

Peculiar To Itself

In what it is and what it does—containing the best blood-purifying, alterative and tonic substances and effecting the most radical and permanent cures of all humors and all eruptions, relieving weak, tired, languid feelings, and building up the whole system—is true only of

Hood's Sarsaparilla

No other medicine acts like it; no other medicine has done so much real, substantial good, no other medicine has restored health and strength at so little cost.

Hood's Sarsaparilla promises to cure and keeps the promise.

Odd Things About the Opossum. The American opossum is one of the most curious animals living in the United States. It is the only one that carries its young in a pouch, like the kangaroo. It is the only animal that can feign death perfectly. It is remarkable for hanging by its tail like a monkey. It has hands resembling those of a human being. Its snout is like a hog's, while its mouth is liberally furnished with teeth. Its eyes are like a rat's and it hisses like a snake.

Deafness Cannot Be Cured by local applications as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflammation of the mucous lining of the Eustachian tube. When this tube is inflamed, you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed, deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out of this tube and restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever; it cases out of the ear are caused by catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous membrane.

We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of deafness (caused by catarrh) that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure. Send for circulars, free.

J. C. CHENEY & CO., Toledo, O. Sold by Druggists, etc.

Hall's Family Pills are the best.

Refused to Serve.

A Frenchman went to a brother member of his lodge and said to him: "What does a polar bear do?" The brother answered: "What does a polar bear do? Why, he sits on the ice." "Sits on ice?" "Yes," said the brother, "there is nothing else to sit on." "Well, what he do, too?" "What does he also do? Why, he eats fish."

"Eat fish—sits on ice and eats fish. Then I not accept." "You don't accept? What do you mean?" "Oh, non, non. I does not accept. I was appointed to act as polar bear to see funeral."

The Shortest Way

out of an attack of

Rheumatism or Neuralgia

is to use

St. Jacobs Oil

Which affords not only sore relief, but a prompt cure. It soothes, soothes, and ends the suffering.

Price, 25c. and 50c.

THE SSS BEST TONIC

It increases the appetite, tones up the stomach, invigorates and strengthens the system, and furnishes purer and better blood for the up-building of the run-down constitution. You will find no tonic to act so promptly and beneficially where the health has given way, the strength over-taxed by hard work and close confinement.

Those living in the low, marshy sections of the country, exposed to miasmatic poisons and breathing the impure air arising from stagnant pools and swamps, till their systems are filled with malaria and their health undermined, will find S. S. S. a most excellent tonic, and its timely use has many times prevented the serious complications that so often result from malaria.

Good blood, good appetite and good digestion are the foundation stones of good health. S. S. S. supplies all these, containing as it does ingredients for the purification of the blood and also well-known tonic properties, making it the ideal remedy in cases where the blood has deteriorated, the stomach disordered and appetite has failed.

S. S. S. being a purely vegetable compound, leaves no bad after-effects, like the strong potash and mineral remedies, which are bad on the stomach and nerves. A course of S. S. S. now will fortify the system, and the impurities that have accumulated through the long winter months are more readily and promptly thrown off, and the warm weather finds you in good physical condition, instead of weak, run-down, tired and debilitated, with no appetite or energy, as is apt to be the case where the system is neglected and nature left to take care of herself. If you need a tonic and appetizer, you will find S. S. S. the best. Medical advice without charge to all who write us about their case.

THE SWIFT SPECIFIC CO., ATLANTA, GA.

White Buffalo.

Old buffalo hunters of the western Kansas prairies used to tell of having seen and pursued white buffalo. There were white buffalo albino, such as are found at rare intervals in all the families of the animal kingdom; but the number of those which existed in fact and of those which existed purely in the imagination, says the Kansas City Journal, were in wonderful disproportion.

In 1878 old Ben Canfield, who roamed the plains with his tall, gaunt wife for a companion, followed a herd of buffalo from the northern edge of what is now Oklahoma to the sand hills of Nebraska, thinking to kill a big white bull which he had seen in the herd. After three weeks of patient stalking Canfield did kill the bull, only to find that the whiteness of its appearance was due to a coat of white-wash.

