Tendency of the T. me.

The tendency of medical is toward preventive measures. The best thought of the world is being given to the subject. It is easier to prevent than to cure. It has been fully demonstrated that pneumonia, one of the most dangerous diseases that medical men have to contend with, can be prevented by the use of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. Pneumonia always results from a cold or an attack of influenza (grip), and it has been observed that remedy counteracts any tendency of these diseases toward pneumonia. This has been fully proven in many thousands of cases in which this remedy has been used during the great prevalence of colds and grip in recent years, and can be relied upon with implicit confidence. Pneumonia often results from a slight cold when no danger is apprehended until it is suddenly discovered that there is a fever and difficulty in breathing and pains in the chest then it is announced that the patient has pneumonia. Be on the safe side and take Chamberlain's Cough Remedy as soon as the cold is contracted. It always cures. For sale by Edwin Ross.

MIST.

Mrs. A. Mulla, is a Portland visitor last week.

Owing to the inclemency of the weather, the Bible class was a failure.

Don't forget the Grand Soiree to be given at Merril's Hall, Saturday evening.

Rev. Lyetrum, of Vancouver, preached here at the Swedish Lutheran church, last Sabbath.

Miss Minnie Lane is recovering from tonsillitis much to the delight of her many friends.

Louis Orwig, our genial butcher, passed through our burg with cattle, enroute to Clatskanie.

Ethel Lane passed through our town to Portland, where she has employment in a candy factory.

Here's to the Deep Creek would be correspondent. What cares the nightingale for the croak of the frogs?

The last snow fall afforded old and young a great deal of amusement. A sledding of Gypsies passed through our hamlet. Quite a contrast was their dark faces, with the snow.

A man that lives upon a hill, had the audacity to frustrate a birthday party given by Uncle Sam's free born people, but he got sandy left. Stars and stripes will wave o'er the land of the free and the home of the brave.

One of our neighbors, and devout church members left home several weeks ago with money enough in his pockets to pay for a ranch. Days passed and he had not returned, and a messenger was sent out, at last. He was found side tracked, minus several hundred dollars. He probably put in the days, saying, "Let's have one more, then we'll go home."

Will S. Dippold, celebrated his 28 anniversary, last Thursday evening. Some of Mist's best people were present. Music, singing and dancing were the features of the evening. The house was artistically decorated with ferns and Oregon grape; a sumptuous supper was served. Will was the recipient of many handsome presents. We wish Will many happy returns.

Recent rain is causing the snow to rapidly disappear.

John Lane, of Deep Creek, went to Clatskanie Saturday.

G. T. Daywalt made a flying trip to Clatskanie last week.

Will Miller was doing business in Clatskanie last week.

C. L., of Deep Creek, went to Vesper, Sunday to see if there was any mail there for him.

Many are the roses on maiden cheek. Many are the promises that Cupid will speak. When the mail is opened on Valentine day.

I am sure that the Mist correspondent meant that Oliver was the right man in the right place even if he didn't say so. It is very hard for some men to "Go way back and sit down." The road supervisor of district 13 showed good judgment, in showing he was supervisor and in waiting for advice from men of sense. I suppose that is what you mean by the punch in the ribs from St. Helens. He doesn't seem to be hurt much by it, while certain citizens of Mist are suffering from a combination of stomach ache and sore head, which makes it very disagreeable for society in general; and the worst of it is they don't seem to be getting over it. You might even your aching brow by washing in the mud puddle in front of Jim Hill's residence, then sit down and reflect, and think, and Remember well, and bear in mind, That a good supervisor is hard to find; And when you have one good and true, Change not the old one for the new.

PITTSBURG

O. A. Powell was doing business at Clatskanie, Thursday.

F. J. Peterson attended Pomona Grange, at Hulson, last Saturday.

Loyd Deatrick returned from Portland last week where he had been on business.

Was De Jersey's barn insured against snow storms? Well if it wasn't it's too late to insure it now.

The first term of school at this place will be out next Friday. The directors haven't yet employed a teacher for next term.

The mail carrier reports seeing the tracks of two cougars, about two miles east of Pittsburg. Newt Parker went in pursuit of them but was unable to overtake them.

Have noticed the mention so kindly made of the Warren Brass Band's concert and dance which is to be given this Friday evening the 13th.
