Mrs. H. A. Corliss, formerly of Yankton and this city, but for several years past a resident of Grant's Pass, is in this city this week visiting acquaintances and friends. She expects to remain several days.

Bids for improving the Clatskanie river between the Columbia and the town of Clatskanie were opened in Portland Wednesday of last week, that of Robert Wakefield, 14 cents a cubic yard, being lowest. In all 50,000 cubic yards of silt will be dredged.

The record of land redemptions from the county clerk shows that cash accruing to the county from that source is maintaining more than an average for the month of June. Up to the 19th of the month the clerk had collected $380.56 on account of back taxes.

Mr. Alonzo Van, of Fishhawk, has rented his farm for a term of five years, and expects to leave with his family in October for Arkansas. However, we will have the pleasure of welcoming Mr. Van and his family back to our midst after a short absence; at least that's the experience with all others who leave our county.

Every district school should be well supplied with maps, charts and other paraphrenalia, the law allowing the directors the privilege of expending a limited sum every year for that purpose. As we understand a number of schools are poorly supplied in this respect, now is a good time to procure them when most of the schools are in session.

An Oregon editor dreamed that he died and, of course, went to heaven, and there he came upon a man in chains, fastened to a post. He inquired if it was necessary to punish people that way in heaven. "That man," said St. Peter, is a man from Oregon. We always have to keep Oregonians chained up for awhile in order to keep them from going back."

Mr. O. H. Hiatt, of Mist, was, on Monday, appointed administrator of the estate of Anna A. Baker, who died at her home near Mist, on May 27th, last. Deceased had executed a will, which was admitted to probate. The estate is estimated to be of the value of $480, and the testator bequeathed the estate to Etta Jane Hiatt, Allie M. Baker and C. B. Baker.

Assessors White and Blakesley returned last Friday from Nehalem valley where they spent a week looking after values of real estate and personal property. The gentlemen are now engaged in the rating of values of nonresident's property, and so soon as that is completed the roll will be started, which will undoubtedly show an increase of value of assessable property over last year.

This office acknowledges the receipt of a present from Mr. M. F. Hazen, of Warren, of a small box of large, luscious strawberries, grown on his farm. There were fourteen berries in the box, weighing that many ounces, the largest one measuring 9¼ inches in circumference. The variety of the berries raised by Mr. Hazen are Sharpless, and are beautiful samples of that variety of berries.

The Beaver Logging Company has filed articles of incorporation. The company will build and operate logging railroads between the Columbia river and the timber lands on Beaver creek, in this county, and do a general logging business with headquarters at Portland. The company is capitalized for $20,000, divided into shares valued at $100 each. The incorporators are S. Benson, R. S. Farrell and C. W. Mayger.

The reappearance of the steamer Lurline on the Portland-Astoria route affords speculative minds increased material upon which to spec. The fact that the Lurline comes out in opposition to the O. R. & N. Co., combating the best boat on the lower river run, is not altogether clear to many people. Some declare the fare will be reduced, but we don't know whether it will or not. At all events the public will have a better service.

Superintendent Copeland has devoted much of his time lately visiting schools. He expects to be able to visit the schools of Nehalem valley the last week in June. The superintendent has also busied himself recently in preparation of arrangements for the coming institute, which it has practically been decided to hold at Rainier July 23, 24, 25 and 26. The state superintendent and two able instructors will be in attendance and a profitable and interesting session is promised.

Boring operations will be commenced on the Knappa Coal Company's property at Knappa at once. The work will be in charge of A. R. Strachan, a mining expert who has followed the business for over a quarter of a century, and who will bore to a depth of 1000 feet. If the result of the operations is satisfactory the work of developing will be rushed with all possible expedition. Mr. Strachan is in Astoria at present, and is confident that the boring will justify the most sanguine expectations of the owners of the land.

A glorious time was had at Rainier last Saturday night, the occasion being the formal opening of the Knights of Pythias' new hall at that place. The building is an imposing structure, fitted and furnished throughout in the most modern way, and is a credit to both the town and order. The building, as it now stands completed, cost the society $4000, and the proceeds resulting from the dance given Saturday night will assist somewhat in paying the heavy expense. There were over 200 tickets sold for $1.50, which should certainly gratify the members. Knights and dancers from everywhere were present, and a pleasant time had.

