Loss of Appetite

Is Loss of Vitality, Vigor, Tone.

That stands to reason.

It is common in the Spring, when the blood, which needs cleansing, fails to give the organs the stimulus necessary for the proper performance of their functions.

Hood's Sarsaparilla

cleanses the blood, restores appetite, gives vitality, vigor, tone—this is one of the reasons why it's called the Greatest Spring Medicine.

Take it.

"I have taken Hood's Sarsaparilla and it has created a good appetite and cleansed my blood." ADOLPH RHODE, Plattsmouth, Neb.

"My little brother had no appetite. He has taken Hood's Sarsaparilla and now gets hungry like any other boy." MAUD KILGORE, Alden, Kan.

Hood's Sarsaparilla promises to cure and keeps the promise.

$100 REWARD $100.

The readers of this paper will be pleased to learn that there is at least one dreaded disease that science has been able to cure in all its stages, and that is catarrh. Hall's Catarrh Cure is the only positive cure known to the medical fraternity. Catarrh being a constitutional disease, requires a constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system, thereby destroying the foundation of the disease, and giving the patient strength by building up the constitution and assisting nature in doing its work. The proprietors have so much faith in its curative powers, that they offer One Hundred Dollars for any case that it fails to cure. Send for list of testimonials. Address

An Error of Judgement.

A colored citizen gave a justice of the peace a big fat possum as a wedding fee. Meeting the groom a year after, the justice said:

"Well, Jim, how do you like married life?"

"Well, sah," was the reply, "all I kin say is —I wish I'd eat that possum."

New York-Philadelphia Trolley Line.

Plans are about completed to close up the gaps between New York and Philadelphia and complete a trolley line between the two big cities. The tracks of a couple of steam roads are to be used for a portion of the way and a high rate of speed is expected. The promoters say that the full fare each way will be $1. The round trip between the two places by steam is $4.

Good Time Coming, Girls.

"The girls that are growing up now will have one important advantage over the young married women of today."

"What's that?"

"Their husbands will not be continually telling them of the fine cooking their mothers used to do."

"How do you know?"

"Because the cook won't allow the mothers of the coming race to stick their noses into the kitchen."

An Observing Actor.

"I am in luck," said the tragedian. "I have just received an annual pass over the Central railway."

"How in the world did that happen?" asked the comedian.

"Recognition of valuable services. After our return from our last trip I reported to the general manager 37 defective ties, any one of which might have caused a wreck."

A Moveable Possession.

"John, you bring home a different umbrella every day."

"Well, I can't help it; as soon as I pick up one that I should like to hang on to, some other man in the office claims it."

"Every time you open your mouth," said the elderly and envious, but plebian aunt, "you put your foot in it."

"And this is something, you know," pleasantly replied the wife of the mandarin, looking at the relative's ample understanding, "you couldn't possibly do it."

BEYOND CONTROL

HOW THE MUSCLES ARE AFFECTED IN LOCOMOTOR ATAXIA.

A Well Known Ohio Citizen Cured of This Stubborn Ailment After His System Seemed Hopelessly Broken Down.

From the News, Waverly, Ohio.

Mr. Eli Potts is a well known citizen of Waverly, Ohio, having been in business there for 14 years. He is a veteran of the Mexican war in which he served with company H, of the Fourteenth Tennessee regiment. At the age of 76he bears the respect of all who know him and the following experience, related by him, is raised beyond all doubt by the high character of the narrator. He says:

"About seven years ago a disease fastened upon me which, as it developed, proved to be locomotor ataxia. I became very nervous, could not walk without having dizzy spells and did not sleep well. As the disease advanced I lost control of my muscles and could only walk a short distance. I could not control the direction of my steps and was always afraid of falling.

"This continued until the fall of 1897 when there was a breaking down of my entire system. My stomach was in bad condition and I suffered greatly with kidney trouble caused by being thrown out of a buggy.

"About two years ago I saw Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People advertised in a Cincinnati paper. The case cured was similar to mine and I gave the pills a trial. Very soon after I began taking them I experienced relief and, as the improvement continued, I took the pills regularly. Gradually the control of the muscles was restored and my general health improved. The dizzy feeling left me and has never returned. From my own experience I know that Dr. Williams' Pink Pills are a great remedy and I am pleased to recommend them to any one who suffers as I did."

