

OREGON MIST.

SEPTEMBER 28, 1900.

Well Look Out.

Ed E. Watts, the man who put a circulating library at this point seven years ago...

Timber Men Numerous.

Timber men from the East, especially Minnesota and Wisconsin, have been coming into Portland considerably of late...

Repairing Nehalem Bridges.

Commissioner Case has the bridge scores Nehalem River at Pittsburg. Mr. Case expects to have the bridge raised this week...

A Combination Cannery.

It is stated that the fruit canning industry is rapidly increasing. Its scope of operations in Oregon is very gratifying and there is every reason to believe that a cannery in this County...

The Opening of School.

The public school of this city opened Monday morning with an attendance much larger than expected and a good deal larger than at the opening day a year ago...

Peculiar Action of Fish.

There is one peculiarity about the run of fall fish this season that is difficult to explain. When the fall season opened there were many of the late run in the river...

Deckhand Drowned.

Charles Hansen, a deckhand employed on the Portland dredger, was drowned in the Columbia at Martin's Island, Wednesday evening...

Another Big Saw Mill.

Portland is to have another big saw mill of a daily capacity of 100,000 feet. This is the report of the committee on manufactures...

Logging Help Scarce.

"I am inclined to vote for Bryan," said L. J. Saldern, the well-known logger, "although I have always been a Republican."

Splendid Advertisement.

According to the report of prizes awarded for exhibit of cattle at the State Fair, published by the Oregonian of Monday, we find the name of H. West, of Scappoose, frequently mentioned...

No Room to Breathe.

A Gloria Mundi apple, from the farm of G. W. Cochran, near Eugene, measures five inches in circumference, and weighs one and half pounds.

We have on exhibition in our office six Gloria Mundi apples which weigh in the aggregate exactly eight pounds, the largest one measuring fourteen and one-half inches and weighs one pound and eight and one-half ounces.

Timber men from the East, especially Minnesota and Wisconsin, have been coming into Portland considerably of late. Most of them are buyers, or "timber cruisers," as they are known.

What Do You Know?

When a newspaper man meets a person who asks the question: "What do you know?" it is not a non-meaning phrase. He is interested in what is going on in the world.

Enthusiasm Ran Amok.

There was a hullabaloo time around town the latter part of last week in an attempt to organize a Bryan club here. Enthusiasm was running at large with out a muzzle on and was finally corked up in the Court House until "a local orator" touched the button and the whole show went off with a bang.

His Leg Amputated.

Mr. Valentine Gliniecki, a resident of the vicinity of Bunker Hill, suffered the loss of his left leg the knee, by amputation, at a Portland hospital recently, the removal of a portion of the member being made necessary, so it is said, by poison caused from using a patent corn medicine.

LITTLE LOCALS.

Alfred Cleveland, of Astoria, spent Sunday in this city. Lars P. Ellison, of North Scappoose, was in town last Friday. Wm. Haslett, of Pittsburg, was in the County Seat last Friday.

Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Robert were Portland visitors last Saturday. Mrs. W. A. Harris visited in Portland Monday and Tuesday of this week.

Houlton people enjoyed a social dance in Perry's hall last Saturday evening. Mrs. Hillberry and children returned last Friday from a week's visit down the river.

N. A. Perry and Mrs. J. G. Watts were passengers for Portland Tuesday morning. Mr. and Mrs. G. G. Mayger have returned from the Washington creamery in Portland.

Mrs. A. S. Foster and son, of Portland, were the guests of Mrs. H. R. Cliff this week. Circuit Court will convene in this city one week from next Tuesday. See the Jury list in another column.

Mrs. J. G. Muckle, of Portland, was in this city last Saturday evening attending Eastern Star Chapter. The household effects of Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Powell have been moved to town and their owners will soon follow.

S. S. Way and C. C. Moyer were passengers Tuesday for Coqueman, where they go to work in Muckle's logging camp. Rev. Mr. Philbrick will preach next Sunday at Bachelor Flat and in the evening in St. Helens at the usual hours.

Mr. and Mrs. M. G. Gray have leased the Wikstrom residence property in this city and will occupy it after the first of October. Mrs. Jacob Alken, of Ashland, Or., arrived here last week to join her husband and reside on their homestead on North Scappoose.

Mrs. R. S. McCall, of Canada, arrived at Houlton about two weeks ago and is now keeping house with her son. Mrs. McCall expects to reside permanently at Houlton. A box social will be given at Houlton tomorrow (Saturday) evening, to which the public is extended a cordial invitation to attend. The proceeds will go to the Sunday school.

I. G. Wikstrom was up from Kalama Monday. Mr. Wikstrom states that his mill is enjoying a splendid patronage at the present time, having more orders than he can conveniently handle. The new steamer Joseph Kellogg came down on her initial trip Tuesday. We have before stated details in regard to the new boat, and suffice now to say she is a neat, swift and commodious craft.

The Oregon conference of the Methodist denomination for the Portland district has assigned to the charge at this place Rev. A. C. Fairchild; Rev. C. C. Culmer has been assigned the work at Clatskanie. Mr. George E. Frakes, of Scappoose, left last week for Eugene, where he entered the State University. George has decided to study electrical engineering. He has been to town to visit the State Fair, which he reports as being very much of a success.

