Herman Craves bad denounced the mar her desire to see her brother.

"Follow me, Miss Campbell," said Jailer Filyaw, an undersised, corpulent little man. "There are no orders not to admit of murder. I am sorry for you, miss, in deed I am. Who would have believed

"Oh, thank you, sir, but either my mais advanced. "I think not, Wortell," was the reply; "but don't worry about it. It will Filyaw?"

"All, Miss Campbell, who violate the law, free born or slave, white or black, are liable to imprisonment in Jail. Pompy now is a free negro. His offense is not very grave. He merely stole a hog, if his accusers tell the truth."

"Da lies, Mars Jailer; da lies. I neb-

"Il have just left the accuse of the traged, madam; but knowing the torture your minds minst be under, I could not go to my bome until I had seen you. Your son stands not in the slightest danger. Trae, he may remain in custody for some weeks. The coroner's jury will to-morrow doubtless hold him for trial, on certain circumstantial evidence that to the inexperienced juror will seem conclusive. Your son may even come to trial in criminal court, but, believe me, not a hair of his head shall be injured, and he shall return to you, his entire insocence of the rime charged against him fully established, the honored amame he bears untarnished, and more, he shall one day present to you shi loving wife the fair girl who, even though she saw his bent form standing over the lifeless body of her father with the recking weapon in his hand that hereft him of life, yet has full confidence in his innecence, his honore and interrity, the daughter of the murdered man."

"Your Hattle" exclaimed the widow. "You must go to her, Jennie, with the dawn of day, This is terrible for the poor girl. Why, Mr. Seliars, my son had two objects in visiting Mr. DeResett's home-to-inglit. One, as you doubtless know, was to take up his note. The other was to ask his sanction to the union of which you have referred."

"He had obtained that sanction," said Seliars. "He had also taken up his note and interrity in the house, and when he returned he was in "I know," the widow said. "He had haformed me. And then, the hag of coin, and before going to the banker's."

"He did not. He left us at half after nine, and when he returned he was in the custody of Sheriff Cobb. You know he expected to leave for Baltimore on the four o'clock train to attend to some business matters he has there with a commission house."

"He so informed me," said Seliars. "He so informed me, and she had seliars to be a proper of the poor girl. Why her had also taken up his note and had it in his possession."

"He had obtained that sanction of which you have referred."

"Do of the CHAPTER VI.-(Continued.)

"He so informed me," said Sellars.
"Mr. Sellars, I suppose we may visit my hrother in the county jail?"
"Certainly, Miss Jennie, and I will try sud induce Sheriff Cobb to place him in the debtor's room, which is more commomodious than an ordinary cell, if he is held for trial. You had best visit him between eight and alne o'clock this morning. Tell him, of course, that when the right time comes Lang Sellars will establish his innocence and unlock his prison lish his innocence and unlock his prison fasten this crime where it belongs. There is double mystery here, at least. I have is a candidate for the gallows!"
Thus thought Sheriff Cobb as he made his way home after seeing his prisoner in crease the difficulties of the work I have before me—might, in fact, cause guilty parties to take to flight ere I have the various links in a chain of evidence that will bring them to the gallows forged well together, and send me scouring clear across the contineut; therefore—"
"Follow me, Miss Campbell," said Jailer
"Follow me, Miss Campbell," said Jailer

will bring them to the according clear together, and send me scouring clear scross the continent; therefore—"Our lips shall remain sealed, Mr. Sellsra, but our gratitude to you—"Wait, madam, until I have deserved it.

Now you, Roger?"
"I's lak the grave, Mars Lang-jes' lak the grave."
"Right, Roger. And your maid here?"
"Right, Roger. And your maid here?" "Oh, I will answer for Chloe," said ennie.

"I dunno a ting, and never did," said to sable Chice. "All I want is my young the sable Chice. "All I want is my your master back, so the bressed mistress an my Miss Jennie kin dry dar eyes." Why, don't you see, Chloe, mother is lling now, and I-I am another girl al-

"Don't speak of it, Mr. Filyaw, if you please," said Jennie. "We have every confidence that my brother will be able to establish his innocence."

