COUNTY OFFICIAL PAPER.

Having the largest circulation of any paper in Columbia County.

BUTTING IN.

We have received numerous pamphlets from the "Massachusetts Association Opposed to Further Extention of Suffrage to Women." The object is, as we assume, to pursuade the men of Oregon to deny to the women full equality before the law, for no person is another's equal before the law unless having equal right with that other to participate in the making of the law and the election of officials to construe and enforce the law. In Oregon women are better protected by law than in most other states, though there is still an inequality of property rights. We hold making their just treatment depend upon our soyereign will, and our great them in a sort of gentle peonage, excuse for doing so is that force is the basis of law, and that none should participate in the making of laws except those who have the power to enforce them. In plain words this is the old doctrine that might makes right, and in one form or another has been popular with all oppressors throughout the world's history. It is looking backward instead of looking forward. The home is the foundation of government, and no true man carries this doctrine into his home circle. The maternal edict is enforced, if necessary, by the father, and when the two arrive at a decision it becomes a law for the government of the family. Does any one for a moment suppose that a law passed by an equal suffrage vote would fail of enforcement because of the inability to bear arms? Women do not go to war but they bear the burdens of war, and every bullet that reaches its billet causes anguish in the heart of some woman who had no part in the legislation that may have been responsible for the war.

The denial of the suffrage should be limited to those not possessing the necessary educational qualifications. At present we restrict it to the male sex and deny all women—no matter how well qualified, the right to participate in our elections.

Would we not get better government if we disfranchised ignorance and permitted intelligence to vote, without regard to sex.

Oregon can settle this question without the aid of Massachusetts. We need no Buttinskis to determine any public question in this State.

The Portland Journal insists that all candidates for the Legislature, under the direct primary system, should pledge themselves in writing to vote for that candidate for United States Senator who receives the largest number of votes at the election in June, 1906. This would seem to be the intent of the law, and if it is literally complied with the next United States Senator may be far from being the choice of a majority even of his own party. It is probable that there will be numerous candidates, and that the one receiving the largest number of votes at the June election may have a smaller proportinate following in the Republican party throughout the State than Mayor Williams had in the city of Portland. If it is true that there is no necessity of law for an honest man, the Republicans who voted for Mayor Williams' nomination in the Portland primaries were as fully bound to vote for Mayor Williams in the city election as the elected representatives next session will be to vote for the senatorial candidate receiving the largest number of votes at the June election. This for the reason that, so far as the senatorial election is concerned, the June election is intended to be in the nature of a primary contest. Actually it will probably be an attempt on the part of the democracy to foist upon the republican party a candidate who will be as objectionable as possible. The Democratic party in this State is in the hands of clever opportunists, who, taking advantage of the disorganization in the republican ranks are doing their best to secure place and power through every available pretext. They hold the voters of the minority party tightly together, and with this as a nucleus they seem able to convince a large number of Republicans that they are in duty bound to show them their nonpartisanship by voting for the strongest partisans that can be found in the Democratic ranks. It is the old mugwump game imported from the East for the benefit of the Oregon Democracy, and Republicans are taking sides with them for the reason that heretofore the management of the republican party has not been satisfactory to the rank and file of the voters. Ring rule and bossism have prevailed until the voter has kicked over the traces and declared that he will not vote for a candidate whom he had no hand in nominating. The direct primary law, if the voters do their duty, will solve this problem. It is a long time until the primary election but it is not too early for the Republican voter to understand that the success of the party depends upon his action. If he attends the primary, contends earnestly for his choice for the nomination, and then abides by the result, good republican government will be the result in this State, and a State that has prospered so greatly under a Republican administration should perfer good Republican government to even the best our Democratic friends can give us.

WE CARRY THE BROOM.

192 Logs Handled in One Day at the Yeon-Pelton Camp.

Columbia county has the boss logging camp of the Northwest, that of the Yeon & Pelton Company, near Rainier. The following correspondence on the subject was published in the Portland Oregonian of July 9th:

PORTLAND, Or, July 8, 1905.—(To the Editor)—In a recent issue of your paper we notice the fact that the loggers in the Eufala camp dispute the claim for record-holder made by the crew of the Yeon-Pelton camp.

We enclose you copy of letter recently received from Mr. Yeon relative to their most recent performance, which, although not stacking up quite so much in the matter of board feet of measure, amounts to a much more creditable performance in regard to the number of logs taken in. When the Eufala camp made its record, it only handled 121 logs where, as you will note in Yeon's case, 192 logs were handled. The difference in the scale is due to the fact that the timber cut in the Washington camp was considerably larger than that in the Rainier camp, but the real credit is due to the crew who got in the maximum number of logs, as the donkey engines in either case were as capable of handling the larger logs as they were the smaller ones, and the actual test comes in when getting hold and letting go of that many logs in such a short time considering the fact that a certain amount of clearing away and blocking had to be done and that after the logs were brought to the rollway they had to be loaded on cars and taken away to make room for those which had to follow.

