SEPTEMBER 14, 1900.

If the voters could forget history, refuse to learn in the hard school of experience, prefer promise to deeds, be willing to take chances on a wild experiment and want another change there would be some chance of the Nebraska candidate reaching the White House.

There are two kinds of bad Americans—those who are bad because they do things that are bad, and those who are bad because they do not do things that are good. The latter class is no less harmful because of its inactivity; in fact, it is sometimes worse than the former because it lacks the saving virtue of energy. As an excellent representative of this latter class of bad Americans we place in a niche all by himself that eminent citizen, the man who doesn't vote. The man who doesn't vote is an enemy to his neighbor, his country and himself. He is a menance to good government, a friend to corruption, a hindrance to progress. He is either a conceited, supercilious snob, or a sniveling fault-finding, thick-headed ignoramus—and in either case he's a mighty poor specimen.

What the people of this country need just about as much as anything else is to get down to a corned-beef, boiled-cabbage, linsey-woolsey basis. By this we mean that among all classes there is a tendency to overdo things—to live and dress extravagantly, to cut a shine and to be something more than nature intends.

The great trouble is that the people who some years ago were satisfied with a jewsharp must now have a parlor organ. Those who were content with a parlor organ now demand a grand piano, and those who can afford a piano will soon insist upon keeping up a first-class orchestra. The man who earns a dollar thinks he must ape the man who earns double that, while the latter goes into debt head over heels in attempting to equal his neighbor who earns $5 a day. Rag carpet is looked upon as a badge of poverty, while plain china is considered a mark of dishonor.

Silks, satins and velvets have crowded calicoes and ginghams out of the wardrobe, and the sunbonnet and plain straw hats have been driven out of the land by wonderful creations heavy with nodding plumes and gorgeous birds of paradise and birds of flaming tints.

Drink, and the gang drinks with you; swear off and you go it alone, for the bar room bum who drinks your rum has a quenchless thirst of his own. Feast, and your friends are many; fast, and they cut you dead; they'll not get mad if you treat them bad, so long as their stomachs are fed. Steal, if you get a million, for then you can furnish bail; it's the great big thief who gets out on leave, while the little one goes to jail. Advertise, and the dollars come to you; quit, and they fail to come in, for what care the men who have dollars to spend, for the man who don't care to see them.

"I here make the following prophecy: If McKinley is elected and put in power for the next four years, wages will decrease, hard times will come upon us, and over the land the price of wheat will go down, the price of gold will go up, mortgages will be foreclosed by money-lenders and sharks, factories and mills shut down; we will export no goods, we will import all the goods we use, and there will be want and misery over the land. Remember what I say."

Mr. Bryan did not close his predicting department when he received the election returns of 1896. After his defeat he issued an address in which he said: "Before the year 1900 arrives the evil effects of a gold standard will be even more evident than they are now, and the people, then ready to demand an American financial policy for American people, will join with us in the immediate restoration of the free and unlimited coinage of silver at the present legal ratio of 16 to 1." Has anybody noticed a great rush at the realization entrance of this prediction?

Many of the large city dailies appear to find great sport in poking fun at the country papers for printing items of the "Bill-Jones-has-a-new-hen-house" sort, and as a rule the criticism is merited by the county brethren. But it is observed that the metropolitan press itself is not entirely free from this sort of "journalism," items equally trivial often finding their way into its columns. For example, we reprint the following paragraphs clipped from a recent number of a prominent Eastern daily:

"Mr. Bryan will forward his letter of acceptance to Chairman Jones some time after the Indianapolis meeting, but he would not intimate the exact date."

"After sundown last evening the Bryan's went to the farm for a romp. Mr. Bryan busied himself in the barn looking for eggs and he was liberally rewarded for his trouble, while Mrs. Bryan went through the tomato patch."

In the language of Artemas Ward, "This is 2 mutch."

Endured Death's Agonies.

Only a roaring fire enabled J. M. Garrettson, of San Antonio, Texas., to lie down when attacked by asthma, from which he suffered for years. He writes his misery was often so great that it seemed he endured the agonies of death; but Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption wholly cured him. This marvelous medicine is the only known cure for asthma as well as consumption, coughs and colds, and all throat, chest and lung troubles. Price 50 cents and $1.00. Guaranteed. Trial bottles free at the St. Helens Pharmacy.

MR. AND MRS. FRANK BROWN.
Yankton, Or., Sept. 6, 1900.

A Mother Tells How She Saved Her Little Daughter's Life.

I am the mother of eight children and have had a great deal of experience with medicines. Last summer my little daughter had the dysentary in its worst form. I tried everything I could think of, but nothing seemed to do her any good. I saw by an advertisement in our paper that Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy was highly recommended and sent and got a bottle at once. It proved to be one of the very best medicines we ever had in the house. It saved my little daughter's life. I am anxious for every mother to know what an excellent medicine it is. Had I known it at first it would have saved me a great deal of anxiety and my little daughter much suffering.—Yours truly, MRS. GEO. F. BURDICK, Liberty, R. I. For sale at the St. Helens Pharmacy.

The Savery of Woman

Was grandly shown by Mrs. John Dowling, of Butler, Pa., in a three years' struggle with a malignant stomach trouble that caused distressing attacks of nausea and indigestion. All remedies failed to relieve her until she tried Electric Bitters. After taking it two months, she wrote: "I am now wholly cured and can eat anything. It is truly a grand tonic for the whole system as I gained in weight and feel much stronger since using it." It aids digestion, cures dyspepsia, improves appetite, gives new life. Only 50 cents. Guaranteed, at the St. Helens Pharmacy.

During the civil war, as well as our late war with Spain, diarrhoea was one of the most troublesome diseases the army had to contend with. In many instances it became chronic and the old soldiers still suffer from it. Mr. David Taylor, of Wind Ridge, Green County, Pa., is one of these. He uses Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy and says he never found anything that would give him such quick relief. It is for sale at the St. Helens Pharmacy.

You Try It.

If Shiloh's Cough and Consumption Cure, which is sold for the small price of 25 cts., 50 cts. and $1, does not cure, take the bottle back and we will refund your money. Sold for over fifty years on this guarantee. Price 25 cts. and 50 cts. Sold by Dr. Edwin Ross.

How About Your Title?

ARE YOU SURE it is all right? Remember that it is the RECORD that governs. It is our business to search the records and show what they contain in relation to land titles. If you contemplate buying land or loaning money on real-estate security, take no man's word, but insist upon knowing what the record shows regarding the title. An Abstract is as essential as a deed. Insist on having it. We have the only set of abstract books in the county. All work promptly executed and satisfaction guaranteed. If you have property to insure give us a call. We are agents for the best fire insurance companies in the world. If you have property for sale list it with us and we will find a buyer.
