BASTERN BLECTIONS.

Sixteen of the Eastern and Southern states, New York, Ohio, Pensylvania, Iowa, Nebrasks, Connecticut, Massachusetts, New Jersy, Rhode Island, Colorado, Kaussa, Virginia, Missiesippi, Kentucky, Utah, and South Dakota, held state elections last Tuesday, and the results are highly astisfactory, not only to republicane but to the nation. In some states heavy republican gains were made. In Nebraska the republican state officers were elected by increased majorities given in the last election. Iowa republicans elected their governor by 90,000 plurality, the largest ever known. Ohio gave an increased republican majority, the governor being elected by 60,000 plurality. Seth Low defeated the Tammany candidate for mayor of Greater New York by 40,000 plurality. Knuss elected the republican candidate for governor by about 10,000. Tammny has received another severe blow and is completely whipped out. Republican principles have received a vindication, and the result shows that the people of the nation are tired of lams and agitation. The nation is on a safe, solid basis, and the people seem content that it should remain there.

Many people have a misconception as to the rights of people in making timber land entries, and indeed we think the law is greatly at fault in this matter. Everybody is supposed to have a homeostead and also a timber right. The former is free and for the latter a charge of $2.50 per acre is made. One man to a farm is all right but timber lands cannot be handled that way. When a man or company engages in the lumber business they cannot do so with 160 acres of timber, but they must have thousands of acres. How are they to be secured frough other channels. The two former can be bought outright in large tracts, but the railroad grant in large tracts, but the large tracts in the larg most cases the land is left absolutely worthless.

The odly way to put this timber to a good use and to convert it into a mained two or three days. Mr. Type a good use and to convert it into a mention of the condition of the construction of the construction of the condition of the construction of the construction of the condition of the construction of the constructio to see business and enterprise and new once started.

From what has taken piace lately in regard to "forest reserves" would indicate that this great watchfulness over the man who takes up 160 acres of timber land and sells it to some company is but a cover to conceal the main motives in making some of our more recent "reserves." Mr. Hermann, the commissioner of the general land office, is no doubt principally responsible for this watchfulness over the people's interests, but most people would rather hear the burs of the saw and industry than to be kept back a decade in the advancement justly due us to give some official the astisfaction of having done something he thought to be popular with the people. Sometimes a man lets his political ambition run away with his better judgment, and Mr. Herman seems to have a failing that way.—

It seems now to be about a settled thing that the 1905 Lewis and Clark exposition will be a go. Promoters of the plan in Portland have organized and decided to raise $300,000 in that city. Mr. H. W. Leaving the Farm.

Let us say a word to those who are thinking of leaving the farm. Do not do it unless you have a good deal of experience in some other line of business, for there is a large competition in all lines, and if you are not onto your job you will get left. There is a tendency for good farmers to leave the farm, but in our opinion these are the very ones who should stay on the farm to set a good example for the paorer ones. We have too many tenderfect who do not understand the principles of farming.

Use a soap box, you can get them cheap; remove the top and cover the bottom with a thick layer of salt. Set the eggs on end in this layer of salt, so that they cannot touch the sides of the box nor each other. When a layer is completed, cover with salt and add another layer of eggs in a similar manner. Continue until the box is filled, then nail on the top and turn the box half over once a week. Use no egg that has been laid over twenty-four hours, and they can be put away during the summer while cheap, for winter use or sale when scarce and high in price.

J. W. Bailey, state food and dairy commissioner, has returned from a six weeks' trip East, where he went as a delegate to the National Association of State Dairy and Food Departments, held at Buffalo. Mr. Bailey succeeded in getting the association to meet in Portland next year, and the date fixed is July 8, 9 and 10. This association is composed of the food commissioners of each state, there being about 21 states that have them, and their aim is to get a national pure food law passed by congress making the laws regulating the sale and manufacture of foods the same in every state. A bill will likely be introduced in congress this fall to that effect. Will Meet in Portland.

"Hello, Mr. Farmer! What are you doing?" "Digging potatoes." "Have you any for sale?" "No." What are you doing?" "What them?" "I sort them in piles." "What do you do with them?" "The big pile of fine potatoes you see over there I give to the landlord as land rent for the privilege of living on the earth; next to the biggest pile I give to the money lord as interest for the privilege of using the tools that some other working man made; the third pile I give to the politicians as tax, and the little ones I give to the bogs, and what the hogs don't eat I eat myself. So, you see, between the landlord, the money lord, the politicians and the other bogs, I get my living." "What do you do with the hogs?" "I give them to the rail-road companies for hauling the big potatoes to the land and money lords."

We feel that we would be doing an injustice to ourselves as well as others if we did not publicly declare our appreciation of the kindness of our neighbors and friends who so willingly assisted us during the late illness and sad death of our dear daughter and sister. Especial mention is due to many who neglected their homes and little ones and tolled so hard and faithfully during all our trouble. But a list of all those who are deserving would be so long that it would not be appropriate on this occasion, for we thank one and all for their kind assistance.

DIED.

LARRES.—At Warres. November 4, 1901, Miss May Helena, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Larsen, agod is years, 5 months and 30 days. Deceased had been a patient sufferer for a number of years, but only within the past year her health began falling quite rapidly. Funeral services were held at the Grace church wednesday forenon, conducted by Rev. Hallantyne, and the remains were laid to rest in the Odd Fellows' centery. "To live in hearts we leave behind is not to die."

Death, the sad and silent boatman, Has borne one we loved to the other shore; Her gay laugh and gentle presence Will be felt and seen no more.

No more will we hear her gentle voice, Nor gaze upon her brow; And her awest voice and gentle word Are silent with us now. We laid her away in her springtime, But her soul is at rest with her God. And the flowers she loved so tenderly Shall blessom and bloom 'mid the sod Farewell, loved one, you are at rest. You will never know aught pain: No more by earthly cares distressed, No sad, distracting thoughts sguin.

They have dispelled the silly notion that one kind of food is needed for brain, another for muscles, and still another for bones. A correct diet will not only nourish a particular part of the body, but it will sustain every other part. Yet, however good your food may be, its nutriment is destroyed by indigestion or dyspepsia. You must prepare for their appearance or prevent their coming by taking regular doses of Green's August Flower, the favorite medicine of the healthy millions. A few doses sids digestion, stimulates the liver to healthy action, purifes the blood, and makes you feel buoyant and vigorous. You can get Dr. G. G.
