Mr. Jacob Black is having quite a serious time with his foot, which he had the bad luck to run a picaroon into some two months ago. It apparently healed and then got worse, necessitating surgical treatment in Portland, and now, after the wound had about disappeared, an eczema has broken out. He is in nearly as bad shape as ever. Did you ever think that if you want a butcher-shop in this town, it is your duty to patronize it instead of buying your meat of a peddler. A permanent meat market is a benefit to the community, but it can not exist here if our people buy their meat from wagons. Live and let live. Farmers should sell their produce to the stores and the markets, and the latter should sell to the consumer. This is the only way in which a community can be built up.

School books can be procured at the Pharmacy. Terms cash. Don't send the children without the money.

Miss Annie George has been an inmate of the Good Samaritan Hospital in Portland during the past week, undergoing an operation for an abscess of the stomach. Mrs. Dr. Ross has been in attendance, and Miss George is slowly recovering. Some time ago Miss George and another young lady were upset from a sailboat, and it is thought the exposure to the cold water brought on the abscess.

Friday of last week was a critical day for the Oregon Wood Company, for its best efforts were required to keep a fire from getting into the timber where over 2000 cords of wood cut last winter is corded. This is about four miles from Houlton. As it was the company lost about 40 cords, and by digging trenches and shoveling dirt onto the fire the danger was averted.

A BOY'S LOVE FOR HIS MOTHER.

Of all the love affairs in the world, none can surpass the true love of a big boy for his mother. It is a true love, noble and honorable, in the highest degree to both. We do not mean merely a dutiful affection; we mean a love which makes a boy gallant and courteous to his mother; saying to everyone plainly that he is fairly in love with her. We never yet knew a boy "turn out" bad who began by falling in love with his mother.

What is Life?

In the last analysis, nobody knows, but we do know that it is under strict law. Abuse that law even slightly, pain results. Irregular living means derangement of the organs, resulting in constipation, headache or liver trouble. Dr. King's New Life Pills quickly readjusts this. It's gentle, yet thorough. Only 25c at St. Helens' Pharmacy.

THE OREGON HATCHERY.

Improvements that are being made at the Salmon river hatchery point to the fact that the State of Oregon will shortly have one of the most efficient stations in the west when the work is finished. The work that is being done at present is the constructing of a dam across the river a short distance above the hatchery, that is made for the taking of trout, silver sides, and steelhead salmon. The dam does not extend entirely across the river, as a space must be left for the fish to work through into the trap beyond. Usually this means trapping fish in a cage with a net, but in this case the dam is a permanent structure, but as several racks were lost last year on account of high water, a more substantial structure must be built. The work is under the immediate supervision of Tom Brown, who is in charge of the station, and he expects that a week more will finish the dam. At present there are about 1,300,000 Chinook eggs in the hatchery and some of them are already hatching. Time, which are of the spring run, will be disposed of by November, when the fall run of salmon will be taken and the eggs hatched. Trout will also be caught and their eggs taken and hatched and the young fry turned in the nearby streams.

WORK FOR CONVICTS.

May Build Good Roads All Through The State.

Among the new bills which will be presented to the next Oregon Legislature for consideration will be a measure which will provide that the convicts now confined in the penitentiary at Salem shall be put to work building good country roads throughout the state. The bill will in all probability be introduced by Senator M. A. Miller, of Linn County.

Because of its departure from the beaten tracks of legislation, this bill will undoubtedly cause some considerable discussion, although no serious opposition to it is expected.

The construction of good public highways by convict labor is not a novelty in the Southern states, where hundreds of miles of excellent roads have been rebuilt and so improved that it is now possible for a farmer to haul his produce to market or to a railroad station in one-half the time and with one-half the horses which were previously necessary.

Senator Miller is chairman of the legislative committee of the Good Roads Association of Oregon, and in this capacity he now intends to call a meeting of the committee at Salem. The other members of the committee are J. H. Albert, of Salem; C. J. Smith, of Umatilla; W. Stagner, of Falls; and M. A. Miller, of Grant's Pass. The committee will discuss the proposed measure and make a rough outline of the bill to be introduced.

"At the last session of the Legislature," said Senator Miller, "I am firmly convinced that if $2,500,000, I am firmly convinced that if $2,500,000 of this sum had been appropriated for the construction and betterment of public highways in Oregon, the state would have been benefited far more than it was. It is impossible to underestimate the importance of good roads. While they would not carry the place of a railroad, they are certainly a very efficient substitute. As a factor in the development of remote or sparsely settled districts, they are absolutely essential. From this point of view I do not believe that any contrary argument can or will be advanced.

"Coming, then, to the question of whether convicts can be profitably or properly employed in the construction of these highways, we are confronted at once with the fact that employment of some description is necessary for men confined in prison. While this has been denied, they, experienced I believe the same monotony of every man who has ever had the conduct of a prison placed in his hands is to the effect that without employment it is impossible to keep prisoners healthy; it is impossible to preserve discipline, and, strange as it may seem to the uninitiated, idleness in prison is productive of the greatest immorality.

"Taking this, then, for granted, we have only to consider the question of the advisability and economy of putting gangs of convicts on the public highways under guard instead of keeping them confined behind prison walls.

