PUBLIC SCHOOL COURSE OF STUDY A FAILURE.

Senator M. A. Miller, of Linn county, in the Oregonian, of last Monday, vigorously denounces the course of study now forced on the public schools of Oregon. And anyone that will examine in to the matter will find that he is not far wrong. Two many studies are forced on the children at one time, with the result that they no not get a thorough, practical knowledge of any useful branch. Parents are taxed high prices for a lot of superfluous books that are useless, and teachers are taxed beyond endurance to bear a multiplicity of classes. The work is neither profitable or satisfactory to teachers or pupils. The present course of studies requires more teachers to do good work in the schools, or the pupil must suffer by not having proper drilling.

Under this course of study pupils in the seventh grade are required to complete geography and physiology. Was anything ever so absurd? More in the future.

The recent meeting of the State Press Association held at Salem was largely attended, and the most successful in its history. The Association is placed on a better basis of permanency, on account having been entertained by the Salem Press Club, Colonel E. Hofer, of the Journal, and Hon. Bob Hendricks, of the Statesman, being among its honored members. Nothing was too good for the visitors, and the reception was excellent. S. L. Moorhead, of the Junction City Times, was elected president, and Albert Tozier, re-elected secretary.

The burglars, who broke into the strong box of the vault of the bank at Sheridan, Yamhill county, and getting away with a swag of $7,000, were more fortunate at the Newberg bank a few nights previous. As Newberg the bank breakers held the inhabitants of the town at bay for several hours, while they tried repeatedly to blow the safe open without success. At Sheridan the parting shot fired by the mayor went wide of its mark, as the bandits disappeared in the heavy fog.

Senator M. A. Miller's arraignment of the present educational system, while advancing what may be considered as radical ideas, contains some practcial suggestions. It has long been agreed that the boys and girls are given a smattering of subjects as useless to them as a fifth wheel to a cart, while more important matters are made thereby to suffer.—Portland Telegram.

The proceedings of the county board of equalization was, to say the least, complimentary to the work of County Assessor Laws. Not one cratch, jot or title was made in the assessment roll, after a week's careful deliberation.

Recorder Cox and Constable Thorp mean business, when they are attending to violation of city ordinances, and will not stand any foolishness.

Good Roads Matters of Local Importance.

A careless typo added an extra 0 to the county appropriation for the Rainier road, which made it read $3,000, instead of $300. The Mist only wishes that were enough funds in the county treasury to allow each community $3,000 for road improvement.

***

The new road laws complicate the matter of road changes and new roads, when brought to the critical inspection of the circuit court. Attorneys Dillard & Day knocked out three new roads hat were appealed to the circuit court from the county court on writs of review. The fault of the two roads located through the Adams place in the Upper Nehalem, was that the proceedings before the county court were irregular. The proceedings were commenced under the old law, and the final locations were made according to the new statutes. In the matter of the relocation of the English road through Pat Hughes' place at Deer Island, the writ of review waz sustained for the reason that the petition did not state that the petitioners were residents of thet road district, nor did it state that they were freeholders. Judge McBride said something about giving an opinion or interpretation of the new road laws.

***

Under the provisions of the new road laws supervisors will be appointed, beginning with next January.

***

The new law provides that road districts can call special meetings, in he same manner as school districts, and levy a special tax in addition to the special county road tax. Road Supervisor Lovelace has called a meeting of the Rainier district taxpayers for Saturday, when the matter of a special tax will be put to a vote.

***

If the courts interpret the new law so that county courts can make the usual tax levy in January, there will be plenty of money for road work during the coming year. Two taxes will be collected next year, and the full tax of 1903, and half of the 1904 tax will be collected in time to be available.

***

Considerable road work has been done in Columbia county during the year, improvements are being pushed, and work on a more extensive scale than ever will be carried to a successful issue next year than ever before. The Rainier district has spent the greater part of its money on Gravelly hill, reducing the grade from 25 to 7½ per cent, and connects with the new plank road now being constructed. The contract for the new plank roadway back from Rainier has been let to Wyatt, Brous & Co. and Wilson-Case Co., who are pushing the road to completion as fast as men and teams can do the work. Albert Parker is pushing the work on the big bridge fill at Pittsburg. There were two bids for the contract, J. H. McKie $1445, and A. L. Parker $1260. This fill will replace a bridgeway built against the side of a rocky bluff on the bank of the Nehalem river between Pittsburg and the Powell place. The structure is 75 feet in height and had become unsafe for travel. It had become necessary to either build a new bridge or make a permonent fill.

***

There are two proposed road improvements of the utmost importance to this county. One is the road crossing the Nehalem mountains from St. Helens to Pittsburg, and the other on the roadway between Clatskanie and Mist. It is useless to do road work on steep hills, when it can be avoided. Build around the hills instead of going over the high places, is the policy of modern railroad building, and it applies with equal force to wagon road making.

***

Columbia county was not largely represented at the good roads meeting held in Portland last week. John H. Scott, of Marion county, was re-elected president of the association. The county judge of Benton county, stated this his county was appropriating $1 for road work, wherever $1 was subscribed for that purpose. Coos county reported that it was giving $2 for $1. In Clackamas county it has long been the custom of the county court to appropriate an amount equal to that subscribed by the citizens in the vicinity of the proposed improvement. The Columbia county court last week only appropriated $300, when the citizens subscribed $1200.

