

Aching Joints

In the fingers, toes, arms, and other parts of the body, are joints that are inflamed and swollen by rheumatism—that acid condition of the blood which affects the muscles also.

Sufferers dread to move, especially after sitting or lying long, and their condition is commonly worse in wet weather.

"It has been a long time since we have been without Hood's Sarsaparilla. My father thinks he could not be without it. He has been troubled with rheumatism since he was a boy, and Hood's Sarsaparilla is the only medicine he can take that will enable him to take his place in the field." Miss ADA DORR, Sidney, Iowa.

Hood's Sarsaparilla and Pills

Remove the cause of rheumatism and cure the disease—no outward application can. Take them.

Economy in Eggs. When eggs are expensive, it is well to remember that it is not necessary to boil a whole egg to get a yolk without breaking the latter for paring. Separate the white and yolk without breaking the latter and pour it hard in salted water. The white is saved for glazing or merinosis, etc.

Cause and Effect. "I understand he is married and has recently come into considerable money." "Which was cause and which effect?"

An Unlimited Supply. "Everything is getting dearer," said the apprehensive citizen. "No," answered the man who had been reading about "How to Circumvent the Trusts," "advice is as cheap as ever."—Washington Star.

LOOK OUT FOR CATARRH

When the cold wave flag is up, freezing weather is on the way. Winter here in earnest, and with it all the miserable symptoms of Catarrh return—blinding headaches and neuralgia, thick mucous discharges from the nose and throat, a hacking cough and pain in the chest, bad taste in the mouth, fetid breath, nausea and all that makes Catarrh the most sickening and disgusting of all complaints. It causes a feeling of personal defilement and mortification that keeps one nervous and anxious while in the company of others.

In spite of all efforts to prevent it, the filthy secretions and mucous matter find their way into the Stomach and are distributed by the blood to every nook and corner of the system; the Stomach and Kidneys, in fact every organ and part of the body, become infected with the catarrhal poison. This disease is rarely, if ever, even in its earliest stages, a purely local disease or simple inflammation of the nose and throat, and this is why sprays, washes, powders and the various inhaling mixtures fail to cure. Heredity is sometimes back of it—parents have it and so do their children.

In the treatment of Catarrh, antiseptic and soothing washes are good for cleansing purposes or clearing the head and throat, but this is the extent of their usefulness. To cure Catarrh permanently, the blood must be purified and the system relieved of its load of foul secretions, and the remedy to accomplish this is S. S. S. which has no equal as a blood purifier. It restores the blood to a natural, healthy state and the catarrhal poison and effete matter are carried out of the system through the proper channels. S. S. S. restores to the blood all its good qualities, and when rich, pure blood reaches the inflamed membrane and is carried through the portions of the body, they soon heal, the mucous discharges cease and the patient is relieved of the most offensive and humiliating of all complaints. S. S. S. is a vegetable remedy and contains nothing that could injure the most delicate constitution. It cures Catarrh in its most aggravated forms, and cases apparently incurable and hopeless. Write us if you have Catarrh, and our physicians will advise you without charge.

The Basilisk.

The ancients described the basilisk as a serpent which could kill by its very glance. It lived in a desert because its breath destroyed all vegetation, thus making a desert of any place inhabited by it. A basilisk was said to have caused a deadly pestilence in Rome during the time of Pope Leo IV.

CATARRH THIRTY YEARS

CONGRESSMAN MEEKISON, OF OHIO.

Hon. David Meekison is well known, not only in his own state, but through out America. He began his political career by serving four consecutive terms as Mayor of the town in which he lives, during which time he became widely known as the founder of the Meekison Bank, of Napoleon, Ohio. He was elected to the Fifty-fifth congress by a very large majority, and is the acknowledged leader of his party in his section of the state.

Only one flaw marred the otherwise complete success of this rising statesman. Catarrh with its insidious approach and tenacious grasp, was his only unconquered foe. For thirty years he waged unsuccessful warfare against this personal enemy. At last Peruna came to the rescue, and he dictated the following letter to Dr. Hartman as the result:

"I have used several bottles of Peruna and I feel greatly benefited thereby from my catarrh of the head. I feel encouraged to believe that if I use it a short time longer I will be fully able to eradicate the disease of thirty years' standing.—David Meekison, Member of Congress.

The season of catching cold is upon us. The cough and the sneeze and the nasal twang are to be heard on every hand. The origin of chronic catarrh, the most common and dreadful of diseases, is a cold.

This is the way the chronic catarrh generally begins. A person catches cold, which hangs on longer than usual. The cold generally starts in the head and throat. Then follows sensitiveness of the air passages which incline one to catch cold very easily. At last the person has a cold all the while, seemingly, more or less discharge from the nose, hawking, spitting, frequent clearing of the throat, nostrils stopped up, full feeling in the head, and sore, inflamed throat.