An explanation of this phenomenon would not be needed by people familiar with the natural lime beds of western Kansas. The habit of the buffalo is to roll or wallow in every pool of water or mud hole to which he comes. Canfield's buffalo had simply been rolling in a bed of native lime, which, when dried in the sun, coated his hide with a kind of plaster.

No doubt these lime holes account for many of the "white buffalo" so often reported by hunters.

The Century's Summer Campaign.

It is announced that each of the summer and autumn numbers of The Century will carry out a special plan. The June issue, for instance, will be a Western number, its long and full table of contents representing, by subject or by contributor, every trans-Alleghany State or Territory. It will be, in a certain sense, a Western exhibit for the St. Louis Fair. There will be eight articles of special significance to the West and of much general interest, including a word for forestry from ex-President Cleveland, four striking color plates, eleven stories besides further chapters of Jack London's "The Sea-Wolf," and various other features that promise much pleasure and profit.

The July issue will be a special fiction number, but will have also a paper on "The New West Point," with impressing drawings from the architects' plans, and two or three articles touching interests in the Far East. André Castaigne's pictures of the world's air, for which the studies were made on the grounds, are making and are promised for an early number.

What Gorman is Really Like.

As statesmen go, Gorman is not an old man. Born in 1839, he has seen sixty-five years, but they rest upon him lightly. His form is still as erect as ever, and his shoulders as broad. Personally Gorman is a man of few petty vices. He is a baseball crank—or was when the national game drunk—and wastes money raising chickens and vegetables on his farm at Laurel, Md., a few miles from Washington. Unlike some statesmen he is not given to the amusement known at the Capitol as "opening wine," and neither does he smoke tobacco incessantly, like some of his distinguished colleagues, nor chew it, like certain eminent jurists. His family life has been ideal.

Gorman is not approachable, in the ordinary sense. He does not wear an air of very marked geniality, and as a rule, he keeps his own counsel and makes confidants of few. But his manner, at all times, is suave and polite, and he has a fashion of calming enemies that has stood him in good stead.

From Examination Papers.

A friend handed me these excerpts from examination papers which he had collected during the past year. They are the result of asking the youngsters to write sentences showing the meaning of the words they had to spell: Mathematics are all the studies put together.

It would take quite long to travel the radius of the world.

Stenography means to be a typewriter.

Equilateral means nearly half.

The wild lion was very radius.

He was very radius at me.

Radius, a different kind of people.

The radius of the hole was 15 feet deep.—Boston Record.

SHEEP NONSENSE

Englishwoman—Have you been to Westminster Abbey yet? Fair American—No; but I hear it highly spoken of.—Ex.

Visitor—Has your little baby sister got any teeth? Tommy—Oh, yes! I guess she's got 'em, but she ain't batted 'em out yet.—Philadelphia Ledger.

"What do you think of my death scene?" asked the actor. "Well, it seemed to me it came a little too late in the piece," was the reply.—Chicago Evening Post.

Daily Guide to Flattery.—If you meet a woman who strongly suspects that she is a beauty, ask her earnestly if all her family are beautiful.—Baltimore American.

Dorothy—So Jack kissed you, eh? Did you give him any encouragement? Julia—Encouragement! Say, I guess you don't know Jack, do you?—Philadelphia Ledger.

Anything To Blame It On.—Mother—Johnny Jones, did you get that awful cold out skating? Son—Mother, I think I caught it washing my face yesterday morning.—Judge.

The Empress of China.—What is that strange noise I hear? The Minister of the Interior.—It is the bottom dropping out of the New York stock market, your majesty.—Life.

Stimulation.—Biggs—I understand that young Briefly has taken up the law since he married. Diggs—Very likely. I understand that his wife lays it down to him.—Chicago News.