"This may and possibly will necessitate the employment of some additional guards, which, of course, represents some additional expense, but there can be no argument in my mind on the fact that for every dollar of such additional expense there will be a return to the community of a dollar of good work. If for the last 15 or 20 years the convicts of Oregon had been employed at such labor the state would not be gridironed by well paved, smooth, well graded, broad and altogether admirable highways. It would be possible for automobiles and wagons to travel through Oregon with the same speed and comfort as may now be done upon the asphalted streets of Portland.

"People really do not realize what an immense difference can be made between a good road and a poor one. Scientific roadbuilding is a matter to which little attention has been paid in the West, and the West of all districts in America needs good roads.

"An important point urged in favor of the employment of convicts in the construction of public thoroughfares in the county districts is that it would be a source of free labor. No matter what a convict may be employed at within prison walls—whether he makes stoves, brooms, cigars, overalls or furniture—he is in direct competition with free labor, which is producing these articles on the outside. If, on the other hand, the convict is put to work building public roads, he benefits the state at large and in no way interferes with industry.

"It is the intention of the Good Roads Association, which will certainly be the agency of the public authorities in carrying out the plan, to build such state roads as would not otherwise be built. It is not proposed that they shall be put to work asphaltizing or paving the streets of a city or constructing fine boulevards in districts which are well able to assess themselves for such purposes, but I certainly think that the convicts of Oregon might very well be employed in the building of a good highway, which would cut through the only one in this region which now has a transportation facility to the town or city, which such a road is naturally tributary.

"The proposed legislation which the Good Roads Association will ask for at the next session seems to be just to everybody, advisable from the standpoint of the state at large and it entails no extraordinary expense, therefore it possesses, in my opinion, all the requisites for its passage, and I am free to say that I cannot see any feasible argument which can be advanced against it."

THE VALLEY POSTOFFICE and residence of Joseph Dupont and family, together with seventy tons of hay, was destroyed by fire last Sunday afternoon. Mr. Dupont and his sons were away from home, having gone to a place out near Butteville to pick hops, leaving no one but Mrs. Dupont on the premises. The fire started in the house, presumably from the stove, but the exact source is unknown. It was at first reported that the single mill had been destroyed, but this fortunately proved to be an error.

CURE FOR ANTI-IMPERIALISM.

David Gray, a well-known newspaper and magazine writer, voted for Bryan in 1900 on the Philippine issue exclusively. As a writer in the editorial columns of a Democratic newspaper he attacked continuously the policy of the Republican administration in the islands. "For its violence both to our constitutional policy and to the rights of a weak people."

Then he went to the Philippines, with the express purpose of gathering facts "with which to prosecute a campaign for Filipino emancipation." He spent weeks in the islands. He soon discovered that his preconceptions were mistaken. He says:

"I went to the Philippine islands convinced that our sentiment of them was an international crime; I left them convinced that any other course than that which we are pursuing would be a breach of international humanity, comparable to leaving a helpless infant to perish in the steams. Any agitation in this country with Filipino independence as its object can work as a cruelly unsettling and dangerous influence, tending to postpone what it seeks to hasten. Angelido's former secretary of state said to me: 'The Filipinos have three great needs, and none of them is independence. The first is schools, the second is more schools, and the third is more schools.' This is true saying. To interfere with Mr. Taft's work before the foundation is established, to give the half educated, irresponsible and dangerous Filipino demagogues, and there are many of these, an opportunity for believing that our policy toward the islands is to be vacillating and changeable, one dependent upon the mutations of American politics, would be a crime with the effects too far reaching to be anticipated. If such men as Mr. Charles Francis Adams, Mr. Moorfield Storey and the distinguished and rightly venerated president of Harvard, to say nothing of my fellow-democrats who have framed the Philippine plank of the St. Louis platform, will go to the islands and ascertain the facts at first hand, I should be ready to trust their conclusions before my own."

HOULTON NOTES.

Mr. O. C. Clark is building a nice new house at Houlton. Wonder what it may mean.

Houlton has a Sunday school to be proud of, as they have an average attendance of sixty scholars.

The Arjuna social was well attended last Friday night. All had a good time.

The Ladies Aid Society meets Wednesday afternoon of each week. They voted that the money they had on hand be given to the minister, Bro. Thorp, who has preached here for the past year.

Mr. W. E. Belford left last Saturday for California, to be gone about two weeks.

Mr. L. E. Bailey visited Portland Monday of this week.

Mr. and Mrs. David Henshaw Jr. returned from Seaside Tuesday evening. They report plenty of fish, crabs and clams to be had there at present.

Mrs. Hettie Ridley returned Monday night from the hop fields near Salem.

Mr. and Mrs. L. H. Copeland are attending the teachers' institute at Rainier this week.

Mr. John Carney, the genial clerk at Perry & Graham's, has returned after a week's vacation spent in Portland.

SCAPOOSE.

Much regret is expressed by our people at the great loss of property in the county seat fire of last night, as the loss is kept at this season of the year.

