The Pacific Monthly.

The December number of the Pacific Monthly, which will be issued about the 25th of November, is a fine example of the brilliant progress which has been made by the magazine throughout the year. It is a Christmas number, in the best sense of the phrase, and no finer holiday edition has ever been issued by any periodical published on the Pacific Coast. Within its bright covers is a feast of interest to all lovers of magazine literature. It shows a considerable increase in the numbers of pages and a prodigality of illustrations that is very acceptable.

The opening article is a fascinating write-up of the Passion-Play, presented annually by the Indians of British Columbia, under the direction of the Catholic priests. It is not generally known that within the confines of our own continent there is being produced every year a Passion-play which, in dramatic effectiveness, rivals the Oberammergau production, but such is the fact. The article is profusely illustrated by photographs of most of the principal tableaux and participants, which add much to its interest.

"A New Type of Battleship," illustrated by photographs, is descriptive of the new vessels which are to make the United States navy the greatest in the world.

"A Famous Trick Horse" tells of an educated horse owned by Robert Lowry, of Aberdeen, Wash. The accompanying photographs are inimitable.

"The Combined Harvester and Thresher" illustrates the methods in reaping and threshing the tremendous wheat crops of the Northwest.

The two short stories are both Western stories; both are appropriate to the Christmas tide; and both are prettily illustrated. One, "As it Seemed in Sourdough's Cabin," is a captivating tale of the experiences of three miners on a Christmas Eve in the Klondike, written by Mr. McInnes, of Vancouver, B. C. The other, "The Sending Forth of Little Jane," relates the trials and final triumph of a "Sky-Pilot" and a little waif whom he adopted.

To those who are acquainted with the PACIFIC MONTHLY, the departments are the most acceptable features of the magazine. Eight in number, they cover a wide range of interest. From "Our Point of View" to "Drift," each one is brimful of bright, readable matter, giving evidence of painstaking preparation. "Questions of the Day," "Men and Women," "Home," "The Pioneer," "Books" and "The Month" are the others, and each one is, in its particular field excellent.

All in all, it is an admirable number, and one of which the publishers may well feel proud.

Probate Court.

County Judge Doan handed down the following orders during the week.

John Dolan was appointed administrator of the estate of Jeremiah Galvin, deceased.

The final settlement of the Elzy George estate was approved.

The inventory and appraisement of the Levy Ludwig estate was filed, and an order made to pay the claim of Henry Larsen.

In the matter of the J. W. Gile estate, time was extended for the hearing, as provided for in the citation.

John Hendrickson was appointed guardian of Andrew R. Hoses, a minor.

COLUMBIA CITY

Mr. Vivian seems to be doing his fall plowing during this good weather.

Several nice Thanksgiving dinners were served at this place.

Dell Fowler, of Oregon City, formerly of Milton creek, was down cruising timber this week.

C. G. Caples is investing in young stock.

Friends and relatives look for I. Bumgardner here soon to kill a few ducks.

Mrs. Dell Shinn, of Portland, is visiting her parents, Dr. and Mrs. C. G. Caples.

Blank notes for sale at this office.

DEER ISLNAD

C. H. English is putting in a nice stock of winter goods.

Charles Cardus has returned from Mo. and bought property at Deer Island, from Mike Fresh. Charles says Oregon good enough for him.

We learn that John Splawn has sold out to Mr. Thacker and he intends going to California for his future home.

Mrs. J. Gaittens received the sad news of the death of her aunt, Mrs. Jack Usher, of Wash.

Bert Adams has bought the T. Lous place at Deer Island.

E. Seffert spent his Thanksgiving at Clatskanie.

The Thanksgiving dance which was at Mr. Brown's, was a decided success. A fine oyster supper was served at midnight, and the table was loaded down with other good things to eat. The dancing lasted until daylight, when the people wended their way for home, wishing they could always enjoy themselves every Thanksgiving as well as they did this time.

F. Lous and family, came down from St. Helens and took in the Thanksgiving dance.

Mrs. Brown's sisters, Miss Ruth and Lena Edwards, from Hillsboro, came down for the party.

T. Cameron spent his Thanksgiving in Portland.

Willis Bumgardner has purchased a lot at Deer Island, where he and family will reside.

Mr. Carey of Portland, spent his Thanksgiving with Mr. and Mrs. Brown.

CLATSKANIE.

Z. Bryant in attempting to get out of bed Thursday night found himself unable to controll his movements and falling, struck his face against the bed rail so as to bruise it considerably. The fall aroused the family who sent for a physician, when it was discovered that paralysis had developed during the night and impaired the use of his left side. He continues unable to walk and was taken to a sanitarium at Portland Tuesday morning.

J. W. Sherwood, of Portland, was down Saturday to attend a meeting of the Knights of the Maccabees, of which he is the state commander. Quite a number of the members of the order were present from this and adjoining tents that night.

A neat wedding is reported to have taken place at Joseph Erickson's on lower Beaver last week, when his second daughter Ida, was married by Rev. Hawkins of this place to J. B. Lovegren, now of Rainier. The young people are both well and favorably known about here, and many good wishes go with them.

The lower Beaver people seem to do nothing by halves. At a social recently nearly $80 was raised for the benefit of a needy family there, and it has not been long since over that amount was realized in a similar way for another widow and family

Councilman Tichenor is to be congratulated on finishing the side walk in front of his property. An illustration of the adage, "All things come to him who waits."

We notice that the J. A. English property is advertised for sale. It looks as though John and his family intend to cut loose from us and find a home elsewhere. This is to be regretted for they will be greatly missed here.

There is an occasional instance of people going to southern Oregon for climate, and coming back for comfort. S. Lindgren and family, having just returned, can give further information. They are not the first people who have done the like, but can tell you what they think.

A masquarade ball Thanksgiving night attracted quite a crowd at Redmen hall.

Ed Flippen has purchased a few acres of ground across the river in the E. D. Tichenor addition, and is building himself a home as rapidly as proper lumber and favorable weather can be secured.

The Clatskanie river has been unusually high this week, and jams of logs have occured in a couple of places, that will take considerable time to loosen, however, quite a number of logs got through to tide water.

The new bowling alley of Perrine's is proving a drawing card.

THEDFORD'S
BLACK-DRAUGHT
THE ORIGINAL
LIVER MEDICINE

A sallow complexion, dizziness, biliousness and a coated tongue are common indications of liver and kidney diseases. Stomach and bowel troubles, severe as they are, give immediate warning by pain, but liver and kidney troubles, though less painful at the start, are much harder to cure. Thedford's Black-Draught never fails to benefit diseased liver and weakened kidneys. It stirs up the torpid liver to throw off the germs of fever and ague. It is a certain preventive of cholera and Bright's disease of the kidneys. With kidneys reinforced by Thedford's Black-Draught thousands of persons have dwelt immune in the midst of yellow fever. Many families live in perfect health and have no other doctor than Thedford's Black-Draught. It is always on hand for use in an emergency and saves many expensive calls of a doctor.

Mullins, S. C., March 10, 1901.
I have used Thedford's Black-Draught for three years and I have not had to go to a doctor since I have been taking it. It is the best medicine for me that is on the market for liver and kidney troubles and dyspepsia and other complaints. Rev. A. G. LEWIS.