It is apparent to anyone that the handling of 192 logs as against 121 in a given time is greatly in favor of the Oregon camp, and it is a very safe statement to say that had the logs run as large in this camp, that the 350,000 foot mark could easily have been passed.

While it is true that these exceptional performances in logging do not bear a very important relation to the reaular work of logging camps, they are still of sufficient interest to a community of this kind to make them worthy of publication in your paper.

H. W. CORBETT,
President Willamette Iron & Steel Works.

Mr. Yeon's letter follows:

RAINIER, Or., June 19.—Mr. W. H. Corbett, Portland, Or: Dear Sir—Our boys are going around with a yarding record broom on their shoulders once more. Last Sunday, the 18th, one of our hook-tenders, Alex Chisholm, with his regular crew of nine men, and the addition of one extra rollway man, one snipper and one fireman—making a crew of 12 men, Charles Lovgren as engineer—put in ten hour's work, 192 logs that scaled 274,210 feet. Logs scaled by Mr. A. Handler, the N. P. L. Co's scaler. I had Mr. Handler come down to scale so no one could say that I scaled the logs at the butt end, as they always say in a case of this kind.

The yarding was done from the rollway back for 1000 feet. Everything went on nicely with the exception that everything was very dry and made a good test on the 10x13 yarder, as you will notice by the amount of logs as well as feet that the engine had to keep going to get an average of 19.2 logs per hour. The boys are all feeling happy and so am I.

J. B. YEON.

The Oregonian, on Monday last, paid an eloquent and deserved tribute to the medical profession. No class of men have done more for the comfort of the human race and none have been less selfish than the regular physicians. It is in the ethics of their profession there shall be no secrecy as to the discovery of remedies, but that all should be contributed to the advancement of the profession and the good of mankind. There is a time that must come to all when the best efforts of the practitioner will be unavailing; but even then science lightens the pangs of death and deprives the parting of soul and body of many of its terrors. The National Medical Association, now in session in Portland is composed of the brightest and best of the medicos of the country and no doubt their meetings will be productive of great good to mankind.

Bent Her Double.

"Knew no one, for four weeks, when I was sick with typhoid and kidney trouble," writes Mrs. Annie Hunter, of Pittsburg Pa. "and when I got better, although I had one of the best doctors I could get, I was bent double, and had to rest my hands on my knees when I walked. From this terrible affliction I was rescued by Electric Bitters, which restored my health and strength, and now I can walk as straight as ever. They are simply wonderful." Guaranteed to cure stomach, liver and kidney disorder, At Perry and Graham's; price 50c.

Baseball Players and Foot Racers!

Louis Kruger, ex-champion long distance foot racer of Germany and Holland writes, Oct. 27, 1901: "During my training of eight weeks' foot races at Salt Lake City, in April last, I used Ballard's Snow Liniment to my greatest satisfaction.

Therefore I can highly recommend Snow Liniment to all who are troubled with sprains, bruises or rheumatism." 25c, 50c and $1. Sold by A. J. Deming.

SUMMONS

In the Circuit Court of the State of Oregon for the County of Columbia.
William Werner, plaintiff, vs. Helena Werner, defendant.
To Helena Werner, defendant:

In the Name of the State of Oregon you are hereby notified that the plaintiff herein has filed a suit against you in the above entitled court and cause, and you are hereby required to appear and answer the said complaint, or file some appearance thereto, on or before the last day of the term prescribed by the order of publication here it, to-wit: on or before September 1, 1905; and that if you fail so to answer and appear, or file some appearance herein, the plaintiff will cause your default to be entered and noted and will apply to the court for the relief prayed for in the complaint, to-wit, a decree forever dissolving the bonds of matrimony now existing between you and the plaintiff, and for such other relief as the court deems proper and equitable. The date of the first publication of this summons is Friday, the 21st day of July, 1905 and the last publication thereof is Friday, the first day of September, 1905 and this summons is to be published on each Friday of each and every week for a period of six consecutive weeks between said dates.

This summons is published by order of Hon. Thomas A. McBride, judge of said court, made in chambers in said cause on the 12th day of July, A. D., 1905.

CHAS. J. SCHNABEL,
Attorney for Plaintiff.

DO YOU WANT TO SELL?

If you have a farm for sale there is no better place to advertise it than in the MIST'S special Lewis and Clark edition of five thousand copies of an eight page illustrated paper. It will go directly into the hands of the homeseekers from the East. We wish we could print 100,000 copies of this paper, as we believe it will do the county a great deal of good. The illustrations will be numerous and the descriptive matter written with great care, mainly by residents of the particular neighborhoods described. Single copies will be mailed to any address at 5c per copy.
