

Humors Feed on Humors

The Sooner You Get Rid of Them the Better.

In the Spring there's an effort of Nature to cleanse your system.

You know this by the pimples and other eruptions on your face and body.

In the Spring, therefore, is the best time to take

Hood's Sarsaparilla

For the quickest results. But whenever taken, this great medicine thoroughly cleanses the system, gets into all its nooks and corners, removes all humors and all unhealthy accumulations.

"Hood's Sarsaparilla is an excellent blood purifier. We had a little boy with who's hands and face were broken out with sores. We gave him Hood's Sarsaparilla and the sores soon disappeared." J. J. SCOTT, Nipmuc, Cal.

Poor Old Coal.

"Bulgey claims that he has more social engagements than he can fill. Does he really shine in society?" "Oh, yes. Didn't you ever see that dress coat of his? There was never another so shiny as that."

Simplicity in Funerals.

The simplicity which marked the ancient Jewish burial ceremonies has much to commend it even to us. The inexpensive coffin and the uniform linen shroud served to emphasize the equality of all in death. As things are today the rich tax their brains to invent new funeral fancies and the poor impoverish themselves to keep up with their wealthier neighbors.

He Incorrected Himself.

"It was funny to hear that man talk at the political meeting," remarked Johnny. "He said 'between you and me,' all right enough, and then he corrected himself and said 'between you and I.'"

"You mean he in-corrected himself," said Tommy severely.

St. Peter—What's the matter in the recording angel's department? Spirit—Slipshod work. They are trying to find out who is to blame. You let Mr. Greatman in yesterday, didn't you? "Yes; there wasn't a thing against him."

"Well, the recording angel has got hold of an old newspaper printed by the opposition party, and has found all sorts of horrible things about him!"

Under Water.

Strange acquaintances are to be made under water. H. Phelps Whitmarsh, who for a time adopted the calling of pearl-fisher in Australian waters, tells this story of meeting a submarine monster:

It was a muddy day, and everything in consequence looked blurred and exaggerated. In the yellow distance I saw an immense dark object moving slowly toward me. As it came nearer, I made out a central body with several great arms or feelers waving rhythmically. My heart was in my mouth.

I felt sure it was an octopus. Then, when I was about to stir up the mud at my feet, to avoid being seen, I discovered that the enemy was nothing more than a fellow-diver. The feelers I had imagined were his arms, legs and lines.

A shadowy giant about twelve feet high, with huge hands and a head like a small barrel, was approaching. He walked slowly, his heavy boots raising the mud behind him like a cloud of dust, and his great central eye gleamed darkly. Although I knew him to be a man, it was with difficulty that I refrained from taking to my heels. At sight of me, he, too, was startled; but he quickly recovered, and we shook hands. Then we nodded, grunted, showed each other the state of our bags, and parted.

The Steam Locomotive Doomed. It is claimed that within a few years the electric motor will completely supplant the steam locomotive, and trains will then rush along at a speed of 100 miles an hour. To travelers this will prove a great blessing, but no more so than Huxtable's Stomach Bitters, has proved a blessing to those who wish to regain their health quickly. The Bitters cure dyspepsia, indigestion, biliousness, malaria, fever and ague, also improve the appetite and purifies the blood.

First Crony—Let me see, didn't Strickland marry one of Old Smiley's girls? Second Crony—By the way, though, isn't Smiley dead? First Crony—He was the last I heard of him.

Proving a Theory.

Yabsly—Do you think there is anything in the theory that business worries can sometimes cause a complete loss of memory? Mudge—Yes, I know that it works that way in my case. The more I borrow money, the more treacherous my memory becomes.

Contingencies.

Cy Nick—You don't catch me trying myself to any nambly-pamby female for life. Miss Thrust—I dare say not, Mr. Nick—unless the woman was crazy.

Edgar Fawcett has written a new novel entitled "New York." It chronicles many strange phases of life in that city and has a convict for a hero. Mr. Fawcett now lives in London.

"New Glimpses of Poe," by Prof. James A. Harrison of the University of Virginia, will include certain phases of Poe's life and character which, it is asserted, have been hitherto overlooked.

Beniah Marie Dix, author of "Hugh Gwyeth," has written a new novel of early colonial life in New England, which will shortly be published under the title of "The Making of Christopher Ferringham."

T. Edgar Pemberton has written a volume concerning Bret Harte, which takes the form of a mild biography. Mr. Harte has contributed a letter to the book and incidentally remarks that much which Mr. Pemberton has said about him should be left to his tombstone.

The last literary work undertaken by Alphonse Daudet, a play based on his story, "La Petite Paroisse," has just been brought out in Paris. The play is both disgusting and stupid and those most loyal to the author's memory regret that it should have been given to the public.

It will be remembered that Arthur Lawrence published some time ago a volume entitled "The Life-Story. Letters and Reminiscences of Sir Arthur Sullivan," written with the composer's authority. He is now at work on a complete biography, which will be entirely rewritten and contain much new matter.

By the death of the Maharaja of Patiala his little son, Ticca Sahib, becomes the nominal head of about two million people.

