sunday last in this city.

Miss Mabel Clark, of Stella, Wash., visited her sister, Mrs. Eugene Whitney, in this city this week.

Miss Tillie Muckle, of Portland, is spending a month's vacation with her relatives in this city.

Miss Phoebe Battmann, of Portland, has been visiting relatives in this city during the past week.

The steamer Republic is now on the Portland-Rainier run. Her first trip was made last Tuesday.

The opening of the present week with pleasant weather caused many people to depart for the beach.

Mrs. J. H. Groves, of Portland, visited her daughter, Mrs. J. G. Muckle, in this city a few days last week.

Cloud Chamberlain, of Washington County, came down on Monday to visit with his brothers at Houlton.

Mrs. Hortense Rice, of Portland, came down Saturday to spend about ten days vacation with her relatives here.

The County Treasurer has a call in this issue for all outstanding warrants endorsed prior to November 1, 1899.

Miss Annie Orwig and Essie Hattan, of this place, returned Monday from Clatskanie, where they visited a week.

William Allen, of Vernonia, was in town Tuesday with his team, to take a number of ministers out to the annual campmeeting.

Attorney G. W. Cole is making arrangements to go to Cape Meare. His family expects to remove to Portland to reside while he is in the far North.

At the term of County Court held last week there were exactly 300 warrants drawn. On the general fund the number was 242 and on the road fund 108.

Judge Hayes, of Oregon City, spent last Sunday in this city looking over the field with a view to locating here to practice his profession, that of a lawyer.

Mr. Alfred Cleveland, who had charge of the school here last year, has been elected to the principalship of one of the Astoria schools, and will begin teaching there on October 1st.

Mrs. J. N. Rice and children left Sunday morning for Quincy, Or., where they will spend some time visiting with relatives. They were accompanied by Mr. Rice, who returned Monday.

Mr. Chas. Mayor was in the County Seat last Friday attending to business before the probate judge connected with the estate of George Hayes, deceased, of which he is the administrator.

Owing to a rush of work in the Clerk's office, on account of Circuit Court and other matters of a pressing nature, the proceedings of the County Court will not be ready for publication until next week.

There will be no services conducted at the Episcopal church in this city until early in September, owing to the fact that the clergy of the Portland diocese is taking a summer vacation and no rector will be supplied for this charge.

That Quick man, of abstract fame, of this city, is of resourceful mind. He is determined to have some benefit of his hay crop, even though he has to harvest the product and cure it by use of his fruit dryer. That's a scheme, sure, and may yet have to be resorted to.

At the session of County Court held last week two liquor licenses were granted for six months each, by which the County school fund was replenished to the amount of $400. O. E. Hunter was granted a license to sell liquor at Goble, and W. L. Pulliam a license to sell liquor in Oak Point precinct.

Reports from different sections of the County are to the effect that much grain, especially oats, has been spoiled by rust, caused by the continued rains this summer. Hundreds of tons of hay has been spoiled, and to add further to which, together with the destruction of the place contained in the lower story, would have rendered the town almost without a business house in it. The wharves were fortunately saved, which renders it possible for steamers to land there, but the dismantling of the large business houses along the water front creates considerable of a vacant appearance about the town. The work of rebuilding has already begun.

NEW OFFICERS INSTALLED.

Rainier Knights and Rathbones Hold Joint Installation.

Determined to progress in spite of discouraging conditions, Rainier Knights and the Rathbones, in a joint installation, proceeded with the work of rebuilding their standing as prosperous beneficial societies, which were recently attacked and impaired by elements over which no control was to be had. Without a home, without the least particle of paraphernalia, without a record of any nature, but strong in numbers and powerful in the spirit which defies disaster, with numerous friends, both within and without fraternal societies, the work of putting their orders in good condition and rebuilding their standing was called to order in the lodge room of the Masons last Saturday evening and the necessary business dispatched with a degree of caution and tact remarkable in proficiency and pleasing to all concerned.

