SOME REASONS WHY THE COUNTY SEAT SHOULD NOT BE MOVED AT THIS TIME.

As the time for the vote on relocation of county seat draws near we should consider the matter carefully and in a fair, deliberate manner. The bill was passed by the last legislature and while it is not all that could be desired, we must consider that it was drafted by those who to say the least, donate little for the support of the expenses of the elections, and it would seem at this time an unnecessary expense to have two elections. What we need at this time is more attention to our roads. A good wagon road is as good, if not better than a railroad, to the farmer and we could spend the amount of money it would cost to build a court house in improving our roads and enabling the farmer to bring his produce to market. I think it would suit him better than paying out so much money on elections and new buildings. At this time and in order to obtain these results, the following reasons are set forth, why the county seat should remain where it is for the present:

1st. The expenses it will cost for two elections.

2nd. The unjust provisions in the bill.

3rd. We need roads more than a court house at this time.

4th. The risk of losing or destroying the records by removing the same into unsuitable quarters.

5th. The expense it would cost to procure stone for a court house at Rainier.

6th. Because we hear so much about the donation of a site at Rainier, but have heard of no writings to that effect.

7th. Because there are fair roads to the county seat at present, and they could not get to Rainier by road, only by spending fabulous wealth and bankrupting the county.

8th. This is not the time to incur so much expense, when we can at any future time, vote on relocation of county seat under the general law without extra expense to the taxpayers.

9th. It might be advisable in the future, to relocate the county seat at some other place than the three now in the race.

10th. Last, but not least, St. Helens does not have to donate a site—they already have one with a court house, as well.

His Last Hope Realized.

(From the Sentinel, Gebo, Mont.)

In the first opening of Oklahoma to settlers in 1889, the editor of this paper was among the many seekers after fortune who made the big race one fine day in April. During his traveling about and afterwards his camping upon his claim, he encountered much bad water, which together with the severe heat, gave him a very severe diarrhoea which it seemed almost impossible to check, and along in June the case became so bad he expected to die. One day one of his neighbors brought him one small bottle of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy as a last hope. A big dose was given him while he was rolling about on the ground in great agony, and in a few minutes the dose was repeated. The good effect of the medicine was soon noticed and within an hour the patient was taking his first sound sleep for a fortnight. That one little bottle worked a complete cure, and he cannot help but feel grateful. The season for bowel disorders being at hand suggests this item. For sale by Edwin Ross.

FROM THE OTHER SIDE.

Postmaster Clark, of Rainier, Discusses the County Seat Location.

To the Editor of THE MIST:

RAINIER, ORE., June 15—Since the beginning of the county seat controversy numerous articles bearing on the question have appeared in your valued paper—only one of them, however, was in the interest of any other place than St. Helens, and as none of the articles had a name attached to them, and as some of them have very decidedly the characteristics of some more or less prominent citizens of your town, it is justifiable to believe that they were all written by St. Helens people, including the one signed "Red Fir," which was very evidently written with the intention of furnishing your townsmen with something to form a basis for the articles that have followed. If you will kindly allow me the space to present some facts, and refute some fallacies, you will not only do me a favor, but will furnish another example of the fairness and liberality that has always characterized THE MIST.

It has been asserted and repeatedly insinuated that a mere handful of Rainier people were the instigators of and responsible for the enabling act under which this election is to be held, whereas THE MIST and all its correspondents, KNOW that there was presented to the legislature at its last session a petition bearing the names of more than two-thirds of the bona-fide voters of this county, and while many of these signers will vote to keep the county at St. Helens, still they were wise enough to see that it was best for all sections to have the matter settled as soon as possible.

The so-called "Rainier Bill" was drawn by a Rainier man, and the people of Rainier are neither ashamed of the man or the bill, for it was published in the Gazette several weeks before it was presented to the legislature, you might have published it yourself if you had seen fit. There was no objection to the bill presented, and it was supposed that the bill was satisfactory every one as it was to Rainier, and surely the most partisan person in St. Helens will not assert that the bill gives Rainier any advantage over any other town that may see fit to enter the fight. Clatskanie evidently does not think it does, for she is up and doing and making a brave fight for the honor, and she is not throwing mud at Rainier either.