The slaughtering of horses and the salting of their flesh for export has been resumed at the Linnton abattoir. S. Kinsman, the proprietor, has purchased 25,000 horses on the ranges of Eastern Oregon and has been waiting for the river to fall so as to leave his corrals dry. The water has now gone down sufficiently and the first installment of horses arrived last week and slaughtering commenced at once. The horses are in prime condition, and as they have never been worked they will make unusually fine "beef" for export, and the consumers will form a high opinion of the quality of Oregon horses as an article of diet. The abattoir will run continuously till the whole 25,000 are worked up.

The arrangements are now practically completed for the celebration of the Glorious Fourth by the people of Houlton, St. Helens and the surrounding country. An old-fashioned basket picnic in the grove between the two towns, will be an attraction that one cannot afford to miss. There will be foot racing and other sports, prominent among them a game of ball between Houlton and St. Helens players. Fish boat races in the afternoon and a grand ball in the evening, conducted by the popular ball manager, Mr. W. F. Slaughter. For this occasion the celebrated Aylesworth's orchestra, of Portland, has been engaged, and the music will be the very best. Everybody join us and let's have one of those old time celebrations, such as our fathers and forefathers participated in.

There was a large crowd of excursionists from Portland spent the day at Hayburn's place, on the island, last Sunday. The steamer Harvest Queen and barge Klickatat brought the crowd, which numbered 1196. The excursion was given by the Catholic Order of Foresters.

The graduation exercises of the class of trained nurses of Good Samaritan hospital, Portland, were held in that city Monday evening in the lecture room of the medical college. There were eleven in the class, Miss Matilda Muckle, of city, being one of the number.

Keasey Notes.

Long and patiently we've waited, saying to ourselves "it will be summer time by and by," and we guess the words are proven true.

A telephone message was sent one day last week to Frank Wilson, at Knappa, apprising him of the illness of his wife, at the home of her mother, Mrs. McCauley.

Railroad rumblings still course through the valley and did the magnates know of the fruitfulness of Nehalem valley, especially along Rock creek, they would certainly not hesitate to build.

The suit of Wm. Hacker against the Forest Grove physicians is to be brought before the supreme court for final settlement. Billy seems to prefer to have his served in courses, thinking, perhaps, the best of the wine is reserved for the last of the feast.

We heard some time ago of a cherry pit being planted, growing to a tree and bearing fruit the first year, also of an apple seed, which being planted, in three years the tree was loaded with apples. If any part of Oregon can beat this please send us word.

Mr. Geo. Sitts and daughters, Dell and Mrs. Harley Redmond, went to Forest Grove Friday. Mrs. Redmond will continue on to Vancouver, B. C., and Mrs. Sitts will return to her home from Portland, whither she has been at work for several months.

All the patriotism that we have heard of in this secluded region is a special programme prepared for the school at Keasey by Miss Gertrude Lowe. Some of the young people anticipate burrahing for Ethan Allen and the Continental Congress in other parts, for instance, at Mist and Portland.

VALLEY VARIETIES.

Mrs. R. S. Hattan and family spent last Friday in Portland.

New line of plain and ornamental crepe tissue paper at the St. Helens pharmacy.

A Few Dont's.

Don't discontinue a paper until you have squared up with it.

Don't abuse a paper unless you have paid for it. Borrowers are the greatest fault finders a newspaper has to contend with.

Don't get mad because your visitor's name does not appear in the personal columns. Perhaps you did not tell the editor, and he's no mind reader.

Don't delay paying your subscription because it is a small matter. If all the subscribers did the same thing it would kill the paper in six months.

Don't cuss the editor because his opinions do not conform with yours. If they did they might be at variance with some eight or ten million of the people.

Don't abuse a paper if it prints something you do not consider worth reading. Those who read your part of the paper may consider it pure rot. A paper is built to please many, not one.

Don't have the paper sent to you two or three years and then leave the country without settling your bill, and have the postmaster notify the publisher that you have gone away.

Don't take the paper out of the postoffice for five years and then refuse to pay for it, "because you never subscribed for it, anyhow." That is plain thievery, pure and simple. You should have refused it four years and eleven months before.
