

OREGON MIST.

DECEMBER 28, 1901.

Miss Lillian Larson was shopping in this city Monday afternoon.

A son was born to Mr. and Mrs. Robert McKay at Seaside, Sunday, December 23.

Where can a person get their money's worth of what they buy? At Collins & Gray's.

W. H. Conyers, of Clatskanie, is attending to legal matters in this city Monday.

Superintendent Copeland is attending the State Teachers' Association now in session at Albany.

Mrs. M. A. Stine and son, Harry, of Monmouth, spent Christmas with Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Deming.

Collins & Gray fill orders for such things as they have not in stock, on short notice, and without extra cost.

On Saturday last the County Clerk issued a marriage license to Frank L. Wilson and Miss Mary McCauley.

Monday last the Clerk issued a marriage license to Charles H. Boisvert and Nettie J. King, both of Clatskanie.

According to a list compiled by the Clerk of the State Land Board, there are eighty-four mortgages on lands in this County held by the State.

We have received volume, one number 2, of the Chinook Observer, edited by George Hibbert, a veteran newspaper man of the Columbia River.

Judge Dean performed a ceremony last Monday which united in marriage Olo S. Laugaland of Clatsop County, and Mrs. Bertha Sherwood, of Rainier.

Mrs. Wm. Blackford and Mrs. McLane and family and Mrs. D. M. Ewing, of Quincy, spent Christmas with Mr. and Mrs. J. G. Watts in this city.

An Illinois paper announces the marriage of Harry C. Smolther and Joseph Breth under the title of Smolther-Breth. This story has an onion flavor.

Why do people come so far to trade with Collins & Gray? The reason is plain; come and see. They sell you what you want and buy what you have to sell.

Mr. and Mrs. G. D. Gibson have rented their place near town to Mr. J. G. Plank, who is now occupying the premises. Mr. and Mrs. Gibson have removed to Portland, where they expect to reside in future.

Dairying and stock raising will be the future profitable business in Columbia County. Hay grasses grow to perfection here, and actual experiments have proven that the dairy business is a profitable one.

Recent investigations made by the Knappa Coal Co. disclose the presence of good oil veins on their property. This company is making great strides forward and from the present outlook it has a bright future before it.

We were handed a copy of the Waukesha (Wis.) Freeman a day or two since, in which appears a lengthy article on the founding of a large sanitarium in that city. Dr. Byron Caples is to be the manager of the institution.

County Surveyor Little reports a land slide on the Pittsburg-Mist road near Dale's place. There was a depth of about fifty feet of earth in the slide, which, with trees and brush made considerable of a fill-up in the County road.

Rev. R. M. Jones will conduct divine services at the Seaside Congregational church next Sunday afternoon at three o'clock. A special sermon will be preached on "The Lessons of the Century." Soprano solo by Miss Maude Watts.

The Shaver Transportation Company has decided to change the time of the Steamer Shaver. After the first of January she will leave Portland Monday mornings at 6:30 for Clatskanie, and will only make the one trip a week until spring.

A few days ago a letter was placed in Sheriff Hattan's postoffice box, addressed "Chief Engineer of the County Court House." Sheriff Hattan disclaimed such distinction, and insisted that the letter belonged to the County Clerk, but that gentleman being modest and unassuming, disowned any right to such a title, and thus the matter stands.

The ball announced last week for St. Helens for New Year's night has since been changed to a masque ball. Mr. Willard Johnson is to be general manager, and Smith's orchestra, of Portland, is to furnish the music. In fact all arrangements remain unaltered except that it will be a masque affair instead of a straight dance. Spectators 25 cents.

Mr. John Dolan, of Warren, has a nephew in the United States army, Lieutenant P. H. Mullay, doing service in China. Lieutenant Mullay has written a number of very interesting letters to his uncle, describing the conditions of matters in China, and giving an account of the terrific fighting of the allied forces on the road to Peking. Mr. Mullay was commander of Company "H", Fourteenth United States Infantry.

Those persons who assume the responsibility of placing a revenue stamp on a check issued against public funds, could with profit familiarize themselves with the revenue law. The County Treasurer receives his checks back from the bank nearly every one bearing a cancelled revenue stamp. This is unnecessary, as we hope to impress upon the public mind, checks on public funds require no stamps.