In the issue of The Mist of June 9th, "X-Ray" to quote your headlines, "covers the field," but if his article is looked at from a nonpartisan standpoint it will be found to contain just what all the other articles contain, viz: St. Helens is good enough for me, therefore let the county seat alone, I don't care a rap for the people that have to travel more miles than I do rods, and beside that, the county seat has always been at St. Helens and it always ought to be, because it is close to the Multnomah county line." Now that is very good argument for people that would, from their geographical location vote for the present site anyway, but none of your correspondents has given one single reason nor advanced a solitary argument that would, or could possibly have any weight or influence in determining the vote of an elector that did not live within the sacred "10-mile limit" of St. Helens.

If you will give "X-Ray" space to go into details regarding his assertion that "the expense of election and removal will bring our taxes up to about double what they are now," I don't believe it, and neither does "X-Ray." $1,000 will more than cover the expenses of two elections, and the expense of removal will not be $100 greater to remove to Rainier or to Clatskanie than it would be to move from the old court house in St. Helens to a new one in the same place, and "X Ray" and "Greasy Fritter" from upper Nehalem not only expect, but hope to make such removal as soon as the ballot is cast that shall decide on St. Helens as the county seat.

To quote further from "X-Ray: "Convenience or accessibility is more important than geography." Let me reach over your desk and shake hands with the scientific instrument, he has made that one statement that is absolutely true, and if he had gone one step farther in his truthful statement, and added that were they combined with geography, such a place would be absolutely invincible he would have said all there was to be said on that line and those three graces combined have a name that is beautiful—and that name is Rainier.

In regard to accessibility and convenience and geography Rainier has more has all and more than any town in this county can claim. Our road to St. Helens is not very good, but no man that is out for business would think of driving that distance even if there were a boulevard, when he can come on the train for $1.15 for the round trip, or on the boat for a little more than half that. It is true our road to Nehalem is not as good as that at St. Helens; neither is the St. Helens road as good as the one at Clatskanie, and if the the county court had expended one-tenth as much on the road from Rainier to Nehalem that has been spent on either of the other roads it would be a better road than either of them, and I want to add, that county seat or no county seat, the Rainier road will be improved, and I make the prediction that it will be a more frequented road than either of the others, for it is better in grade, and does not traverse a wilderness as do the others, but for most of the way runs through a well settled country and a fertile one all the way. So that looking at the get-at-able side of the question Rainier is several lengths ahead of all competitors.

Now, the little matter of population, that according to the man with instrumental name don't cut any figure, just so St. Helens is chosen. Besides the matter of location, Rainier is as near the center of population as it is possible to have the county seat and have it accessible, if that statement "jars" you, look at the last election returns and see for yourself?

Now gentlemen, all that Rainier asks for is a fair fight and no favor, and don't throw mud. It will hurt you and not us. Don't try to delude others by saying as did "Upper Nehalem," "that a selfish and impudent act got up by Rainier" to delude the people, etc. For the act was neither impudent nor selfish, only a justifiable strife after what we have as good a right to as St. Helens or any other town, and "Upper Nehalem" only deludes himself when he talks that way. To show the difference between narrowmindedness of "Upper Nehalem" and a broad gauge man, let me quote from the remarks of a very able and prominent man and a large taxpayer, who lives very close to the Clatsop line in the Nehalem. He says: "We cannot have a court house in every barnyard, and I believe it should be where it will be handiest for the most people, and in my estimation Rainier is the place." My dear Editor you can certainly see a very decided difference in the minds of the two men—one narrow and bigoted, not willing to admit that anyone should have the right to strive after that which seems good to him, the other a man of broad gauge and open mind that can see the benefits ... confine himself to graveling because Rainier did not wait for that "Utopian dream" of a railroad to Nehalem and a county seat in Upper Nehalem's back yard.

Respectfully,
A. L. CLARK.

