Five masked men walked into the office of the Western Lumber Company, at Portland Wednesday afternoon, at a quarter to 6, held up the men in the office, siezed the envelopes containing the monthly wages of the day force at the mill, dumped the contents into a bag and walked away in the darkness. The bandits procured $4700.

Thanksgiving Day in this city was made all the more pleasant by the assembling of dozens of persons whose home was formerly here, where the day could necessarily be made more pleasant than elsewhere, owing to association with relatives and friends for a few hours. The day was truly a pleasant one in many homes in our town.

Arrangements are being made at Warren for an entertainment to take place in the very near future, the principal feature to be a farce entitled "The Milk maid's Convention." The proceeds accruing are to be applied in finishing the Methodist church at that place, the dedication of which it is expected will take place about the last Sunday in this month.

A very unfortunate accident occurred at Stanwood's mill Wednesday afternoon. While operating a cut-off saw the right hand of Mr. J. R. Sherman came in too close proximity to the machine and the hand received such injuries that it was necessary to amputate the thumb at the first joint, the entire index finger was removed, and the forefinger was lacerated in a frightful manner, but may be saved.

An interesting literary programme is being prepared, consisting principally of a light drama and other entertaining features, after which refreshments will be served, to all of which the public is extended a very cordial invitation to witness and enjoy.

Prince Albert Stewart, of Quincy, charged with attempt to commit rape, had a hearing in the Circuit Court last Saturday. There were only a few witnesses examined. The jury was out but a few hours and returned into Court a verdict of "not guilty." Stewart was unable to furnish bond at his preliminary hearing, and was consequently confined in the Multnomah County jail for about six weeks, pending the adjourned term of Court. He was released from custody immediately upon the announcement of the verdict.

The rendering of the decision in the Circuit Court last Saturday in the case of Elenora Armstrong et al against Rachael I. Harris et al, brings the matter to a close, at least temporarily. This was an action brought to set aside the will of of Jesse Guild, bequeathing to Rachael I. Harris certain lands on Sauvie's Island. It has been a carefully and quite stubbornly contested case throughout, and the decision was rendered only after lengthy and careful consideration. The defendant, Mrs. Harris, is, by this decision, given the title to the premises which it was the intent of the will to convey.

People who have time to stop and think about it are again beginning to wonder how much longer the rate war will last between the Astoria & Columbia River Railway and the river fleet of the O. R. & N. Those who claimed to know a thing or two predicted that the passenger rates would be restored after the seaside trade subsides, or, at least, during the winter months. But there seems to be no prospects of a change. People are riding between Portland and Astoria for 25 cents the same as they have been since the fight was inaugurated, and seem likely to continue doing so, until one or the other of the companies cry quits.

As we stated two weeks ago, Road Supervisor Plank has been doing some splendid work in changing and making a new road from the western end of the long bridge leading in to this city on the west. The course of the road was changed to a southerly direction, leading around the bluff and intercepting the main road again about a half a mile from town. This change was thought expedient as a matter of economy, and in this the Supervisor has displayed splendid judgment, as well as in the matter of finding and locating the road on a much better grade, avoiding several very abrupt, rocky places along the route. The road has been surveyed and will be legally and permanently located. The bridge will be lowered and temporarily repaired until spring, when it will be taken away and a suitable and permanent grade made.

Commissioner Case visited Portland one day last week to ascertain information as to the whereabouts of Mr. C. R. Boles, an old gentleman who owned a homestead near W. H. Powell's place, below Pittsburg. Mr. Case went to Portland to seek information at the request of a nephew of Mr. Boles', who resides in Michigan. When the old gentleman left his home at Pittsburg he went to Portland, where he became sick, and it was ascertained by reference to the County records that he had applied for assistance from the County, and further, that he died at the Multnomah County hospital on August 31st, 1899. The old gentleman was about sixty years of age when he left Pittsburg. He has numerous relatives in Michigan—wife and children. His property in this County is said to be of considerable value for the average homestead ranch. Mr. Case will report his findings to the relatives in the East.