Willie—Pa, you don't get chestnuts until after there's a frost, do you? Pa—Except in the case of a farce-comedy, my son. Then the chestnuts come first and the frost afterward.—Philadelphia Press.

A Physician's Blunder.—Dr. Jinks—I suppose you must have lost some of your patients by being away for so long a time? Dr. Kent—Yes, got found it! Ten or a dozen of them got well.—Boston Transcript.

Small Consolation.—The Landlady—I'm afraid Mr. Sloppy has forgotten what a large bill he owes me. The Star Boarder—No, he hasn't. He said only yesterday that he wished he had money enough to move.—Judge.

Miss Peppery—I suppose that was your valet I saw with you yesterday. Cholly—My dear Miss Peppery, don't say "valet." That word, you know, is not used now as—Miss Peppery—Well, then, your "keeper."—Ex.

Miss Howjames (at the opera)—Hasn't she a marvelous technique? Mr. Cahokia—Yes, but she doesn't—er—seem to know how to manage it gracefully. She gives it a sort of kick when she turns around.—Chicago Tribune.

"My gracious! What a crush!" gasped the shopper; "I'm nearly dead." "Permit me, madam," said the floorwalker, politely, "to call your attention to our undertaking department in the basement."—Philadelphia Ledger.

Mr. B.—My dear Mrs. Croesus, may I not put your name down for tickets to Professor Pundit's course of lectures on Buddhism? Mrs. C.—Oh, by all means! You know how passionately fond I am of flowers.—Pick-Me-Up.

Mrs. Jilson—Foreign newspapers contain many advertisements of titles for sale by members of noble families. Old Jilson—They should advertise for sealed proposals from American heiresses; this is leap year.—Detroit Free Press.

Laying Down the Law.—Lady (entertaining friend's little girl)—Do you take sugar, darling? The Darling—Yes, please Lady—How many lumps? The Darling—Oh, about seven, and when I'm out to tea I start with cake.—Punch.

Mr. Milyuns—Now, Tommy, you must go to school and work hard. Why, look at me! I started without a cent, and now I'm a millionaire. Tommy—Yes, I know; but you can't do it any more. They all have cash registers now.—Ex.

"Living at Swamphurst, eh? That's up the river, isn't it?" "Yes." "Are your grounds near the water?" "Well, sometimes they're as much as six inches from the surface, and on rare occasions there's no water on them at all."—Philadelphia Ledger.

A Shrewd Wife.—Mrs. Greene—I hope you trust your husband implicitly? Mrs. Brown—Oh, yes, indeed; but I wouldn't have him know it for my part. If he were aware of my perfect trust in him he might be tempted to take advantage of it, you know.—Boston Transcript.

Exercise for Both.—Does your wife go in for athletics? "Um—yes, in a way. She went out yesterday to take exercise; said she was going to walk up a long hill." "And she did?" "No; she got into the dry-goods district and ran up a long bill instead. You can easily see that I am the one who was exercised."—Kansas City Journal.

A Count of Boundless Nerve.—Count Nottapenni—Las' night I give teetle hree to Miss Rightly zat I would like she should marry wiz me. Ascum—And did she give you any encouragement? Count Nottapenni—I do not know. She simply say to me, "What kinda ze nerve food do you use?"—Philadelphia Press.

Roundabout Proposal.—He—Miss Wilmington, as the only daughter of your mother, I suppose you take a keen interest in her happiness?

She—Most assuredly. Why? He—Oh, I only wanted to know if you would like her to have me for a son-in-law.—New York Times.

Cologne's First Railway. In 1878 a Belgian company constructed the first street railway in the city of Cologne, Germany, and the road became the property of the city in 1897.

Ayer's

You can hardly find a home without its Ayer's Cherry Pectoral. Parents know what it does for children: breaks up a cold in a single night, wards off bronchitis, prevents pneumonia. Physicians advise parents to keep it on hand.

Cherry Pectoral

"The best cough medicine money can buy is Ayer's Cherry Pectoral. For the coughs of children nothing could be better." JACOB SHILL, Saratoga, Ind.