This small youth is, in a sporting sense at least, the worthy son of his father, for although he is only ten years of age he plays cricket well and is an excellent rifle-shot. His father was a famous sportsman, equally proficient in cricket, in riding, polo-playing and pig-sticking, as the boar-hunt is called.

The last notable achievement of the Maharaja was making twenty-one runs in eight and a half minutes in the cricket match against the Bombay Parsies. So it will be seen that little Ticca Sahib has an illustrious family record to emulate.

New York to Philadelphia for $1. The plans to connect New York and Philadelphia by trolley by way of Somerville, N. J., are advancing. The tracks of the Philadelphia and New Jersey Railroad and the Philadelphia and Bristol Railroad will be used. Heavy tracks will be laid, and the cars run at a high rate of speed. The single trip fare between Philadelphia and New York, it is said, will be $1.—New York Tribune.

A great mind is always a generous one.

Necessary Apology. He—Newlywed is always talking about his wife's money. She—That's very strange. "Not so very. You just ought to see her."

BARON STEUBEN'S NAMESAKES.

Revolutionary Soldier's Name Borne by Many Others. Baron Steuben, the bluff old soldier of the Revolution, was greatly beloved by his men. He was called everywhere "The Baron," and to one woman, who came to him asking permission to name her child for him, he said, "And what will you call him?" For, like all titled personages, he had a profusion of proper names.

"Why," said the woman, "I'll call him Baron." Baron he was, and so were the other namesakes. Indeed, when the old soldier was urged to lay aside his title, in the enthusiasm of the French Revolution, he answered that it would be of no use. There were too many Baron Steubens in existence.

One full-grown namesake he acquired under peculiar circumstances. When he was one day inspecting a Connecticut regiment he found a fine-looking sergeant, named Jonathan Arnold. The baron had been one of the court which had unwillingly condemned Andre, and he detested the "wretch who drew him to death." So he advised the man to change his name.

"But what name shall I take?" cried Arnold. "Any name you please," answered the baron. "Take mine. It's at your service."

So Jonathan Arnold duly became Jonathan Steuben, and under that name fought bravely and well. When he returned to his Connecticut home, after the war, he married, and his son was named after the old soldier, "Frederick William." To him Baron Steuben willed a farm, and Frederick William Steuben, a good soldier in the War of 1812, died in the service.

City Feller's Advantage. "That there farm," said the driver, "on the off side, belongs to a feller in town that runs it for his health."

"How does he get along?" asked the drummer. "Oh, 'bout 's well's the rest of us, only he don't have to buy no gold bricks to come out loser, like we do."

Congressman Botkin's Recovery. Suffered Twenty-five Years. Washington, D. C., April 1, 1898. Dr. S. B. Hartman, Columbus, Ohio, My dear Doctor—It gives me pleasure to certify to the excellent curative qualities of your medicines, Peruna and Manalin. I have been afflicted more or less for a quarter of a century with catarrh of the stomach and constipation; a residence in Washington has increased these troubles.

A few bottles of your medicines have given me almost complete relief, and I am sure that a continuation of their use will effect a permanent cure. Peruna is surely a wonderful remedy for catarrhal affections.

If you do not derive prompt and satisfactory results from the use of Peruna, write at once to Dr. Hartman, giving a full statement of your case, and he will be pleased to give you his valuable advice gratis.

PISCO'S CURE FOR COUGHS, COLDS, BRONCHITIS, AND CONSUMPTION.

Marvel Watch of Geneva. A manufacturing firm of Geneva, Switzerland, has for many years been making a specialty of complicated timepieces and a watch placed on view at the Paris exposition is regarded by them as their highest achievement. In it they have overcome problems which were before considered insolvable, and have succeeded in retaining the size of the watch within a convenient limit of a pocket timepiece—namely, twenty lines, corresponding to the American eighteen size. But two of these watches have ever been constructed.

One of these was purchased direct from the workshop of the firm to be added to the magnificent watch collection of A. Ponti, the celebrated amateur of Milan, Italy.

This watch, which has a perpetual calendar indicating the days of the month, the days of the week and the phases of the moon, also possesses two separate small dials, upon which are shown automatically for a given latitude the time of the rising of the sun and the time of its setting. The difficulty overcome here was great, but what comprises the merit of the piece is that, in connection with the minute hand, which shows the mean time (the time we use), it carries another hand which indicates the sun's time (the true time). This hand, moving from the center as do the hands showing the mean time, constantly travels with them and places itself each day at midnight in the position it should occupy in order to indicate for that day the difference between the mean and true time. The variation is very great, being as much as fifteen minutes in one direction or the other. These dates are April 15, June 15, Sept. 1 and Dec. 25.—Jewelers' Circular.

To Mothers of Large Families

In this workaday world few women are so placed that physical exertion is not constantly demanded of them in their daily life.

We make a special appeal to mothers of large families whose work is never done, and many of whom suffer, and suffer for lack of intelligent aid.

To women, young or old, rich or poor, we extend an invitation to accept free advice. Oh, women! do not let your lives be sacrificed when a word of advice at the first approach of weakness may fill your future years with healthy joy. Address a letter to Mrs. Pinkham's Laboratory, Lynn, Mass., and you will not be disappointed.
