FRIDAY, MARCH 4.

ENFORCE THE LAW.

This is a government of law, and it is a fundamental principle of our republic that no person is above the law, but that all are equal and must submit to its provisions. Those who stand upon this principle are sure to ultimately win, and those who oppose it are creating a public sentiment that will make laws more stringent than those now existing.

CONGRESSMAN WILLIAMSON ON DIRECT PRIMARIES.

Hon. J. N. Williamson, Congressman from this district, in response to our request for his views on the subject of direct primaries, writes: "Yes, I am in favor of direct primaries. I am in favor of direct primary elections; first, because they have a tendency to eliminate part of the machinery of politics; second, because they are a success wherever they have been tried. The principle of primary nominations is right, because it has a tendency to bring the people more directly in touch with their Representatives, consequently their Representatives more directly in touch with the people. Honest men might differ as to the method of carrying out the direct primary idea, but I never have been able to see wherein they could object to the principle involved."

THE LOCAL OPTION BILL.

In order that the people of this community may form an intelligent idea of the provisions of the so-called local option law, upon the adoption of which they are to vote at the June election, the Mist places before them this week some of its principal provisions: Section 1 provides that whenever ten percent of the registered voters of any county, precinct, or other legal subdivision of a county, petition the county court, said court shall order an election to be held at the time mentioned in such petition to determine whether the sale of intoxicating liquors shall be prohibited in such territory. By legal subdivision of a county is meant any precinct, town, city, or ward. Section 10, which is the most important section of the bill, provides: "If a majority of the votes in such a whole, or in any precinct in the county, are for prohibition, said court shall immediately make an order declaring the result of said vote and absolutely prohibiting the sale of intoxicating liquors within the prescribed limits. The county court shall issue an order for prohibition, notwithstanding the county as a whole voted against prohibition. Section 11 provides that if a majority voting at any election hereunder vote against prohibition the court shall make an order declaring the result, and have the same entered of record in the records of said court, all of which shall be subject to the provisions in section 10 of this act. Reading the two sections together it appears that if an election is called for a county and prohibition carries as a whole, the precincts favoring license are not given location, but are bound by the majority vote of the county. If, on the other hand, prohibition is defeated in the county as a whole, the precincts favoring prohibition are given location. This is a feature in the measure that should be fairly understood. Section 14 reads: When prohibition has been carried at an election held for the entire county, no election on the question of prohibition shall thereafter be held in any subdivision or precinct thereof until after prohibition has been defeated at a subsequent election for the same purpose held for the entire county, nor in any case where prohibition has been carried in any subdivision of any county shall an election on this question of prohibition be held thereafter in any precinct of such subdivision, until prohibition has been defeated at a subsequent election held for such entire subdivision. This gives the prohibitionists a very decided advantage under the law over those who favor license. The remaining sections relate to the enforcement of the law, and are exceedingly strict, prohibiting the giving away of liquor and throwing the burden of proof upon the person accused of violating the law, and it should not be necessary to state the kind of liquor sold, nor to describe the place where sold; nor to show the knowledge of the principal to convict for the acts of an agent or servant."

The graphophone show at Seapoope last Friday evening is reported to have been a "howling" success, but hardly equal to the matinee in the afternoon.

Mr. Casper Libel, of Mist, was in town Friday last, for the purpose of paying taxes for himself and a number of his Nehalem neighbors.

A. V. Balch is putting up a building at Seapoope, to be used as a meat market. It will be completed and ready for business about the last of April.

The Mist has a quantity of garden seeds, sent under the frank of Hon. John H. Mitchell, which will be given to our friends who call for them, as long as they last.

The municipal election in Rainier taken place on Monday next, the issue being the enforcement of the law, especially as regards gambling and Sunday closing of saloons. It promises to be an interesting contest, as both sides are thoroughly aroused.

J. C. Johnson at Seapoope has a new ten horse gasoline launch about ready to put in the water. It is forty feet in length, ten-horse power engine, and will be used to carry the cream from Mr. Johnson's ranch to the Portland creamery, returning with freight.

A short program, appropriate to Longfellow's birthday was given by the Primary pupils last Friday. Several poems were read and recited; the story of the poet's life was told by eight of the younger children; and the Second Grade pupils gave The Village Blacksmith as a concert recitation. Two parents, Mrs. Gage and Mrs. Richardson, showed by their presence their appreciation of the children's effort.

The Seapoope Lumber Co., composed of some of the most substantial and wide-awake business men in the south end of the county, are making great improvements in their newly acquired property. They are building a flume from the Hanna mill, past the Wickstrom mill, to terminate at the railroad at Seapoope station. There will be about two miles of this lumber flume and it will be completed in about two weeks. As soon as the flume is completed they will contract dry sheds at the station, for the reception of the lumber. The capacity of the company's mills will be about 50,000 feet per day.