The article signed by "Red Fir," was written by a Rainier man, and had the MIST permission at this time to disclose his identity, it would create a nine days wonder in his home town. "Red Fir" set the precedent of writing under a non de plume, and has been followed by several upper Nehalem farmers and residents of other localities. Some of Red Fir's arguments are re-produced in the above communication. The MIST resents the imputation that the upper Nehalem farmers are narrow or bigoted. Many of them came from the cultured sections of the East, and settled in the Nehalem with the expectation that a railroad would be built into that section. If these communications were of no effect, as hinted, what the use of the MIST force working until midnight to put in type the above long communication, in reply? The MIST or its correspondents have not specially opposed the enabling act—only its provisions as inserted by the persons who drew up the bill. It is positively certain that had Mr. Clark, Mr. Both or many other citizens, who could be named, had anything to do with drawing up that act, that it provisions would have avoided a hasty removal of the county records at the risk of loss and great expense. Rainier is a beautiful and enterprising town with an euphonius name, and its residents are hospitable and clever. No one questions its right to strive for the location of the county seat, but it should be done in such a way that it will not be a burden to the taxpayers. Where is that road from Rainier to the Nehalem? Is that an Utopian dream? [ED.]

THE ENABLING OR COUNTY SEAT REMOVAL ACT.

INTRODUCTORY COMMENTS.

Below will be found the act providing for the re-location of the county seat of Columbia county. We trust that every reader of this paper will carefully examine the various provisions of act, in order to properly understand its terms.

Attention is called to section 4, which provides that the place chosen shall be the permanent county seat within four months after the election.

Special attention is called to section 5 of the act, which makes it obligatory upon the county court to provide for county buildings and for the removal of the records and other property belonging to the county to the town chosen. This portion of the act appeals with special emphasis to the taxpayers, who would have to pay the enormous expense of building a new court house within the time limited for removal, or if the same cannot be completed within such time, the added expense of leasing buildings, transferring records and other property belonging to the county, and providing a temporary vault for the safe-keeping of the valuable records, books, papers and other property of the county. This latter expense alone would doubtless cost the county several thousand dollars. Of course, it will be observed under the provisions of the act, none of these items of expense will be necessary, if St. Helens receives a majority of the votes cast, as in that case no removal is necessary. In other words, if the majority of the voters say by their ballots that they do not desire a removal of the county seat from St. Helens, then no removal will be made, and consequently none of the provisions of this act will then apply relative to building a new court house, removal of records, leasing of temporary buildings, erection of temporary vaults and other necessary costs in case of removal.

The matter, then, resolves itself into this question, and each voter must decide it for himself: Is it preferable to and for the interests of Columbia county at this time to have the county seat to remain at St. Helens, and save the burdensome expense, or to remove the same to some other place with the necessary and immediate costs of removal, rents, leases, temporary vault and places of security, new buildings, etc.

THE BILL.

Section 1. A special election shall be held in Columbia county, in this state, on the first Monday in July, 1903, said election to be conducted under the general election laws, as general elections for state and county officers are conducted. At said special election the electors of Columbia county shall vote for a permanent location for county seat of Columbia county.

Sec. 2. There shall be placed upon the official ballots prepared for the electors of Columbia county at said special election the words, "For county seat of Columbia County," "Vote for one," and below these words there shall be placed in alphabetical order, and numbered consecutively, the names of all places or towns put in nomination. There shall also be left one blank space after the last name in which the voter may write the name of any other town or place not on said ticket that he may desire to vote for. Nominations for county seat shall be made by petition of 50 or more electors, and no elector's name shall appear on more than one petition, and said petitions shall be prepared and filed with the county clerk in the same manner as certificates of nomination made by individual electors under the Austrailian ballot law are prepared and filed. Electors shall prepare, mark, and cast their ballots as prescribed by the Australian ballot law, and that town or place shall be the county seat of Columbia county, which shall receive a majority of all the votes cast at the said election.