***

The Scappoose correspondent this week urges the importance of improving the road to the Nehalem.

Fine Apples at Scappoose.

For a good many years Mr. Asa Holaday, the nurseryman of Scappoose, Oregon, has been demonstrating by exhibits at meetings of the Oregon State Fair the fact that Scappoose can grow apples good enough for anybody. In addition to his nursery business Mr. Holaday has an orchard. It is not a very large one but he generally has a few carloads of fruit to sell and he always gets high prices. A few days ago Commissioner Newell visited in an official way Mr. Holaday's nursery and orchard. At the time Mr. Holoday was harvesting the crop from a two-acre tract of Northern Spy apples. He had sold the apples for $1.25 per box, Mr. Newell said he had never seen such a sight in the way of apples before. There were at least 1,200 boxes on the two acres and the largest and finest Northern Spies he had ever seen. He made a most careful search and failed to find a single apple which showed a worm or any trace of a worm. There are more places than one, two or three in Oregon where the finert grade of apples can be grown when the right man undertakes the job.—The Oregon Agriculturist and Rural Northwest.

Saves Two From Death.

"Our little daughter had an almost fatal attack of whooping cough and bronchitis," writes Mrs. W. K. Haviland, of Armonk, N. Y., but, when all other remedies failed, we saved her life with Dr. King's New Discovery. Our niece, who had Consumption in an advanced stage, also used this wonderful medicine and to day she is perfectly well." CIRCUIT COURT.

Judge McBride adjourned the October term of Circuit Court Monday afternoon until December 14th, when several important matter will come up for a hearing. Following are the proceedings since the last issue of this paper:

The divorce suit of Tamock vs Tamock was dismissed.

Columbia County lost in all the road location cases appealed from the county court on a writ of review.

Ross, Higgins & Co vs Karl and Mary Laurens; Fulton Bros for plaintiff. Default and judgment.

In the fishnet seizure cases, for being in use during the close season, default and decree was entered in the suits against R. F. Graham and John Doe.

In the foreclosure suit of L. W. Ball vs R. G. Davey, sheriff sale confirmed.

M Both, assignee vs Columbia Logging Company; George A Hall for plaintiff, and S C Spencer for defendant. Final report of receiver filed. Receiver allowed $300 compensation, and attorney $75. Laborers' claims filed without charge. Receiver ordered discharged as soon as receipts for disbursements are filed.

Mary E Heinrich vs Philip Heinrich; Dillard & Day for plaintiff, Oscar Hayter for defendant. Plaintiff sued for a divorce and alimony for $1,000. A dozen witnesses were present from Dallas and Perrydale, Polk county, the burden of their testimony being in favor of the defendant. A day and a half was consumed in hearing the case. The court gave the defendant a decree for a divorce on condition that he pay the plaintiff $125. The defendant is to release any claim on defendant's property and each pays their own costs. The defendant is a section foreman at Dallas, and the plaintiff for some time past has lived in this county and at Portland.

An injunction was granted Rachel L. Harris, et al, E. W. Bingham, attoney, restraining W. J. Honeyman, administrator of the Guild estate, from selling the real property at public on last Saturday. On Monday, the motion of Dillard & Day, Honeyman's attorneys, to dissolve the injunction was sustained. The sale of the property will take place next Saturday.

In the divorce suit of Thomas vs Bell Hughes, a decree of divorce was granted

Ida vs James Brennan; a decree of divorce.

In the suit of John Callahan vs M. Basendorf, et al; argued and submitted.

The suit of Joel Hill vs Joseph Pilcher to recover $30 damages on account of the defendant retaining possession of a set of bedroom furniture, came to a decision Monday. The plaintiff was awarded $2 50 damages, the defendant to pay the costs in the justice court, from which the case was appealed. Dillard & Day appeared for plaintiff, and W. H. Conyers and S. H. Gruber for defendant.

A D Miller vs R I Harris, et al; default as to all defendants, who have been served and not answered.

George F. Livesay of the Lone Star Lumber Company, has filed an amended complaint in the suit of the equity suit against Muckle Bros.

John Maynard vs B Birkenfeld et al; Gruber for plaintiff, Dillard & Day for defendants. Judgment for defendant. Attorney Gruber gove notice of appeal to the supreme court.

W. J. Turner vs Herman Reimer; Gruber for plaintiff, Montague for defendant. Demurrer overruled.

Beaver Falls Logging Company vs W H Eccles; judgment on mandate.

There was not a jury trial during this term of court.

Bailiff's bills amounting to $60 were ordered paid.

INDIGESTION

"I was troubled with stomach trouble. Thedford's Black-Draught did me more good in one week than all the doctor's medicine I took in a year."—MRS. SARAH E. SHIRFIELD, Ellettsville, Ind.

Do Good-It Pays.

A Chicago man has observed that, "Good deeds are better than real estate deeds—some of the latter are worthless. Act kindly and gently, show sympathy and lend a helping hand. You cannot possibly lose by it." Most men appreciate a kind word and encouragement more than substantial help. There are persons in this community who might truthfully say: "My good friend, cheer up. A few doses of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy will rid you of your cold, and there is no danger whatever from pneumonia when you use that medicine. It always cures. I know it for it has helped me out many a time." Sold by the St. Helens Pharmacy.