But prevention is far better than cure. Every person subject to catching cold should take Peruna at once at the slightest symptom of cold or sore throat at this season of the year and thus prevent what is almost certain to end in chronic catarrh.

Send for free book on catarrh, entitled "Winter Catarrh," by Dr. Hartman. "Health and Beauty" sent free to women only. Ask your druggist for a free Pe-ru-na almanac.

Deceitful Appearance. "Jayemith fairly worships his wife," said Fosdick, "and yet he won't give her enough money to dress herself properly." "It isn't always the most devout worshipper that puts the most money on the collection plate," replied Keechlick.—Town Topics.

How to Discourage Treating. Gayboy—Have a drink with me? Hardhead—Certainly. Here's to you. Gayboy—Ah, that's good. Hardhead—First-rate. Order another round if you like. I belong to the anti-treating league, and have promised not to treat; but there's nothing in the rules about accepting treats. Order right along, old boy. You pay and I'll drink.—New York Weekly.

His Little Scheme. He was cutting an item from the newspaper. "It tells how a house was robbed, and I want to show it to my wife," he explained. "What good will that do?" a friend inquired. "A whole lot," was the reply. "You see, this house was robbed while a man was at church with his wife." "Say!" exclaimed the friend, excitedly, "you haven't got another copy of that paper, have you?"—Chicago Post.

It was the Card. The weary housekeeper panned beside the basket of eggs that bore the card: "Fresh this morning—38 cents." "Give me a dozen of these eggs," she said. "I suppose you guarantee their freshness?" "Well, no," said the hesitating storekeeper. "We wouldn't like to do that." "But the card says: 'Fresh this morning.'" "Yes m," the storekeeper reluctantly admitted. "But you see it's the card that's fresh—not the eggs."—Cleveland Plain Dealer.

FRENCH MARRIAGE BROKERS.

Decision Which Gives Their Business Legal Recognition.

Matrimonial agents in France are jubilant. The law which up to the present has dealt somewhat severely with them and refused to consider as binding contracts made by them is apparently beginning to take up another attitude. At any rate, this was the case recently when the Chambre des Requetes had to consider an action from Toulouse. Some time back a solicitor living in the neighborhood of that town, engaged the services of a local matrimonial agent, who, in due course found a suitable wife for his client. The marriage took place and the agent applied for his commission, but the solicitor did not appear inclined to pay the sum agreed upon. He first declared that the amount was out of proportion with the services rendered, and subsequently refused to pay anything whatever, says the Paris Messenger. The parties then went to law, and the local civil court dismissed the agent's claim on questions of fact. He appealed, and the Appeal Court also decided against him, holding that "money payments for matrimonial negotiations were immoral and illegal."

The plaintiff next appealed on a point of law to the Chambre des Requetes, which decided in his favor and ordered a fresh trial of the action by the Civil Court. A passage in the speech made by the Advocate General is well worth quoting. After showing that marriage had always been considered as the basis of society, he said: "How can the fact of facilitating a marriage, of placing two families in relationship, of procuring a companion for the man who wishes to create a family be declared a priori, ipso facto, an act contrary to morals, to law and to public order? The contrary is the case. A priori and on principle, it is a meritorious action, and it cannot be considered too favorably. Must the nature of this meritorious and moral action be changed because the intermediary has not been a disinterested person? By no means. A disinterested intermediary may commit a detestable action, while an interested one may commit an excellent one. Everything depends on the circumstances."

The title of "doctor" was invented in the twelfth century and conferred for the first time upon Inerius of the university of Bologna, states the Metaphysical Magazine. The first "doctor of medicine" was Guilelmo Gordeno, who received the honor from the college of Aost, also in Italy, in 1229.

In a recent lecture at Gresham College, Dr. Symes Thompson, in speaking of the effects of climate, remarked that it had become necessary to submit English government work in Egypt because it was found that the natives would only work when chastised, and it was a rule that a British officer must not strike a native.

Phoenix, Ariz., the center of Salt River valley, was a few years ago a sagebrush desert. It has now twenty-five thousand inhabitants, with an assessed property valuation of $10,000,000. All this is due to water, which, brought in canals from streams fed mainly from San Francisco and other Arizona reserves, has turned the desert into a fertile valley, covered with ranches and dotted with small towns.

The most valuable book. The most valuable work in existence is said to be a copy of the Koran now treasured in the Mohammedan city of Isouan-tuzza, Persia. The covers, alone and one-half inches by four inches, are of solid gold an eighth of an inch thick, while precious stones set in symbolic designs figure in the center and at each of the corners. The book is written upon parchment, and this part of the work is valued at $125,000.