Talk of smallpox in this vicinity is indulged in very freely of late, and Madam Rumor has it that the malady has siezed upon nearly everyone in the community, but no deaths have yet been reported. If the alleged contagion could sieze hold of the tongues of some of the meddlesome school children who are cackling such rumors very likely there would be nothing more serious result than the temporary abatement of the vaporings of some little meddlers. School children are prone to peddle such statements and they are magnified until dozens of otherwise sensible persons are overcome with temporary horror. Last year the alleged prevalence of Manila itch had the effect of thinning out the attendance at the public school, and some whose life is made burdensome by compulsory attendance and application of mind to their studies have found in this a splendid opportunity to avoid attendance at the schools.

A bold attempt to burglarize the store of Mr. J. S. Bacon was made on Wednesday night of last week. About 12 o'clock a noise was heard as if someone were trying to pry open the door. MR. HAMMOND'S VISIT.

Is Exciting Considerable Interest in Financial Circles.

President Hammond, of the Astoria & Columbia River Railway, will not return home before January 1. He is still in San Francisco, but is expected to leave for the East in a few days.

Just what Mr. Hammond's extended visit means only those who "are next" can surmise. One thing is certain, he is not visiting simply for his health. His interests in Oregon demand his full time, and it must be very urgent business that would take him away from here. By his extensive operations in the Northwest he has shown that he has powerful backing somewhere, presumably in New York City. Except that he had recess to a long purse he could not keep up with the protracted warfare he has against a powerful corporation like the O. R. & N.; nor could he purchase a big redwood timber tract which went with the purchase of the railroad in Humboldt County, Cal. In addition to these interests, he has the option on large timber tracts in the Nehalem country, controls the Corvallis & Eastern, and is preparing to extend that road into Central Oregon.

When Mr. Hammond's business is so important that it takes him East to consult personally with the men who are backing him, those who pretend to keep close track of such things declare there is something more than usual in the wind.—Telegram.

Word has been received in Salem, says the Statesman, that hops grown on the Dove place, near Independence, won the gold medal at the Paris exposition. The Oregon hops were placed in competition with every hop-growing country in the world and it is a source of much pride to Oregon growers that the hops grown here are the best the world produces, according to the most competent judges. This will make Oregon hops sought for from every quarter of the world more than they are at the present time, and insure for the produce of the State the top price in the markets of the world.

The Columbia Jetty.

The work of repairing the jetty at Fort Stevens preparatory to extending it farther seaward is now fully under way. The Oregon Round Lumber Company, which has the contract for the piling, one day the latter part of last week delivered the first bargeload at the fort, and is also barging down 1,000,000 feet of lumber from Portland for use on the jetty. The contractors for the piling are securing supplies from Kalama river and Stella, and are taking them down on the barges Defender and Columbia. It is possible that supplies of rock will be secured from a point nearer than Fisher's Landing, where former supplies have been taken from. An effort is being made to form a quarry on or near the line of the Astoria & Columbia River Railroad. This would enable rock to be delivered much cheaper than in the old way, as cars could be run from the quarry to the dumping place on the jetty.

Among the tens of thousands who have used Chamberlain's Cough Remedy for colds and lagrippe during the past few years, to our knowledge, not a single case has resulted in pneumonia. Thos. Whitfield & Co., 240 Wabash avenue, Chicago, one of the most prominent retail druggists in that city, in speaking of this, says: "We recommend Chamberlain's Cough Remedy for lagrippe in many cases, as it not only gives prompt and complete recovery, but also counteracts any tendency of lagrippe to result in pneumonia." For sale at the St. Helens Pharmacy.

How to Cure Croup.

Mr. R. Gray, who lives near Amenia, Duchess County, N. Y., says: "Chamberlain's Cough Remedy is the best medicine I have ever used. It is a fine children's remedy for croup and never fails to cure." When given as soon as the child becomes hoarse, or even after the croupy cough has developed, it will prevent the attack. This should be borne in mind and a bottle of the Cough Remedy kept at hand ready for instant use as soon as the symptoms appear. For sale at the St. Helens Pharmacy.