CLATSKANIE ITEMS.

Prof. Whitten is enjoying the visit of his mother, from Newport, in this State. Miss Laura Conyers is entertaining her two friends, the Misses Albright, from Oregon City, this week.

Mr. and Mrs. Bosarth, of Woodland, Wash, were in town Wednesday to attend the funeral of the lady's granddaughter, Reta Merrill.

Miss Rose Parsons, formerly of Nehalem Valley, now residing in Portland, is in town the first of the week, a guest in the family of A. J. Orwig. W. E. Conyers seems to be having a rather serious time with his sprained ankle. It is keeping him in the house and has given him considerable pain and inconvenience.

Misses Anna English and Mary Tiebner, graduates from our high school, left last week for Forest Grove to be present at the opening of the fall term of Pacific University, which they expect to enter as students.

Several of our absent hoppers returned the last of the week, and the schools are considerably enlarged, with enrollment in consequence. The intermediate room is quite crowded already, with more to hear from.

County Superintendent Copeland, while making an official visit to the schools in this part of the County, gave our schools the benefit of his presence and supervision for a short time. He reports the schools in this section getting along nicely.

Our venerable citizens, A. M. Tichenor and B. H. Stewart, each celebrated a birthday anniversary last week, within one day of the same age. They have a little margin yet before the "three score and ten" milestone, but a very narrow one. Their friends wish them "many happy returns" of the day.

A very unfortunate accident occurred at the logging camp of Stewart & Powers, in Marshland, a few days ago, where a stationary engine draws logs with a wire cable. The swamp hook, as it is called, suddenly flew out of a log, causing the cable to fly with such force that it struck John Reiser, one of the employees. It took one arm off, shattered the other, and injured his side. He was taken to a hospital in Portland, where it is reported he is doing very well and will save the shattered arm.

Our very healthy location has rather broken its record by the appearance of two cases of typhoid fever in town recently. One is reported to be John Y. Merrill, his daughter, Reta, about 11 years old, and the other, little Miss May, a seven-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Merrill. Reta was taken to the Good Samaritan hospital last Friday, while May was reported to be getting along as well as could be expected.

Our people are trying to take precautions against any new cases of the disease. The sound of the squealing of pigs in town generally suggests that Mr. Davidson is around buying up these animals for the Portland market, and the squeal is their protest against being handled and placed on board the Steamer for shipment. Mr. Davidson was in town Monday and the squeal was very much in evidence. The gentleman buys all such animals he can find, testifying to their desirability and demand, encouraging our farmers to increased efforts in supplying such demand. Cattle and sheep also command a ready sale at good prices.

In writing of animals for the farm it is encouraging to note that some of our ranchers have been interested enough in stock to visit the State Fair at Salem, this month to see the splendid specimens on exhibition there. One, at least, John H. Wilson, of Mist, bought some fine lambs while there, and was in town the first of this week to take them out to his place. Pardonable pride is being taken among other ranchers in securing the best variety of porkers, while some are increasing their stock introduced also. Our ranchers are not sleeping these days by any means.

Word came Tuesday morning that Marguerite Merrill, youngest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Norman Merrill, aged about 11 years, died Monday night at the Good Samaritan hospital in Portland. The news was unexpected and caused a shock in this community, where Reta was so well known. She had suffered from typhoid fever nearly two weeks and was carefully taken to Portland, where it was hoped the improved hospital facilities would insure her more skilled attention. Her disease proved to be of a very severe type, and death occurred as stated. Her parents were with her and had everything done for the sufferer that promised any hope of recovery, but were saddened to witness the fatal result. The remains were brought back by steamer Wednesday morning and interment took place during that afternoon. Rev. Ray Palmer and wife, of Portland, accompanied the remains and the Rev. gentleman conducted the funeral services.

REUBEN. Julian Wasser went to Portland last Friday. Thos. Bauerer returned from the hop fields Friday. Mrs. Emil Wasser and children returned home from Portland Sunday. George Archibald and List Gamble returned from the hop fields Monday. Mrs. Emil Wasser and children went to Portland Friday to visit her mother. J. H. Duffy and wife, of St. Johns, were visiting with Frank Welter and family this week.

Mr. Valentine Gliniecki's house on the Bunker Hill road was destroyed by fire about 10 o'clock last Friday morning. Only a few articles were saved. The house was insured in the McMinnville Company, and Agent Buell was out there Tuesday adjusting the loss.

A party was given by Mr. and Mrs. J. Dupont last Saturday evening. The time was very pleasantly spent, music, singing and dancing being the entertaining features, besides at intervals the guests were treated to photographic productions by N. J. Dupont and his graphophone. Tea and coffee were served, and all seemed to have a good time.

Rev. Mr. MacLachlan, former pastor of the Methodist church in this city, was sent by the recent Ashland conference to the Klamath Indian Mission.