For

Throat, Lungs

Ayer's Pills greatly aid the Cherry Pectoral in breaking up a cold.

A Fool and His Wisdom.

A story, which is credited to Major Pond by the New York Tribune, tells of a weak-minded lad who went to the miller's to have some grain ground. The miller said to him:

"So you are a fool, eh?" "I guess I am," replied the youth. "A fool, eh? A natural?" mused the miller. "We haven't many natural fools hereabouts. Do you mind if I ask you a few questions?"

"Oh, no, sir, of course not," the lad answered, politely.

"Well, my boy, since you are a fool," began the miller, "I want you first to tell me what you know, and afterward what you don't know. Now, to begin, what do you know?"

"I know," said the boy, "that the miller's dogs are fat."

"Good! Very good!" said the miller. "That is what you know. Now tell us what you don't know."

"I don't know whose grain fattens 'em," replied the youth.

A Farmer Found It.

Mount Pleasant, Utah, May 23.—To find a medicine that will cure every ailment due to diseased or disordered Kidneys has been the aim of many physicians and chemists.

Mr. C. E. Peterson, a farmer of this place says he has found such a remedy and that he has tried it with success in his own case. Mr. Peterson says the remedy is Dodd's Kidney Pills, a medicine introduced here about seven months ago.

"I am glad to be allowed to testify to what good things Dodd's Kidney Pills have done for me. I used this remedy for Kidney trouble and it cured me completely."

"I can heartily recommend Dodd's Kidney Pills to all who suffer with any kind of kidney trouble."

Mr. Peterson's case is only one of many just as convincing that have been reported recently. This new remedy seems to have conquered Rheumatism completely, not a single case having been reported where Dodd's Kidney Pills have failed to cure perfectly and permanently.

Love's Labor Lost. Anxious Mamma—Clara, dear, what did Mr. Coldeash say last night when he was trying to button your glove in the hall?

Clara—Oh, he merely said that any man who made gloves that were as hard to button as mine ought to quit the business.

Anxious Mamma—Well, dear, take my advice and don't waste any more time in that direction.

The Ruin of Nations.—Prosperity has been the ruin of nations—Egypt, Syria, Greece and Rome. There is in it a bacillus that tends to overstep prudence—a blunting of the sensitivities, a lessening of ideals, a treading underfoot of eternal principles of right and justice.—Rev. G. B. Burns, Methodist, Philadelphia, Pa.

Dangers.—There are two dangers which threaten the churches in their relation with the pastors; the people's over estimation of the minister and their underestimation of themselves. The church may have an able minister, brilliant and eloquent, but if because of this the people sit down in admiration and congratulation the chariot wheels of truth are choked rather than helped along.—Rev. Richard Turner, Methodist, Philadelphia, Pa.

Nothing New.—The world has been busy eighteen hundred years since John laid down his pen; very busy. The thoughts of men have gone everywhere searching for truth. I want some man to write one sentence of moral or religious truth that is not garnered at least in what Jesus said and in what, by inspiration, the apostle wrote. They cannot give you on those lines the dot of an "i" or the cross of a "t." And the world is coming to recognize that unique and amazing fact.—Rev. C. D. Foss, Methodist, New York City.

Garlic in Salads. A way to flavor a salad with garlic in the most delicate manner is to let a clove of garlic remain for twenty-four hours in a quart bottle of salad oil before the latter is used. This gives just the indefinable tang that much improves the salad without overdoing the garlic flavor.

Mrs. Misfit—Charles, do you think I am gowned well enough for the reception? Mr. Misfit—Yes; how am I coated and panted?—Chicago Record-Herald.

SERMONS OF THE WEEK

Death.—What we call death is not really death, it is a mere separation of soul and body, and the soul the essential thing of us lives on.—Rev. Lyman Abbott, Congregationalist, Berkeley, Cal.

Salvation.—The world has never outgrown Christ's conception of salvation. And can never outgrow it, for the law of it is written in the very page of the universe itself.—Rev. R. M. Waters, Congregationalist, Brooklyn, N. Y.