GOOD Short Stories

One day, at Burlington House, Tennyson is said to have asked the guests a conundrum which he had just made: "Who are the greatest women in the world?" The answer was: "Miss Court, the Misses Ippi and Sara Gossa."

W. S. Gilbert, of Gilbert and Sullivan opera fame, was one day standing on the steps of his club house in London, when a stranger approached and asked: "Does a man belong to your club with one eye named Walker?" "I don't know," was the answer; "what's the name of his other eye?"

Arthur Simmons, the venerable negro attendant at the White House, was dozing in his chair the other day, when an usher rushed upstairs and said: "Man down here wants to see Mr. Cortelyou." "Can't see him," replied Arthur, with dignity. "But this man says he's got to see him." Don't care nothin' about that," said Arthur, preparing to resume his doze; "nobody can see Secretary Cortelyou; he's gone into his sanctum sanitarium."

Thomas Lincoln, the father of Abraham Lincoln, was a great story-teller, and one yarn that he never tired of rehearsing was a blood-curdling Indian tale. One day, when he was about seven or eight years old, and living in Kentucky, he was sitting on a fence, watching his father and older brothers at work in the field. Without a moment's warning, a small band of Indians came rushing by on horseback. One of them, with a sweep of his long arm, seized the lad and galloped off. Little Tommy Lincoln looked up into the red warrior's face, and said: "Don't kill me. Take me a prisoner." The Indian smiled. Just then a rifle cracked. Indian and boy tumbled off the horse, the Indian dead, with a bullet in his brain. Tommy Lincoln's brother had come to the rescue.

Once, when Mark Twain was to lecture in a small Western town, he was greeted at the railway station by the minister, who was to be his host during his brief stay. On their way to the parsonage, the minister asked if it would be agreeable to Mark if he opened the lecture with a prayer, as was the custom. Of course the humorist was delighted, and accordingly, when they reached the hall that evening, the minister left the lecturer sitting in the corner of the platform, took the center of the stage himself, and proceeded to offer a prayer about half an hour long, in the course of which he gave his views on all the current affairs of interest and concluded by saying: "And now, O Lord, we have with us tonight a man who is known throughout all the world as the great American humorist. Help us, O Lord—help us to understand what he is about to say to us, and to be amused by it; and if possible, grant that we may derive some real benefit from his lecture."

Talking of the inauguration of James Buchanan, L. A. McCreary, of Washington, D. C., said: "The Kirkwood House was crowded from basement to the roof, and the rush was so great that store-rooms were used to make room for the throng. One of these had no window—only a door, and when a man from Maine trudged in at midnight of March 3d, he was very glad indeed to take the only thing left—the windowless store-room. On the morning of March 5th, the man from Maine appeared at the desk and wanted to know when the ceremonies were to take place. 'Ceremonies?' asked the clerk; 'what do you mean?' 'Why,' said the man, 'the inauguration.' The clerk thought he was mentally unbalanced, and eyed him suspiciously, until he exclaimed: 'I was awake half a dozen times, but didn't want to dress in the dark, thinking it was still night, and so I went to sleep again. I got pretty hungry at last, and that made me get up. When does the next train leave for Bangor? I want to get back to God's country, where they have sunshine.'"

Frank.

Here we were set upon and beaten with clubs.

"Murder!" cried Ardley, impulsively.

A subtle something told me he was wrong.

"You are college students, are you not?" said I, addressing our assailants.

"We are," said they, civilly.

"It is as I thought," said I, turning to my companion. "This is not murder at all, but a prank, merely!"

Ardley was covered with confusion, and vowed he should never forgive himself, although the students, with rare good breeding, affected to make light of it.—Detroit Journal.

Placing the Blame.

"My dear," said the meek Mr. Newlywed, "I don't like to complain, but this omelet you made——"

"What's the matter with it?" she inquired.