You Need Not Hurry To such special sales as others claim to have, John Dollar's regular prices on goods are lower than other stores' special prices. Note in our windows a variety of men's golf shirts at 50 cents, 75 cents and $1.00. Latest patterns in striped or checked worsted pants at $2.50, $3.50 and $5.00; men's shoes, satin calf, vic kid, tan or black, genuine welt, $2.50 and $3.50; ladies' shoes in all styles, $1.75, $1.50 and $3.00; boys' washing suits, 40 cents; boys' good wearing pants for 25 cents. Our prices are about 25 per cent lower than other stores. We do not try to hurry any one, as we are always satisfied to sell goods for small profits. Strictly one price, John Dollar, corner First and Yamhill, Portland.

Geo. Parker came over from Pittsburg Wednesday and continued on to Portland in the afternoon. C. W. Blakesley was in Portland Wednesday afternoon attending to business matters.

Does This Strike You? Muddy Complexions and Nauseating Breath from chronic constipation. Karl's Clover Root Tea is an absolute cure and has been sold for fifty years on an absolute guarantee. Price 25 cts. and 50 cts. Sold by Dr. Edwin Ross.

LOGGERS' ASSOCIATION.

Extreme Satisfaction Expressed at Condition of Things.

The Columbia River Loggers' Association now meets in Portland on the last Saturday of each month, and the members say that they represent 90 per cent of those engaged in that industry. The organization expects to include all those who are still outside, as the members are working constantly with that end in view.

A prominent member of the association said that the object was not to form a trust and raise the price of logs, but to regulate the log output and guard against a glut and consequent slump in values. "We are getting on very well along these lines," he said, "and the figures of August bear us out in the belief that the log output of the Columbia River and tributaries for the month was 28,000,000 feet, while the consumption by the various mills in the same period was 24,000,000."

"Sawmill men have begun scaling logs down a good deal of late, and his cuts deeper into our margin of profits than we can afford. None of the loggers are making any money now, as the cost of labor has gone up out of all proportion to the advance in the price of logs. This condition I state to make me long for Cleveland prices again, and I have half a notion to vote for Bryan, because if he is elected we can get all the men we want at our prices, while the price of logs will hardly go much lower than at present—44.50 to 46 per 1000 feet logs."

The Loggers' Association expects to shut down several of its camps when winter weather sets in, as the woods will get muddy and uncomfortable, anyway, and we can thus insure against overworking the market.

"A proposition has been mooted within the organization to start a sawmill of our own at some point where ship and rail can meet conveniently, and the river front at St. Johns has found favor. We have just as good business men among the loggers as there are among any other class, and in times of brisk demand for lumber we could run our mill to its full capacity, while in periods of depression we could shut down. This project is likely to take definite shape at our next monthly meeting."

THESE FOR JURYMEN.

List Drawn by Clerk and Sheriff for October Term.

Minutes of the drawing of the jury for the October term, 1900, of the Circuit Court of the State of Oregon, for Columbia County. Said drawing took place in the office of the County Clerk of said County, in the City of St. Helens, on the 21st day of September, A. D. 1900, in the presence of J. G. Watts, County Clerk, and R. S. Hattan, Sheriff of said County. The Clerk having previously provided a suitable box, and prepared and deposited therein separate ballots containing all the names of all the jurors upon the jury list of said Columbia County, Oregon, and each of said ballots having been so folded that the name thereof could not be seen, and the said Clerk, Sheriff, the box containing the ballots was so shaken as to mix them as much as possible. The following names were then drawn therefrom and the name entered on the minutes before another ballot was drawn from the box:

- Mist F. J. Peterson, farmer. Mist W. E. Clark, farmer. Mist G. C. Caples, physician, Columbia City. Mist John W. Lane, millman. Mist C. F. Briggs, merchant. Mist W. R. Simmons, farmer. Mist Walter S. Shearer, farmer. Mist Casper Libel, millman. Mist Andrew Anderson, farmer. Mist Frank Dry, farmer. Mist Ole S. Lyons, farmer. Mist William T. Watts, farmer. Mist J. M. Hill, farmer. Mist H. C. Gore, farmer. Mist Frank Fringle, farmer. Mist Martin Both, capitalist. Mist A. N. Clark, farmer. Mist E. H. Lynch, farmer. Mist Sardin Saulser, farmer. Mist W. J. G. Watts, County Clerk, and R. S. Hattan, Sheriff of said County, in the presence of J. G. Watts, County Clerk, and R. S. Hattan, Sheriff of said County, on the 21st day of September, A. D. 1900.

VALLEY ITEMS.

Mr. Zroucher made final proof on his homestead on the 22nd. The hoppers have returned home, and all say they did well. Frank Sobieski is somewhat better. He is able to get around a little by the use of crutches.

There is an average good crop of potatoes in this section this year. In some places, however, the blight did some damage. Miss Rosa Karth, who a short time ago cut her thumb very badly with an axe, is under the care of Dr. Ross. She is getting along as well as could be expected with such a wound.

Mr. Valentine Gliniecki's house on the Bunker Hill road was destroyed by fire about 10 o'clock last Friday morning. Only a few articles were saved. The house was insured in the McMinnville Company, and Agent Buell was out there Tuesday adjusting the loss.