Sec. 3. In case no town or place shall receive a majority of votes cast as provided in sec. 2 of this act, a second special election shall be held on the first Monday in August, 1903, to be conducted as said first special election was conducted, and at said second special election the two towns or places receiving the largest and next to the largest number of number of votes at said first special election shall be placed upon the ballots prepared for the electors of Columbia county for said second special election, and the electors of said county shall vote upon said two towns or places for county seat in the same manner as at said first election, and that town or place receiving the greatest number of votes shall become the permanent county seat of Columbia county: Provided, that if two towns or places shall receive the largest and equal number of votes at said first election, the names of those two towns or places shall be placed upon the ballot to be voted at the said second election as herein provided: And provided further, that if one town or place receive the largest and two towns or places receive the next largest and an equal number of votes at said first special ... towns or places shall be placed upon the ballot to be voted at said election.

Sec. 4. In case a choice is made at the said first election, the town or place upon which the choice has fallen shall be the permanent county seat from and after the first day of November, 1903. In case the choice is not made until the second election, the town or place chosen shall be the permanent county seat of Columbia county from and after the first day of December, 1903.

Sec. 5. The county court of Columbia county shall make all necessary provisions for county buildings, either by lease, erection, or otherwise, and for the removal of all records, books, papers, and property deemed advisable by said county county court to remove of said Columbia county to such town or place as may be selected as the permanent county seat of Columbia county under the provisions of this act.

Sec. 6. Owing to the urgent necessity of providing better accommodations for county offices and greater security for public records, an emergency is declared to exist, and this act shall be in full force and effect from its approval by the Governor.

Worst of All Experiences.

Can anything be worse than to feel that every minute will be your last? Such was the experience of Mrs. S. H. Newson, Decatur, Ala. "For three years" she writes, "I endured insufferable pain from indigestion, stomach and bowel trouble. Death seemed inevitable when doctors and all remedies failed. At length I was induced to try Electric Bitters and the result was miraculous. I improved at once and now I am completely recovered." For Liver, Kidney, Stomach and Bowel troubles Electric Bitters is the only medicine. Only 50c. It's guaranteed by the St. Helens Pharmacy.

REUBEN.

Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Collins were the guests of Mr. and Mrs. Antone Wise, Sunday.

H. M. Fowler, of Goble, who has been very ill for the past three weeks, is slowly improving.

Born, to Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Peoples, June 19th, a daughter.

Mrs. J. M. Lindsay, Mrs. Thomas Burgess and Miss Kitty Lindsay were shopping in Portland Wednesday.

Miss Rose Bishop was visiting friends here the first of the week.

Martin Hann was a Portland visitor Saturday.

John Barbee and father returned from Portland Sunday evening.

Robert Kenny, assistant manager of the Columbia Timber Company, was in Portland Saturday, looking after business matters.

J. B. Godfrey, of St. Helens, and E. F. McNelly, of Hillsboro, were in town Tuesday.

The farmers in this section are getting ready to cut their hay, and looking for good weather.

Driven to Desperation.

Living at an out of the way place, remote from civilization, a family is often driven to desperation in case of accident, resulting in burns, cuts, wounds, ulcers, etc. Lay in a supply of Bucklen's Arnica Salve. It's the best on earth. 25 cents at the St. Helens Pharmacy.

A Woodland Young Woman Escapes By Fighting off A Young Cougar With Her Riding Whip.

Miss Ida Grimes, a young woman living on the Washington side of the Columbia, three miles north of Woodland, on the Kalama road, beat off a young cougar with her riding whip and made her escape Wednesday morning of last week. William Goering, who lives in that neighborhood, was here Friday, and is responsible for the story.

Miss Grimes lives with her uncle, and every morning and evening rides on horseback to the hill ranch to assist in the milking. She was making her return trip Wednesday morning when she was attacked ferociously by the young cougar, receiving several body scratches, and her clothing was badly torn. Miss Grimes vigorously defended herself with her riding whip and finally pulled her horse away from the hungry cub. The animal was about the size of a dog, and had evidently just been weaned by the mother cougar. In this condition the young animals are said to be about half-starved, and will tackle almost anything that happens to be conveniently in close distance.