A public installation had been announced, and the lower hall of the Masonic building was crowded full of anxious spectators and friends. The brothers, of course, laboring under many difficulties, proceeded with their installation in an almost entirely faultless manner, after which the Rathbone Sisters, assisted by visiting members from Portland and St. Helens, installed their new officers with beautiful and attractive ceremonies. In fact, every person in the room was completely captivated by the excellence of work and attractive features of the proceedings. The work of installation being finished, it was announced that dancing would be indulged in for an hour or two. Tickets were placed on sale at 50 cents each and almost sixty numbers were sold. The ladies served lunch to all who desired it, which was rewarded by about $20 receipts. The cash received will be used to purchase the necessary articles in conducting the work of the business of the two orders. The receipts of the evening amounted to $50.

Clatskanie Items.

A new boy in the family of Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Lewis is being carefully cared for.

Mrs. A. M. Wheeler, of Fair Haven, Wash., is visiting her mother, Mrs. C. W. Jones.

Miss Mary Conyers, of Oregon City, made her parents a brief visit the first of the week.

The school board at a recent meeting, re-elected their members of last year to the coming term.

Some much needed work has been done on the streets by laying of new plank to replace some worn out.

Mrs. Crosby and family, former residents here, were visiting in town the guests of Mr. and Mrs. T. L. Carter.

Mr. and Mrs. Fabrique are in Portland this week accompanying her sister, Mrs. Temple, who leaves here for Lane County.

Mrs. Fannie McDonald and family of San Jacinto, Cal., are spending some time with the lady's parents, Z. Bryant and wife.

Lumber hauling is being done now with vigor since the roads are drying up. Shingles are plenty at the steamer landing, also.

The poetoffice is now in the storeroom of Mr. E. Page & Co., with the two city in charge. Postmaster Warren has moved to Marshland for the summer to try farming.

W. A. Hall returned last week from Cleveland, Wash., where he has been teaching a term of school. He is spending a part of his vacation harvesting in the Nehalem Valley.

The Bryant families had the pleasure of a visit from the Clatskanie contingent of St. Paul, who, while on a visit to the Coast came to Clatskanie to see cousin he had never seen. The visitor was shown around and introduced to a number of our citizens, who found him a very pleasant gentleman.

Considerable attention was paid to a proper observance of the Fourth of July for this year in our town, and a general invitation had been issued to the neighborhood to attend and assist. To this invitation there was quite a generous response, notwithstanding the rain in the morning. The town was quite tastefully decorated with flags, bunting and evergreen trees, which maintained their position in spite of the showers. A little break in the rain about 10 a. m. gave a chance to get out on the street and form the parade. The crowd gathered opposite the church corner, where a flag pole had been raised. "Old Glory" was run up and floated amid cheers, and following this the parade was formed by Grand Marshal Hughes, headed by the City Cornet band, which was followed by girls, young ladies, States, old soldier delegations representing the different societies, some of which were in uniform, making quite a display; citizens and the crowd generally.

The procession marched through town and to the river, where they contended, instead of going to the grounds as intended, and pulled up in front of the Clatskanie Hotel building, where, from the porch, the orator of the day was introduced by Hon. N. Merrill. Judge J. C. Moreland, of Portland, then stepped forward and read the crowd a very able and appropriate address, which owing to the commotion on the street, was not listened to as it should have been. After this dinner was served in Merrill's hall and to others at the various catering houses. In the afternoon the race and ball games occupied the crowd and kept them good natured. The game of ball between Rainier and Clatskanie was won by the former, giving them the prize of $25. It was an exciting game and a bolster to the part of the crowd, whose cheering and shouting could have been heard a long distance. Fireworks at different points in the evening kept the place alive, while crowds gathered at Graham's and Merrill's halls for a night of dancing, many being compelled to cut up all night on account of not being able to get sleeping accommodations, which were all occupied, but not seeming to feel much disturbed over it as long as the music kept going. It was a full day at Clatskanie, rain and all.

Mrs. Jay Downing was a Portland visitor on Thursday.