"I hope he may," said the jailer. "I hope he may," said the jailer. "I hope he may." said the jailer. "I hope he may. But what have you there?" "Merely my brother's breakfast in this basket," said Jennie. "He is not used to prison fare. My mother being somewhat prostrated, did not accompany me, and I did not bring my maid to-day."

"Bleas you," said Filyaw, "I should not feed Robert Campbell on prison fare. The best my own table affords should be his."
"Oh, thank you, sir, but either my maid ady."
Well, good-night, ladies," said the de-tive. "I am giad to have been able to leve your minds of much anxiety."
"Good-night, Mr. Sellars, and may God sid you in your endeavors to bring to the bar of justice the guilty wretch who mur-dered my husband's old friend. Ob. if Duncan was alive, what a shock this would be to him. And his son—his boy, h, if or I will come every day while my brother this is here in jail." is here in jall."

They passed from the office through the hall into the corridor of the prison. Filyaw blew a sharp note on his whistle and a turnkey came forward and unlocked and "Herbert Russell was held for the mura turnkey came forward and unlocked and swung open the heavy tron door of the structure, handing the jailer a bunch of keys as he did so. They passed within and the heavy door closed with a clang that grated on poor Jennie's nerves. Two rows of cells confronted them-

"Herbert Russell was beld for the murder of Dr. Taylor, madam."

"True," said the widow, as Sellars passed from the room.

Jennie accompanied him to the door, hade him good-night, and watched his form as it disappeared in the darkness that so often precedes the dawn of day.

"What a reputation that man has as a detecter of crime," she thought, as she walked back through the hall. "Throughout the South, at least, he stands without a peer. Well, he deserves to."

When she joined her mother she found her preparing to retire in a chamber adjoining the sitting room, tears coursing their way down her cheeks in profusion.

"Why, mother, dear, you are weeping yet." one to the right, the other opposite—with a passage between them and an iron stair-way at the further end of the passage "Hey, you jaller! Does my case came off at September court?" was the first greeting that reached their ears as they ones compared to those of but a half-hour ago. Come, join me in my room for a short repose. At eight o'clock you must bear the giad tidings to your brother that he is under the watchful care of Lang Sollars, the great Bouthern detective, who has promised to restore him to us."

CHAPTER VII.

Sheriff Cobb, when he had taken Robert Campbell into custody, was thoroughly suissed that the young man was the banker's murderer. Of that there can banker's murderer. Of that there can be no doubt, but it is also certain that in his haste to do so he was actuated by a fear that Sellars would rob him of the glory, as he considered it, by taking him

"Da lies, Mars Jaller; da lies. I neber atold dat hog. He comed to my tater patch, an' was rootin' dem up. You reckon I gwine let someone eine's hog waller on my taters, an' den 'low him to go free? Cides dat, I only got seben dollars fer de hog, an' I offer de owner half of it."

"Don't worry, Pempy: I have engaged a mood lawyer to defend you." into custody himself. Since the rescue of Herbert Russell Since the rescue of Herbert Russell from the very trap of the gallows a year previous. Sheriff Cobb had been very jealous of Carolina's great detective, and he had no desire that he should have the credit of having apprehended the murderer of Banker DeRosette.

Not a suspicion of Herman Craven, the man who, in alippered feet, bareheaded and in his shirt sleeves, had aroused him from his slumbers at the dead hour of night by the ringing of his door bell and shouts of murder, had crassed his mind.

the case.
"I was in sad despair all night, dear sister," said Robert, perhaps five minutes after Filyaw had taken his departure.
"My reliance was on Sellars, and I thought he had abandoned me. Your good news reassures me. I am content to lie in jail until such time as he la able. but he will do it, and with a network around him from which he cannot escape. Now let us talk no more about this mat-ter. You know the inquest takes place at ten o'clock. I do not wish mother to be at ten o'clock. I do not wish mother to be there. If necessary, promise me that you yourself will remain home and keep her from attending. It would be too much for one of her years and sensitive nature. I shall surely be held to court, and I would spare her the pain of seeing me conveyed to jail again."

"She thought you would feel so, Robert, and will remain at home. Several ladies

"She thought you would feel so, Robert, and will remain at home. Several ladies will be with her. I shall be at the inquest, my brother, and though you are returned to jail, knowing what the future will bring forth. I am content, and then I must be forth, I am content, and then I must be with Hattle, your future wife."

"Bless you, my sister!"