Fire from Henry White's place got beyond his control on Monday, and by Tuesday evening had enveloped over 300 acres of timber land belonging to Watts & Price, and also 40 acres of S. Adams. At this writing about 100 cords of wood had been burned, and unless the rain continues a large lot of wood belonging to A. Schmidt will burn. Loss so far is estimated at $500, consisting of wood, bridges and cabins.

The fire at Rocky Point gained much headway yesterday and burned large quantities of wood belonging to the Messrs. Hoover and Davis.

The fire at South Scappoose Canyon is dangerously near the wood of the Messrs. G. Lang and W. Tetz. It will be saved unless the wind blows up.

GLATSKANIE CORRESPONDENCE.

Mr. George Blackford, with his most estimable wife, of Chicago, are visiting relatives and friends in the city this week.

It is said that the County Court, at its September term, ordered the grading of the hill down on Nehalem avenue in this city, and the filling of the street known as Bridge street as far north as the bridge over the Clatskanie river. A long needed improvement.

Although the air is full of smoke and the fires are raging in the forests and the dust flies high, yet lumber and shingles are being hauled to this market in vast quantities.

Mr. Arthur Eastman is building a neat residence in the city on the north side of the river.

Dr. Hall's new cottage in the western part of the city is nearing completion. When completed will add to the beauty of that part of town.

Mr. Wagon Elliott, of Mapleland, is doing business in the city this week.

We learn that Mr. Kingsley, of the West Oregon Lumber Company, is touring the Eastern States and will visit the Louisiana Purchase Exposition before he returns home.

It seems that some of the base ball players were being "watched" while trying to make a score recently.

It is hoped that some of those part of who have been setting out fires in the part of the county will get their just desserts when the Circuit Court convenes in October.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Vernein, of Brookville, Pa., who have been visiting Mr. and Mrs. E. C. Hall and wife in the city the past month, started for their home last Tuesday.

We learn that Matty Campbell, who met with a severe accident in the Tichenor mill company's logging camp recently, is getting along fine and that he will soon be home again from the hospital.

It seems to be getting quite fashionable now days to either make an assignment or to file proceedings in bankruptcy with some people; but we don't believe that such proceedings are the best way to pay a man's debts.

Wagons loaded with cream still continue to be brought over the mountain from the Nehalem country every day in the week, except Sunday.

Mrs. Margaret Dunlap, daughter and son, who formerly resided in the Nehalem, now of Portland, passed through the city en route to the Nehalem hop fields Sunday.

It is said that another wedding will occur in the city in the near future. The kids are looking up cowbells, etc., to serenade them with when the happy event takes place.

WARREN

The rural delivery is proving a great convenience. About sixty boxes have been ordered and most of them are already placed in position for the delivery and gathering of mail. Lew Davies, the carrier, keeps two horses to do the work.

W. J. Fullerton has returned from two weeks' ratication in the vicinity of Stella, Wash.

Morton Tompkins has moved back from Rainier and is now employed at the Noon ranch in the place of Chas. Clark.

Destructive fires have been raging hereabouts for the past two weeks, started often from people burning stavings on their own premises and getting often beyond control.

Fire started near A. S. Tappell's mill last Friday has spread south and west as far as Henry Duncan's and Jacob Heggle and beyond, and the destruction of their buildings has so far been prevented by constant fighting night and day. A. H. Tarbell and Homer Bennett's buildings caught fire several times.

Tom, Grewell has lost about 150 cords of wood, Henry Duncan his winter's supply of stove wood and at J. M. Grewell's about thirty cords, and should the flames continue 300 cords or more will be consumed.

Constant watchfulness has kept many houses safe from burning and so far no homes have been destroyed.

Public schools will be opened September 14th, Prof. J. W. Allen, principal.

A new store is soon to be built near the M. E. church by J. A. Beclar on land bought of Jos. Lynch. Material is already being hauled for the building.

Hazel and Sidney Long have returned to Portland on account of the opening of schools there, after spending the summer here.

Had it been necessary on account of the burning of homes, Mr. Adams offered his house which is large enough for a refuge for several families in case of necessity.

Tom and Vin Grewell have returned from Eastern Washington and Oregon after a season of harvesting.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Larson have returned from Altoga, Wash., after several months' absence from home.

Rural free mail delivery is giving perfect satisfaction. Mr. Young has sold over 80 mail boxes. He wishes the public to know that he can be found at his office room 10, Bacon block, between the hours of 9 a. m. and 2 p. m. every day. Any person desiring mail boxes or information regarding mail routes can obtain the same from him.

Our mail carrier drives around with a smiling face because there was born to him a son.

Mrs. O. W. Allen is visiting her daughter, Mrs. E. M. Davies.

The infant child of Lew Pusey is very ill at present.

The lumber is being hauled on the ground for a new store and residence. Mr. J. Beclar, lately of the East, will build same for his son.

Forest fires have done considerable damage around Warren. Mr. O. Grewell had 110 cords of wood burned up on the 12th.

Mr. L. Davies' mother from New Westminster, B. C., is here visiting her son.

County Road Master Stevens inspected a new road to be made from the old Tarbell saw mill to Batchelor Flat. It is hoped that the road will soon be open as it is in bad condition at present.
