For the eight months ending August 31st Portland had shipped 1,504,972 bushels of grain, or 500,000 more than San Francisco, and about 600,000 more than Puget Sound. Portland is now the third wheat shipping city of the United States.

Deputy clerk Harris is about to begin the construction of a two story frame building on the lot between Decker's barber shop and the Owl saloon. The lower story will be for business and residence purposes and the upper story will be divided into office rooms, one of which, we understand, will be occupied by Deputy District Attorney Powell.

Attorney Fisher, of Rainier, was a visitor to the county seat on Tuesday last. Mr. Fisher, with all fair-minded men, is in favor of the county court providing for the immediate construction of a court house, and we believe that is the view generally held by the citizens of Rainier. Having contended earnestly for their town they have the interest of the whole county at heart and believe the construction of a moderate priced county building is an absolute necessity.

Bailey & Brinn's store is headquarters for general merchandise, Houlton, Oregon. Good goods a specialty. Quality, quantity and price guaranteed.

A. F. McKibben returned to St. Helens to find that his personal property upon which he placed great value had been destroyed by the recent fire. He was absent in Cottage Grove, and while there had the misfortune to lose his brother, Mr. Wallace McKibben. Mr. McKibben is one of eight brothers, all of whom were soldiers in the Civil War. The Cottage Grove paper speaks in the highest terms of the dead veteran, who was an old and highly respected resident of that city and a member of Appomatox Post, G. A. R., under whose auspices the funeral ceremonies were conducted. Six of the McKibben boys, nephews of A. F. McKibben, are running a sawmill some three miles east of Cottage Grove.

WANTED—Stave bolts; yellow fir timber, 38 inches long. For information write Western Cooperage Co., Houlton, Ore.

Many are beginning to imagine that the vesy remarkable long dry summer is to be followed by as remarkable a rainy sason. They judge from the way the first rain of the season, which came on the heels of the gentle equinoxial gale, is holding out. It has been taking a slow and easy start, and suggests the idea of "linked sweetness long drawn out," for it has not yet developed force enough to make any one stop work for a moment. Nor has the ground under the shade trees along the streets been even sprinkled as yet. At this rate it is said the showers must last a month before old residents will have their webs soaked, and how long it will take to make the ground wet enough to plow remains to be seen. The moisture in the atmosphere has tended to stop forest fires, but has had little effect in dissipating the smoke, which has become rather tiresome.

There are no shoes made that are better than the Stilson line, carried by Perry & Graham.

The statement published in the Portland Telegram to the effect that the loss on timber by forest fires in Columbia County would reach $7,000,000 is as gross an exaggeration as was ever printed, and is detrimental to the State of Oregon, as its republication in Eastern papers will have a tendency to prevent investments. The loss is probably not more than one twentieth part of that amount. Mr. Benson, representing the largest holding of timber in the county, states that his loss will not exceed $3,000, and it is a well known fact that the fires, as a rule, followed the old burns, the green timber sufiering but little.

With the removal of Senator and Mrs. McBride and W. H. Dolman and wife to Portland, St. Helens loses some of its most highly esteemed citizens, who have been identified with its interests many years. Senator McBride came to Columbit City in 1867, and his record as a public man dates from his election to the legislature from this county. His personal popularity among his home people was the basis of his political fortune and wherever he may reside in the future and whatever that future may have in store for him, the friendships that have been built up during these many years will endure to the end. He still has very large financial interests in the county, and while his residence will be elsewhere, we doubtless will see him among us frequently. No less regretted will be Mrs. Dolman, who has resided with us since 1872, and whose womanly graces, tact, and true goodness have endeared her to all who were capable of appreciating her character. Of late years Mrs. Dolman has lived a very quiet life, but the writer remembers when the old home that was destroyed in our big fire was the headquarters for a refined sociability that exercised a beneficial influence upon this community. There was no place in Oregon where the stranger within our gates was made to feel more perfectly at home than in the house where Mrs. Dolman and Mrs. Giltner held their gentle rule. Mr. Dolman was a later comer. His first appearance here was in 1881, but he soon after started on a visit to Europe and did not engage in business here until 1885. He made a success of his business and finally transferred it to M. C. Gray.

William Batson, of this county, has been an inmate of the St. Mary's hospital, of Astoria, for the last six or seven years, and during that time Columbia County has been paying about $22 per month for his care, or about $264 a year, or in the neighborhood of a total of $1600 up to date. He is thought to be of unsound mind and Junge Hattan will soon make a trip to Astoria for the purpose of investigating the matter, to see if he is not properly a care of the State He is drawing interest on over $3,000 annually and the county judge is of the opinion that this is not good finance.

The editor of an esteemed exchange which has evidently been "sat upon" by a disgruntle, has well said that "your home paper never loses interest in you." This possibly you have not given a passing thought. No matter if you like the newspaper man or if he likes you, if he is true to his profession and publishes a paper for the people, he allows no personal matter or petty spite to interfere with his newsgathering. He may meet you as a stranger, yet along with his best friends chronicle your successes or sorrows wherever you may be, and those who would otherwise forget you are ever and anon reminded of your existence by an article in the paper. Others may deceve and defraud you, but the home paper never forgets you. Possibly you do not deserve decent treatment by the paper, but you get it just the same, and if it should at any time say things to cause your fur to turn the wrong way, study a moment and see if it has not at various times said nice things for which you failed to give it credit.