The brother and sister ast side by side on the iron cot when Filyaw again opened the door, and the basket of edibles had been very much depleted.

"Beady, Miss Campbell?" he asked.

"Yes, Mr. Filyaw, and very thankful to you."

to you."
"Euthrely welcome. I just received a measage from Attorney Dobbs, and am expecting him at the jail every moment. He may try to worm a confession from you, Robert. I would not see him."
"Thank you, Filyaw, but I am guilty Please admit him."

yers are dangerous sometimes. Would you not like to see Lang Sellars? You remember how he saved the life of Herbert Russell at the last moment. Poor Herbert, he occupied this very room for

"I have no message for Sellars," said Robert. "Of course, if he calls volun-tarily and wishes to see me, admit him; but he stated last night that he thought Sheriff Cobb had apprehended the right man."

"He did! He did!" exclaimed Filyaw.

"He did! He did!" excinimed Filyaw, moving nervously toward the door. "Then I would not give much for your life. God help you, sir!"
Robert and his sister exchanged glances. He kissed her good-by and she followed the jaller back to his office. "Neither the brother nor sister seem heartbroken." thought Filyaw, as he watched her lithe form pass from view. "but if Lang Seilars made that statement the sou of Duncan Campbell will die a felon's death on the gallows."

RAILWAYS OF ONE ENGINE

In England There Are Ten Railroads with No More Locomotives.

Most people would be inclined to gard it as an impossibility for a rati motive, but there are in Great Britain no fewer than ten railway companies that manage to got through their work somehow with one tron steed. No

One of the most interesting of these small lines is what is known as the Ravenglass & Eskdale Railway, situ ated near Whitehaven, in Cumberland which runs from Ravenglass to Boot a distance of rather more than seve miles. The whole of the railway staff consists only of five persons-two plate layers, engine-driver, fireman and one guard-of-all-work, if we may use such sionally manages to gain a speed of six miles an hour, but the obliging driver is always willing to stop the engine for the convenience of any one who may wish to enter or alight from the train between stopping places.

Perhaps the Easingwold Railway is the smallest in England. It is two ing utterances attributed to Dr. Mary miles long, and the extent of its rolling Walker. stock is one small locomotive and two passenger vehicles.

The Hundred of Manhood and Selsey Tramway is one of the most recently opened light railways, and connects opened light rallways, and connects Leavenworth were recaptured two were killed. the city of Chichester with Section 2 a small promontory to the east of a small promontory to the east of tion against her son James, Premier of British Columbia. off soon enough."
"Got any 'baccer, Mars Jailer?" were the words that greeted them from another

This funny little rallway boasts of no signaling apparatus whatever, and the few switches on the railway are controlled by hand levers alongside the "Here, Pompy!" and Flipsw passed half of a plug through the iron bars of his cell. "Tank you, Massa," and the negro grin-ned as though he was happy. "Why do you keep negroes here, Mr. Flipsw". line, which have to be worked by the fremen or driver when necessary. At one place the line crosses the Chichester canal by means of a frail draw bridge, which is lifted to let boats underneath. It is stated that for the first few weeks after the opening of the line a barge was left underneath in order to catch the train in case the bridge gave way! bridge got stuck, and in spite of all efforts could not be lowered. As it was most important that the engine should be taken to the other side of the canal. It was lifted off the line and drawn round by road with a traction engine.-

Levi Z. Lelter made his first money in mining, nearly $4,000,000, by making an investment of $50,000 in the famous Iron Silver Mine, which he long mis-

"Your brother is in the male debtor's room," said Jailer Filysw. "I did not like the idea of confining him in a ceil. The debtor's room is bad enough."

"Oh, thank you."

In a moment more the jailer had singled out a key from his bunch and unlocked and opened the door.

A recumbent figure, lying on a low iron bedistend, sprang to its feet, and Jeunie was clasped in her brother's arms.

"I will return in fifteen minutes," said the jailer, as he hurriedly withdrew and locked the door behind him.

Filyaw had been Wilmington's jailer for twenty years; but tears atood in his eyes as he trudged back to his office.

"Something wrong somewhere," he muttered. "Lang Seilars should be called into this case. I can't believe a son of Duncan Campbell guilty of murder."

Little did Filyaw know how deeply the great detective was already interested in the case.