Literature.—The Bible is a literature of a great people, and as such it gives us an insight into the beginning of the religion of a great people.—Rev. W. S. Rainford, Episcopalian, New York City.

Pessimism.—On the whole, life is not so bad as we were taught to expect it; the fears of pessimism are not realized by healthy men; our young fears were larger than the experienced facts.—Rev. Robert Mackenzie, Presbyterian, New York City.

The Bread of Life.—There is in the city not only literal physical famine, but a famine of the bread of life. And on the boulevards in splendid paucity no less than in the foulest slums, men are perishing for lack of it.—Rev. P. S. Henson, Baptist, Boston, Mass.

Self-Defense.—The fight with the slums is not a mere philanthropy; it is a measure of self-defense. The age-long struggle of the church to uplift and to save is as much a service to the slums as to the sinners.—Rev. J. C. Adams, Episcopalian, Hartford, Conn.

Honesty.—Men find it easier to take the path of least resistance. But the honest man will follow the beckoning hand of truth at any and all cost. He will be true to the promptings of his conscience, no matter what the world will say.—Habit J. L. Levy, Hebrew, Pittsburg, Pa.

Danger.—It is one of the dangers of our modern preoccupation with novels and the dramatic successes of the stage that our emotional life is called into activities that are not always harmonious with the rest of our life.—Rev. T. C. Hall, Congregationalist, Brooklyn, N. Y.

False Ideals.—A sermon molded and shaped to human fashion oftentimes looks well, but Christ is obscured and the conscience of the hearer is unaroused. Sin's putrefaction must be cut out by the surgical knife of eternal truth.—Rev. R. S. Rowe, Methodist, Kennebec, Me.

The Man Outside.—There is only one man in the world who is outside the pale of religion, and he is the conceited man, the self-centered and self-satisfied man. Between him and the kingdom of God there is a great gulf fixed.—Rev. J. H. Mehall, Episcopalian, Brooklyn, N. Y.

Freedom.—What man wants is less of government; the relaxation of oppressive laws; larger freedom for the individual, stronger fraternity, more perfect equality. Out of this larger freedom will come prosperity, peace and happiness for all.—Rev. George E. Reed, Methodist, Carlisle, Pa.

Sorrow.—All Christian sorrow, as well as all Christian experiences are but different methods of God's own through which He gives higher and fuller revelations of His love and blessing, and develops His people to better fitness for service.—Rev. J. R. Mackay, Presbyterian, Glens Falls, N. Y.

Love for All.—God loves all His children, and does not love one less because He has another, or because He has many millions of children. He loves them all and has love enough for them all, and He wants His children to love each other.—Rev. L. M. Zimmerman, Lutheran, Baltimore, Md.

Affection.—No man has a moral right to swear before the altar of God that he will be true to one woman, unless he believes that he is absolute master of his affection. If he disbelieves, and takes one woman to wife, he is a liar and a hypocrite.—Rev. Frank Crane, Congregationalist, Worcester, Mass.

The Ruin of Nations.—Prosperity has been the ruin of nations—Egypt, Syria, Greece and Rome. There is in it a bacillus that tends to overstep prudence—a blunting of the sensitivities, a lessening of ideals, a treading underfoot of eternal principles of right and justice.—Rev. G. B. Burns, Methodist, Philadelphia, Pa.

Dangers.—There are two dangers which threaten the churches in their relation with the pastors; the people's over estimation of the minister and their underestimation of themselves. The church may have an able minister, brilliant and eloquent, but if because of this the people sit down in admiration and congratulation the chariot wheels of truth are choked rather than helped along.—Rev. Richard Turner, Methodist, Philadelphia, Pa.

Nothing New.—The world has been busy eighteen hundred years since John laid down his pen; very busy. The thoughts of men have gone everywhere searching for truth. I want some man to write one sentence of moral or religious truth that is not garnered at least in what Jesus said and in what, by inspiration, the apostle wrote. They cannot give you on those lines the dot of an "i" or the cross of a "t." And the world is coming to recognize that unique and amazing fact.—Rev. C. D. Foss, Methodist, New York City.