A large stock of novels just received at the St. Helens Pharmacy.

It seems that damage suits are to be instituted as a result of the recent fires in this county, according to an article in the Evening Telegram, which says: J. M. Grewell, of Warren, who is in Portland today, claims property belonging to him was damaged and says he knows the origin of the fire. B. F. Giltner, a resident of this city, owns property near Deer Island and claims that he can trace down the origin of a recent fire that caused him losses. Both men may sue. Mr. Giltner says slashings were burned on the Pat Hughes place, which adjoins the Giltner property, and that the fire spread, getting beyond control. Not only was his property damaged, but Mr. Giltner declares that other farms suffered as a result of the blaze. Mr. Grewell lays his losses at the door of the Tarbell people. About a week ago, he says, they burned slashings and the fire was communicated to adjoining property with the result that the loss is considerable. Grewell lost 300 cords of wood, his brother, T. E. Grewell, 150 cords, and M. F. Hazen and John Dolan lost some fencing. In addition to this it may be stated that Mr. Wallace informed tee Mist that he had good reason to know that the fire that nearly destroyed his home was set by a neighbor who had importuned him to join in making the burn in order that they might have more pasturage. It seems strange that any man will take the risk of destruction to life and property in order to accomplish a personal gain.

W. H. Dolman constructed, under the floor of the old store building, a fire proof safe out of a cracker box, an old wash boiler and a few pails of ashes. Tons of red hot bricks fell on it, partly crushing the boiler. And yet it protected the papers therein from injury. The entire cost of this "safe" was less than three dollars.

We wish our correspondents to understand that the fires in no way interfere with our desire to hear from them. We want the news from all parts of the county.

The Home Fire and Marine Insurance Co., of San Francisco, adjusted and paid W. H. Dolman's fire loss ten days rgo.*

Mr. O. Kubatzky, a Portland architect and builder, was a St. Helens visitor Wednesday, looking up the probability of securing work in his line of business.

The Portland Telegram's Lewis and Clark edition is certainly a most excellent piece of newspaper enterprise and its circulation at St. Louis can but be of great benefit in making known the resources of this State. We are sorry that Columbia County's resources were not more fully exploited, but we will be there at the Louis and Clark Centennial next year.

T. A. Wood grand commander of the Indian War veterans, died at his home in Portland on Tuesday last. Notwithstanding the fact that Wood was found guilty of defrauding and fined $1,000, he retained the confidence of a large number of the veterane, and soon after his conviction he was re-elected head of the order.

Tomorrow night the next vice-president of the United States, accompanied by Senator Dolliver, will address an audience in Portland, limited only by the capacity of the theater in which he speaks.

There are thirteen counties in Oregon with less school population than Columbia. We are climbing up in the list.

The Evening Telegram, in its otherwise excellent Lewis and Clark edition, left the thriving city of Clatskanie off of the map. Mr. Blackford has the floor.

The Porcelain Baths at Houlton are all ready for customers. If you want a refreshing bath or a firstclass shave or hair cut give them a trial. The best work at reasonable prices.

Dr. Ross's office will hereafter be at his residence, opposite the Congregational church, until further notice. The doctor requests all knowing themselves to be indebted to him to call and effect some kind of a settleMent, as the fire left his business affairs in a somewhat chaotic condition.

Mr. Kenyon Bourne, of Beaver Valley, was at the county seat Wednesday for the purpose of consulting the deputy district attorney in regard to bringing criminal action against certain persons whom he charges with being responsible for burning up his fences and about ten acres of clover pasture. Mr. Bourne has suffered on several occasions from fires set out by his neighbors and his patience is exhausted, so he desires to find out if the law affords him any protection from the carelessness of others.

Ed. Lousignont was arrested Tuesday night at Astoria, charged with stealing a horse and buggy from Fraser's livery stable at Portland on Friday last. The warrant was sworn out in Portland and information forwarded to Sheriff White of this county. Deputy Blakesley went to Rainier after Lousignont on Tuesday, but found that he had left for Astoria. He will be taken to Portland for trial. It is stated that Ed. sold a horse to Mr. Cornell, the renter on the Garrison place, who afterwards attempted to dispose of it to Mr. Roberson, the butcher, for a very trifling sum. The animal and saddle were worth at least $100, but they were offered for $30. Lousignont is the man who married one of the Brough girls and afterwards abused her so that she was compelled to leave him. It is thought Lousignont sold the horse he stole from Fraser and purchased the one he sold to Corucll, which is a fine sorrel mare, with fancy saddle and headgear.

Attorney Powell is located with Mr. E. E. Quick, in the Masonic Hall building. He saved about five hundred volumes of his law books from the recent fire and is congratulating himself that sixty volumes of Lawyers' Reports which he had ordered from an Eastern firm were delayed in shipment. These books are now in place and constitute a valuable addition to his legal lore. Books do not make a lawyer, but they are the weapons with which legal battles are fought, and a careful attorney studies every case by the aid of his books.

What is Life!

In the last analysis nobody knows, but we do know that it is under strict law. Abuse that law even slightly, pain results.