"I was in said despair all night, dear sister," said Robert, perhaps five minutes

The Hague council of administra-tion will meet November 27 to con-sider Boers' appeal.

Filipinos attempted to repeat the Samar factics, but were completely routed by the Americans. One more of the four Kansas escaped convicts has been taken, making one-balf of them recaptured. Columbia university has asked Wu Ting Fang. Chinese mini-ter to the United States, to fill the chair of Chinese literature. William P. Sullivan, Jr., head of the San Francisco police, is dead from a complication of diseases caused by worry and over work.

Chan Yen Tung will be the new governor of Shan Tung province, Chins, the position held by Li Hung Chang at the time of his death.

A new dynamite gun has been test-ed by the United States government. It shows better powers of destructive-ness than any previous gun tried.

The Nome steamer City of Seattle struck an iceberg in Taku bay, staving a large hole in her side. The steamer was not disabled to such an extent that she could not proceed on her voyage to Douglas Island. She returned to Seattle without passengers or cargo. The damage will amount to about $5,000.

The Franco-Turkish dispute has All Russian crops are reported beow the average. General Smith says the rebel leader will soon be captured.

Escaped convicts in Kansas cap-tured a sheriff and deputy. The Federal party continues its tur-bulent meetings at Manila.

Tariff legislation is not probable at

A Lick observatory astronomer finds the new star in Perseus is moving.

Several burglaries have occurred in Pendleton, Oregon, the past few days. A fatal duel in the German army may lead to a reichstag investigation.

An American schooner was seized by a Portuguese gunboat in the Surgeon at Port Townsend, Wash.

is ordered to Liverpool to inspect im-Lukban says he will not surrender ntil the Americans withdraw from Gandara valley.

Northern Pacific and Great Northern railways may utilize Snoqualmie Falls, Wash., for power.

One hundred and eleven sections of land in Malheur, Oregon, oil district have been withdrawn from entry.

Turkey yielded to all of France Peter Maher knecked out Jim Jef-

British trade in past ten months

Longbaugh has been identified at St. Louis. Canal system planned for joining Baltic and Black Seas.

Three missing soldiers from Oregon probably murdered,

Company to drill for oil on Menzie

Spring salmon pack on the Columbia River was 224,000 cases. Colombia is levying on the steam ship lines to raise war funds.

Governors of neighboring states commend Lewis and Clark Exposi-

H. St. John, who wrecked three banks in Washington, was arreste in London. Nine convicts who escaped from Li Hung Changis dead.

The British cabinet Franco-Turkish dispute. Ten persons perished in the burn-ing of a Wisconsin theatre.

More money for the great 1905 fair, though stock lists are not ready. The Panama canal has been offered to the Isthmian Canal Commission. General H. C. Corbin and Miss Edyth Patten were married at Wash

English mail for Australia is delivered in 31 days when sent by way of the United States, the quicker route. In 1894 the Untied States senat passed a bill excluding anarchists, but it failed to pass the house and did not

EXPRESS MESSENGER C. F. CHARLES.

Who refused to open the express car for the robbers that recently held up the Southern Pacific express train near Eugene, Oregon. His action prevented the robbers getting a large sum of money. Mr. Charles will be transferred to San Francisco and given substantial promotion by the Wells, Fargo Express Company.

HAVANA SEWER CONTRACT.

Bid of McGivney and Rockeby, of Jersey City, Accepted.

Havana, Nov. 12 .- The municipal ouncil of Havana has decided by a tary J. L. Mitchell, Supreme Capvote of 10 to 8 to accept the bid of S. P. McGivney and R. T. Rockeby, of Devitt, of the Order of Washington, the Havana sewering and paving con-tract. Considerable feeling was manifested during the session over the circulation of a pamphlet insinuating every possible manner by the members every possible manner by the members that the McGivney-Rockeby bid was really the bid of the engineers' de-recent banquet given by the Cuban society to the visiting Chileans. Senor Tamayo was detained by the police but ultimately released by the civil governor.

The Democratic partyllas adopted General Bartolome Maso as its candidate for the presidency of Cuba.

OMNIBUS HELD UP.

Bold Robbery Within the Limits of a North Dakota Town.