J. E. Broun, of Rainier, returned on Wednesday from a week's tour in the Gray's Harbor country.

Rev. D. MacLachlan has returned from Canada. He will preach next Sunday at Houlton at 11 o'clock, at Columbia City at 3 in the afternoon and in this city in the evening.

Speaking of quality, Hop Gold beer holds fast to public favor. The honest and delicious flavor of malt and hops and the delicate aroma of this beer will satisfy the most fastidious. For sale at the Craiser, J. H. Wellington, proprietor.

VERNONIA VARIETIES.

At last the haying season is on in full blast.

Arthur Johnson is home during the haying season. Jay McNutt visited last week with his Aunt Rosa Kenney.

Most of the schools in this vicinity have been having vacation the past week.

Lon Emmons visited with the home folks last week, as did also George Adams.

Postmaster C. S. McNutt has been off duty for a few days on account of a slight illness.

Miss Lizzie Early has been quite sick the past week, but is improving rapidly at this writing.

Charlie Solomon, who is visiting his sisters, has been laid up with a grippa for a few days.

Dave Early, who has been working out near Houlton on a ranch, is home during the hay harvest.

Toll Soles and Charles Malinuten will cut Mr. P. Peck's grain this year. They are home cradler's "from away back."

Dow Kenney came home last week and will run the mower purchased of I. P. Spencer during the hay harvest.

Rice and Wrench were out to St. Helens again last week and brought in loads of merchandise for Zilgitt & Uhlman.

Fred Zellar expects to get his stage going soon between here and Houlton. Depends upon the quality of the roads.

There was a shooting match on the commons near the school house last Tuesday. Nearly everybody got a hunk of mutton.

E. G. Shannahan is hauling lumber this week from Smith & Thomas' mill for the finishing touches of his brother Ouan's barn.

Miss Stella Hofer, who has been in Portland all winter and spring, came home Tuesday last and will remain for the summer.

The admirers of Terpechore celebrated the Fourth in the evening with festivities at Webster's hall, and a supper at Frank Tracy's.

Several ranchers from the lower Nehalem were up during the week, looking for men to work in their hay fields and offering $1.50 per day.

Wm. Allen went out to St. Helens Monday. The ministers who will hold the camp meeting come over the mountain with him on Wednesday.

Dr. and Mrs. Hatfield spent Friday last on Upper Peble Creek, visiting with Mrs. H's. brother, W. G. Woods and family, and other friends.

E. Ridgeway, A. M. Randolph and W. G. Woods, who work at Smith & Thomas' mill, down the river, spent Fourth of July week with the home folks.

Some person has been making himself very handy about O. B. Malinuten's place during his absence. Better not do it any more since Otto might be at home one of these days.

Mrs. Frank Tracy and Mrs. Nellie Byron and children leave Thursday for their week for Clatskanie to visit with their sister, and go from there to the Coast for a month or two. Jim Emmons took them on the hill.

The camp meeting begins Wednesday evening of this week and will continue with meetings every afternoon and evening for an indefinite period. Presiding Elder Smith, with three other ministers, will conduct the services.

O. C. Spencer has received word that his application for admission to Stanford University has been accepted and he will enter in September. We congratulate Omar upon his successful effort, and shall expect to see him 'get there'.

John G. Pringle, who was out to Clatskanie last week for a load of merchandise for his father, came near having a serious accident. Coming up the mountain his horses stalled and backed over the embankment. By unloading John managed to get the wagon up again without any damage being done and came on home with his load intact.

The Fourth here was not celebrated in a public way, but there were a number of small picnic parties in the vicinity. At Bacona the Upper Peble Creek folks gathered and spent the day very pleasantly. Quite a number of young people, with a few of the older ones, had a picnic dinner together and a good day at the home of I. P. Spencer, with fireworks in the evening. Parson Strop and family and others spent the day at E. W. Snow's, the Upper Nehalem district and a very enjoyable time. We understand the people of the Keasey neighborhood had a picnic, and that "there were others."

Give or take at the Cruiser.

W. B. Dillard and family are touring the interior of the County on a camping expedition.