"Well—er—it's rather hard to cut it, and——"

"Gracious! I was afraid that man would send me tough eggs. I'll stop dealing with him."—Philadelphia Press.

Realism.

"What is that sound like a rainstorm that I hear from the floor above?"

"Why, that's our patent rain apparatus. It's for the convenience and satisfaction of umbrella buyers who want to test their purchases."—Cleveland Plaindealer.

An Amendment.

"The man who shoots us out of season is to be fined."

"Fined? Goodness, ma! If they really want to stop it, why don't they imprison him for life or electrocute him?"—Puck.

On the Enemy's Fire, of Course.

"I think the enemy has got our range, captain," said the officer of the day.

"How in the world are we to cook our dinner?" replied the captain, absentmindedly.—What to Eat.

The first submarine cable was laid across the English Channel about fifty years ago. It was also about the same time that Hostetter's Stomach Bitters, the world renowned dyspepsia cure, was first introduced to the public. If you are a sufferer from this ailment, or from indigestion, flatulency, constipation, nervousness or insomnia you should try it at once, if you would be well. It will strengthen your entire system and produce sound sleep.

ALUM IN FOOD.

How Can the Danger Be Avoided?

The reported cases of poisoning from the use of alum baking powder have awakened the public to the serious danger which menaces the health of the people of the country in the numerous alum powders which are urged upon consumers.

Generally, alum powders may be known from the price at which they are sold, or from the fact that they are accompanied by a gift, or are disposed of under some scheme. The alum powder costs but a few cents per pound to make, and is often sold at 20 or 25 cents a pound; and sometimes as low as 10 cents.

It is impossible to name all the alum powders in the market, but any baking powder sold at a low price, or advertised as costing much less than the well known, high class powders, or accompanied by a present, or disposed of under any scheme, is of this class, detremental to health and to be avoided.

These facts should incline consumers to turn a deaf ear to all importunities to buy the inferior powders. The wise housekeeper will decline in all cases to take them.

An Old Friend

S. S. S. has been before the public for many years; from a small beginning, it has steadily worked its way to the front, and is now known in every city, town and hamlet in the country. Its staunchest friends are those who have known it longest and have witnessed its wonderful curative powers in their own families or among their friends and acquaintances. Grateful patients in all parts of the country tell of their restoration to health and happiness, and the testimony of these is the highest evidence of the medicine's worth. S. S. S. is more popular today than ever in its history—no other remedy stands so high, has ever given such perfect satisfaction or is so reliable in the cure of Cancer, Rheumatism, Catarrh, Contagious Blood Poison, Scrofula, Eczema, Psoriasis, Salt Rheum, Acne, or any disease that originates in the blood. Being strictly a vegetable preparation, you will find it agrees with you much better than a drug store concoction or any of the widely advertised potash and mercury remedies, which affect the bones, muscles and stomach, causing Rheumatism or Dyspepsia. If you have never tried S. S. S., you will be surprised at the immediate good effects, for no sooner does it get into the circulation than the appetite increases; you grow stronger, and gradually but surely it drives out the poisons and restores the blood to a healthy condition. If there is a sore or ulcer on the body, it begins to heal around the edges, the discharge finally ceases and the place gets well; muscular and bone pains vanish, and the skin is relieved of all itching, irritating eruptions. Nervous, run down and anaemic people will find S. S. S. just the medicine they need, for blood poverty and ill nourished nerves are responsible for their condition. For old people and children S. S. S. has no equal; being free from all minerals, it does not nauseate or have any injurious effect whatever, and keeps the blood in good condition, thus fortifying against disease. Experience teaches what is good and what is not good; this applies particularly to medicine, and S. S. S., a remedy that has retained the confidence of the people for nearly 50 years, must have merit—IT CURES, is the secret of its success. When you call for S. S. S. don't be persuaded to accept something else—there is no substitute for S. S. S. It is the only guaranteed purely vegetable blood purifier, and the safest and best for all blood and skin troubles. Do not let them force an inferior mineral remedy on you because there is a larger profit in it. If you have any blood or skin disease, don't hesitate to write us about it; our physicians will carefully consider your case and advise you without charge. Book on Blood and Skin Diseases free.