Valley City, N. D., Nov. 12. -While an omnibus was on its way to North Valley City tonight it was held up by masked men. Half of the passengers aboard were robbed, losing money and other valuables to the amount of about Combs, who was riding with the driv-er, jumped from his seat in the dark-

Forgot to Close the Breech. Athens, Nov. 12 .- A terrible gun accident occurred yesterday on the British battle ship Royal Sovereign, outside of the Ostoko harbor. An artilleryman forgot to close the breech before the gun was fired. One officer and six artillerymen were killed out-right, the bodies being terribly mutilated, and the captain and 13 sailors were seriously injured.

London, Nov. 12 .- The Exchange Telegraph Company has received a dispatch from Lisbon announcing hat a Portuguese gunboat has he American schooner Nettie and Lottie at Horta, Island of Fayal, in the Azores, for clandestinely conveying 26 emigrants who were trying to avoid military service.

New York, Nov. 13 .- A dispatch to the Tribune from London says: According to the British correspondent of the London Chronicle the German railway authorities are arranging to run a train in connection with the arranging to the connection with the arranging to the connection with the arranging to the connection with the arrangement. run a train in connection with the arrival of the North German Lloyd steamers, which will leave Hamburg and Bremen twice weekly. It is beauties of the Mediterranean squadron should be still be and Bremen twice weekly. It is be-lieved that if this plan can be carried out it will divert much of the Amer-ican passenger traffic which at present passes through Liverpool and London or Southern Europe.

New York, Nov. 13 .- Fire in the become a law.

Rev. O. N. Hartshorn, I.L. D., founder and for almost 50 years president of Mount Union college, died at Alliance, O., after a long illness from Brights disease. He was 78 years old.

Were all gotten out. William Stewbard, kept his cage art, an elevator man, kept his

ORDER OF WASHINGTON.

Charges Against Supreme Officers No tained and Everything is O. K.

Seattle, Nov. 7 .- Supreme Presi dent W. W. Terry, Supreme Secretain Paul Pferdner and T. B. Mc-The supreme officers were indorsed in partment.

The papers assert that Senor Tamayo, secretary of state and government, has been challenged to fight a duel by a member of the Union Club whom, it is said, Senor Tamayo and a friend assaulted at the close of the papers assert that Senor Tamayo and a friend assaulted at the close of the peace reigns, with the exception that there might have been, disappeared peace reigns, with the exception that incorporated to operate automorphism is to be tried under impeach-lines between Salem and suburbs.

ment proceedings.

The Order of Washington has unions in Oregon, Washington, Idaho and Montana, and has a membership of over 12,000. The supreme officers are leading citizens of Portland. It is incorporated under the laws of Oregon, and was the first society authorized to do insurance business in Washington under the new law.

PAN-AMERICAN CONGRESS.

Mexico City, Nov. 13.-The several committees of the Pan-America congress are getting down to work. The committee whose work is perhaps the most advanced is that on Paner, jumped from his seat in the unit ness, ran back to the nearest house and telephoned to the police. By the Davis is chairman. Its, work, how-time the officers arrived, however, the robbers had escaped with their booty. Mr. Davis has received information about the route of the projected rail-There is no clew to their identity.

The hold up took place within the city limits and was a bold piece of their representatives now in this city, unable to supply the information desired they have, at the senator's re-quest, sent to their government for it.

The committee on commerce and reciprocity has held a few informal meetings, but nothing of importance has developed. On Friday the dele-gates to the congress and their fami-lies will depart on their first excursion, going to Pueblo, where they will be banqueted by the governor of the state.

Miss Julia Mariowe, writing in the Dramatic Number of Collier's Weekly, ture by permitting "stage embraces."
In reply she declares with some spirit:
"Such a question demands the application of only a fair degree of common sense to ensure a negative an-

New York, Nov. 11.—The battle-ship Brennetto Bren has been suc-cessfully launched at Castlemare, in the presence of the King and Queen, says the Naples correspondent of the Herald. On the arrival of the Queen fired a royal salute. The Brennetto Bren is one of the largest ships of the Italian Navy, having a displacement of 13,000 tons. Her launching weight was 7000 tons.

Topeka, Kan., Nov. 12.-Three of carpet making plant of the Planet Mills in Brooklyn today endangered the lives of 800 women at work on the upper floors of the building, but they were all gotten out. William Stew-

NEWS OF THE STATE

NO. 48.