Cuts, Bruises and Burns Quickly Healed.

Chamberlain's Pain Balm is an antiseptic liniment, and when applied to cuts, bruises and burns, causes them to heal without maturation and much more quickly than by the usual treatment. For sale by Edwin Ross.

Grange Notes.

State Deputy S. G. Schoonover installed the following officers of Fishhawk Grange No. 337, last Saturday night: Master, William Elliott; secretary, John Boxler; lecturer, O. S. Anderson; overseer, John H. Cramer; steward, Andrew Johnston; assistant steward, John Banzer; chaplain, C. E. Anderson; treasurer, Arnold Boxler; gatekeeper, A. T. Erickson; lady assistant steward, Miss Mary Elliott; Pomona, Miss Rita Dunbar; Ceres, Mrs. M. E. Elliott; Flora, Mrs. Anna Anderson. Roscoe Schoonover, of Vernonia Grange, and Mrs. M. D. McSweeney, of Natal Grange, assisted in the installation of the officers of Fishhawk Grange, which will meet on the 4th Saturday of each month at 11 a. m., prompt. The new Grange starts out with excellent prospects of success. There was a good attendance of members at the installation ceremonies, and considerable determined enthusiasm was shown. THE MIST is indebted to State Organizer S. G. Schoonover for the above item.

Mayger Grange, which was organized by that efficient deputy and organizer, W. A. Young, is prospering. George Mayger is the wide awake and capable master.

Yankton Grange will initiate 10 new members at the meeting to be held Saturday night.

That solid Grange at Warren initiated J. S. Millard, of Bachelor Flat, at the last meeting.

Deer Island Grange will hold its regular meeting Saturday night, and intend to purchase an organ for their hall.

Vernonia Grange is making great preparations to celebrate the Fourth of July.

All the Granges in Columbia county are prospering, and the growth in membership is steady. The County Grange directory has been crowded out for several issues part on account of the lack of space, but will again appear later, corrected up-to-date. Secretaries of Granges are requested to matter to THE MIST office concerning the work, etc., of their respective organizations.

VALLEY.

Joe Dupont and Bert McKibben, of this place, attended the regular meeting of the Artisans Friday evening.

Henry McKibben, of St. Helens, visited his brother here two days this week, returning he was initiated into the Houlton Assembly of Artisans.

Joseph Dupont and son, Nick J., went to the metropolis Sunday for a few days recreation.

Four weeks more of school here, and still no summer.

Bert McKibben returned here Monday morning, after a visit of two days to his friends and relatives in St. Helens.

Assessor Laws and Deputy Martin White passed here for the Nehalem valley Monday.

Bert McKibben is booked to pitch the game of ball at Vernonia on the Fourth against Mist.

Quite a number of people from here expect to spend the Fourth at Vernonia. A good time is assured there.

Ernest Kelley was a guest of Rena Dupont Monday and Tuesday.

A few young people here attended the dance at Houlton Saturday evening, and reported a good time.

People out here will cast their vote for the old reliable St. Helens, when it comes to the county seat proposition.

Indian War Veterans Can Get Pensions.

The auditor for the war department has approved the first claim for back pay filed by a veteran of the early Indian wars of the Northwest, and directed that Lewis Lawley, of The Dalles, who served as a private in the Second Washington Territory Mounted Volunteers, be paid $131 for services rendered from March 17th to September 1st, 1856. This amount will be paid out of the first appropriation made at the next session of congress.

The Lawley case is one that was urged for many months by Ex-Representative Moody, and the adjustment establishes the precedent for the granting of back pay to all survivors of the early Indian wars, who can prove service by rolls that are now on file in the department. The department finds that there are several rolls in Oregon which were prepared by captains as souvenirs and for other purposes. Persons whose names are on these rolls cannot be paid until the original rolls are filed with the auditor in Washington.