Garlic in Salads. A way to flavor a salad with garlic in the most delicate manner is to let a clove of garlic remain for twenty-four hours in a quart bottle of salad oil before the latter is used. This gives just the indefinable tang that much improves the salad without overdoing the garlic flavor.

Mrs. Misfit—Charles, do you think I am gowned well enough for the reception? Mr. Misfit—Yes; how am I coated and panted?—Chicago Record-Herald.

"I Have Every Reason to Praise Pe-ru-na,"

WRITES MRS. KANE, OF CHICAGO.

Mrs. K. Kane, 172 Sebor Street, Chicago, Ill., writes:

"Peruna has been used so long in our family that I do not know how I could get along without it. I have given it to all my children at different times, when they suffered with colds, coughs and the many ailments that children are subject to, and am pleased to say that it has kept them in splendid health. I have also used it for a catarrhal difficulty of long standing and it cured me in a short time, so I have every reason to praise Peruna."—Mrs. K. Kane.

Pe-ru-na Protects the Entire Household Against Catarrhal Diseases.

One of the greatest foes with which every family has to contend is our changeable climate. To protect the family from colds and coughs is always a serious problem, and often impossible.

Sooner or later it is the inevitable fate of every one to catch cold. Care in avoiding exposure and the use of proper clothing will protect from the frequency and perhaps the severity of colds, but with the greatest of precautions they will come. This is a settled fact of human experience. Everybody must expect to be caught somewhere or somehow.

Perhaps it will be wet feet, or a draught, or damp clothes, or it may be one of a thousand other little mishaps, but no one is shrewd enough to always avoid the inevitable catching cold.

There is no fact of medical science better known than that Peruna cures catarrh wherever located. Thousands of families in all parts of the United States are protected from colds and catarrh by Peruna. Once in the family

we have on file many thousand testimonials like the ones given above. We can only give our readers a slight glimpse of the vast array of unolicited endorsements we are receiving every month. No other physician in the world has received such a volume of enthusiastic and grateful letters of thanks as Dr. Hartman for Peruna.

Peruna always stays. No home can spare Peruna after the first trial of it. Mrs. A. Hobson, 225 Washington St., Lansing, Mich., writes:

"Peruna has been such a blessing to my only child, as well as myself, that I feel induced to give my testimonial. He has always suffered from catarrh of the head and throat, and I had to use extra precautions so as not to have him exposed to damp or cold weather. Last year he was taken with the grippe, and as it was a severe case, caused me much anxiety. No medicine helped him till he took Peruna. I noticed an improvement at once and in three weeks he was a different child; the grippe had been completely cured and I noticed that the catarrh was made better. He kept taking it two weeks longer, when he was entirely well. I now use it off and on for colds, croup, indigestion or general indisposition, and find it superior to any doctors or medicine I ever tried. It keeps me, as well as my child, in perfect health, and I gladly recommend it to mothers."—Mrs. A. Hobson.

We have on file many thousand testimonials like the ones given above. We can only give our readers a slight glimpse of the vast array of unolicited endorsements we are receiving every month. No other physician in the world has received such a volume of enthusiastic and grateful letters of thanks as Dr. Hartman for Peruna.

Peruna always stays. No home can spare Peruna after the first trial of it. Mrs. A. Hobson, 225 Washington St., Lansing, Mich., writes:

"Peruna has been such a blessing to my only child, as well as myself, that I feel induced to give my testimonial. He has always suffered from catarrh of the head and throat, and I had to use extra precautions so as not to have him exposed to damp or cold weather. Last year he was taken with the grippe, and as it was a severe case, caused me much anxiety. No medicine helped him till he took Peruna. I noticed an improvement at once and in three weeks he was a different child; the grippe had been completely cured and I noticed that the catarrh was made better. He kept taking it two weeks longer, when he was entirely well. I now use it off and on for colds, croup, indigestion or general indisposition, and find it superior to any doctors or medicine I ever tried. It keeps me, as well as my child, in perfect health, and I gladly recommend it to mothers."—Mrs. A. Hobson.