TEMS OF INTEREST FROM ALL PARTS OF OREGON.

ommercial and Financial Happenings of Importance-A Brief Review of the Growth and Improvements of the Many Industries Throughout Our Thriving Commonwealth -Latest Market Report

The La Grande factory has made about 25,000 bags of sugar this season. The fall run of silverside salmon in Rogue river is greater than for 10

W. T. Grier has sold his fruit farm of 10 acres, two miles from La Graude, for $3,000.

The Hodson farm of 225 acres, three miles southeast of Salem, has been sold for $6,500.

A railroad will be built to Lake-view, next summer, to develop the property of the Oregon Potash Com-About 75 men of the coast artillery will complete their terms at Fort Stevens next month and will receive their discharges. A mysterious burglar got away with a large amount of goods from Pendleton cigar store and left all fastenings undisturbed.

A receiver will be asked for the Baisley-Elkhorn mine at Baker City, so that it may be worked and made to pay up its indebtedness. A movement is under way to or ganize a company composed wholly of Astoria business men to operate a freight steamer between that city and Portland, in consequence of ex-cessive freight charges by the trans-portation lines. A syndicate, of which the principal is a millionaire lumberman of Minneapolis, is about to acquire the immense lumber, railroad and sawmill holdings of the Siskiyou Lumber & Mercantile Company, including the McCloud River Railroad, for a sum reported to be $3,000,000.

The Roseburg water company's extensive improvements are nearing

The St. Helens school district will sne $3,500 in school bonds to build a new school house. The roads of Wasco county are vastly improved by reason of the adoption of wide-tire wagons. The Salem Automobile Co.has been Nineteen members of the Oregon City militia company were court-martialed for neglect of duty. County Commissioner Young, of Clatsop county, was in Astoria last week, and reports that the county saw mill is in place and will at once be-gin operations. The break in the dike is being repaired by a force of men.

The Sumpter Lumber company's new 45 horsepower engine has been-installed at the saw mill at Sumpter, week and are working satisfactorily, both in the saw mill and the planing

The Chisholm logging camp near Knappa, has closed down for the win-ter, after having cut the body of timher it has been working on for several months. It will start up again in the early spring on a body of timber in Wheat - Walla Walla, nominal, 55@553c?; bluestem, 56c; Valley, 55@55 %c. Flour—Best grades, $2.65@3.50 per barrel; graham, $2.60.

Oats—Nominal 90@$1 00 pr cental.
Barley—Feed, $15@15.50; brewing, $16.00 per ton. Millatuffs — Bran, $17@18; middling, $20@21; shorts, 19@20; chop, Hay-Timothy. $11@13; clover, $7@9.50; Oregon wild hay, $5@6 per Butter—Fancy creamery, 25@271/c; dairy, 18@20c; store, 14@15o per Eggs—Storage, 20c; fresh, 23@24c; Eastern 20@21.

Cheese—Full cream, twins, 121/68
13c; Young America, 131/614c.
Poultry—Chickens, mixed, $2.506 3.00; hens, $4.00; dressed, 106/11c per pound springs, $2.506 3.00, per dozen; ducks, $3 for old $3.006

4.00 for young; goese, $5@7 per doz-en; turkeys, live, 10@11c; dressed, 8@10c per pound. Mutton—Lambs, 314c gross; dressed Mutton—Lambs, 34c gross, 4ressed, 6664c per pound; sheep, $3.25 gross; dressed, 6c per pound.

Hogs—Gross, heavy, $666.25; light, $4.7565; dressed, 7@74c per pound.

Veal—Small, 868%c; large, 7@74c

per pound.

Beef.—Gross top steers, $3.50@4.00; cows and heifers, $3.00@3.50; dressed beef, 5%@6%c per pound. Hops—8@10%e per pound

Hops—8@10%c per pound.
Woo!—Valley, 11@13%c per pound;
Eastern Oregon, 8@12%c; mohair, 20@21c per pound.
Potatoes—85@85 per sack.

The assessed valuation of Idaho has increased $4,649,580 in a single year, and the total now is $52,195,486.

Thirty-two additional warehou are to be provided in New York for the storage of 500,000 to 600,000 bags