The Assessor and two copyists finished copying the assessment roll last Saturday. One copy is reserved by the Assessor and the other is for the Clerk, in which book the tax will be extended, then given to the Sheriff as the tax roll. The Clerk's first duty with the roll is to ascertain the amount of assessable property in each school district, thence in each road district. The total amount of tax is to be extended on this roll, when the Sheriff will begin the collection of taxes.

The Christmas tree at the Congregational church last Monday evening outlived anything in that line seen in St. Helens for many years. The decorations were appropriate and attractive and the presents were numerous and costly. A literary programme preceded the arrival of Santa Claus, who made appropriate remarks to the children, after which the distribution of presents was proceeded with. There was candy and nuts and oranges for everybody, and all present seemed to enjoy the occasion.

On Thursday evening of last week about a dozen members of Avon lodge K. of P. responded to an invitation from Kalama lodge to attend its convention and assist in conferring the third rank work on four candidates. Members from Rainier, Castle Rock and Keno were also present, and the manner in which the mysteries of the royal high degree were given to let such a contract go by default. About midnight light refreshments were served, and Kalama lodge was voted a first-class entertainer.

Mr. Lumijarvi, a brother of the minister, and Miss Salmon, a teacher living at Quincy, were recently married at the home of the bride and took a wedding trip by rail before settling down to practical household duties.

The Order of Red Men superintended a masked ball at Graham's hall Monday evening, and when the dancers got hungry an opportunity was given in the vacant store room below to satisfy the demands of any reasonable appetite. Spectators were out in force and there secured quite a number of dancers, but figures have not been given by the writer to date.

Mrs. Brida Jokola, a Finn widow woman, died rather suddenly on Friday evening last, leaving a family of four children to be taken care of by friends. She had been receiving help from the County, but did washing and tried to help support her family. She was buried on Monday in the Maplewood Cemetery, the Finn minister, Rev. Lumijarvi, officiating, a number of persons of that nationality following the remains to their last resting place. Homes have been secured for the children in Finn families.

Many of the good families of Quincy prepared their Christmas dinners in such shape that they could be carried to the school house on Christmas day, where they were eaten with an invitation to friends generally to participate. Their well-known hospitality induced many persons to go in and partake of their refreshment, and on present reports a very pleasant gathering, with an abundance of victuals and good cheer.

Their new school building, with its paint and its bell, deserve commendation, and surprise one by its size, neatness and general fitness for school purposes. The citizens of that district have a right to be proud of it and it is believed they are.

The custom of having a public Christmas entertainment, with a distribution of presents following, was observed this year as it has been for several years past. The committee in charge secured Conyers' hall for the occasion and during Monday got a couple of trees in position, which were decorated and lighted after the orthodox fashion, presenting a very pretty appearance. The hall was crowded when the programme began. Several juniors gave very appropriate and pleasing recitations, interspersed by songs, in which some of the older persons assisted. Refreshment made a brief and very timely address and closed the exercises, after which the presents that had been brought in were distributed as labeled, and as a finishing exercise a pound package containing candy and nuts was given to each one present from baby to grandpa. The audience soon after left the hall in good spirits.

Remember the mask ball here on New Year's night. Be sure to attend the masque ball here New Year's night.

Rev. Mr. Philbrook will preach next Sunday at Peria at 11 a. m., Yankton at 3 p. m., St. Helens at 7:30 p. m.

The Closing Chapter.

A short time ago Attorney Gruber, for the plaintiff, S. A. Miles, brought suit in the Circuit Court to recover $1000 on a note signed jointly by H. C. Lamberson, H. O. Howard, R. S. Fullerton, F. M. Tompkins, C. W. Garrison and Antonio Barber, as bondsmen for ex-Sheriff G. A. Massie.

Miles to Massie to apply on his shortage, the note being given October 3, 1895. This note was signed by Massie. This is the closing chapter in this matter as far as the public is concerned, but redress by the unfortunate bondsmen may yet be sought by comping on Massie's trail. It is now reported that Massie is somewhere in Idaho, and it may be possible that the Sheriff will some bright day swoop down upon Massie's numerous holdings and attach sufficient of them to reimburse those people who helped a person who did not appreciate it.

Her death was very sudden, as she appeared to be in her usual state of health during the morning. Her husband was visiting with his sister at Seaside, when one of the mysteries of the royal high degree would be a caution to poorly feeble goats to let such a contract go by default. About midnight light refreshments were served, and Kalama lodge was voted a first-class entertainer.