We have on file many thousand testimonials like the ones given above. We can only give our readers a slight glimpse of the vast array of unolicited endorsements we are receiving every month. No other physician in the world has received such a volume of enthusiastic and grateful letters of thanks as Dr. Hartman for Peruna.

Peruna always stays. No home can spare Peruna after the first trial of it. Mrs. A. Hobson, 225 Washington St., Lansing, Mich., writes:

"Peruna has been such a blessing to my only child, as well as myself, that I feel induced to give my testimonial. He has always suffered from catarrh of the head and throat, and I had to use extra precautions so as not to have him exposed to damp or cold weather. Last year he was taken with the grippe, and as it was a severe case, caused me much anxiety. No medicine helped him till he took Peruna. I noticed an improvement at once and in three weeks he was a different child; the grippe had been completely cured and I noticed that the catarrh was made better. He kept taking it two weeks longer, when he was entirely well. I now use it off and on for colds, croup, indigestion or general indisposition, and find it superior to any doctors or medicine I ever tried. It keeps me, as well as my child, in perfect health, and I gladly recommend it to mothers."—Mrs. A. Hobson.

We have on file many thousand testimonials like the ones given above. We can only give our readers a slight glimpse of the vast array of unolicited endorsements we are receiving every month. No other physician in the world has received such a volume of enthusiastic and grateful letters of thanks as Dr. Hartman for Peruna.

Peruna always stays. No home can spare Peruna after the first trial of it. Mrs. A. Hobson, 225 Washington St., Lansing, Mich., writes:

"Peruna has been such a blessing to my only child, as well as myself, that I feel induced to give my testimonial. He has always suffered from catarrh of the head and throat, and I had to use extra precautions so as not to have him exposed to damp or cold weather. Last year he was taken with the grippe, and as it was a severe case, caused me much anxiety. No medicine helped him till he took Peruna. I noticed an improvement at once and in three weeks he was a different child; the grippe had been completely cured and I noticed that the catarrh was made better. He kept taking it two weeks longer, when he was entirely well. I now use it off and on for colds, croup, indigestion or general indisposition, and find it superior to any doctors or medicine I ever tried. It keeps me, as well as my child, in perfect health, and I gladly recommend it to mothers."—Mrs. A. Hobson.

We have on file many thousand testimonials like the ones given above. We can only give our readers a slight glimpse of the vast array of unolicited endorsements we are receiving every month. No other physician in the world has received such a volume of enthusiastic and grateful letters of thanks as Dr. Hartman for Peruna.

Peruna always stays. No home can spare Peruna after the first trial of it. Mrs. A. Hobson, 225 Washington St., Lansing, Mich., writes:

"Peruna has been such a blessing to my only child, as well as myself, that I feel induced to give my testimonial. He has always suffered from catarrh of the head and throat, and I had to use extra precautions so as not to have him exposed to damp or cold weather. Last year he was taken with the grippe, and as it was a severe case, caused me much anxiety. No medicine helped him till he took Peruna. I noticed an improvement at once and in three weeks he was a different child; the grippe had been completely cured and I noticed that the catarrh was made better. He kept taking it two weeks longer, when he was entirely well. I now use it off and on for colds, croup, indigestion or general indisposition, and find it superior to any doctors or medicine I ever tried. It keeps me, as well as my child, in perfect health, and I gladly recommend it to mothers."—Mrs. A. Hobson.

We have on file many thousand testimonials like the ones given above. We can only give our readers a slight glimpse of the vast array of unolicited endorsements we are receiving every month. No other physician in the world has received such a volume of enthusiastic and grateful letters of thanks as Dr. Hartman for Peruna.

Peruna always stays. No home can spare Peruna after