The settlement of the Lawley case makes the claimant a qualified applicant for pension. Lawley filed application for pension some months ago, and his claim was disallowed because he could not show pay. Now that his pay has been authorized, and his services are recognized by the government, his pension claim will go through. This decision is of great importance in that it establishes a way by which Indian war veterans cannot only recover back pay when they failed to draw allowances heretofore, but places them on a pensionable status.

A great many veterans are unable to prove satisfactory service, and where that proof is not obtainable, record of pay by the United States is necessary. Therefore the importance to many of securing back pay. Once this is obtained, practically the essential evidence is at hand.—Oregon City Enterprise.

Startling Evidence.

Fresh testimony in great quantity is constantly coming in, declaring Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption, Coughs and Colds to be unequaled. A recent expression from T. J. McFarland, Bentonville, Va., serves as example. He writes: "I had Bronchitis for three years and doctored all the time without being benefited. Then I began taking Dr. King's New Discovery, and a few bottles wholly cured me." Equally effective in curing all Lung and Throat troubles, Consumption, Pneumonia and Grip. Guaranteed by St. Helens Pharmacy. Trial bottles free, regular sizes 50c and $1.00.

VERNONIA.

Born, to Mrs. Hunt on Monday, a daughter. Mr. Hunt is a proud and happy father, as it is the first girl.

George Solomon came into visit his sister for a few days.

George Zilgitt is in the valley on business.

Ed Joseph is here canvassing for the location of the county seat at Rainier.

J. Reed has returned from Forest Grove, where he attended the funeral of his sister.

Mrs. G. W. Downing has arrived home, and Mr. Downing retires from the management of bachelor's hall.

Peck Mills and D. Buckley have gone to Portland for a short visit.

Mrs. Minkle has returned to her place on Rock creek, accompanied by Miss Birdie Harris, of St. Helens.

Butter King Dow is preparing to build a silo.

Road Supervisor Mellinger, with a crew of men, has started to work on the roads again.

The Mist and Vernonia baseball teams played a match game last Sunday, the latter winning.

G. W. Rice undertook to start a butcher shop in Vernonia, but the meat sold so fast that it is difficult to keep a supply on hand.

Hans Christensen was in town from the Upper Nehalem.

Childrens' Day will be observed with an appropriate program of exercises.

Frank Peterson, of Oak Ranch creek, passed through Pittsburg this week.

Andrew Elliott, of Pittsburg, was in town last week.

Mr. Benson, the Clatskanie logging railway man, has been in town looking around.

A. H. Powell, of Pittsburg, is building a fine house. Mr. Wilveeding is doing the carpenter work.

Mrs. Sesseman has returned to Vernonia.

Grandpa Malstem is building a new barn.

Mrs. G. W. Rice has returned from a visit to Washington county. O. K.

FISHHAWK.

(Arrived too late for last week.)

Miss Rita Dunlop, of Portland, formerly of Fishhawk, is visiting friends in this vicinity.

William Johnston, sr., of Vesper, who has been ill for some time past, was taken to a Portland hospital hospital last week.

Work was commenced on the Catholic church Tuesday.

The Grange will meet Saturday. It is a noticeable fact that very few Grangers attend Sunday-school. Probably they don't need spiritual instruction.

Why can't Fishhawk have a Fourth of July celebration? Vernonia and Clatskanie are the nearest points where they will celebrate, so Fishhawk, which is geographically the center of the farming and dairying industry, could command a large crowd. Those who could ... body knows that Clatskanie is one of the slowest places in the United States to have a good time.

Sunday morning we had a light thunder storm, accompanied by a little lightning and rain. Monday evening we had another thunder storm, accompanied by lots of lightning and much rain. The vegetation will now spring from the ground like fleas from a dead rabbit. It is to be hoped that it will rain out before the Fourth.

The steamer, Sarah Dixon, has now changed to the summer schedule. She now leaves for Oak Point and way landings on Sunday evenings at 8 o'clock. Leaves Portland for Clatskanie and way landings Tuesday and Thursday evenings at 6 o'clock. Returning, leaves Clatskanie on Wednesday and Friday evenings at 4 o'clock, tide permitting.

Fresh fish in season every Friday ...
